Descendants of Richard Carpenter-669 & son William Carpenter-662
Carpenter Cousins Encyclopedia of Carpenters - 2023 Update

These are the known descendants of Richard Carpenter-669 and his son William Carpenter-662 (c1610-1685). There are about 26,600 names in this report.
This Carepenter line is represented by Group 2 of the Carpenter Cousins Y-DNA Project.

The Carpenter Cousins web project is an effort to update and correct Carpenter/Zimmerman and related surnames.

Group 2 are descendants of William Carpenter-662 born about 1610 in England who came to America in 1635. He settled in present day Providence, Rhode Island.

The number after the surname is a record information number (RIN) from the Carpenter Cousins Project master genealogical database. See: The Carpenter Cousins Project Group 2 is genetically unique from other Carpenter/Zimmerman groups within the Carpenter Cousins Y-DNA Project.

Even Group 3 - the descendants of William Carpenter of Rehoboth, who came to America in 1638 with his family, can be distinquished from Group 2 - the Carpenter line from Providence, Rhode Island.

The difference between Group 2 and 3 genetically is three (3) discriminators and two of them are on the first 37 Y-DNA markers given at FamilyTree DNA (FTDNA.com).

Some descendants of this Carpenter line married into other Carpenter and Zimmerman lines. In addition, there have been some formal and informal adoptions in this descendant line. Sometimes a young widow with a son would remarry and the young lad would bond with his step-father then assume his surname. Before bigger and mmore formalized governments, this was not uncommon. On occasion some children were given up for adoption or farmed out to relatives..

We call these type of events Non-Paternity Events or NPEs. This means that sometimes a Carpenter descendant may occasionally have a different genetic profile from what is expected. Or conversely, a Carpenter descendant who was adopted has a different surname, but the genetic profile of this Carpenter line. Such individuals often wind up in either Group 98 or Group 99 of the Carpenter Cousins Y-DNA Project. Groups 98 & 99 are similar to a catch all group until someone matches other Carpenter Cousins Y-DNA tester and they are placed in an organized group. On occasion, there is enough Y-DNA testers on that NPE line to create a new group immediately. We have made a great effort to explain such differences - like NPE events - within the notes of the individual or individuals involved.

The Group 2 descendants are in two categories.

1) Those both genetically and genealogically connected. This includes those who are reasonably believed to be related but are not proved. Read the NOTES.

2) Those that match genetically but are NOT connected genealogically. See the marriage listed as "UNATTACHED LINEAGES" on the first page of the Descendant Report. This technique to provides those detached or unconnected descent lineages and to recognize them for their genetic connectiveness to Group 2.

PLEASE be aware that there is a separate genetic family referenced as Group 3. They are descendants of William Carpenter b. about 1605 in England who came to America in 1638 and who settled in Rehoboth, Massachusetts. They are NOT the same person nor are they close cousins.

Y-DNA testing allows the Carpenter Cousins Y-DNA Project to tell the genetic difference (three (3) Y-DNA genetic marker discriminators!) between these two groups. Unique genetic fingerprints or genetic profiles allow us to tell these two groups apart as many other Carpenter/Zimmmerman and related lines.

For the most up-to-date information on the two DIFFERENT Carpenter Families, who emigrated from England in 1635 and 1638 then who settled in Providence, RI & Rehoboth, MA respectively, ALSO KNOWN as Group 2 & 3, please see Carpenter Sketches by Gene Zubrinsky.

Ojai, California, 2009

[Derived from one of twelve fully formatted sketches of early Carpenters, these notes contain the most-authoritative information available as of April 2023. The sketches may be viewed online at . (The online version will be updated when appropriate; check the revision date.) Where other information herein conflicts with Zubrinsky's notes, his notes take precedence.]

RICHARDA CARPENTER, father of William1 Carpenter of Providence, Rhode Island, was born in England, probably in or near the Wiltshire town and parish of Amesbury or the adjacent parish of Newton Ton(e)y (not in Nettlecombe, Somerset). Probably the man of that name buried at Amesbury on 21 September 1625, he died intestate. It is possible but not confirmed that he was the Richard Carpenter who married at Newton Tony on 7 August 1603, Alice Knight (AmParReg 1:n.p.; NTParReg n.p.; see also MARRIAGE, OCCUPATION, and COMMENTS sections, below). [Sources are cited in full in KEY TO SOURCE NOTES, at the end of this sketch. The format below is patterned loosely after that used by Robert Charles Anderson in his Great Migration series.]

BIRTH: A Richard Carpenter, son of Thomas, was baptized in the parish church of St. Thomas the Martyr in the city of Salisbury on 17 December 1580 (ChrRecs). No known records connect father or son to seven-miles-distant Amesbury, however. Since, as above, it is not certain that the subject married in 1603 (see also MARRIAGE, below), there is nothing substantive on which to base a useful estimate of his birth year.

MARRIAGE: At Newton Tony on 7 August 1603, a Richard Carpenter married Alice Knight; another man so named married Ann Kent there on 31 October 1603 (NTParReg n.p.). The latter died at Newton Tony in 1614, leaving four children, none of whose names correspond to the known children of Richard of Amesbury (ibid.; ACS 8:226–27; see also CHILDREN and COMMENTS, below). The only Newton Tony record surely of the former man is that of his marriage to Alice Knight. (There is no support for the claim that this Alice Knight was the one baptized at South Bersted, Sussex, on 8 October 1583, daughter of Thomas and Katherine (_____) Knight [see CECD 2001; IGI extraction, citing SBParReg].)

Among the many legatees named in the 1598[/9] will of an apparently childless Robert Carpenter of Newton Tony is Richard Carpenter of "Aymsbury" (relationship not stated) (PCC 93 Kidd fol. 47). The latter is perhaps the man who married Alice Knight four years later, but evidence of this or of the couple's being the parents of William1 Carpenter of Providence is not found.

"[H]oping to assist further research," Elisha Arnold (1935) introduces the 1606 marriage of Richard Carpenter and Susanna Trevelian, recorded at Nettlecombe, Somerset (seventy plus miles from Amesbury), as "seem[ing] to connect in some way with a John and Richard at Salisbury, 7 miles from Amesbury" (Arnold Mem 35). So as to put the eventual William1 and Elizabeth (Arnold) Carpenter of Providence in close proximity in England (she was from Ilchester, Somerset), overzealous researchers have converted this item into the assertions, now frequently seen online, that Richard and Susanna (Trevelian) Carpenter were Providence William's parents and that Richard died at Ilchester in 1625. Trevelian's husband, however, died at Loxhore, Devon, in 1627 and left neither a son William nor a daughter Frideswide, the only known children of Richard Carpenter of Amesbury (see OCCUPATION, ESTATE, and CHILDREN, below).

RESIDENCE: Amesbury (town and parish), probably by 4 January 1598[/9] (see PCC 93 Kidd fol. 47; AmParReg 1:n.p.; PrTR 5:323-25; MARRIAGE, above; COMMENTS, below).

The house and adjoining property that Richard's son, the eventual William1 of Providence, inherited from his father was on Frog Lane (now part of Flower Lane), which ran from the River Avon to the marketplace (PrTR 5:323-25; Amesbury Hist 23, 33, 86, 87).

Amesbury had a "Carpenter Street (perhaps named after an individual called Carpenter rather than implying a street of carpenters) . . . as early as 1321" (Amesbury Hist 23).

OCCUPATION: By the fourteenth century, Amesbury was seventh in both size and prosperity among Wiltshire towns (Amesbury Hist 24). "Most important of all to Amesbury's prosperity was that it possessed a weekly market [and held annual fairs]. . . . This trading function . . . enabled specialist skills and crafts to develop in the town. According to the Antrobus Deeds, a carpenter, baker, washerwoman, fleshmonger, merchant, draper, cobbler, tailor, leatherworker, and chandler all existed in medieval or Tudor Amesbury" (Amesbury Hist 22). A resident freeholder of the town, Richard was probably a tradesman, perhaps a carpenter like his son.

Daniel Hoogland Carpenter, convinced that Richard was a dissenting clergyman, relates that he was rector at Sherwell (in rural Devon); spent five years in France; upon his return became vicar of Poling, a Sussex parish; and was in 1670 living at Amesbury (see Carpenter [1901] 351). His account, however, merges (and mangles) the biographies of two clergymen named Richard Carpenter, neither of whom is the subject of this sketch. One entered Exeter College, Oxford, in 1592; became rector of Sherwell (now Shirwell) in 1605 and of adjacent Loxhore in 1611; married Susan Trevelyan of Nettlecombe, Somerset, in 1606; received a Doctor of Divinity degree in 1616/7; and died at Loxhore in 1627, aged 52 (Exeter Reg1 86-87, 370; Exeter Reg2 26-27). His will mentions several children but none named William or Frideswide (Somerset Will Abstr 2:109-10). The other entered Kings College, Cambridge, in 1622 (making him only a few years older than the subject's son, William1 of Providence); twice lived in Europe for a few years; was vicar of Poling from 1635 to about 1642; alternated between Protestantism and Catholicism; married in middle age; and finally settled not in Amesbury but Aylesbury, in Buckinghamshire, where he died about 1670 (DNB 1072; DPP 542-43).

ESTATE: Lacking an inventory of Richard's estate, we have only the 1671 deed from his son, William, to the latter's sister, Frideswide, indicating that their father had died in possession of a "dwelling house with . . . Land . . . adjoyneing to the sayd house" on Frog Lane in Amesbury (see PrTR 5:323-25; RESIDENCE, above; COMMENTS, below).

CHILDREN: Both born probably at Amesbury; birth order uncertain.

i. WILLIAM1 CARPENTER, b. say 1610, d. Pawtuxet (Providence), Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations, 7 Sept. 1685; m. ca. 1637, probably Providence (not by 1635, in England), ELIZABETH ARNOLD, b. Ilchester, Somerset (not Cheselbourne, Dorset), England, 23 November 1611, d. after 10 February 1679/80 (date of husband's will), dau. of William1 and Christian (Peak) Arnold (PrTR 5:323-25, 6:141, 150, 17:62-63; NEHGR 33:428, 69:66-68, 159:67-68; Austin 36). For additional information about William and his family, see his sketch (link online at).
ii. FRIDESWIDE [pron. Friddusweed] CARPENTER (forename, from Old English _Fritheswith_, found in Amesbury and Providence records as Frittisweed, Fridizweed, Fridgesweet[e], and Fridgswett--never Fridgswith, as per Carpenter [1901] and others), bur. Amesbury 22 Nov. 1680; m. before 16 Sept. 1632 (dau. Joan baptized at Amesbury), NICHOLAS VINCENT, bur. Amesbury 17 July 1671 (AmParReg 1:n.p., 2:n.p.; PrTR 5:323-24; Carpenter [1901] 321 mistakenly gives Nicholas's forename as Thomas).
Frideswide's daughter, Joan, married at Providence on or about 26 March 1660, John Sheldon (PrTR 4:112-13, 5:49, 299-300; RIVR 2:1[Providence]:167, 190; Austin 176-77; Sheldon Gen 1). Joan's brother William (bp. Amesbury, 17 June 1638), married at Providence, 31 May 1670, as his first wife, his cousin Priscilla Carpenter, daughter of his mother's brother, William1 of Providence (AmParReg 1:n.p.; PrTR 1:82-83, 5:294, 21:86; RIVR 2:1[Providence]:37).

Richard Carpenter may have fathered additional children, but evidence of it has not been found. Extant Amesbury parish records contain no entries pertaining to the baptisms of Richard's children, nor do the more complete Newton Tony records. There is no support for the occasional claim that Dorothy Carpenter--married at Salisbury, Wiltshire, on 13 July 1618 to Stephen Rose--was Richard's daughter (see CECD 2001; PR File).

COMMENTS: No will is found for Richard Carpenter. His intestacy is confirmed by a deed of 4 December 1671 by which William1 Carpenter of Pawtuxet (Providence), Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations, gives to his sister, "Fridgsweete" Vincent of the town and parish of Amesbury, "my dwelling house" and adjoining land there that "did in ye originall belonge unto my ffather Richard Carpenter (now deceased) but fell to be my Right as I was son and Heire unto my aforesaid ffather Richard Carpenter" (PrTR 5:323-25). The quoted passage makes it clear that the property had not been explicitly bequeathed to William but devolved to him according to law. This deed, incidentally, is the sole source of our knowledge of the Amesbury origin of William1 Carpenter of Providence and the identity of his father and sister.

The will of Robert Carpenter of Marden, Wiltshire, dated 12 January 1606[/7?] and proved 21 May 1607, names (among others) adult sons William and Richard (PCC 109 Huddleston fol. 42). It has been claimed that these brothers were William1 Carpenter [of Shalbourne, Wiltshire], father of William2 of Rehoboth, Massachusetts, and Richard Carpenter of Amesbury, father of William1 of Providence (see, for example, News-Journal 1:3:n.p.; CECD 2001). While it is not impossible that William1 of Shalbourne was the son of Robert of Marden, evidence of it has not been found. And with Robert's son Richard the implied recipient of his father's Marden real estate, his being the Amesbury man is extremely doubtful. (Robert makes specific bequests of money, animals, and barley; "All the reste of my goods moveable and unmoveable unbequeathed I geve to my welbeloved wife Elinor Carpenter and my sonne Richard.") The apparent family connection between Robert Carpenter of Newton Tony and his legatee Richard Carpenter, of Amesbury by 1598[/9], tends to diminish further the likelihood that Richard of Amesbury was the son of Robert Carpenter of Marden (see MARRIAGE, RESIDENCE, above). Genetic testing of agnate descendants of William of Shalbourne and Richard of Amesbury has established with a high degree of probability that the two were in fact related, but far more remotely than generally believed. For more-detailed discussions of these matters, see NEHGR 159 (2005):64-66, 67n63; William1 of Providence sketch, COMMENTS.

In CECD 2001, compiler John R. Carpenter presents an extensive ancestry for Richard Carpenter of Amesbury and William1 Carpenter of Shalbourne, beginning with the aforementioned Robert Carpenter of Marden and his widow, Elinor, as the parents of both. Most of this ancestry--back from Rev. Richard Carpenter of Herefordshire and Wiltshire (d. 1503)--has been proven invalid (NEHGR 159:65n53-66n53[contd.]); as above, the remainder is unsubstantiated and, particularly for the Amesbury man, dubious. Earlier versions of this ancestry, which differ from it for the first few generations (beginning with parents), are even more improbable than the CECD 2001 version (see, for example, Carpenter [1898] 1, 34). THE ANCESTRY OF RICHARD CARPENTER OF AMESBURY, INCLUDING HIS PARENTAGE, IS UNKNOWN (AS IS THAT OF WILLIAM1 OF SHALBOURNE).

Amos B. Carpenter, the first to assert that Richard Carpenter and William1 [of Shalbourne] were brothers, further claims that Alexander Carpenter of Wrington, Somersetshire, and Leiden, Netherlands, was another brother (see Carpenter [1898] 34). There is absolutely no support for this.

At the turn of the seventeenth century, Amesbury's neighboring parish of Newton Tony was home to several related Carpenter families; among them, identified in parish and probate records dated between 1590[/1] and 1612, were six Richard Carpenters (see chart sources, below). The eldest of these (located at the upper left of the chart, below) was the father, grandfather, or great-grandfather of the others. Among the many legatees named in his will, dated 12 March 1590[/1] and proved 15 January 1591[/2], are the children of his son William: _RICHARD_ (as his name appears near the center of the chart), Matthew, Alice, and [illegible] (ACS box 16C). When we account for factors of age, children's names, and date and place of death, William's son is the only one of the six Richards not disqualified from consideration as the Amesbury man.

Carpenters of Newton Tony

Sources: Author's compilation derived from Newton Tony parish records (NTParReg) and the probate records of Newton Tony residents Richard Carpenter, will dated 12 March 1590[/1] and proved 15 January 1591[/2] (ACS box 16C); Robert Carpenter, will dated 4 January 1598[/9] and proved 22 June 1599 (PCC 93 Kidd fol. 47); Stephen Carpenter, will dated 21 September 1603 and proved 20 October 1603 (ACS box 17C); Richard Carpenter, will dated 8 June 1614 and proved 12 July 1614 (ACS 8:226-27); and Emme Carpenter [widow of Stephen], undated will proved 27 November 1632 (ACS 9:59B).

The grandchildren named in the elder Richard Carpenter's will, including his son William's four children and his son Richard's five, had of course been born by the date of the will, in 1590/1. The testator's daughter, Elizabeth, is listed after her brothers Richard and William and before John, Robert, and Stephen. It is therefore likely that, with the probable exception of Stephen (residual beneficiary and executor), they are named in the order of their birth (rather than chronologically by sex, males first, as was often done), and that William's four children are listed in the same fashion. It follows that Richard, by virtue of being the first-named of William's children, was the eldest, born probably in the early to mid 1580s. An obvious point of interest is that Richard's father's name, William, is also the name of the "son and Heire" of Richard of Amesbury (see par. 1, this section). Also, the 1598/9 will of Robert Carpenter of Newton Tony names Richard Carpenter of Amesbury immediately after Stephen Carpenter's son Robert (see MARRIAGE, chart, above). The latter and William's son Richard were first cousins (testator Robert was their grand uncle).

Though suggestive, the foregoing facts are insufficient to establish that this Richard Carpenter (son of William, grandson of Richard of Newton Tony [d. 1591]) was the Amesbury man, that he fathered William1 of Providence, and/or married Alice Knight in 1603 (see MARRIAGE, above). We cannot discount the possibility, for example, that it was this Richard's same-named uncle who, after the death of a previous wife, married Alice Knight (whose age and marital history are unknown). Or it may be that neither Alice Knight's husband nor Richard of Amesbury (whether or not they are the same person) appears on the chart. A search of the wills of Knights living in or near Newton Tony has not been undertaken by this writer but might prove useful.

SEE "160 ALLIED FAMILIES" BY JOHN OSBORNE AUSTIN, 1893, REPRINTED 1977. (974.0 D2a) PAGE 56 AND 57.
"Richard Carpenter of Amesbury" Records at Amesbury show that he was buried there this date (1625,9,21). The names of Richard and Christina are found as family names in the early records of Amesbury; and either by coincidence or from a family connection, it is found that John Carpenter, Town Clerk of London in reigns of Henry V AND Henry VI (and executor of Richard Whitington "THRICE LORD MAYOR OF LONDON" who died 1422) had for parents Richard and Christina.
SEE: MARRIAGE CORRECTIONS BELOW!!!

WILL: A will dated 1614 witnessed by Robert Batt of Wiltshire is probably this Richard. Richard willed his property on Frog Lane in Amesbury to his son William. Thomas Lavington also witnessed the will and was the husband of Agnes Carpenter, daughter of Robert Carpenter of Upton Scudmore.
NOTE: I have not yet seen this will dated 1614 that should have been probated in 1625. However, that will a 1614 will (SEE "J50 Record Book") that was "witnessed by Robert Batt of Wiltshire" and that "Thomas Lavington also witnessed the will ..." refers to another Richard Carpenter, who married Ann Kent whose will was probated in 1614 and not 1625. My guess is that the phrase "is probably this Richard" is wrong. JRC

It was NOT THIS Richard who went to Barbadoes in 1634 with brothers William, Thomas and Elias. It was probably Richard b. 1607 of Homme. "This Richard of Amesbury, Wiltshire, made a trip to America. This is the work of Harry F. Rogers, genealogist, who found this information." (Wrong- Our Richard was dead by 1625,9,21!)

CHILD: Harry F. Rogers indicates a Dorothy Carpenter, daughter of Richard Carpenter of Amesbury married Stephen Rose At Salisbury Cathedral, Old Sarum in 1618. No mention of her as child in any other record. She possibly came from another marriage? YES! Mother was Alice Knight per Amesbury records.

MISC: We know that "Marden and Cheriton (Charlton?) Parishes, Wherwell in Wiltshire were Puritan strongholds."
Rev. Stephen Bachiler and Richard Dummer (who was on the Bevis in 1638) were actively engaged in persuading religious dissenters to join them in New England with their Plough Company.
This includes a "William Carpenter whose home had several meetings." This is from "Puritian Meeting Notes in Wiltshire" provided by Mr. Keith P. Norris, Hon. Archivist of the The Bourne Valley Historical, Record and Conservation Society (53 Bouverie Avenue / Salisbury / Wiltshire SP2 8DU / England) in a letter dated 17 Feb. 1997.
"The catalogue for U350/Q5 reads: Complaint by Richard Carpenter, a convert from Roman Catholicism, against his treatment at the hands of Mr Baker, chaplain to Archbishop Laud, against the Bishop himself, and against the Bishop of Chichester. 1640."

BRIEF HISTORY:
http://www.infoplease.com/ce6/people/A0829007.html
Laud, William, 1573-1645, archbishop of Canterbury (1633-45). He studied at St. John's College, Oxford, and was ordained a priest in 1601. From the beginning Laud showed his hostility to Puritanism. He became president of St.
John's College in 1611, dean of Gloucester in 1616, and bishop of London in 1628. Laud thought of the church as a branch of the universal church, claimed apostolic succession for the bishops, and believed that the Anglican ritual should be strictly followed in all churches. To accomplish these ends, Laud, working closely with Charles I, tried to eliminate Puritans from important positions in the church. As chancellor of Oxford (from 1629) he carried out many reforms, strengthened moral and intellectual discipline, and stamped out Calvinism to make Oxford a royalist stronghold. In 1633, Laud became archbishop of Canterbury and continued on a larger scale his efforts to enforce High Church forms of worship. Through the courts of high commission and Star Chamber he persecuted and imprisoned many nonconformists, such as William Prynne. The tyranny of his courts and his identification of the episcopal form of church government with the absolutism of Charles brought about violent opposition not only from the Puritans but also from those who were jealous of the rights of Parliament. Supporting Charles and the earl of Strafford to the end, Laud was impeached (1640) by the Long Parliament. Found not guilty of treason by the House of Lords (1644), he was condemned to death by the Commons through a bill of attainder.

English civil war, 1642-48, the conflict between King Charles I of England and a large body of his subjects, generally called the "parliamentarians," that culminated in the defeat and execution of the king and the establishment of a republican commonwealth.
http://www.infoplease.com/ce6/history/A0857994.html
The struggle (ENGLISH CIVIL WAR) has also been called the Puritan Revolution because the religious complexion of the king's opponents was prevailingly Puritan, and because the defeat of the king was accompanied by the abolition of episcopacy. That name, however, overemphasizes the religious element at the expense of the constitutional issues and the underlying social and economic factors. Most simply stated, the constitutional issue was one between a king who claimed to rule by divine right and a Parliament that professed itself to have rights and privileges independent of the crown and that ultimately, by its actions, claimed real sovereignty.

Strafford, Thomas Wentworth, 1st earl of (Straford)
Strafford, Thomas Wentworth, 1st earl of, 1593-1641, English statesman. Regularly elected to Parliament from 1614 on, he became one of the critics of George Villiers, 1st duke of Buckingham, and of the war with Spain. Charles I made him sheriff of Yorkshire in order to exclude him from the Parliament of 1626, but Wentworth continued his opposition and was imprisoned (1627) for refusing to pay the forced loan. In the Parliament of 1628 he advocated a moderate version of the Petition of Right, but when Sir John Eliot and Sir Edward Coke succeeded in carrying their more severe form of the petition, he lost influence. At this point Charles sought his adherence by creating him baron and viscount and president of the council of the north (1628), and Wentworth realigned himself as a firm supporter of royal prerogative. With William Laud, Wentworth evolved the policy known as "Thorough" to achieve an absolutist but just and efficient regime. As lord deputy of Ireland (1632-40) he systematically applied this policy. He cleared the sea of pirates, bolstered trade and industry (always with an eye to England's interest), began a reorganization of the church in Ireland, and enforced reforms in financial administration that doubled the state's revenue. However, his methods were ruthlessly despotic, and he aroused even more fear and hatred. After Charles I's humiliation by the Scots in the first Bishops' War, Wentworth was recalled (1639) to England to become the king's chief adviser. Created earl of Strafford in 1640...

The First (ENGLISH) Civil War
The followers of king and Parliament did not represent two absolutely distinct social groups, as the popular conception of the royalist Cavaliers and the parliamentary Roundheads would indicate. However, it is true that the parliamentary, or Puritan, group drew much of its strength from the gentry and from the merchant classes and artisans of London, Norwich, Hull, Plymouth, and Gloucester; it centered in the southeastern counties and had control of the fleet. The majority of the great nobles followed the king, who had the support of most Anglicans and Roman Catholics; geographically the royalist strength centered in the north and west.
The first major engagement of the armies at Edgehill (Oct. 23, 1642) was a drawn battle. Charles then established himself at Oxford. The royalist forces gained ground in the north and west, although repeated attempts by the king to advance on London proved abortive. The indecisive engagements of 1643 were remarkable mainly for the emergence of Oliver Cromwell, an inconspicuous member of the Long Parliament, to military prominence with his own regiment of "godly" men, soon to become famous as the Ironsides.

John,
I know that you have done an enormous amount of work on the Carpenter family, and I wanted to hear your thoughts on the issue of the connection of William Carpenter of RI (my 8G grandfather) to the Richard that was married to Susanna Trevilian. Apparently the will of that Richard names his children, and William is not mentioned.
In "Somerset Wills" 11.109, the will of Richard Carpenter is found, Pastor of Sheviock Devenport (near Plymouth), August 9, 1625. Proved Feb 17, 1627/8, by the relict, Susan Carpenter, daughter of John Trevelian Esq. of Nettlecombe, mentions, son John Carpenter, student at Exeter College, Oxon, eldest daughter Susan, dau. Mary, my son Richard, 3rd dau. Ann, 4th dau. Elizabeth, 3rd son Edward, 5th dau. Sarah, 4th son, and youngest child Thomas, his brother John Carpenter of Salisbury, and three sisters, Jane, Ann, and Agness.
Regards, Bruce Woodworth GREAT QUESTION!!! ERROR FOUND AND CORRECTED!
SEE: "The Arnold Memorial, William Arnold of Providence and Pawtuxet, 1587-1675, and a Genealogy of His Descendants", compiled by Elisha Stephen Arnold, 1935. The Tuttle Publishing Company, Rutland, VT.

In that book is the phrase:
In "Somerset Wills" 11.109, the will of Richard Carpenter is found, Pastor of Sheviock Devenport (near Plymouth), August 9, 1625. Proved Feb 17, 1627/8, by the relict, Susan Carpenter, daughter of John Trevelian Esq. of Nettlecombe, mentions, son John* Carpenter, student at Exeter College, Oxon, eldest daughter Susan*, dau. "The Arnold Memorial, William Arnold of of Providence and Pawtuxet, 1587-1675, and a Genealogy of His Descendants", compiled by Elisha Stephen Arnold, 1935.
NOTE: The children above marked with "*" were once assigned to Richard Carpenter (b. abt 1575) of Amesbury who married Alice Knight AND WHO MANY BELIEVED to have married Susanna TRIVILIAN. This was wrong.

Carpenter, Richard 1575-1627, divine, was born in Cornwall in 1575. He matriculated at Exeter College, Oxford, on 28 May 1592, and took his degrees of B.A. on 19 Feb. 1595-6, B.D. 25 June 1611, and D.D. 10 Feb. 1616-17. He was elected to a Cornish fellowship at his college on 30 June 1596, and retained it until 30 June 1606, during which time he devoted his, attention, under the advice of Thomas Holland, the rector of Exeter College, to the study of theology, and became noted for his preaching powers. In 1606 he was appointed by Sir Robert Chichester to the rectories of Sherwell and Loxhore, near Barnstaple, and it has been suggested that he was the Richard Carpenter who from 1601 to 1626 held the vicarage of Collumpton. While he was a tutor at Oxford, Christopher Trevelyan, a son of John Trevelyan of Nettlecombe, Somersetshire, who married Urith, daughter of Sir John Chichester of Devonshire, was among his pupils, and through this introduction to these families Carpenter married Susanna, his pupil's youngest sister, and obtained his benefice from Sir Robert Chichester. He died on 18 Dec. 1627, and was buried in the chancel of Loxhore Church, where a monument was erected to his memory. Carpenter's literary productions were confined to theology.

He was the author of: 1. `A Sermon preached at the Funeral
Solemnities of Sir Arthur Ackland,' 9 Jan. 1611-12. 2. `
A Pastoral Charge at the Triennial Visitation of the Bishop of Exon.
at Barnstaple,' 1616. 3. `Christ's Larum Bell of Love resounded,' 1616. 4. `The Concionable Christian,' three sermons preached before the judges of the circuit in 1620, London, 1623. His learning is highly praised by Charles Fitzgeoffry in his `Affani,' and two letters addressed to him by Degory Wheare in 1603 and 1621 are in the `Epistol Eucharistic' subjoined to the latter's `Pietas erga Benefactores,' 1628.
Some verses by Carpenter are printed in the `Funebre Officium in memoriam Elizabeth Angli regin' of the university of Oxford, 1603, and in the collection (`Pietas erga Jacobum Angli regem') with which that body in the same year welcomed the new king.

Alice Knight "See Notes"

In the first paragraph of Gene Zubrinsky's notes for Richard Carpenter of Amesbury, he indicates that while it is possible that the man of that name who married Alice Knight at Newton Tony in 1603 is the subject of this account, it is not confirmed.
In the MARRIAGE section of his notes for Richard of Amesbury, Zubrinsky questions the reliability of the baptismal and parental data presented for Alice. [see below]
In the COMMENTS section of the same notes, Zubrinsky presents evidence that casts doubt on the Marden connection sometimes claimed for Richard Carpenter of Amesbury. The notion that Alice Knight (who, as above, may not even be the subject Richard Carpenter's wife) died at Marden is merely a confused spin-off from the misguided attempt to connect Richard of Amesbury to Marden.
The Alice Knight data submissions immediately above are retained only to indicate that they have been taken into account.

NOTE:
[?Alice Knight?] was christened on 8 Oct 1583 in South Berstead, Sussex, England. She died before 1611 in Marden, Wiltshire, England. Information NOT Proved and most likely wrong per Gene Zubrinsky. See the section above! See CHR: 2 below for where this info came from below.

2. Dorothy Carpenter "See Notes"

Gene Zubrinsky indicates that no proof has been found of a Dorothy in the family. This person should be deleted.

OLD NOTES:

Harry F. Rogers indicates a Dorothy Carpenter, daughter of Richard Carpenter of Amesbury married Stephen Rose At Salisbury Cathedral, Old Sarum in 1618. No mention of her as child in any other record. She possibly came from his first marriage?

Subject: Richard Carpenter of Amesbury
Hello
The Dorothy Carpenter who married Stephen Rose at Salisbury Cathedral certainly was the daughter of a Richard Carpenter of Amesbury. This information comes from a marriage licence bond or allegation. I haven't yet seen the original, but the following details are included in a database called "Sarum Marriage Licence Bonds" on Findmypast:
Dorathe Carpenter, aged 30, of Amesbury, dau of Richard Steven Rose, aged 50, of Amesbury, yeoman bond dated 13 July 1618
It should be possible to get hold of a copy of the original document.
There is a will for Stephen Rose, made in 1638. His wife (not named in the will) can be identified as Dorothy from some of the associated probate documents, which are on Ancestry. Several children are mentioned in the will. Some I know were born before 1600 so must be from an earlier marriage of Stephen's. His son John Rose may be from the marriage to Dorothy Carpenter. It is through trying to find out more about John Rose (who went on to become a famous gardener) that I've come across this family. Some accounts of his lfe say he was born about 1619 which would fit nicely with the marriage date, but I've yet to find any proof of his age. The Amesbury connection is certain: in his own will (1677) he left money to the parish of Amesbury and founded a school there.
Among the relatives mentioned in his will is a cousin Mary 'Rattee' of Amesbury. Perhaps she is connected to the Susan Carpenter who married Anthony Rattue. Susan (or Susanna) survived her husband, who was dead by 1623 (see administration bond on Ancestry).
I hope some of this is useful. I'll let you know if I discover anything else about these Carpenters.

Best wishes
Jane (in Witney, near Oxford)

Stephen Rose

NOTE:
Odds are he is NOT the Stephen Rose of Norwich who died in 1659 there and some 200 plus miles away from Sarum.

Burial records are a critical resource for your family tree. They help to bring to a close your ancestor's story while providing clues about your ancestor's final years, particularly where your ancestor was living. The county of Wiltshire is located in South West England. It is a landlocked county and largely agricultural.

3. William Carpenter

Notes below by Eugene Cole Zubrinsky
Ojai, California, 2009

[Derived from one of twelve fully formatted sketches of early Carpenters, these notes contain the most-authoritative information available as of April 2023. The sketches may be viewed online at . (The online version will be updated when appropriate; check the revision date.) Where other information herein conflicts with Zubrinsky's notes, his notes take precedence.]

WILLIAM1 CARPENTER (Richard of Amesbury) was born in England, probably Amesbury, Wiltshire (not Nettlecombe, Somerset), say 1610 and died at Providence (Pawtuxet section, now in Cranston), Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations, on 7 September 1685. He married about 1637, probably at Providence (not by 1635, in England), ELIZABETH ARNOLD, born at Ilchester, Somerset (not Cheselbourne, Dorset), England, on 23 November 1611 and died after 10 February 1679/80 (date of husband's will) (ca. 1683?), daughter of William1 and Christian (Peak) Arnold. William and Elizabeth were almost certainly buried on their homestead, in present-day Cranston (PrTR 5:323-25, 6:141, 150, 17:62-63; NEHGR 33:428, 69:66-68, 159:67-68; Austin 36; Arnold Mem 35, 52; see also BIRTH, MARRIAGE, IMMIGRATION, RESIDENCES, and COMMENTS sections, below). [While the foregoing genealogical data is presented in _Register_ style, the embedding, grouping, and severe abbreviating of source citations are conveniences that depart from it. Sources are cited in full in KEY TO SOURCES, at the end of these notes. The format below is patterned loosely after that used by Robert Charles Anderson in his _Great Migration_ series.]

BIRTH: In 1671, William Carpenter of Pawtuxet, in the township of Providence, gave to his sister [and only known sibling], "Fridgsweete" (Carpenter) Vincent of the English town and parish of Amesbury, "my dwelling house" and adjoining land there, both inherited from his father, Richard Carpenter (PrTR 5:323-25). In 1598[/9], Robert Carpenter of the adjacent parish of Newton Toney named Richard Carpenter of "Aymsbury" among his legatees; a Richard Carpenter, presumably the same man and William's father, was buried at the latter place in 1625 (PCC 93 Kidd fol. 47; AmParReg.1:n.p.). It is therefore probable that William was born at Amesbury.

William's birth year is roughly estimated above as "say 1610." _Say_ is based on less-precise data than _about/circa_, and in this case we have nothing better from which to infer William's birth date than that of his wife, in late 1611. NO RECORD OF THE BIRTH OR BAPTISM OF WILLIAM1 CARPENTER OF PROVIDENCE HAS BEEN FOUND. ANY SPECIFIC DATE FOR EITHER EVENT APPEARING IN THE SECONDARY LITERATURE (E.G., 23 MAY 1611) IS EITHER AN INVENTION OR THE RESULT OF CONFUSION AND SHOULD BE IGNORED.

MARRIAGE: For evidence that William Carpenter arrived in New England a single man and married about 1637, probably at Providence--not by 1635, in England--see IMMIGRATION, below.

William's will instructs sons Silas and Benjamin to "take ye whole & sole Care of Elizabeth my loveing wife their mother" (PrTR 6:144). That Elizabeth was an Arnold by birth is evident from another passage in the will referring to "my brother Stephen Arnold" (PrTR 6:141). Other records--a deed from William's son Joseph to "my uncle Stephen Arnold," for example--further confirm Elizabeth's identity (RILE 50).

IMMIGRATION: Elizabeth Arnold's brother Benedict, continuing the family record begun by their father, relates that "My father and his family . . . arrived in New England June 24 Anno 1635" (NEHGR 33:428). Daniel Hoogland Carpenter disputes the year, contending that it was actually 1636 (see Carpenter [1901] 9n). It will become apparent below, however, that 1635 is correct. Author Carpenter acknowledges that "[t]here is only 'tradition' to support the theory that along with [the Arnolds] came William Carpenter and his wife" (Carpenter [1901] 9). He nevertheless claims that William married Elizabeth Arnold in England, arguing that "the Arnolds and Carpenters were at Providence at the same early date" (Carpenter [1901] 8, 9). He later concludes that William and Elizabeth's eldest son, Joseph2, must have been an adult when he witnessed a deed on 3 May 1656 and thus had been born about 1635, in England (Carpenter [1901] 30, 31; see also Arnold Mem 9, 52; RI Roots 13:75). This, of course, is consistent with the assertion that Joseph and his parents immigrated to New England with the Arnolds.

There are, however, several reasons to doubt that William1 Carpenter of Providence had any contact with the Arnolds in England. First, William's probable English home of Amesbury, Wiltshire, and that of the Arnolds, at Ilchester, Somerset, are more than forty miles apart. "[H]oping to assist further research," Elisha Arnold (1935) introduces the 1606 marriage of Richard Carpenter and Susanna Trevelian, recorded at Nettlecombe, Somerset (seventy plus miles from Amesbury), as "seem[ing] to connect in some way with a John and Richard at Salisbury, 7 miles from Amesbury." So as to put William Carpenter and Elizabeth Arnold in close proximity in England, overzealous researchers have converted this item into the assertions, now frequently seen online, that Richard and Susanna (Trevelian) Carpenter were Providence William's parents and that Richard died at Ilchester in 1625. Trevelian's husband, however, died at Loxhore, Devon, in 1627 and left neither a son William nor a daughter Frideswide (or variants Fridgsweete, Frittisweed, etc.). The Richard Carpenter buried at Amesbury on 21 September 1625 is far more likely to have been William's father than one said to have died at Ilchester that year.

A second reason for skepticism as to Carpenter-Arnold contact in England is that while William1 Arnold--like William1 Carpenter, an original Providence proprietor--was granted a house-lot at Hingham, Massachusetts, on 18 September 1635, Carpenter was not. Had the latter man already married Elizabeth Arnold and immigrated with her family, he, too, almost certainly would have become a Hingham proprietor; the town's records fail altogether to mention him, however. William1 Carpenter first appears in New England records at Providence, no earlier than mid-1637, under "Agrements & orders the second year of ye Plantation" (begun in the spring of 1636 at Seekonk, on the east bank of the Seekonk River in present-day East Providence, and relocated that summer to the river's west bank).

Third, that Providence William's son Joseph witnessed a deed at Providence on 3 May 1656 is mistaken as evidence that he was then an adult and must therefore have been born about 1635, presumably at Amesbury. Witnesses as young as fourteen are found in early New England records, however. (This was the _age of discretion_, at which one could witness documents, choose a guardian, testify in court, and indenture oneself without parental consent.) Fourth, a deposition given by Benjamin Smith and Joseph Carpenter on 16 October 1664 describes the latter man as "Aged 26 yeeres," implying a birth year of about 1638. [This paragraph and the two preceding ones are taken almost verbatim from Zubrinsky, "Abiah3 Carpenter of Warwick, Rhode Island and His Family, With Additional Material Concerning William1 Carpenter of Providence . . . ," NEHGR 159(2005):55-68, at 67-68 (which see for specific source citations). In the course of preparing this sketch, the author has identified additional evidence, presented below, that William Carpenter's path and that of the Arnold family did not cross until William's arrival at Providence.]

Finally, certain Providence records, including the first two of William Carpenter in New England, strongly imply that he came to Providence not "at the same early date" as the Arnolds (as per Carpenter [1901]) but as much as a year or so later. The first of these, under the heading "Agrements & orders the second year of ye Plantation" [about June 1637 to June 1638], is an otherwise undated order that William Carpenter, Benedict Arnold, Francis Weekes, William Reynolds, Thomas Angell, Mrs. Daniel, and Mary Sweet "shold pay in consideration of Ground at present Granted vnto them" two shillings [and sixpence?] apiece; Edward Cope is assessed five shillings [and sixpence?] (PrTR 1:3; RICR 1:15 ["and sixpence"]). Immediately after this is another undated entry, ordering that Mr. Cole [Robert Coles], Francis Weston, and Richard Waterman are each to pay two shillings [one shilling and sixpence?] if "they do not Improue their Ground at present graunted to them . . . by preparing to fense to plaunt to build etc" (PrTR 1:3; RICR 1:15 ["one shilling and sixpence"]). Of those named above, only four--Carpenter, Coles, Weston, and Waterman--would subsequently be identified as original proprietors (see, for example, PrTR 3:90-91, 4:73, 14:274). The latter three, slow to take up their respective grants, presumably had received and paid for them at least several months previously. Carpenter and those named with him, on the other hand, were yet to pay for their lots and almost certainly had obtained them more recently. That none of the others listed with Carpenter was an original proprietor, moreover, suggests that he was one of the last of the thirteen men to earn that designation in later records. (Roger Williams recounts that "poor young fellow" Francis Weekes and "a lad of Thomas Waterman's," generally thought to have been Thomas Angell [both are named with Carpenter, above], were among the first to join Williams in the spring of 1636 [RWCorr 750; RI Hist 1:97]. It is generally supposed that land grants to them were delayed until they came of age.)

The Arnolds, by contrast, had joined Roger Williams more than a year earlier. Benedict Arnold recounts that "We came to Providence to Dwell the 20th of April, 1636" (NEHGR 33:428). First situated on the eastern bank of the Seekonk River, Williams and his friends removed about two months later to the other side of the river (beyond the jurisdiction of Plymouth Colony), where they built their permanent settlement. William Arnold stated in 1659 that "I was one that the very first day entred with some others vpon the land of Prouidence and so laid out my money to buy and helpe pay for it" (PrTR 15:77-78). (Despite having accompanied his father at that time, Benedict Arnold [named with Carpenter above], did not reach adulthood until 21 December 1636 and consequently, as with Weekes and Angell, was not an original proprietor [see NEHGR 33:428].)

The second Providence record naming William Carpenter, dated 10 4th month [June] (year not recorded), implies the order of arrival of two cohorts of settlers: "ye Severall portions of grasse & medow wch our neighbour[s] Greene . . . Cole . . . Arnold & . . . Weston Layd out in ye Townes name vnto [our] neighbour[s] James . . . Olney . . . Waterman . . . Cole . . . Weston . . . Carpenter . . . Holyman were Confirmed as their proper Right & Inheritance to them & theirs as fully as the _former_ portions appropriated to [our] neighbour Throckmorton neighbour Greene neighbour Harris Joshua Verin, neighbour Arnold and neighbour Williams were or are confirmed to them & theirs" (emphasis added) (PrTR 1:4-5, RICR 1:17). (Bartlett gives the year of this record as 1637 [see RICR 1:17]; other records suggest, and other writers conclude, that it was 1638 [see PrTR 1:4, "It was agreede . . ."; WP 30-31; DHRI 1:75; BQ 10:196-97].) The six men listed as having previously confirmed their allotments (including William Arnold) are evidently the earliest of the Providence settlers. In a letter written to the town of Providence in 1650, Joshua Verin speaks of "we six which Cam first" (PrTR 15:37; RICR 1:17n). (Verin, the only one named above who is not called "neighbour," had recently been disfranchised and would soon leave Providence, forfeiting his lands there [PrTR 1:4; NEHGR 131:103-4]. He thus is not among the original purchasers named in subsequent records. The above-quoted record names all the original proprietors except Stukely Westcott [compare, for example, with PrTR 3:90-91, 14:274].) The seven men receiving confirmation of title (William Carpenter among them) had clearly arrived later than the six whose titles had already been validated. Based on the foregoing, we may reasonably estimate that Carpenter came to Providence at least a year after the Arnolds joined the group at Seekonk, in April 1636. It follows that he did not reach New England with and as an in-law of the Arnolds but came as a single man.

But if William Carpenter did not arrive with the Arnolds, on 24 June 1635, then when and with whom did he come to New England? Two records, one colonial and the other English, provide the probable answer. The following entry, dated 3 June 1635, appears in Massachusetts Bay Colony Governor John Winthrop's journal: "heere [at Boston] arived . . . the Iames a shippe of 300: t. with Cattle & passingers which came all safe from S: hampton within [about five weeks and three days]" (WJ 147). Two months earlier, at Southampton "in & aboute the vjt [6th] of April 1635," fifty-three "men, youthes, & boyes . . . besids [sic] the wives & Children of Dyvers of these" had registered for passage to New England on the _James_ of London (PRO/TNA CO1/8/183-85, at 185; Coldham 133-34; NEHGR 14:332 erroneously has _vt_ [5th] of April). (The passengers' dockside arrival probably occurred over a period of days. But the ship's departure--calculated as about 26 April--was likely delayed while a replacement for the original master was found. The passenger list names William Cooper, but Winthrop identifies the ship's master as a man named Graves, with whom he is familiar.)

Among the names on the _James_'s passenger list are "Thomas" Carpenter of Amesbury, carpenter; "Josuah Verren" (Joshua Verin), roper; and John Greene, surgeon. The latter two are listed (beginning with the third name below Carpenter's) in a cluster of nine men "late of New Saru[m]" (NEHGR 14:333 erroneously says "late of New England"). If the Amesbury carpenter was not already acquainted with Verin and Greene--New Sarum (Salisbury) is only seven miles south of Amesbury--he certainly got to know them during the voyage. While Verin settled first at Salem and Greene at Boston, there is no record of a Thomas Carpenter in New England until 1692 (NEHGR 131:101, 103; GM 3:141-42; RVR [pub] 572). Joshua Verin and John Greene ("neighbor Greene," above) were among the six men "which Cam first" to Providence, in 1636; William Carpenter settled there a year or so later (see above; also NEHGR 131:103; GM 3:141-43, 145-46).

It is thus a fact that an Amesbury carpenter surnamed Carpenter emigrated on the same ship as two men from nearby Salisbury who became early associates of Roger Williams at Providence, as did an Amesbury carpenter surnamed Carpenter not long thereafter (see OCCUPATION and WILL/ESTATE, below). If passenger Carpenter were listed as William rather than Thomas, we would not hesitate to conclude that he and William of Providence were one. While the forename conflict gives pause, it is the only ill-fitting puzzle piece. It is likely that the _James_ passenger was actually William Carpenter--inadvertently recorded with the same forename as Thomas Davyes (Davis), who is listed immediately above the Amesbury man. That William Carpenter's first appearance in New England records does not occur until 1637 or 1638 is not significant; many early immigrants went unrecorded for some years after their arrival (see PrTR 1:3, 4). The aforementioned Thomas Davis, for example, does not surface in New England until 1641 (GM 2:310, 316). It is therefore probable--albeit unproved--that the eventual William1 Carpenter of Providence arrived at Boston on 3 June 1635 aboard the _James_ from Southampton.

RESIDENCES: Amesbury (probably from birth, say 1610); Providence (ca. 1637; perhaps Salem or Boston (probably 1635); Pawtuxet section by 1642) (PrTR 1:3; DHRI 1:42-43; BIRTH and IMMIGRATION, above).

D. H. Carpenter's assertion that William Carpenter and four others "at once made settlement" at Pawtuxet after receiving their respective shares of land there in 1638 is open to debate (see Carpenter [1901] 17). In the distribution agreement, dated 8 8th month [October] 1638, Roger Williams states that "all the Meddow ground at Patuxett, bounding vpon the fresh River on both sides is to be impropriated vnto those 13 persons now Jncorporated together in our Towne of providence . . . and to be equally divided among them" (PrTR 15:31; RICR 1:20-21). The boundary between the Pawtuxet lands and the "Gennerall Comon" of the town of Providence was established on 27 5th month [July] 1640 (followed by many years of controversy) (PrTR 15:2). On 30 11th month [January] 1641[/2], "Socononoco Sachem of Patuxset, . . . granted vnto Wm Arnold, Robert Cole & William Carpenter all the lands Marshes medowes, Islands Rivers ponds lyeing betweene the great fresh or salt River called Patuxset River both aboue & below the fall, the River called Pachasett, & the river called Wanasquatuckett, and the great salt River that is between Providence & Patuxit" (SLR 1:63 [witnessed at Boston in 1645]). (Obtaining this deed--to land already purchased by Roger Williams, who [as above] had agreed to divide the Pawtuxet portion among the thirteen first comers--was part of Arnold's bid to remove the Gortonists, who had settled on the west side of Pawtuxet, and invalidate the claims of other original proprietors [Irrepressible Democrat 134].) Shortly before 28 October 1642, "Wm Arnold of Patuxet & Robert Cole & others [having] lately put themselves & theire families lands & estates vnder the protection & Government of [Massachusetts Bay Colony] . . . complained to [them] that [the town of Providence has] since (vppon pretence of a late purchase from the Indians) gone about to deprive them of theire lawfull interest confirmed by _4 yeares posession_ . . ." (emphasis added) (SLR 1:33). If _possession_ is taken to mean _occupancy_, then settlement of Pawtuxet probably occurred sometime between late 1638 and spring 1639.

There is, however, no record indicating precisely when the Pawtuxet lots were laid out. On 14 2nd month [April] 1641, "the Towne of P[ro]vidence . . . Confirmed . . . vnto William Arnold one of the ffree Jnhabetantes of the Towne of Providence" his various land holdings in the town proper but not in Pawtuxet (PrTR 1:109-11). Not until 2 2nd month [April] 1642, when Thomas Olney of Providence leased most of his Pawtuxet land to Arnold, was the latter man recorded as "of providence, or of pautuxett" (PrTR 1:103-4). On 8 September 1642, the Pawtuxet inhabitants, "upon their petition, were taken under [the] government & p[ro]tection" of Massachusetts Bay Colony (MBCR 2:26-27). (The Pawtuxet men, apparently then six in number--William Arnold, Robert Coles, William Carpenter, Benedict Arnold, Zachariah Rhodes, and William Harris--sought thus to avert encroachment by Samuel Gorton and his followers.) Given the ambiguity surrounding the settlement date, it seems prudent to say that William Carpenter and his Pawtuxet neighbors established themselves there sometime between 1638 and 1642.

Pawtuxet--not to be confused with the town of Pawtucket, originally in northeast Providence--is a village lying on both sides of the Pawtuxet River at its mouth. On the north side of the river, Pawtuxet was the southern section of the township of Providence and is now in the town of Cranston. South of the river, Pawtuxet was/is in northern Warwick (PawWeb).

OCCUPATION: Housewright and yeoman. His estate inventory contains many house-carpenter's tools, and a daughter of William Harris's recounts in a letter dated in 1708 that William Carpenter had built her father's house (PrTR 6:149-50; PubRIHS 4:195, 196; WILL/ESTATE, below). Weeden's history of Rhode Island calls him "an English-bred carpenter . . . from Amesbury" (Early RI 87).

D. H. Carpenter recalls the family tradition "that William Carpenter was 'a preacher' in England, and the fact that he performed the marriage ceremony at the wedding of his daughter [Priscilla, in 1670] is, I think, ample proof that he was recognized by his church as one of its 'lay ministers'" (Carpenter [1901] 17, 321). There is no evidence to support this statement, however (see COMMENTS, par. 1, below). Marriage in early New England, moreover, was a civil union, a contract, not a sacrament. Weddings were performed by magistrates rather than clergymen and took place in private homes, not in churches. William's authority to perform marriages derived not from a position in the church but from his office as general assistant for Providence to the Rhode Island General Assembly (see EDUCATION and OFFICES, below).

FREEMAN: William is in the Providence section of the 1655 list of Rhode Island freemen and is also on a 1665 list of Providence freemen (RICR 1:299; PrTR 15:73).

EDUCATION: William Carpenter, Assistant, submitted for entry in the town book written records of marriages he performed in 1669, 1670, and 1671/2 (PrTR 3:106 ["I have joined"], 5:294 ["married . . . by me"]). In 1671/2, marriage banns were "published . . . by a wrighting fixed upon a publick place of the Towne of providence under the hand of Mr William Carpenter Assistant" (PrTR 5:329-30). In 1674[/5], he wrote a letter to the town of Providence declaring land-title transfers (PrTR 4:21-22).

OFFICES: One of four appointed by Boston authorities "to keepe the peace in [Pawtuxet]," 1642[-1658?]; commissioner/deputy for Providence to Rhode Island General Court/Assembly, 1657/8, 1659, 1660, 1661, 1662, 1663, 1664, 1665, 1675, 1676, 1679; juror, General Court of Trials, 1657/8 (did not serve), 1661[/2], 1663, 1664; juror, Grand Inquest, 1658/9, 1663, 1665; warden (magistrate), General Court of Trials, 1660/1; Providence town-meeting moderator, June 1662, June 1665, September 1665, April 1666, September 1666, October 1670, December 1670, February 1670/1, April-September 1671; general assistant for Providence to Rhode Island General Assembly, 1665, 1666, 1667, 1668, 1669, 1670, 1671, 1672; Providence justice of the peace, 1665/6, 1667, 1668; Providence town councilman, January 1670/1, June 1673 (MBCR 2:26-27, 4:1:332, 333; PrTR 1:28, 2:110, 114, 118-19, 128, 131, 3:2-247 passim, 4:52, 6:103-4, 7:227, 8:11, 47, 15:84-149 passim; RICR 1:366, 419, 428, 468, 480, 492, 501, 504, 508, 2:38-449 passim, 3:28-29; RICT1 1:39, 50-51, 70, 2:42-75 passim; RICT2 1, 6, 7, 8; WarTR 159). For other assignments, activities, etc., see PrTR 2:123-24, 3:19, 28, 31, 42-43, 58; RICR 1:430, 444, 482, 507, 2:151-537 passim; RICT2 46).

WILL/ESTATE: The will of William1 Carpenter "of Pautuxett in ye towneshipp of Providence," dated 10 February 1679/80 and proved (with codicil) 1 October 1685, names the following legatees (in order of first appearance): eldest son Joseph; daughters Lydia Smith and Priscilla Vincent; sons Silas (co-executor), Benjamin (co-executor), Timothy, and Ephraim; grandsons Ephraim Carpenter (eldest son of aforesaid son Ephraim, by first wife), William Carpenter [son of eldest son Joseph], and Joseph Smith (son of daughter Lydia); wife Elizabeth; granddaughter Susanna (sister of grandson Ephraim); and grandson Simon Smith (brother of grandson Joseph Smith) (PrTR 6:135, 138-46, 148 [also 4:21-22, 14:218, which identify grandson William as Joseph2's son]). Others mentioned include brother-in-law Stephen Arnold and deceased son William. A codicil to the will, dated 15 March 1683/4, includes a section indicating that son Joseph is deceased and leaving his bequest to grandson Joseph [son of the deceased Joseph] (PrTR 6:147-48).

Almost all bequests are of land, rights to subsequent land divisions, and rights of commoning (entitlements to pasturage on and/or divisions of common land). In only one instance--twenty acres of upland to grandson Ephraim--is parcel size specified (PrTR 6:141-42). Another bequest hints at the amount of acreage: "out of [sons Timothy, Silas, and Benjamin's share of rights to certain lands and meadows] one hundred acres of land to be [set out to grandson Ephraim Carpenter] . . . ; ye sayd hundred acres of land to be part thereof Meadow proportionably to Each hundred acres Contained in ye aforesd [share]" (PrTR 6:143-44). This and the large number of bequests imply that the testator's lands and rights thereto amounted to many hundreds of acres. (For details of Carpenter's land allotments, purchases, and sales, see PrTR 1:3, 4-5, 44-45, 71-72, 74-78, 79-80, 82-86, 91-92, 96-99, 101-3, 107-8, 2:21, 3:71-72, 90-91, 169-74, 249, 250, 4:18-19, 21-22, 24-26, 45-46, 47-48, 64-66, 73-76, 112-13, 115-20, 314-15, 5:306-9, 11:144, 14:64-66, 185-86, 273-76, 15:31, 75, 86, 94-95, 96-97, 21:53; WarTR 45, 81; RILE 52; also PrLR.)

William's estate (moveable goods only) was inventoried on 30 September 1685 and appraised at £22. Included are many carpenter's implements: various types and sizes of saws and augers; chisels, plane irons, gouges, drawing knives, and adzes; a wainscot plough; a burr (drill or chisel); and a spokeshave (PrTR 6:149-50, 17:62-63). Despite the modest value of William's personal estate, his tax assessments--on land and livestock (and by 1679, a saw mill he apparently owned with sons Silas and Benjamin)--were by 1650 among the highest in Providence (PrTR 15:33, 135-36, 185-91, 206-14, 223-25, 17:44-47, 48-52).

CHILDREN: All born in the township of Providence, at least iv-viii (perhaps as many as ii-viii) born at Pawtuxet; birth order slightly tentative.

i. JOSEPH2 CARPENTER, b. ca. 1638 (aged 26 in 1664), d. Musketa Cove, Oyster Bay, Long Island, Province of New York, between 15 or 17 February 1682[/3] and 15 March 1683/4; m. (1) probably Rehoboth, Plymouth Colony, ca. 1658 (not 21 April 1659), HANNAH3 CARPENTER, b. Weymouth, Mass. Bay Colony, 3 2nd month [April] 1640, d. probably Musketa Cove, by 8 June 1673, dau. of William2 and Abigail (Briant) Carpenter; m. (2) probably Oyster Bay, by 2 Sept. 1674, ANN WEEKES, bp. New Amsterdam, Colony of New Netherland, 9 July 1651, d. Musketa Cove after 24 4th month [June] 1713, dau. of Francis and Elizabeth (_____) Weekes (NEHGR 159:64n47, 67-68; PrTR 6:138, 141, 144, 147-48; PubRIHS 4:197; TAG 70:201, 204; RILE 1:47, 50-51; NYChR 29; WMM-MM A:24; FMM-VR 78; OBTR 1:99, 411-12, 640-41, 642-44, 2:702). For additional information about Joseph and his family, see his notes and those of first wife Hannah, below (links to online sketches at).
ii. LYDIA CARPENTER, b. say 1640, d. Warwick 1 Oct. 1711; m. probably Pawtuxet (Providence), ca. 1660 (eldest son, Benjamin, in 69th yr. in 1729 [will]), BENJAMIN SMITH, b. ca. 1631-1632 (aged about 43 on 17 March 1674/5 [deposition]), d. Warwick 23 Dec. 1713, probable son of Christopher and Alice (_____) Smith (WarVR 1:2:18; WarPR 1:95-100, 309-10 [misnumbered 209-10]; Angell Anc 469; Austin 376; PrTR 6:139, 143, 145, 15:146).
When on 9 Feb. 1657[/8?] she signed by mark in witnessing (with brothers Joseph and Ephraim) a deed of Pawtuxet (Warwick) land from an Indian sachem to her father, Lydia was in her teens (the _age of discretion_ was 14) (see WarTR 80-81; IMMIGRATION, par. 4, above).

iii. EPHRAIM CARPENTER, b. say 1642, d. probably West Neck (in south Oyster Bay), between 20 Feb. 1697/8 and 8 Jan. 1702/3; m. (1) probably Pawtuxet (Providence), by 1666 (perhaps by 1663), SUSANNAH HARRIS, d. before 3 Dec. 1677, dau. of William1 and Susannah (Hyde) Harris; (2) Oyster Bay, 3 Dec. 1677, SUSANNAH (WOOD) ENGLAND (widow of Josiah), d. probably Musketa Cove, before 1 July 1693 (in 1684?), dau. of John1 and Elizabeth (_____) Wood of Portsmouth, R.I.; (3) by 1 July 1693, LYDIA _____, said (not proved) to be Lydia Dickinson, b. 5 Oct. 1662, dau. of John and Elizabeth (Howland) Dickinson (OBTR 1:235, 2:41-43, 71-73, 76-77, 613-14, 624-25; PrTR 5:42-44, 7:190-96, 10:43-44, 14:61, 202; TG 20:168-69; John Wood 10-16; MD 54:27-28; Austin 36).

D. H. Carpenter mistakenly asserts that Ephraim's first recorded appearance is as a witness to a Providence deed on 5 Feb. 1661 (see Carpenter [1901] 314; PrTR 1:82-83). Implicit in author Carpenter's estimate of Ephraim's birth year as about 1640 is the false assumption that to have witnessed this deed he must have been at least 21 years old. On 9 Feb. 1657[/8?], he witnessed (with siblings Joseph and Lydia) a deed of Pawtuxet (Warwick) land to his father; Ephraim was unquestionably a teenager at the time (as above, children as young as 14 could witness documents) (see WarTR 80-81). He was most likely still a minor when he witnessed a deed in each of May and August 1660 and March 1660[/1?] (WarTR 81; PrTR 4:112-13, 14:254). Ephraim had certainly come of age, however, by the time he was admitted a Providence freeman, on 2 May 1666 (PrTR 15:73). Ephraim and his father were the only Carpenters among Providence householders who swore allegiance to King Charles II on 31 May 1666 (PrTR 3:101, 15:104-5).

In his will, dated 20 Feb. 1697/8, Ephraim2's namesake son, of Pawtuxet (Providence), bequeaths all his real estate to "my Honrd: ffather Ephraim Carpenter, now inhabetant at long Jsland" (PrTR 7:190-91). Except for his clothing, horse, saddle, bridle, and 4 bushels of oats (all willed to his uncle Silas's widow, Sarah), he also leaves his personal estate to his father. On 8 Jan. 1702/3, however, "Susannah Arnold sister of . . . [testator] Ephraim Carpenter, & wife of Elisha Arnold of Providence . . . the Reall, true, & lawfull heires of the Estate of ye deceased Testator" acknowledged receipt of "all ye Remnant of the Estate . . . which was left after all charges was Defraied" (PrTR 5:42-44). Although Ephraim2 is not mentioned, it seems clear that his son's bequests to him had been invalidated by the father's death and intestacy, prompting the distribution of Ephraim3's estate to his sister and only surviving heir at law. Supporting this interpretation is that on 4 Sept. 1703, Josias Carpenter (presumably Ephraim3's half-brother, named for the latter's mother's first husband, Josiah England) sold several parcels of land at West Neck whose descriptions match those of lots previously acquired by Ephraim2 Carpenter (OBTR 1:387-89, 2:41-43, 71-73, 76-78, 624-25). And on 2 Nov. 1703, George Hewlett of Hempstead, L.I., deeded to Capt. Thomas Jones of Fort Neck (in south Oyster Bay) 1 3/4 meadow lots at the latter place that were "formerly Daniel Harcuts and after In possession of Ephraim Carpenter Deceased" (OBTR 2:613-14).

D. H. Carpenter states that Ephraim3 Carpenter was admitted a Musketa Cove [sic] inhabitant "in 1683 (at 21 years of age)" (see Carpenter [1901] 316). This is apparently the author's basis for estimating the younger Ephraim's birth date as about 1662 and his father's marriage date as about 1661 (see Carpenter [1901] 314, 316). Despite Ephraim2's having settled permanently in Oyster Bay about 1676, however, Ephraim3 was in Providence by 1684 and lived there (probably on land his father gave him in 1685) until 1693, when he took up residence at Musketa Cove; he was admitted an inhabitant of Oyster Bay on 5 Sept. 1694 ("to settle here at his own cost and Charge in order to Trading or [ ]") (PrTR 5:278-79, 14:202-3, 217-18, 259-63, 15:147, 17:44, 47, 48, 52, 102, 103, 21:33-35; OBTR 1:235, 575-76, 2:362). He bought a dwelling house and parcels of land in Oyster Bay on 30 March 1695 and sold them on 29 June 1696 (OBTR 2:192-93, 279-80). He then returned to Pawtuxet, where he died about a year and a half later (PrTR 7:190-96).

The earliest records of Ephraim3 at Providence are in 1684 tax lists and a 1685 deed of Providence lands from his father (of Musketa Cove), which "I . . . deliver into the actual possession of my [eldest] son Ephraim Carpenter" (PrTR 14:202-3, 17:44, 47, 48, 52 [compare relative amounts with 17:102, 103]). Ephraim3's taxation and receipt of land in these years, however, do not rule out the possibility that he was then a minor. Not until 27 May 1687, when Ephraim Carpenter of Providence sold to Clement King land left to Ephraim by his grandfather, William Carpenter, was he unquestionably 21, the legal age for disposing of property (PrTR 21:33-35; Blackstone 1:451). Based on these considerations, we infer that Ephraim3 had been born by 1666, perhaps by 1663. Logic dictates that we estimate the first marriage of our subject, Ephraim2, as having occurred by the same time.

In a testamentary deed dated 10 Nov. 1670, William Harris calls his daughter Susannah the wife of Ephraim Carpenter (PrTR 14:61). On 1 July 1693, Ephraim--with his then wife Lydia consenting--sold his Musketa Cove lands, including his home-lot (OBTR 2:72-73).

Ephraim is said to have been constable at Oyster Bay from 1681 or 1682 to 1687, but the township's records indicate otherwise (see Austin 36; Carpenter [1901] 315; OBTR 1:240, 253, 264, 265; 2:323, 330, 334). The only occasion on which he was named to a related office was on 2 April 1681, when Caleb Wright was named constable, and Ephraim became deputy constable for the plantation at Musketa Cove (OBTR 1:240-41).

iv. PRISCILLA CARPENTER, b. say 1644, d. probably Providence about 15 Nov. 1690; m. Providence (probably Pawtuxet), 31 May 1670, [her cousin] WILLIAM VINCENT, bp. Amesbury, Wiltshire, 17 June 1638, d. Providence between 21 Dec. 1695 (will) and 1 Feb. 1695/6 (estate inv.), son of Nicholas (not Thomas) and Frideswide (Carpenter) Vincent. William m. (2) before 21 Dec. 1695, JEMIMA _____ (PrTR 5:294, 7:176-79, 20:231-33; RIVR 2:1[Providence]:37; AmParReg 1:n.p; Austin 213-14, 459).

The deed by which William Vincent sold to Timothy Carpenter a quarter share of a meadow lot inherited by William's wife Priscilla from her father, William1 Carpenter, ends with the following: "In Wittness . . . I the said William Vinsent & Priscilla My Wife doe hereunto set our handes & seales this fifteene day of November . . . 1690" (PrTR 6:144, 20:231-33; PrLR 2:95-96). Only William's name is subscribed, however, suggesting that Priscilla had died before she could formally consent to the sale of her legacy.

William Vincent's will, dated 21 Dec. 1695 and proved 3 March 1695/6, names "my wife Jemima" and "my three sonns, Thomas Nicholas & the youngest [William]" (PrTR 7:176-77). D. H. Carpenter claims that Vincent made another will, also dated in 1695 but previous to the official one, naming a son Jonas before the three children listed above (see Carpenter [1901] 321). No such document is found, however. (Perhaps Carpenter viewed both the "original," clerk's copy and the published transcription, misread _Thomas_ as _Jonas_ in the former, and in reviewing his notes, concluded that the two copies were of separate origin.)

In a deed of 64 acres to William Vincent, dated 5 Feb. 1661[/2?], William Carpenter calls Vincent his "Cousen" (i.e., nephew) (PrTR 1:82-83, 21:86).

v. TIMOTHY CARPENTER, b. say 1646, d. Pawtuxet (Providence) 19 August 1726; m. probably Providence 1670-1671, HANNAH BURTON, d. probably Pawtuxet (Providence) before 1 Dec. 1724 (not mentioned in husband's will), dau. of William and Hannah (Wickes) Burton (RIVR 2:1[Providence]:263; PrTR 7:170-73; WarTR 19, 140; PrPR 3:3-6; Austin 36, 266, 268, 420-21).

Timothy's three eldest siblings were minors when they witnessed a deed to their father on 9 Feb. 1657[/8?] (PrTR 80-81). Had Timothy then been at least 14 (the legal minimum age for witnessing documents), he, as a male, almost certainly would have replaced his sister Lydia in attesting to the document's legitimacy (see IMMIGRATION, par. 4, above). Timothy fails to appear on Providence freemen's lists (the last dated in 1669) and was not among that township's householders who swore allegiance to the king between 31 May 1666 and 29 April 1670 (PrTR 3:101-2; 15:104-5). He evidently became a householder sometime between the latter date and the last Monday in May 1671, when he (along with his brothers Silas and Benjamin and 20 other young men) affirmed his loyalty to the crown (see PrTR 3:199-200). That Timothy appears first in all documents in which he and his brothers Silas and Benjamin are named in succession (including their father's will and codicil) implies that he was older than they (PrTR 4:21-22, 5:115-16, 201-2, 6:141, 142, 143, 147, 21:33).

In his will, dated 30 (not 20) March 1703, William Burton mentions daughters Hannah Carpenter and Ethlannah Clarke (PrTR 7:170-72). In Timothy Carpenter's will, dated 1 Dec. 1724 and proved 19 Sept. 1726, he names daughters Ethalannah Sweet and Hannah Arnold among his legatees (PrPR 3:3-5; Austin 36).

vi. SILAS CARPENTER (twin?), b. ca. 1650-1651 (aged 24 in 1675), d. Pawtuxet (Providence) 25 Dec. 1695 (leaving 4 children, all minors); m. probably Pawtuxet (Providence) say 1685-1688, his cousin SARAH ARNOLD, b. 26 June 1665, d. Pawtuxet (Providence), widow, 22 April 1742 (not 26 Nov. 1727), dau. of Stephen and Sarah (Smith) Arnold (PrTR 6:156-59, 194-209, 7:157-59, 10:61-62, 15:146; RIVR 2:1[Providence]:7, 209, 263). For evidence suggesting that Silas and his brother Benjamin were twins, see the latter's listing (no. vii), below.

Silas was a householder--though not necessarily 21 and evidently not married--when he made oath of his fidelity to the king on the last Monday in May 1671 (PrTR 3:199-200, 15:104-5 ["all hovse hovlderes inhabiting this Colloney take the : oath of allegiance . . . March : 4th : 1664"]). In a deposition taken on 28 April 1675 (not in 1674, as per Carpenter [1901]), Silas describes himself as aged 24 (PrTR 15:146; see also Carpenter [1901] 30n). He was admitted a Rhode Island freeman on 3 May 1681 (RICR 3:98). Despite D. H. Carpenter's claim that both the aforementioned deposition and Silas's gravestone give his birth year as 1650, the former simply has his age in 1675, and the latter's location, let alone inscription, is unknown (see Carpenter [1901] 30n; no mention of gravestone at 322-23 [Silas's detail pages]).

In his will, dated 22 Dec. 1695 (three days before his death) and belatedly presented for probate by widow Sarah on 8 April 1701, Silas calls Stephen Arnold his father-in-law (PrTR 6:157, 7:157-58, 10:61-62). Stephen Arnold's will, dated 2 June 1698, mentions daughter Sarah Carpenter (PrTR 6:205, 206, 210). D. H. Carpenter gives Sarah's date of death as 26 Nov. 1727 (see Carpenter [1901] 323). This, however, was another Sarah (Arnold) Carpenter: the daughter of Israel and Mary (Barker) (Smith) Arnold, she had married Silas's namesake son on 21 Dec. 1708 (RIVR 2:1[Providence]:7; PrBMD, citing PrVR 1:86, 434).

vii. BENJAMIN CARPENTER (twin?), b. say 1650-1652, d. Pawtuxet (Providence) 3 March 1710/1; m. probably Providence say 1680 or later, MARY TILLINGHAST, b. probably Newport, R.I., perhaps in Oct. 1661 (Aug. 1659?), d. probably Providence, after 15 Dec. 1715 (named in father's will), dau. of Rev. Pardon and _____ [not Sarah, dau. of John; perhaps Mary] (Butterworth) Tillinghast (RIVR 2:1[Providence]:263; PrTR 5:120, 7:39-42, 65-66, 16:37-42; Tillinghasts 1, 1n3, 10, 13; NEHGR 41:191-94).

While D. H. Carpenter estimates that brothers Silas and Benjamin might have been born up to three years apart (1650 and 1650-1653, respectively), he leaves open the possibility that, as family tradition has it, the two were twins (see Carpenter [1901] 31, 322, 326). A survey of town and colony records reveals a pattern highly consistent with this proposition. In records dated before Silas's death, he and Benjamin almost always appear together (with Benjamin second in most instances). For example: Both men (with brother Timothy and 20 other new, though not necessarily married, householders) swore allegiance on the last Monday of May 1671, and both were admitted Rhode Island freemen on 3 May 1681 (PrTR 3:199-200, 15:104-5; RICR 3:98). Their father's will makes 12 bequests to Silas and Benjamin, of which 8 are joint (3 of these include their brother Timothy) and 2 each are individual (PrTR 6:138-145). One of the bequests to Silas and Benjamin (item 14) is of "lands & meadows . . . whereon _theire dwelling house_ now standeth" (emphasis added) (PrTR 6:141). The will instructs the two to care for their mother and names them "whole & sole Exsecutors" (PrTR 6:144-45). On 29 May 1693, Silas and Benjamin Carpenter jointly purchased from Nathaniel Waterman and Joseph Williams "a percell of Boggy Meaddow" and a 6-acre "Neck of upland," the latter bounded on the south "with the land of ye said Carpenters" (14:220-21). Among the parcels Waterman conveys to his son Richard in a testamentary deed, dated 28 Feb. 1710/1, is "that part of my Meaddow at Mashapague . . . which I bought of Mr Silas Carpenter and Mr Benjamin Carpenter" (PrTR 21:25-26). In an account of "our [taxable] Estate," dated 12 March 168[6/]7, Silas and Benjamin list all lands and livestock as jointly owned (PrTR 17:80-81). A similar account of "our estates Ratable," dated 6 Aug. 1688, lists all but a few livestock and one tract of land as jointly owned (PrTR 17:120).

Tax lists appear in Providence town records only for the years 1650, 1671, 1679-1681, 1684, 1687, and 1688 (PrTR 15:33-223 passim, 17:44-127 passim). The two brothers appear (with their father) as joint owners of a saw mill on the lists of 1679-1681 and 1684; in those years and also in 1687 and 1688, they are listed together and taxed as one (PrTR 15:187-223 passim, 17:44-122 passim).

A deed dated 1 July 1701, by which Benjamin sold 93 acres inherited from his father, mentions his "now wife Mary" (5:120). Probate records of April and May 1711 describe Mary Carpenter as widow of the deceased Benjamin Carpenter of Pawtuxet in Providence (PrTR 7:39, 65-66). The will of Pardon Tillinghast, dated 15 Dec. 1715, names daughter Mary Carpenter (PrTR 16:38). Neither of the birth dates given for Mary Tillinghast in the secondary literature is documented (Tillinghasts 13). It is believed, though not documented, that Pardon Tillinghast's first wife (Mary's mother) was the sister or niece of Samuel Butterworth of Rehoboth, Mass. (Tillinghasts 1n3; NEHGR 41:191-92). Sarah, daughter of Butterworth's nephew John, is sometimes said to have been Mary's mother but has been shown to have married William Hayward (NEHGR 41:192, 193). While neither of the two married children of Pardon's first marriage named a daughter Sarah, each named one Mary (Tillinghasts 1n3).

viii. WILLIAM CARPENTER, b. probably by 2 Sept. 1653 (father 1st calls himself Wm. Sr. on 2 Sept. 1674), d. probably Pawtuxet (Providence) between 27 April 1676 (last rec. of father as Wm. Sr.) and 10 February 1679/80 (father's will calls him deceased); unmarried (PrTR 4:21-22, 6:143, 145, 8:11; RILE 51).

Considerable circumstantial evidence implies that William was the youngest of William1 and Elizabeth (Arnold) Carpenter's children. On 4 Dec. 1671, four of William1's sons witnessed the deed by which he gave his Amesbury messuage to his sister, Frideswide (PrTR 5:323-25). If true to custom, the sequence in which they signed the instrument--Timothy, Silas, Benjamin, and William "Junr:"--reflects their birth order. (William Jr. was then presumably a minor but old enough to witness a document, for which the legal minimum age was 14.) When on 2 Sept. 1674 Joseph Carpenter of Musketa Cove sold several Pawtuxet (Providence and Warwick) holdings to his uncle Stephen Arnold, the deed was witnessed by Joseph's brothers Silas (first) and William "junr" (RILE 50-51). Signing in "assent" were William Carpenter "Senr." and Joseph's second wife. This earliest self-identification by the elder Carpenter using a generational identifier suggests that his namesake son (the subject William) had reached adulthood. On 8 12 mo. 1674 [Feb. 1674/5], William Carpenter "Senr" gave to certain family members his rights to several shares of soon-to-be-divided common lands (PrTR 4:21-22). This declaration of title transfer names the recipients, in order, as sons Timothy, Silas, and Benjamin; grandsons Joseph Smith and "my sone Joseph sone William"; and (again last) "my sone William."

The will of Zachariah Rhodes Sr., dated in 1662, names William Carpenter "senior" as an overseer (PrTR 4:80, 82). This use of a generational identifier when William2 was unquestionably still a child is a departure from custom and a chronological outlier. All other instances in which _Sr._ or _Jr._ is used to distinguish these two Williams from one another are clustered between 1671 (when, as above, the latter was probably still a minor) and 27 April 1676 (see PrTR 4:21-22, 23 [6 April 1675], 5:323-25, 8:11; RILE 51).

Quoting from Hubbard's _Narrative of the Troubles with the Indians in New England_ (1677) and Austin's _Genealogical Dictionary of Rhode Island_ (1887), D. H. Carpenter claims that on 27 January 1675/6, during an Indian attack upon William1 Carpenter's house, his namesake son was killed (see Carpenter [1901] 18-19, 320). Hubbard's narrative says that "[t]wo that belonged to the said [Mr.] Carpenter were wounded, and one of the Enemies slain" (Hubbard 1:164). Austin, drawing from Hubbard and also from an unattributed account published in 1676--whose only mention of casualties is the death of "a Negro Servant" of "young Mr. [Toleration] Harris"--distorts both by relating that "two of [William Carpenter's] household were killed" (see Chronicle 58; Hubbard 58n259; HP 162n; Austin 37; see also Carpenter [1901] 18). The eminent antiquarian Samuel Gardner Drake regarded the anonymous version, which he felt was written from personal knowledge, as more reliable than Hubbard's (see Hubbard 58n260). The most personally knowledgeable source, however, is William Harris, who wrote the following to Sir Joseph Williamson on 12 Aug. 1676: "I haue lost a deer son : a dillegent engenious Just man : temperate in all things, whom ye Indeans lay in waite for by ye way syd & killd him, and a negro man, and burnt our houses . . . " (HP 162-63). A record of William Carpenter's election as Providence deputy to the Rhode Island General Assembly, dated 27 April 1676, refers to him as "Senr" (PrTR 8:11). This implies that, three months after the aforementioned Indian attack, William Jr. was still living. He had died by 10 Feb. 1679/80, the date of his father's will, which refers to "my son William deceased" (PrTR 6:143, 145).

William is not named on any of the Providence tax lists (the only ones recorded between 1650 and 1680 are dated in 1671 and 1679) or lists of the township's householders who swore allegiance (the last is dated in late May 1671). This, together with the lack of a probate record for him or of any evidence that he married, suggests that he lived his entire life in his father's household.

COMMENTS: Repeating (imperfectly) Benedict's history of the Baptists, D. H. Carpenter names eleven men, including William Carpenter, as founders, at Providence between 3 August 1638 and 16 March 1638/9, of the first Baptist church in America (see Baptist Hist 1:473, 475; Carpenter [1901] 16). Benedict's account of the baptisms that occurred on the latter date, however, does not accurately represent the description in Massachusetts Governor John Winthrop's journal (the only known contemporaneous record). The latter identifies the participants only as Roger Williams, "one [Ezekiel] Holyman, . . . and some ten more" (see WJ 286). An 1876 article about Roger Williams (John C. C. Clarke, "The Pioneer Baptist Statesman") challenges Benedict: "Who those ten were, is entirely unknown. . . . No records of their society or church remain. Mr. Benedict gave twelve names, and his error has been widely copied without questioning. Mr. Benedict gives the names of twelve of the first thirteen proprietors, as named in Williams's deed, omitting, however, Mr. Throckmorton, who was an undoubted Baptist. Mr. [Isaac] Backus [_A History of New England with Particular Reference to the . . . Baptists_, 2nd ed. (1871)] is against Benedict as to Waterman and Weston; and Roger Williams sets aside Arnold and Carpenter. Probably the first twelve were of the following names, viz., Messrs. Brown, Olney, Scott, Throckmorton, Westcott, Holiman, Williams, and their wives and the widow Reeves" (BQ 10:199, 204). Williams, in a letter to the General Court at Boston, depicts Arnold and Carpenter as "very far allso in religion from you, if you knew all" (RWCorr 444). The assertion that William Carpenter was a founder of the church at Providence is therefore groundless.

In letters to Massachusetts Governor Endicott in 1656, Roger Williams indicates that William Carpenter and [his brother-in-law] Stephen Arnold were illegally selling gunpowder to the Indians (RWCorr 2:471-74). These letters also relate that William Arnold [Carpenter's father-in-law] was having an adulterous relationship with his maid, Katherine (Mrs. Thomas) Doxey (RWCorr 2:471-75).

In May 1660, "William Carpenter and Zachariah Roades gave notice that they had Landed one Ancor of Liquors" (PrTR 2:26). (An _anker/anchor_ was a cask or keg containing 8 1/3 imperial gallons.)

The honorific _Mr_ (no period), for _Master_ (designating a gentleman), was first prefixed to William Carpenter's name in 1657/8, in the record of his initial appearance as a commissioner for Providence at the Rhode Island General Court (RICR 1:366). Though he appears in General Court of Trials records in 1657/8 and 1658/9, they do not refer to him as _Mr_ until 1660/1, when he served on the court as a magistrate (RICT1 1:70). Last to grant him that appellation were the townsmen of Providence, whose records do not begin doing so until 1667 (PrTR 1:28-29, 3:121). (Ordinary townsmen were apparently slower to refer honorifically to men of higher status with whom they had longstanding, informal relationships than were colony-level functionaries in mentioning each other.)

Over the years, William Carpenter joined with William Arnold, "most ruthless of the Pawtuxet proprietors," and with the contentious, "inordinately ambitious" William Harris, another Pawtuxet proprietor, in various land-grabbing schemes and political maneuvers (Irrepressible Democrat 134, 258-60, 269, 278).

It is often said (though not by reliable sources) that William1 Carpenter of Providence (Richard of Amesbury) was a first cousin of William2 Carpenter of Rehoboth (William1 of Shalbourne [_Bevis_, 1638]) and also of the daughters of Alexander Carpenter of Wrington, Somersetshire, and Leiden, Netherlands, four of whom came to Plymouth. This derives from Amos B. Carpenter's unsupported claim that Richard, William1 of Shalbourne, and Alexander Carpenter were brothers (see Carpenter [1898] 34; William1 of Shalbourne sketch, COMMENTS). No evidence has been found even hinting at a link between the Wrington Carpenters, on the one hand, and either of the other two aforementioned families, on the other; a connection is highly improbable. Traditional genealogical research methods provide good reasons to doubt also that Providence

William and Rehoboth William were closely related (see NEHGR 159:64-66, 67n63). Results of recent genetic testing coordinated by the Carpenter Cousins Y-DNA Project support this conclusion: Based on a number of 67-marker tests, "we can state with 95% confidence that the most recent common ancestor of the two groups [descendants of the Providence and Rehoboth Carpenters, respectively] was more than 2 generations before the immigrants and less than about 20. Therefore, the DNA testing has very nearly ruled out the often-repeated claim that the Williams were first cousins. The most likely estimate is about 7 generations, but that is a very rough estimate, and the 95% confidence interval is a more reasonable description of what the DNA is telling us" (Carpenter Cousins).

An inscription in Mineral Springs Cemetery, Pawtucket, gives Elizabeth (Arnold) Carpenter's date of death as 7 September 1685 (see RI Cems 68). It presumably appears on the same monument--almost certainly a cenotaph, erected many generations later--as that bearing inscriptions memorializing her brothers, Benedict (buried in Newport) and Stephen (buried in Pawtuxet, later removed to Swan Point Cemetery, Providence) (see RI Cems 13, 15, and unpaged descriptions of cemeteries CR084, NT011, PV003, PW001). The date of death in Elizabeth's inscription (repeated in a comparatively recent Arnold genealogy) almost certainly reflects confusion with that of husband William, whose death is twice recorded as having occurred on that date (see Arnold Rec 6; PrTR 6:150, 17:62-63). Since these Arnolds and Carpenters have no known connection to Pawtucket, the monument's very location is likely the result of further confusion--between that place and the village of Pawtuxet (see RESIDENCES, last par., above).

Benedict Arnold records that "my father and his family Sett Sayle ffrom Dartmouth in Old England, the first of May . . . 1635 (NEHGR 33:428). The oft-repeated (online) assertion that the ship on which they did so was the _Plain Joan_ is mistaken. Among that ship's passengers, enrolled on 15 May 1635 at London (more than 200 sea miles from Dartmouth, in the opposite direction from New England) and "to _Virginia_: embarqued," was Thomas Arnold, 30 (emphasis added) (Hotten 78-79) This was almost certainly neither William's half-brother (then 36 and with a family, he apparently never left England) nor a same-named man of Watertown, Mass., by mid-1636 (NEHGR 33:428, 69:68-69). There is no known record of the ship on which the Arnolds sailed to New England.

An 1879 journal article presenting material compiled by the notorious fraud Horatio G. Somerby claims an ancient, royal ancestry for William1 Arnold going back sixteen generations into Wales (NEHGR 33:432-38; see also Carpenter [1901] 28). Despite Edson Salisbury Jones's 1915 refutation of Somerby's work--Jones identifies the immigrant's father as Nicholas Arnold of Ilchester, Somerset (not Thomas Arnold of Cheselbourne, Dorset, as per Somerby)--the discredited pedigree lives on, particularly in online databases and on personal webpages (NEHGR 69:64-69; for an expanded account of Jones's research, see RIHSC 14:33-49, 68-86).

OLD NOTES: The following notes consist of previously compiled data, some of which is incorrect. They are retained so that the reader may identify specific items contained in them that he or she might have thought worthy of inclusion in Gene Zubrinsky's notes (above) and will know that they were deliberately omitted for being erroneous or extraneous. For PAF and GEDCOM data files containing only his notes, see the "Gene Zubrinsky" folder of the CE 2009.

MARRIAGE: 1 Nov 1635 in England given in the AF and other records does not match Gene Zubrinsky date of abt 1637. The difference is that William apparently was not married when he came to America and was married sometime after he arrived.

Published by the Marion Press of Jamacia, Queensborough, NY in 1901. 370 Pages. Will on pages 20 to 28. AKA: William of Amesbury. William Carpenter, Founder of the Providence Carpenters, is Number 1.
He was the son and heir of Richard Carpenter of Amesbury, Wiltshire, England.
Did William go to Barbadoes in 1634? Or was it a cousin?
See page 5 in the above record. See Brother Richard's notes.
See page 354, Describing the "Visitation" or census of the College of Arms in 1623 and 1634 where it is shown that there was a number of Carpenter families in Gloucester, Hereford, Somerset, and Surrey, who made proof of their pedigrees by presenting arms which were emblazoned in the windows of the Church at Westbury upon Trin (often called the Worcester Arms).
BIRTH: 23 May 1611 not proved in Nettlecomb, Somerset, England. 1608 to 1611 is current thought.

FOUNDER: This William Carpenter is considered to be the founder of the Providence (Pawtuxet), Rhode Island Branch of the Carpenter family.

EMIGRATION:
William came to America with his father-in-law and his wife. Their ship left Dartmouth, Devonshire, England on Friday May 1, 1635 (should be 1636) and arrived in New England on June 24, 1636 at Hingham, MA.
The ship was called the "Plain Joan" and arrived in Boston after a 54 day trip.
William is listed in the first deed executed in the Colony by Roger Williams.
Robert Coles lived on the property adjoining. William Carpenter, Robert Coles and William Arnold were three of 14 charter members of the Baptist Church of America established by Roger Williams at Providence on August 3, 1638.
For defense against indian attacks, William Carpenter built a block house on his property soon after settling there. In an Indian attack during King Phillip's War, all the settlers gathered for protection inside the block house, where their brave stand compelled the Indians to retreat. This William's son William Jr. was killed in the attack though, and this William, while busily engaged in repairing the damage to his estate died on Sept. 7, 1685.

Will of William Carpenter "of Pautuxett" was dated 10 Feb 1679/80. "As per Vol. vi, pages 138-150 of Providence Records?" or more precisely, The Early Records of the Town of Providence, 21 vols. (Providence, 1892–1915), 6:138–50. (per Gene Zubrinsky).

MISC: Additional data from John L. Carpenter in NH: William and Elizabeth were married for a short time before they came to America. A memorandum from the Arnold family states: "We left Dartmouth on *Friday, May 1, 1635,(should be 1636) and arrived in New England *June 24, 1635, going first to Hingham and than to Providence, where we arrived April 20, 1636."
* A obvious miscalculation as May 1st 1635 fell on a Thursday (not Friday) , and there was no settlement at Providence as early as April 1636, Roger William's landed there in in June 1636.
Wm. came to America with his wife & father in law Their ship was called the "Plain Joan " arrived in Boston after a 54 days Trip.
The first mention that we can find relating to William Carpenter occurs in what is called the "Initial Deed," a document hastily drawn up by Roger Williams, at the time of settlement, in which he designates "his living friends and neighbors" who are to have equal rights with himself.
These friends and neighbors were twelve in number, and until December 23, 1661, this "Initial Deed was all they had to show in the way of title to their holdings. The "First Baptist Church in America" was constituted at Providence between August 3, 1638 and March 16, 1639. William Carpenter was one of the original founders. As a lay minister, he performed the marriage ceremony at the wedding of his daughter.
Up to this date, 1638, the "Proprietors," as they now began to be called, were living on their "Home Lotts", situated conveniently near together for neighborly intercourse and mutual protection. These lots contained about 6 acres each and all fronted on "Town Street" with a dividing line between the lots running each and west. William Carpenter's lot was separated from the lot of Robert Coles by a "highway". Town street is now Main Street and the "highway" is Meeting Street, so called because of the Friends Meeting House which now occupies William Carpenter's lot.
William Carpenter was allotted a large tract of land at "Pautuxet" - a beautiful meadowland, about four miles southerly from Providence, bounded on the east by the Narrangansett Bay and on the south by the Pawtuxet River.
In later years this was known as Cranston. It was here that William spent the remaining years of his life.
In the affairs of the colony, no man enjoyed the confidence of Roger Williams more than he. He was on numerous commissions to settle boundary lines, to lay out roads, and to locate and build bridges. He was elected to the general court on March 10, 1658 and was re-elected the five following years. For many years he was assistant to the General Assembly and was Deputy in 1679.
When King Philip's War was threatening to annihilate the colony, the General Assembly, on April 4, 1676, passed the following resolution: "Voted, that in these troublesome times and straits in the Colony this Assembly desiring to have the advice and concurrence of the most judicious inhabitants, so desire at their next sitting the company and counsel of William Carpenter."
Life was obviously dangerous in those days for on June 28, 1675, the Indians burned 18 houses at Providence and by March, 1676, there was only one house left standing between Providence and Warwick. Two historians report:
"On January 27, 1676, the Indians dispoiled Mr. Carpenter of two hundred sheep, fifty head of cattle and fifteen horses, all of which they drove with them.
Two that belonged to the said Carpenter were wounded and one of the enemy slain." "William Carpenter's house was attacked by about 300 Indians and was set afire by them, but the flames were extinguished by the defenders.
Two of his household were killed."
An interesting note from this period is the General Court of Massachusetts report which enumerated the "sins" which had brought this disastrous war upon this Colony : "Pride in men's wearing long and curled hair, excess in apparel, naked breasts and arms and superfluous ribbons, toleration of Quakers, extortion in shopkeepers and mechanics, and the riding from town to town of unmarried men and women under pretense of attending lectures."

MISC: On Dec 14, 1671, William Carpenter made a deed of free gift to his sister Fridgswith Vincent of "my dwelling hose and all what land belongith to me adjoining to the said house the which said house is standing in the town of Amesbury in Wiltshire and in a street commonly called Frogg lane, my sister being an inhabitant of the said town, the which said house did in the original belong to my father Richard Carpenter now deceased, but fell to my right as I was the son and heir of my said father." See Page 9 in the Carpenter Family 1912 book and also The Arnold Memorial Family Book by Elisha Stephen Arnold.

See also, page 10 9-10 of the DHC book refers to a deed written by WC on 14 Dec 1571 that was recorded at Providence in the Book of Deeds, page 449. Gene Zubrinsky corrected this with;
Actually, 4 Dec. 1671, in The Early Records of the Town of Providence, 21 vols. (Providence, 1892–1915), 5:323–25, transcr. from Third Book of the Town of Providence, 477 (not 463, as stated in pub. vol.) [see FHL film #915,084]. DHC doesn't say that the deed was written by William Carpenter. He says that "he caused the following document to be placed upon the town records." While he may or may not have written the original (which, so far as I know is not extant), it was copied into the aforementioned Providence record volume on 9 March 1671[/2] by John Whipple Jr., Providence town clerk.

BOOK: "The Arnold Memorial, William Arnold of Providence and Pawtuxet, 1587-1675, and a Genealogy of His Descendants", compiled by Elisha Stephen Arnold, 1935. The Tuttle Publishing Company, Rutland, VT.

MISC: Carpenter Chronicles Miscellaneous- by Bette Butcher-Topp. The Carpenter Family in America - 20 July 1998, On March 16, 1639. Its founders were Roger Williams, Ezekiel Holyman, William Arnold, William Harris, Stukely Westcott, John Green, Richard Waterman, Thomas James, William Carpenter, Francis Weston, and Thomas Olney (these being the same persons named in the Intial Deed, lacking names of Robert Coles and John Throckmorton). Benedict, in his "History of the Baptists,' gives an exceedingly interesting account of this event. He says, " the candidates for communion chose Ezekiel Hoyman,* a man of gifts and piety, to baptise Mr. Williams, and he in return baptised Mr. Holyman and the other ten." As we read the history of Providence we can but note that nearly every one of these ten candidates at sometime or other showed that they were men of "gifts and piety." From my earliest recollection I recall being told that William Carpenter was " a preacher " in England, and the fact that he performed the marriage ceremony at the wedding of his daughter is, I think, ample proof that he was recognized by his church as one of its " lay ministers."
Up to this date, 1638, the Proprietors," as they now began to be called, were living on their " Home Lotts,situated conveniently near together for neighborly intercourse and mutual protection. These lots contained about six acres each and all fronted on the Town Streets with a dividing line between the lots running east and west. William Carpenter's lot was separated from the lot of Robert Coles by a highway. "Town Street " is now Main Street, and the highway is Meeting Street, so called because of the Friends' Meeting House which now occupies William Carpenter's lot. Immediately after the signing of the Initial Deed the Proprietors made division of their division. William Carpenter and his father-in-law, William Arnold, with Zachariah Rhodes,*, William Harris, and Robert Coles, for their shares were allotted a large tract at "Pautuxet," where they at once made settlement. It was a beautiful meadow-land, about four miles southerly from Providence, bounded on the east by Narragansett Bay and on the south by the Pawtuxet River.
In later years it was known as " Cranston ", and is now undergoing the changes consequent upon the rapid growth of Providence, which is yearly adding its acres to blocks of buildings. It was here that William Carpenter spent the remaining years of his life. *[Zachariah Rhodes married Joanna Arnold, a sister of the wife of William Carpenter; he died in 1665, and in 1667 she married Samuel Reape.] ~ ~ ~ ~ ~ ~ ~ ~ ~ ~
 A facsimile of the Initial Deed appeared in the " Providence Journal" on June 24, 1886, during the 250th Anniversary proceeding. This deed was hastily drawn up by Roger Williams, at the time of settlement, in which by initials he designates "his loving friends and neighbors" who are to have equal rights with himself. These friends/neighbors were twelve in number, and until Dec.23, 1661, this "Initial Deed" was all they had to show in the way of title to their holdings. On this date, a formal "Confirmatory Deed"* was given them by Roger Williams and his wife, intending thereby to make their titles secure, but in some unaccountable manner a part of the original settlers names were omitted, so, to remedy this, another deed was given in 1666 at which time Mr. Williams stated that the original "Initial Deed" was delivered on the 8th day of the 8th month, 1638.

Amesbury, known variously in history as Ambrosbury, Ambresbury and Amblesberie is at the centre of a population of approximately 28,000, located 14 miles west of Andover and 9 miles north of Salisbury in the county of Wiltshire. Amesbury is one of Wiltshire's most attractive little towns, the refuge of Guinevere, the centre for Shrewton, Durrington, Bulford, Figheldean, Boscombe Down and much of Salisbury Plain including Stonehenge and Old Sarum.

Amesbury:
Amesbury is a small Wiltshire town. It lies on a meander of the River Avon, eight miles north of Salisbury, at a point where the main road from London to Exeter bridges the river. The chalk downlands of Salisbury Plain surround the town, pocked with the remains of earlier civilizations.
Until the present century Amesbury depended largely on agriculture, but now its population of some 6000 inhabitants looks mostly to the neighbouring defence establishments or to Salisbury for employment. The nucleus of the town and its medieval abbey church remain, although the ' great thoroughfare' which once formed the High street has been channelled into a modern by-pass. The abbey mansion, the abbey was founded in 979, is now a nursing home, the 18th century houses of the town centre are interspersed with modern shops, and housing estates have encroached onto the common fields.
Amesbury may not impress the casual visitor, or even the resident, with a sense of history in the way that Salisbury (an altogether younger place) does, but there is plenty in Amesbury's past that deserves to be remembered.

The following exchange of e-mail messages between Robert Charles Anderson and myself occurred on 8/12/01 and 8/13/01. Anderson authored the widely acclaimed THE GREAT MIGRATION BEGINS, IMMIGRANTS TO NEW ENGLAND 1620-1633 (3 vols., 1995) and is principal author of the equally monumental sequel, THE GREAT MIGRATION, IMMIGRANTS TO NEW ENGLAND 1634-1635 (2 vols. so far: A-B [1999], C-F [2001]). With respect to early New England genealogy, he is without question the most skilled and knowledgeable person alive.

<< Bob, Concerning WILLIAM ARNOLD's daughter ELIZABETH, you say she "m. by about 1635 William Carpenter (son Joseph, apparently the eldest child of this couple, was not yet married in late 1658 ... , but probably soon after ...)" (TGM

Presumably you derived your "by about 1635" estimate from approximations of Joseph's marriage and birth years (by 1660, minus 25 years). I don't believe, however, that your sources (TAG 70:196 [sic, 195n], 204, citing PCPR 2:1:80-82; MD 14:231-33; Austin 36) offer a basis for reliably approximating Joseph's year of marriage. (Daniel Hoogland Carpenter, who also estimates Joseph's birth year as about 1635, baselessly assumes he had come of age by 3 May 1656, when he witnessed a deed to his father from the latter's brother-in-law Stephen Arnold [HISTORY AND GENEALOGY OF THE CARPENTER FAMILY IN AMERICA (Jamaica, N.Y., 1901), 31]. As you know, witnesses as young as 14 have been identified in colonial New England documents.) In any case, I think I've found something more substantive and direct for calculating Joseph's approximate birth year.
While reading in HARRIS PAPERS the other evening, I came across a record of testimony taken on 16 October 1664, in which the age of deponent Joseph Carpenter is given as "26 yeeres" (Collections of the Rhode Island Historical Society, Volume 10 [Providence, 1902], 72-73). This puts Joseph's birth at about 1638 and strengthens my long-held suspicion that Elizabeth Arnold, formerly of Ilchester, Somerset, and William Carpenter, apparently from 40-miles-distant Amesbury, Wiltshire, married, not in England (as generally assumed), but in Massachusetts or Rhode Island. That you presumably found no record of William Carpenter in New England in 1635 (he's not included in TGM, Vol. 2) seems further to suggest that he didn't emigrate with the Arnolds. (I can't recall a record putting him in New England before 1638.)
Of course the possibility exists that "eldest son" Joseph's sister Lydia was older than he (the order in which their father's will names his children might not reflect their birth order) and that their parents married in England, after all (the aforementioned geographic and documentary evidence militates against it). It nevertheless seems appropriate to express Elizabeth Arnold and William Carpenter's marriage as having occurred "by about 1638." What do you think?
Best regards,
Gene Z. >>
<< Gene,
Your estimate of how I arrived at the estimated marriage date for Elizabeth Arnold is quite correct, and you are also correct that nothing in the sources I quote points directly to 1635. I expect I was also influenced by the age of Elizabeth, who in 1635 would already have been older than the norm for marriage.
But your discovery of the deposition provides the type of evidence that trumps estimates based on estimates.
Arnold [presumably James N. Arnold (GZ)] says that William Carpenter of Providence was granted land there in 1637, but I have not verified that record. At any rate, if the Joseph Carpenter deposition is precisely correct, then he could have been conceived no later than January of 1637/8 (and probably some months earlier). So, if the marriage took place in New England (and I agree with you on this point), then he must have been here by 1637. When I have a chance, I'll check the Providence records.
Good to hear from you. Do you have any articles in the works?

Subject: Re: Richard V Archbishop Laud partial quote ...
On the first point (from my Carpenter mailing-list message of 3 Feb. 2002, with minor revisions):
Despite the oft-repeated assertion that Amesbury William Carpenter married William Arnold's daughter Elizabeth in England and emigrated with her and the rest of the Arnold family, there are several reasons to doubt that he had any contact with the Arnolds in England. First, the widely accepted (though incorrect) estimate of William and Elizabeth (Arnold) Carpenter's son Joseph's birth year as 1635 (the year the Arnolds emigrated) is based on the erroneous assumption that he was of age when on 3 May 1656 he witnessed a Providence deed from his uncle Stephen Arnold to his father. Based on the same legal standing then granted 14-year-old orphans to choose their guardians, witnesses as young as that are found in early New England records. Second, a deposition given by Joseph Carpenter on 16 October 1664 describes him as "Aged 26 yeeres," implying a birth year of 1638 (HARRIS PAPERS, Collections of the Rhode Island Historical Society, Vol. 10 [Providence, 1902], pp. 72-73). Third, while William Arnold is recorded as having been granted a home-lot at Hingham on 18 September 1635, the earliest evidence of Amesbury William Carpenter in New England appears in Providence records under the heading "Agreements & orders the second year of ye Plantation" (Robert Charles Anderson, George F. Sanborn Jr., and Melinde Lutz Sanborn, THE GREAT MIGRATION: IMMIGRANTS TO NEW ENGLAND 1634-1635, Vol. 1 (A-B) [Boston, 2000], p. 84, citing Hingham Book of Possessions, p. 30; THE EARLY RECORDS OF THE TOWN OF PROVIDENCE, Vol. 1 [Providence, 1892], p. 3). Providence Plantation's second year began in the summer of 1637, a year after the arrival there of the Arnolds. Fourth, there is the obvious matter of distance: William's home, at Amesbury, Wiltshire, and that of the Arnolds, at Ilchester, Somerset, were about 40 air miles apart. (There is no evidence that the Richard Carpenter who died at Ilchester in 1625 was William's father. [A Richard Carpenter was buried the same year in Amesbury. The only reason for going so far afield is to force a connection between William Carpenter and the Arnold family by 1635.] And the Richard Carpenter who married Susanna Trevilian at Nettlecomb, about 70 air miles from Amesbury, has been positively identified as someone else altogether.) Finally, Amesbury/Providence William's exclusion by Anderson and the Sanborns from Volume 2 (C-F [2001]) of the above-cited THE GREAT MIGRATION indicates that they, too, reject the notion that William came to New England in 1635--even though their evidence didn't then include Joseph Carpenter's aforementioned deposition. Bob Anderson has since told me explicitly that he concurs with my conclusion that William Carpenter met and married Elizabeth Arnold in New England, probably at Providence.

Confirmatory deed 12/23/1661

On 20 March 1639/40 "Thomas James of Providence sold to William Field ofProvidence his lands, rights and privileges in Providence" [Chapin 1:109,citing Field Papers 3 at Rhode Island Historical Society]. On 9 February1645 William Field of Providence sold to William Carpenter land "lyingbetween the top of the hill and the fresh river called Pautuxett River atPootatugock ... which I bought of Thomas James, John Throgmorton andThomas Olney" [PrTR 14:64].

William Carpenter
Birth: 1610 Amesbury, Wiltshire Unitary Authority, Wiltshire, England
Death: 7 Sep 1685 (aged 74–75) Providence, Providence County, Rhode Island, USA
Burial: Unknown

Plot: he was likely buried at his homestead in Cranston, but no one knows with any certainty.
Memorial #: 41892759
Bio:
No record of his birth or baptism has been found, but it is likely he was born at Amesbury, Co.Wiltshire, England around 1610.

His father was more likely to be the Richard Carpenter (HERE) buried at Amesbury on Sep 21,1625 than another Richard Carpenter of Nettlecombe, Co.Somerset, who died at Loxhore, Co.Devonshire in August 1627 and who married Susanna Trevellian.

His mother may have been Alice (Knight) Carpenter (HERE), who had married a Richard Carpenter at Newton Toney, Co.Wiltshire on Aug 7,1603, though this has not been proven.

William Carpenter arrived in New England c.1635, and was at Providence,RI by 1637. This William Carpenter should not be confused with contemporary William Carpenter of Rehoboth,MA, nor are they related in any known way. Please refer to NEHGR 164:36ff for the most recent information on this family.

He married Elizabeth Arnold in Providence,RI about 1637. There is no evidence that he married her in England, as suggested in early genealogies, nor is there evidence that the Carpenters and Arnold families were in contact there. (NOTE: An inscription in Mineral Spring Cemetery in Pawtucket,RI gives Elizabeth Arnold Carpenter's date of death as 7 September 1685. It appears on the Benedict and Stephen Arnold monument — a cenotaph, erected many generations later.)

He and his wife were almost certainly buried on their homestead, in present day Cranston,RI.

Children: Joseph Carpenter, Lydia Carpenter Smith, Ephraim Carpenter, Priscilla Carpenter Vincent, William Carpenter, Timothy Carpenter, Silas Carpenter, and Benjamin Carpenter.

NOTE: See spouse's notes for Gene Zubrinsky's data on this individual.

AFN 8TGK-PD and 30ZB-45 and 2J7H-WL (with corrected death date) are the same person.

BIRTH: Born at Ilchester, Somersetshire per "An Account of the English Homes of Three Early Proprietors" by Fred A. Arnold, in the Rhode Island Historical Society Collections, Vol. 15, No. 3 (Apr. 1921), pp. 33-49, and No. 4 (July 1921), pp. 168-186). Born at Cheselbourne in Dorset per the AF and The Carpenter Family in America by Daniel H. Carpenter, 1901, page 8.
SEE: See also J. Hatton Carpenter. "The Carpenter Family of England and the United States" in the Utah Genealogical Magazine, Vol. 16, pp. 60-70.

Her father, William Arnold was born on June 24, 1587 at Ilchester and died at Providence, Rhode Island about 1676. He was a descendant of the Royal Family of Wales, whose castles were at Galmorgan and Abergavenny; William the Conqueror, King of England, Duke of Normandy; Henry I, King of France; Charlaemagne, Emperor of the Holy Roman Empire, King of the Franks; and reportedly of Joseph of Arimathea, an uncle of the mother of Jesus. The Rev. C. C. Dobson's "Did Our Lord Visit Britian?" (London, No date) states that Joseph of Arimathea was a younger brother of the father of Mary, and that when Mary's husband Joseph died young, Joseph of Arimathea was made guardian of the young Jesus.
William Arnold was also a descendant of Roger Bigod, Earl of Norfolk and Suffolk, Baronial Order of Runnemede, Order of the Magna Charta.

NAME: Middle name often referred to as "Peake" - However, no proof given. It is the mothers maiden name and using it as a middle name is wrong when no middle name was ever given.

12. William Carpenter

INTRO:
William Carpenter was born probably by 2 Sep 1653 in Pawtuxet (Providence), Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations. He died between 27 Apr 1676 and 10 Feb 1679/80 probably in Pawtuxet (Providence).

[These notes contain the most-authoritative information available as of January 2009. They appear in fully formatted form in the "Gene Zubrinsky" folder of the CE 2009 and also online at . (The online version will be updated when appropriate; check the revision date.) Where other information herein conflicts with Zubrinsky's notes, his notes take precedence.]

WILLIAM2 CARPENTER (William1 of Providence), b. Pawtuxet (Providence) probably by 2 Sept. 1653 (father 1st calls himself Wm. Sr. on 2 Sept. 1674), d. probably Pawtuxet (Providence) between 27 April 1676 (last rec. of father as Wm. Sr.) and 10 February 1679/80 (father's will calls him deceased); unmarried (PrTR 4:21-22, 6:143, 145, 8:11; RILE 51).

Considerable circumstantial evidence implies that William was the youngest of William1 and Elizabeth (Arnold) Carpenter's children. On 4 Dec. 1671, four of William1's sons witnessed the deed by which he gave his Amesbury messuage to his sister, Frideswide (PrTR 5:323-25). If true to custom, the sequence in which they signed the instrument--Timothy, Silas, Benjamin, and William "Junr:"--reflects their birth order. (William Jr. was then presumably a minor but old enough to witness a document, for which the legal minimum age was 14.) When on 2 Sept. 1674 Joseph Carpenter of Musketa Cove sold several Pawtuxet (Providence and Warwick) holdings to his uncle Stephen Arnold, the deed was witnessed by Joseph's brothers Silas (first) and William "junr" (RILE 50-51). Signing in "assent" were William Carpenter "Senr." and Joseph's second wife. This earliest self-identification by the elder Carpenter using a generational identifier suggests that his namesake son (the subject William) had reached adulthood. On 8 12 mo. 1674 [Feb. 1674/5], William Carpenter "Senr" gave to certain family members his rights to several shares of soon-to-be-divided common lands (PrTR 4:21-22). This declaration of title transfer names the recipients, in order, as sons Timothy, Silas, and Benjamin; grandsons Joseph Smith and "my sone Joseph sone William"; and (again last) "my sone William."

The will of Zachariah Rhodes Sr., dated in 1662, names William Carpenter "senior" as an overseer (PrTR 4:80, 82). This use of a generational identifier when William2 was unquestionably still a child is a departure from custom and a chronological outlier. All other instances in which _Sr._ or _Jr._ is used to distinguish these two Williams from one another are clustered between 1671 (when, as above, the latter was probably still a minor) and 27 April 1676 (see PrTR 4:21-22, 23 [6 April 1675], 5:323-25, 8:11; RILE 51).

Quoting from Hubbard's _Narrative of the Troubles with the Indians in New England_ (1677) and Austin's _Genealogical Dictionary of Rhode Island_ (1887), D. H. Carpenter claims that on 27 January 1675/6, during an Indian attack upon William1 Carpenter's house, his namesake son was killed (see Carpenter [1901] 18-19, 320). Hubbard's narrative says that "[t]wo that belonged to the said [Mr.] Carpenter were wounded, and one of the Enemies slain" (Hubbard 1:164). Austin, drawing from Hubbard and also from an unattributed account published in 1676--whose only mention of casualties is the death of "a Negro Servant" of "young Mr. [Toleration] Harris"--distorts both by relating that "two of [William Carpenter's] household were killed" (see Chronicle 58; Hubbard 58n259; HP 162n; Austin 37; see also Carpenter [1901] 18). The eminent antiquarian Samuel Gardner Drake regarded the anonymous version, which he felt was written from personal knowledge, as more reliable than Hubbard's (see Hubbard 58n260). The most personally knowledgeable source, however, is William Harris, who wrote the following to Sir Joseph Williamson on 12 Aug. 1676: "I haue lost a deer son : a dillegent engenious Just man : temperate in all things, whom ye Indeans lay in waite for by ye way syd & killd him, and a negro man, and burnt our houses . . . " (HP 162-63). A record of William Carpenter's election as Providence deputy to the Rhode Island General Assembly, dated 27 April 1676, refers to him as "Senr" (PrTR 8:11). This implies that, three months after the aforementioned Indian attack, William Jr. was still living. He had died by 10 Feb. 1679/80, the date of his father's will, which refers to "my son William deceased" (PrTR 6:143, 145).

William is not named on any of the Providence tax lists (the only ones recorded between 1650 and 1680 are dated in 1671 and 1679) or lists of the township's householders who swore allegiance (the last is dated in late May 1671). This, together with the lack of a probate record for him or of any evidence that he married, suggests that he lived his entire life in his father's household.

4. Frideswide Carpenter

The following is from the CHILDREN section of Gene Zubrinsky's notes for Richard Carpenter of Amesbury (see above). His omission of a birth date and place for Frideswide is deliberate: the date is unknown, and the place is uncertain, though probably Amesbury. The aforementioned notes also demonstrate that the claim of a Nettlecombe connection for Richard Carpenter of Amesbury and his family is groundless (see MARRIAGE, OCCUPATION, and ESTATE sections); this should also be taken as applying to the Vincents.

FRIDESWIDE [pron. Friddusweed] CARPENTER (forename, from Old English _Fritheswith_, found in Amesbury and Providence records as Frittisweed, Fridizweed, Fridgesweet[e], and Fridgswett--never Fridgswith, as per Carpenter [1901] and others), bur. Amesbury 22 Nov. 1680; m. before 16 Sept. 1632 (dau. Joan baptized at Amesbury), NICHOLAS VINCENT, bur. Amesbury 17 July 1671 (AmParReg 1:n.p., 2:n.p.; PrTR 5:323-24; Carpenter [1901] 321 mistakenly gives Nicholas's forename as Thomas).

Frideswide's daughter, Joan, married at Providence on or about 26 March 1660, John Sheldon (PrTR 4:112-13, 5:49, 299-300; RIVR 2:1[Providence]:167, 190; Austin 176-77; Sheldon Gen 1). Joan's brother William (bp. Amesbury, 17 June 1638), married at Providence, 31 May 1670, as his first wife, his cousin Priscilla Carpenter, daughter of his mother's brother, William1 of Providence (AmParReg 1:n.p.; PrTR 1:82-83, 5:294, 21:86; RIVR 2:1[Providence]:37).

The name appears in her Amesbury burial record as "ffridizweed" and is appropriately transcribed as "Fridizweed." The "ff" (not "Ff") is equivalent to "F". The "oo" is actually "ee". The lower-case "e" in 16th- and 17th-century handwriting is often mistaken for "o" by the uninitiated reader. Gene Z.

Nicholas "Not Thomas" Vincent

Gene Zubrinsky wrote the following:

The date of Frideswide's marriage to Nicholas Vincent and his date of birth are unknown. It is virtually certain, however, that neither occurred in Nettlecombe. Gene Zubrinsky's notes for Richard Carpenter of Amesbury demonstrate that the claim of a Nettlecombe connection for Richard and his family is groundless (see MARRIAGE, OCCUPATION, and ESTATE sections); by implication, this also applies to the Vincents.

OLD NOTES:

NAME: SHOULD BE NICHOLAS NOT THOMAS Vincent.
Sent: Tuesday, June 25, 2002 11:01 PM
Subject: Vincents/Carpenters in Amesbury

... The records of the Church of England in Amesbury (FHL film 1279337 item 25) show William Vincent, baptized 17 June 1638, as the son of Nicholas and Frittisweed Vincent. The Vincent family in Amesbury heavily "recycled" the names Nicholas, Thomas, and William. There were Thomases contemporary with Nicholas. It seems likely that one became confused with the father of William who was baptised in 1638.

It is clear that there was a Fridgswith Carpenter who married a Vincent in Amesbury; there is a record (Austin; "Genealogical Dictionary of Rhiode Island", p.213) of her receiving title in 1671 to her father's house in Amesbury from her brother William Carpenter of Rhode Island. "Frittisweed" is a known variant of "Fridgswith" (The original Anglo-Saxon spelling of the name is not possible in modern English, so variants are inevitable.) Given the infrequent use of the name, it is logical to assume that Frittisweed in the baptismal record was the same person as Fridgswith in the real estate record. However, that is just an assumption, so far as I know.
The book by D. H. Carpenter has been cited as the probable source of the idea that the father of William was Thomas. Apparently, in 1900, a Rev. Phelps from Amesbury wrote to the author and cited "William, son of Thos. and ffrittisweed Vincent, baptised June 17, 1638" in the parish records. Carpenter published this info in his book. Howwever, in FHL film 1279337, Item 25, I have read the same passage but with "Nicholas" instead of "Thos."

Certainly, there were Thomas Vincents in Amesbury at that time. The family used almost nothing BUT" Thomas", "William", and "Nicholas" for the boys. Given the poor images that I saw in the film and the likely plethora of Thomases in the records, one must excuse Rev. Phelps for some confusion.

It is unfortunate, tho, that an apparent error in a letter written 100 years ago has been copied ad infinitum since then. Putting "Thomas Vincent" as search terms on the LDS page returns a barrelfull of records with the same error, not to mention the doubtful assignment of Susanna Trevelyan as Frittisweed/Fridgwith's mother. Even if I tried to contact the originators of the files, I would not succeed in changing records that the LDS church has buried under a mountain somewhere.

JOSEPH2 CARPENTER (William1 of Providence, RichardA) was born about 1638 (aged 26 in 1664), probably at Providence Plantation (not 1635, in England), and died intestate between 15 or 17 February 1682[/3] and 15 March 1683/4 at Musketa Cove (then a plantation in Oyster Bay Township; now the town of Glen Cove, Nassau County), Long Island, Province of New York. He married first, probably at Rehoboth, Plymouth Colony, ca. 1658 (not on 21 April 1659), HANNAH3 CARPENTER, born at Weymouth, Massachusetts Bay Colony, on 3 2nd month [April] 1640 and died not long before 8 June 1673, probably at Musketa Cove, daughter of William2 and Abigail (Briant) Carpenter of Rehoboth. Joseph married second, probably at Oyster Bay, by 2 September 1674, ANN WEEKES, baptized at New Amsterdam (now New York City), Colony of New Netherland, on 9 July 1651 and died at Musketa Cove after 24 4th month [June] 1713 (perhaps by 12 6th month [August] 1713), daughter of Francis and Elizabeth (_____) Weekes of Salem and Dorchester, Massachusetts; Providence, Rhode Island; New Amsterdam; Gravesend, Long Island; and Oyster Bay (NEHGR 159:64n47, 67–68; PrTR 6:138, 141, 144, 147–48; PubRIHS 4:197; TAG 70:201, 204; RILE 1:47, 50–51; NYChR 29; WMM-MM A:24; FMM-VR 78; OBTR 1:99, 411–12, 640–41, 642–44, 2:702; see also BIRTH, DEATH, MARRIAGES, and COMMENTS sections, below; Hannah3 sketch, DEATH and COMMENTS). [Sources are cited in full in KEY TO SOURCE NOTES, at the end of this sketch. The format below is patterned loosely after that used by Robert Charles Anderson in his Great Migration series.]

BIRTH: On 3 May 1656, Joseph2 Carpenter witnessed a deed of Pawtuxet (Providence) land from his maternal uncle Stephen Arnold to Joseph's father, William1 Carpenter (PrTR 1:44–45). It has been supposed that Joseph was then an adult and thus was born about 1635, prior to his parents' emigration from England (see, for example, Carpenter [1901] 8–9, 30, 31; Arnold Mem 9, 52; RI Roots 13:75). It is wrong, however, to assume that Joseph was an adult when he witnessed the deed. Witnesses as young as fourteen (the age of discretion) are found in early New England records. When on 9 February 1657 Joseph, his brother Ephraim, and sister Lydia witnessed a deed of land at Pawtuxet (Warwick) from an Indian sachem to their father, at least two and probably all three siblings were minors (see WarTR2 80–81; RESIDENCES, below). The most reliable approximation of Joseph's birth date is based on a deposition that he and Benjamin Smith gave on 16 October 1664 (HP 72–73). Its description of Joseph as "Aged 26 yeeres" implies a birth year of about 1638 and Providence as his probable birthplace (see William1 of Providence sketch, RESIDENCES). For a detailed discussion of this and related issues— the immigration of William1 Carpenter of Providence (ca. 1636, as a single man) and his marriage to Elizabeth Arnold (ca. 1637, probably at Providence)—see William1 of Providence sketch, IMMIGRATION, which incorporates and supplements NEHGR 159:67–68.

DEATH: On 22 November 1682, Joseph Carpenter, on behalf of Samuel Till(i)er, paid £20 to John Robbins (OBTR 1:128–29). Two Musketa Cove proprietors' records, respectively dated 13 and 15 February 1682[/3], indicate that Joseph was then still living (OBTR
1:640–41). (Both follow on the same page a record dated 28 December 1682.) Three others, apparently recorded at or very near the same time as the foregoing ones, probably extend by two days the 15 February date, the latest on which Joseph is known with certainty to have been alive: all three are dated 17 February 1682 [probably 1682/3] (OBTR 1:642–44). On 15 March 1683/4, William1 Carpenter of Providence added to his will a codicil in which his son Joseph is described as deceased (PrTR 6:138–48, at 147–48).

According to Daniel H. Carpenter, "[t]he records show that in September 1683, Ephraim Carpenter was absent from Musketa Cove, having gone to Rhode Island apparently on business connected with the death of his brother Joseph, who had died a little while earlier in 1683" (Carpenter [1901] 315n [see also 42]). While Joseph's death apparently did occur in 1683—perhaps by September (see below)—the records do not show what author Carpenter claims. A record listing Oyster Bay inhabitants (including those at Musketa Cove) and their respective estates, dated 29 September 1683, ends with a statement signed by Edmund Wright, deputy constable: "The Inhabytants being at this time sikly and not sending in their lists, According to order, the ouersears, ye Constable being Absent at roadislond did laye A valewation upon Euery mans Eastate to ye best of there vnderstanding According to law" (emphasis added) (OBTR 1:691–92). Having been elected the previous 2 April, the Oyster Bay constable at this time was John Weeks (OBTR 1:264). The nearest Ephraim Carpenter came to being Oyster Bay constable was on 2 April 1681, when Caleb Wright was named to that office, and Ephraim became deputy constable for the plantation at Musketa Cove (OBTR 1:240–41). Thus it was John Weeks, not Ephraim Carpenter, who was "Absent at roadislond" in September 1683.

The Musketa Cove proprietors' records dated 13 and 15 February 1682[/3], respectively, and one of the three dated probably within days of them (see above) refer to Joseph2 as "Sr:" or "Sen:" (OBTR 1:640–41, 642–44). The term Senior was not generally applied to the elder of two same-named males of a locality until the younger one reached adulthood. The references to Joseph Sr. therefore suggest that Joseph2's namesake son had come of age by mid-February 1682/3. The record dated 15 February 1682/[3] appears to make a distinction between Joseph Sr. and his son Joseph: the town orders that a road separating the home lots of Joseph Carpenter and Nathaniel Coles shall be laid out by Joseph Carpenter Sr. and Robert Coles (OBTR 1:640). The aforementioned list of inhabitants—a virtual census of Oyster Bay freeholders as of 29 September 1683—names only one Joseph Carpenter, with no generational indicator, raising the possibility that Joseph2 had died by then, leaving Joseph3 (child no. iii, below) and the latter's uncle Ephraim as the only Carpenter freeholders then in Oyster Bay Township.

MARRIAGES: The secondary literature's oft-repeated date of Joseph2's marriage to Hannah Carpenter, 21 April 1659, is highly suspect. Supporting evidence is never presented, nor has any been found. It is, moreover, the date on which the will of Hannah's father, William2 Carpenter of Rehoboth, was proved at Plymouth, presumably upon presentation by her mother, as "Exequitrice" (PCPR 2:1:80, 83; MD 14:231, 233). Initial confusion and subsequent repetition have thus given Hannah's marriage a widely accepted date that actually pertains to another event—one that would have absented her mother (and probably one or more brothers) from Rehoboth on the alleged date of the marriage.

References in the will of William2 Carpenter of Rehoboth to "Cozen Carpenter" and "my brother Carpenter"—presumably Joseph2 and his father, William1 of Providence, respectively—have given rise to claims that Joseph and Hannah were first or second cousins. Recent Y-DNA test results virtually eliminate either possibility, however, showing with 95 percent certainty that the couple's nearest common Carpenter ancestor preceded their respective fathers by between two and twenty generations (Carpenter Cousins; William1 of Providence sketch, COMMENTS). The term cousin was used broadly at this time, often to denote kinsman, or relative by marriage. Brother was sometimes used similarly: in two letters written in 1636 to his namesake son, for example, Massachusetts Governor John Winthrop calls the stepfather of the younger Winthrop's then wife, Elizabeth Reade, "my brother [Hugh] Peter" (WP 269, 275; Davis 212–13, 215; NEHGR 88:301). The quoted phrases almost certainly reflect relationships created by the couple's having married before the partially dated will was made, no later than 10 December 1658 (see William2 of Rehoboth sketch, WILL/ESTATE).

Joseph's having remarried by 2 September 1674 is implied in a deed of that date in which he, "of Muskeata Cove neer Oyster Bay on Long Island[,] . . . Formerly Inhabitant on the south of Pawtuxet River within . . . Warwick . . . For mony . . . paid . . . me by my uncle Stephen Arnold of Pawtuxet within . . . Towne-shipp of Providence . . . with . . . consent of my Father William Carpenter . . . of . . . Pawtuxet . . . sell[s] . . . unto . . . uncle Stephen Arnold, . . . one halfe of all my . . . Lands . . . on the South side of . . . Pawtuxet river, Exceptinge only my dwellinge house, lott and pasture and meddow adjoyninge to it"; also mentioned is "Hannah [sic], my now wife" (RILE 50–51). The deed is signed by Joseph Carpenter, William Carpenter Sr., and—by the mark A—"Ana" Carpenter (Carpenter [1901] n.p. [376 (facsimile of original deed)]; RILE 51). That An[n]a was not Joseph's first wife, Hannah (of which Anna was a variant), is evident in the fact that Hannah had been literate and would not have signed by mark (see Hannah3 sketch, EDUCATION). Francis Weekes's will and a codicil thereto, dated 25 June 1687 and 3 February 1688/9, respectively, identify his daughter Ann as the widow of Joseph Carpenter (OBTR 1:412, 2:702).

RESIDENCES: Providence Plantation; Warwick (Pawtuxet section), Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations (ca. 1658); Musketa Cove (probably late 1668: Joseph was of Pawtuxet on 7 November and of Musketa Cove on 30 November). It was presumably when Joseph married Hannah3 Carpenter that they left the homes of their respective families of origin—his at Providence (Pawtuxet section), hers at Rehoboth—and settled on the southern, Warwick side of the Pawtuxet River, which at its mouth bisects the village that is its namesake (WarTR1 162–63, 176–77; WarTR2 153–54; RILE 50–51; OBTR 1:42–43, 629–32, 641, 2:682–83; NEHGR 159:56n4; PawWeb; Carpenter [1901] 31–32). To view an old photograph of Joseph Carpenter's Musketa/Glen Cove house (no longer standing), click here (see Glen Cove 9).

OCCUPATION: Miller and planter (RILE 50–51; NYColDocs 606; OBTR 1:629–30; Glen Cove Hist; Carpenter [1901] 31, 33). D. H. Carpenter states that Joseph had a corn mill at Warwick when he was an inhabitant there (see Carpenter [1901] 31). In fact, the mill—in which he sold his half-interest to his uncle Stephen Arnold in 1674, with complications ensuing—was on the north side of Pawtuxet Falls, in the township of Providence; John Sweet had the corn mill at Warwick (RILE 50–51; PrTR 15:141–43, 144, 146, 147; WarTR1 157, 160). At Musketa Cove, "Carpenter and his friends . . . constructed a saw mill and a gristmill across what is now known as Glen Cove Creek. The harbor was ideal for shipping lumber to New York City and the creek was dammed to provide power for the mills. Their goal was [to] furnish New York City with lumber for the construction of housing. The site for the saw mill had many congenial conditions—a fine stream, opportunity for a short dam, and easy access to navigable water at high tide. . . . The lumber produced by the saw mill found a ready market in New York City. By 1679, two years after Carpenter's purchase from the Indians was officially ratified by the colonial New York government, the mill was producing nine different thickness[es] of boards and timber, as well as tile laths, shingle laths, wainscot, 'feather-edged' boards for paneling, and custom-cut walnut for cabinet-making" (Glen Cove Hist).

FREEMAN: Although there is no record of Joseph's having been admitted a freeman in either Rhode Island or New York, that status (comparatively easily achieved in Rhode Island) was a prerequisite to his being chosen for public office at Warwick (see Abiah3 Carpenter sketch, FREEMAN). It is therefore virtually certain that he had been admitted a freeman of the Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations by 1662 (see OFFICES, below).

EDUCATION: He signed his deeds and other documents (see WarTR2 81; RILE 47, 51; OBTR 1:43-655 passim).

OFFICES: Warwick: juror, Court of Trials, 1662; grand juror, 1666; constable, 1667. Oyster Bay: appointed by Court of Sessions to arbitrate property-line dispute, 1678; on committee to receive deed of Unqua Neck from Indians, 1678[/9?] (RICT 2:5 [date], 8, 42 [date], 45; WarTR1 162-63, 176-77; OBTR 120-21, 129-30).

CHILDREN: Numbers i-iv born probably at Pawtuxet (Warwick), vi-viii at Musketa Cove; birth order uncertain.

With first wife:

i. HANNAH3 CARPENTER, b. between ca. 1659 (parents m. ca. 1658) and say 1661/2, living Musketa Cove 19 March 1719/20 (husband's will); m. Musketa Cove or vicinity before 17 Feb. 1682[/3?] (probably by 14 Jan. 1681[/2?]), WILLIAM THORNYCRAFT, b. probably Warwick, d. Musketa Cove between 6 April 1720 (sold land) and 19 Dec. 1728 (will proved), son of Thomas and Jean? (_____) Thornycraft of Warwick (by 1647) and Maspeth Kills, Newtown (now Elmhurst, Queens Co.), L.I. (NYWills 11:80; MARRIAGE, above; WarTR1 1-296 passim [215, 217]; WarTR2 29, 141, 251, 252, 329; Cock-Cocks-Cox 357; OBTR 1:378, 6:654; NYGBR 64:31, citing NTR [1:]158).
On 17 February 1682 [probably 1682/3], William Thornycraft conveyed "twenty Accars of Land unto _his father in Law_ Joseph Carpenter . . . for and in Consideration of fifty Accars of Land in hand and reseaved, of _his father_ Joseph Carpenter" (emphases added) (OBTR 1:643; Carpenter [1901] 45 omits portion of quoted passage following ellipsis points). On the same date, Carpenter, in an exchange of fifty-acre lots with Nicholas Simkins, obtained the parcel he gave to Thornycraft, abutting the twenty acres his son-in-law gave him in return (OBTR 1:642-44). Thornycraft's right to the twenty acres of woodland he traded to Joseph Carpenter had been granted to him on 14 Jan. 1681[/2?] by a deed from the five Musketa Cove proprietors, including Carpenter (OBTR 1:639-40). It is doubtful that this grant to Thornycraft--also including "A sartin peece or parsell of Land whare hee now Inhabitts and Builtt upon for A home Lott as within fenc Allredy InClosed" and a parcel of upland--would have been made until he had married (in which case he need not have been twenty-one to receive it). The lots Thornycraft and Carpenter exchanged were adjacent and thus presumably of comparable quality. From this, the transfers' transaction date, and a gift of land made by Joseph Carpenter probably four days (rather than a year and four days) earlier (see no. ii, below), it is reasonable to conclude that the thirty acres Thornycraft gained from the trade was a marriage settlement from his father-in-law. The will of William Thorneycraft Sr. of Musketa Cove, dated 19 March 1719/20 and proved 19 Dec. 1728, names wife Hannah; sons William, Joseph, and Thomas; and daughters Hannah Washburn, Elizabeth Pellam (Pelham), Mary Thorneycraft, Jane Carpenter [m. cousin Silas, son of William (no. iv, below)], and Phebe Thorneycraft; the witnesses were Mary Carpenter, Thomas Pearsall, and Joseph Carpenter (NYWills 11:80,

ii. THOMASIN/TAM(A)SIN CARPENTER, b. between ca. 1659 and say 1662/3, living Madnan's Neck, Hempstead (now Great Neck, North Hempstead), L.I., 30 Jan. 1710, 9 Anne [regnal year], i.e., 30 Jan. 1710/11; m. Musketa Cove or vicinity before 13 Feb. 1682[/3], as his second wife, JOHN WILLIAMS, d. Madnan's Neck shortly before 4 April 1705 (widow granted letters of adm.), son of Robert and Sarah (Washburn) Williams of Hempstead and Lusum (Jericho, in Oyster Bay) (HempTR 2:395-97; OBTR 1:187-88, 272, 458-60, 625-27, 641; Cock-Cocks-Cox 371; NYWills 1:118, 403-4; TAG 36:62; Washburn Gen 95-99, citing HempCtR 78-83).
The evidence that Thomasin (Mrs. John) Williams was Joseph and Hannah Carpenter's daughter is circumstantial: On 13 Feb. 1682[/3], Joseph Carpenter Sr. conveyed by a deed of gift to John Williams, a cordwainer (shoemaker) "now Residing on ye same place[,] foure Accars of Land . . . on ye north side of the highwaye Against my now dwelling house" (OBTR 1:641). Taken together, the nature of the transfer, the lot's location and Williams's prior occupation of it, and a similar transaction made by Carpenter probably four days (rather than a year and four days) later (see no. i, above) strongly suggest that the gift was a marriage settlement. On 13 May 1686, John Williams of Madnan's Neck sold to Joseph Carpenter fifty acres at Matinecock, "w[i]thin ye pattent & Township of Oysterbay"; John and Tamsun Williams signed the deed by mark (OBTR 1:483-84). Letters of administration on the estate of John Williams of Madnan's Neck, deceased, were granted to wife Tamasan on 4 April 1705; his estate inventory was exhibited by Thomasan Williams, administratrix, on 15 Sept. 1705 (NYWills 1:322, 403-4, 16:35 [corrections]). On 19 March 1705/6, Tamson Williams of Madnan's Neck, widow, purchased fifty acres of woodland in Oyster Bay (OBTR 3:188-90). "Tamisen Williams the widow & Relick [sic] of John Williams of madnans neck," purchased 300 acres of woodland on the Byram River in Rye, Westchester Co., N.Y., on 20 May 1707 (not 12 May 1706) (WeLR C:430; NYGBR 51:254; Carpenter [1901] 47 [12 May 1706]). On 30 Jan. 1710[/11], the town of Hempstead quitclaimed to Thomasin Williams of Madnan's Neck, widow, 66 acres "in her full and peaceable posesion being" (HempTR 2:395-97).
D. H. Carpenter says that Thomasin "was probably named for her great-aunt 'Tomazin'" who "came over in 1635 . . . [and] is believed to have been an elder sister of William of Providence" (see Carpenter [1901] 45-46, 46n). This statement is presumably based on the tenuous assumption that because a Carpenter woman of that forename and a male Carpenter from William1's English home were recorded as emigrants about a week apart--William1 arrived in New England probably the following year (though not under the circumstances stated by D. H. Carpenter)--all three must be closely related (see Carpenter [1901] 5, 9, 46n; NEHGR 159:67-68). On 13 April (not 15 May) 1635, Tomazin Carpenter, aged 35, was enrolled at London as a passenger for New England on the _Susan & Ellen_ (Hotten 57 [13 April], 59; Carpenter [1901] 5 [15 May]). Thomas Carpenter of Amesbury [in Wiltshire], carpenter, was among those who registered at Southampton "in and aboute" 6 April 1635 for passage to New England on the _James_ (PRO/TNA CO1/8/183-85, at 185; Coldham 133-34; NEHGR 14:332-33 and Carpenter [1901] 5 erroneously have 5 April). The _Susan & Ellen_'s passenger list gives no indication of Tomazin's origin, however, and nothing more is known of her (or of Thomas--unless he was actually the eventual William1 of Providence [in whose sketch see IMMIGRATION]). But if she was closely related to William of Providence, it is reasonable to suppose that she, too, was from Amesbury or thereabout. In that case, one would expect her and so-called Thomas of Amesbury to have sailed together or at least to have embarked from the same port. That they did neither renders what was never more than a possibility all the more remote. Ironically, Joseph's daughter Thomasin may well have been named after a slightly more-distant aunt on the other side of his family: his maternal grandfather, William1 Arnold, had a sister Thomasine/Tamzen, who remained in England (NEHGR 33:427-28, 69:67).
iii. JOSEPH CARPENTER, b. between ca. 1659 and 9 July 1663 (perhaps by 13 Feb. 1661/2), d. Musketa Cove between 9 Sept. 1687 (quitrent payment) and 6 Jan. 1691 [probably 1691/2]; m. by 1685 (1st known child b. 16 Oct.) (OBTR 2:337, 350-51).
That records dated in mid-Feb. 1682[/3] call his father Joseph "Sr:" or "Sen:" suggests that Joseph (Jr.) was by then of age (OBTR 1:640-41; DEATH, par. 3, above). He was certainly so by 9 July 1684, when he and his mother were named administrators of his father's estate (Hist Mss 130). He was "late deceased" when a "memorandum" of the birth, on 16 Oct. 1685, of his "Eldest son and Heire," Joseph, was recorded at the top of a page also containing a record dated 6 Jan. 1691 (OBTR 2:350-51).
The identity of Joseph's wife is at best uncertain. The wife Ann(e) that D. H. Carpenter attributes to him was probably his stepmother, Ann (Weekes) Carpenter (see Carpenter [1901] 44; OBTR 1:644-47, 2:127-29, 650-51). Hinshaw gives Joseph's namesake son's mother as Anne, but while his main sources are original Quaker records, they are supplemented by others, some secondary (see Quaker Gen 1, 391). The younger Joseph's Musketa Cove birth record does not name his mother, and the otherwise informative Quaker record of his death names neither parent (see OBTR 2:350; Carpenter [1901] 64n and Hazard Index, both citing WMM-VR A:159). It is therefore probable that Hinshaw's identification of the younger man's mother as Anne derives ultimately from the D. H. Carpenter volume. Note, however, that the younger Joseph's first daughter was named Ann (Quaker Genealogy 391; Carpenter [1901] 66, 93). D. H. Carpenter's further supposition concerning the elder Joseph's wife--(having previously thought she was a daughter of Nicholas and Elizabeth (Weekes) Simpkins)-- "we now think she was daughter of Thomas Thornycraft and sister to William Thornycraft"--is unsupported, as is the assertion of another author (whose Carpenter section builds upon Carpenter [1901]) that she was probably Mary Thornycraft (see Carpenter [1901] 44; Cock-Cocks-Cox 357).

Joseph3 had a second son, Thomas, who is said by D. H. Carpenter to have been born on 16 Aug. 1687 (OBTR 3:344-45 [1708 quitclaim, Joseph to "my Brother Thomas"]; Carpenter [1901] 44 [b. 15 Aug.], 67; Haviland Gen 110). Seeming to confirm this is the 1 Jan. 1859 account by Sarah C. Field (1797-1879) of a family record then in her possession or that of her mother, Jane (Haviland) Field (1765-1860), giving Thomas's birth date as "8 mo., 16th day, 1687" (Haviland Gen 186). Prior to 1752, however, the eighth month was not August but October (as consistent with the latter's Latin origin). Without informing the reader of his translations, D. H. Carpenter expresses with named months many dates that are actually recorded with numbered ones (including all those from Quaker records). Because his conversions of pre-1752 numbered-month dates are mistakenly based on modern reckoning, they are consistently off by two months. Note, however, that Thomas's corrected birth date, 16 October 1687, contains the same day and month as his brother Joseph's (see above). So while the October date is more reliable than the August one, the former should nevertheless be regarded with some caution. Thomas certainly had been born by 26 Nov. 1687: he and brother Joseph sold land to their uncle Nathaniel on 26 Nov. 1708 (OBTR 3:310-12).
The aforementioned family record gives the date of Joseph3's son Thomas's marriage as "10 mo., 14th day, 1708" [14 Dec. (not Oct.) 1708] (Haviland Gen 110 [Oct.], 186 [10 mo.]; see also Carpenter [1901] 67 [Oct.]). While his wife is identified therein only as Hannah, several secondary sources have her as Hannah Alsop, daughter of Thomas [sic] and Hannah (Underwood) Alsop (see, for example, Haviland Gen 110; Carpenter [1901] 67). This is doubly incorrect, however: First, the secondary literature has long accepted (albeit without documentation) that Hannah Underwood married the immigrant Richard Alsop; the earliest Thomas Alsop was their son, born in 1687 (also Thomas Carpenter's birth year), who married Susannah Blackwell (GMB 3:1862, 1863; Alsop Gen 3, 4; Underhill Gen 65). And second, Richard and Hannah Alsop's daughter Hannah married Joseph Sackett (Alsop Gen 2 [Richard Alsop will (transcr.), naming dau. Hannah Sackett], 4; Underhill Gen 66). There was a marriage between a Thomas Carpenter, son of Joseph, and a Hannah Alsop, daughter of Richard, but it occurred in 1777 (Hazard Index, citing WMM-VR A:250). The identity of Hannah, wife of the subject Thomas Carpenter, is unknown.
iv. WILLIAM CARPENTER, b. by 3 Sept. 1666 (freeholder by 3 Sept. 1687), living Oyster Bay Township 5 Aug. 1734; m. ELIZABETH _____ (OBTR 2:337, 3:429-31, 5:623-25; Carpenter [1901] 49n, 73).
On 13 May 1720, William sold his 81-acre Musketa Cove farm, "Reserveing to my Self Three Acres" (OBTR 3:429-31). On 8 May 1722, with son Silas (about whom more below), William purchased 375 acres on the Byram River at North Castle and Rye, Westchester Co., N.Y., of which William was then "in possession" (Carpenter [1901] 49n, 73, both citing WeLR G:215-17). Subsequent records put William on Long Island in 1728/9 and in Oyster Bay Township from 1730/1 to 1734 (NYWills 11:85 [William Jr. of Long Island (implies presence at same place of Wm. Sr.)], 3 Jan. 1728/9]; OBTR 4:366-68 [William Jr., 5 March 1730/1], 5:75 [William Jr., 5 Aug. 1734], 623-25 [William Sr., 2 April 1734]).
William sold his farm (see above) "with ye ffree will and Consent of my Wife Elizabeth Carpenter," who added her signature (by mark) to his (OBTR 3:431). D. H. Carpenter calls it "a _possibility_ amounting to a _probability_" (his emphases) that Elizabeth was the daughter of William's uncle Ephraim Carpenter and says that she died about 1743 (Carpenter [1901] 50); he fails to support either assertion, however. G. W. Cocks says that Elizabeth's parentage is "not certainly known, but may have been Moses and Elizabeth (Weeden) Mudge, then of Musketa Cove, who had a dau. Elizabeth, b. 28/12 mo. (Feb.) 1674" (Cock-Cocks-Cox 358, 385). Note that this is expressed as no more than a possibility. There is, moreover, no known basis for the assertion that Moses and Elizabeth Mudge had a daughter Elizabeth, let alone that she was born on the date stated (which is not to say that either is necessarily false). An Elizabeth Mudge was born at Northampton, Mass., 10 Oct. 1673 and another at Charlestown, Mass., 12 March 1674, but their respective parents and husbands are not those of the same-named woman mentioned by Cocks (see Mudge Gen 46, 49; TAG 81:25; Charlestown Gens 2:693). In the most recent and authoritative account of Moses Mudge and his family, Gale Ion Harris, FASG (citing an unpublished typescript by Harry Macy Jr., FASG) presents Mudge's issue as consisting of two sons and no daughters (see TAG 81:18-30, at 24 [24n38 corrects Mudge Gen 48]). Elizabeth (Mrs. William) Carpenter's maiden name is unknown. And in any case, since the one known record in which her forename appears as William's wife is dated in 1720 (see above), it is not certain that she was the mother of his children.
The will of William's son Silas Carpenter of North Castle, dated 3 Jan. 1728/9 and proved 13 Feb. 1728[/9], names wife Jane [his cousin, dau. of William and Hannah (Carpenter) Thornycraft (see no. i, above)]; daughters Hannah and Phebe; sons William, Timothy, and Silas; and executors [brother-in-law] William Craft [formerly Thornycraft], [brother] William Carpenter Jr., both of Long Island, and wife Hannah [sic]; witnesses include [uncle] Nathaniel Carpenter (no. v, below) (NYWills 11:80, 85 [_Silas_ transcr. as _Giles_]). The will of William's son Joseph Carpenter of Oyster Bay, dated 25 Feb. 1727[/8?] and proved 21 March 1727/8, names wife Abigail [nee Robbins]; sons Joseph and John; and executors "my wife and her brother, John Robbins" (NYWills 11:101).

v. NATHANIEL CARPENTER, b. Pawtuxet (Warwick) or Musketa Cove between say 1668 and 10 Feb. 1672[/3?] (grantee 10 Feb. 1693[/4?]), d. North Castle 25 2nd mo. [April (not Feb.)] 1730; m. Musketa Cove 5 Nov. 1690, TAMAR COLES, b. 18 May 1673, dau. of Robert and Mercy (Wright?) Coles (OBTR 1:652-53, 655, 2:101-3; FMM-VR 220; MacDonough-Hackstaff 455).
Nathaniel is said to have been probably the first white child born at Musketa Cove (see Carpenter [1901] 43, 50). This, however, is based on the unsupported assertion that he was born in the summer of 1668 and the questionable assumption that both parents had settled on Long Island by that time (see Carpenter [1901] 50; OBTR 2:682; RESIDENCES, above). The record of his death calls him Nathaniel "Juner," but the only other man of that name known to have been residing at North Castle at the time was his son, who died in late 1758 (see FMM-VR 220; Quaker Gen 63; NYWills 5:274; Carpenter [1901] 85). An item in the 1 Jan. 1759 issue of the _New-York Mercury_ is often said online to refer to the elder Nathaniel but in fact concerns the estate settlement of his recently deceased son. Naming "Captain Nathaniel Carpenter, deceas'd, of North-Castle, in Westchester County, and Province of New-York," the notice was placed by Caleb Fowler and Caleb Green, "Executors, in said County" (Hist Newspapers). The latter two men were brothers-in-law of the younger Nathaniel, whose will names them as executors (NYWills 5:274; Carpenter [1901] 85-86).

D. H. Carpenter gives Joseph and Hannah a sixth child: Hannah, "born 1672-3, married Jacob Hicks in 1690" (Carpenter [1901] 43). A few secondary sources state that the maiden name of Jacob Hicks's wife was Carpenter, but not all give her parentage, and none presents supporting evidence (see, for example, Mott Gen 372; Shotwell Gen 237, 280; Cornell Gen 383; Seaman-Husband 84). In his will, dated in 1751, Jacob Hicks's bequests to wife Hannah include "all the goods she brought with her when married" (NYWills 5:93-94). The quoted phrase implies that Hannah (whatever her maiden name) was not Hicks's first wife and probably married him long after his children were born (at Hempstead between 1702-making a 1690 marriage date unlikely [see above]-and about 1718) (see Colonial Fams 3:1330). More to the point, however, the Carpenter daughter whom D. H. Carpenter is unable to identify by forename but correctly describes as having married William Thornycraft is almost certainly the woman whom Thornycraft's will calls "my wife Hannah" (see Carpenter [1901] 43; NYWills 11:80; child no. i, above).

With second wife:

vi. ANN CARPENTER (unconfirmed), b. say 1676; m. JOSEPH?/SAMUEL? WEEKS (see Carpenter [1901] 43; Davol-Willets 191, Joseph Weeks m. Hannah Crooker; Cock-Cocks-Cox 357, 385, 386).
vii. BENJAMIN CARPENTER, b. say 1676?/1680?, d. Oyster Bay between 2 Dec. 1729 (will) and 13 April 1730 (will proved); m. Musketa Cove ca. 1704 (1st child b. 15 Sept. 1705), MERCY/MARCY COLES, b. 24 March 1683/4, living Oyster Bay 2 Dec. 1729 (Benjamin's will), dau. of Robert and Mercy (Wright?) Coles (OBTR 1:652-53, 654, 655, 3:349-50; Carpenter [1901] 43 [Benj. b. 1680], 55 [b. ca. 1676]; NYWills 11:128; MacDonough-Hackstaff 455). Among children named in Benjamin's will is a son Robert, not named in the secondary literature.
viii. JOHN CARPENTER, b. by ca. 1683 (father's death), living Musketa Cove 4 June 1759; m. Westbury (Quaker Meeting House), Hempstead (now Old Westbury, in North Hempstead and Oyster Bay), 12 6th mo. [August (not June)] 1713, MARTHA FEAKE, b. Killingworth, Oyster Bay, 27 8th mo. [October] 1688, dau. of John and Elizabeth (Prior) Feake (Carpenter [1901] 58 [m. June], 59-60 [citing orig. Oyster Bay recs., 10:410]; FMM-VR 78, 125; GMB 1:658, citing NYGBR 87:107-8).

COMMENTS: That Joseph's first wife, Hannah, had died by 8 June 1673 is deduced from his deed of that date, in which he, "of Muskeeto Cove In Longe-Island," conveys to "my Brother in Law Abyah Carpenter of Pawtuxet in Rhode-Island Collony . . . Lands and Commonage [there] which Fell to me by my wife . . . from her father"; Hannah is not a cosignatory (RILE 1:47). (For bequests to Hannah from her father, William2 Carpenter of Rehoboth, see PCPR 2:1:80-81 or MD 14:231-32 [transcr.].)

On 10 and 27 December 1692, Musketa Cove proprietors Nicholas Simkins, Robert Coles, and Nathaniel Coles, "w[i]th ye consent of ye Overseers & Administrat[o]rs of ye Deceased Joseph Carpenter and Daniel Coles," divided certain lands among themselves and the estates of the two deceased proprietors. In the first of these divisions, "The ffourth Lott" went to the estate of Joseph Carpenter, represented by Ann Carpenter, who signed, as she had in 1674 (see MARRIAGES, above), with the mark A (OBTR 1:644-47, 2:127-29). On 19 September 1703, "upon the Request of Anne Carpenter the Relict or widdow of Joseph Carpenter Deceased of the Township of Oysterbay," Simkins and Coles brothers Robert and Nathaniel quitclaimed to her "the fourth Lott of Land Lying In the Neck Within the Limitts of Musketacove pattent" (OBTR 2:650-51). At a Quaker monthly meeting held at Jericho [in Oyster Bay Township] on 24 4th month [June] 1713, "John Carpenter [son] of Joseph Carpenter deceased and of Ann his wife, and Martha Feak Daughter of John Feak of Matiniconck [village of Oyster Bay] & of Elizth his Wife decd appeared & declared their intentions of Marriage" (WMM-MM A:24). It is possible, though by no means certain, that Ann had died by 12 6th month [August] 1713, the date of her son John's marriage (see FMM-VR 78; child no. viii, above). By Quaker custom, all adults present at the ceremony sign the wedding certificate (presented to the newlyweds), typically beginning with the bride and groom's parents. Ann's name, however, is not among those of the first sixteen witnesses (there were "Ten Others"), copied into the Flushing Monthly Meeting record of the event (FMM-VR 78). Note, however, that although the bride's father, John Feake, lived until 1724, his name is also missing from the record (FMM-VR 218).

In a testamentary deed to his son Daniel, dated 29 January 167[2/]3, Francis Weekes mentions wife Elizabeth (OBTR 1:99). While there is no direct evidence that Elizabeth was Ann (Weekes) Carpenter's mother, Ann's older, only known sister was also named Elizabeth (baptized at New Amsterdam on 31 March 1647 with her three quadruplet brothers) (NYChR 22). And in 1655, Elizabeth Weekes, under power of attorney, sold husband Francis's property in Gravesend (now in Brooklyn) (Davol-Willets 190). Without explanation, an important (though hardly infallible) nineteenth-century Rhode Island source gives the forename of Ann's mother as Alice (see Austin 36); in light of the above, however, this seems unlikely.

Several secondary sources assert, without proof, that Francis Weekes's wife Elizabeth's maiden name was Luther (see, for example, LIGens 323; Cock-Cocks-Cox 295, 354, 383; Davol-Willets 190-91; Carpenter [1901] 35). The earliest known Elizabeth Luther in New England, however, was more than twenty years younger than Ann Weekes. The daughter of Samuel2 Luther of Swansea, Plymouth Colony, she was born there on 2 February 1672 (see SwVR A:5). Since Samuel2 Luther, the eldest known child of John1 Luther, was himself born about 1636, it is likely that an unrecorded older sister Elizabeth would also have been too young to have been Ann's mother (see NEHGR 48:443, 70:30). A recent genealogy published "under patronage of The Luther Family Association" concludes a detailed discussion of this matter by saying that "[c]ontinued research has not produced any further evidence that the Elizabeth Luther who married Francis Weeks has any connection with our Captain John Luther line" (Luther Gen 37). The most authoritative Weekes genealogy goes further: "It has been reported that the wife of Francis Weekes was Elizabeth Luther. The late George W. Cocks, in the Cocks [g]enealogy, said that she was a daughter of Samuel Luther, of Swansea, R.I. [sic], &c. Mr. Clarence A. Torrey, of Dorchester, Mass., a professional genealogist and a descendant of Francis Weekes, says: 'I feel doubtful about the Luther line. Capt. John Luther's known children were born after 1634. Elizabeth, wife of Francis Weekes, was born, it is supposed, about 1620. I have never seen proof that her name was Luther'" (Weekes Gen 25-26). In his posthumously published _New England Marriages Prior to 1700_, the aforementioned Clarence Almon Torrey lists Francis Weekes's marriage without a surname for his wife, despite his having included in his source notes for this item several volumes that give her maiden name as Luther (Torrey [CD]).

On 13 July 1663, Joseph Carpenter, [brother-in-law] Abiah Carpenter, Benjamin Smith, and Mr. Henry Reddock, all of "Pautuxett in Warwicke," asked that the Warwick Court of Trials transfer their prosecution "concerning a Riot" to the General Court of Trials held at Portsmouth the following October (WarCT 230; RICT1 2:22; NEHGR 159:58).

D. H. Carpenter describes the land that Joseph Carpenter bought from the Matinecock Indians on 24 May 1668 as comprising about 3,000 acres, but this is inaccurate (see Carpenter [1901] 32, also n.p. [374 (map)]). (Neither the original deed nor a copy is extant, but the date of purchase is mentioned in several subsequent records [see OBTR 1:65-67, 322-23, 641-42, 2:65].) Joseph granted a share of his acquisition to brother-in-law Abiah Carpenter on 30 November 1668, describing the latter's portion as twenty acres and "a fifth parte of Three Square Miles" (all of which Abiah deeded back to him about six months later) (OBTR 1:42-43, 49, 629-30). The Indians' acknowledgement of the sale to Joseph, dated 7 November 1668, describes it more precisely: "[W]e the Indian Proprietors of Matinicock upon Long Islan . . . do acknowledg to have . . . sould . . . unto Joseph Carpenter of Potuxen of Rhoade Island Colony . . . a certaine parcell of Woodland containing a hundred acres, lying upon the North side of Musketooe Cove, w[i]th a square myle of timber & grazing, on the North side of this hundred acres, & also a square myle of timber and grasing on the South side of the said Cove, the meadows & all the Creeke Thatch excepted, lying . . . about the said Cove, & also a square myle of timber & grasing at the head of the said Cove, ioyning to the said hundred acres" (OBTR 2:682-83). This and other records make it clear that Joseph had actually acquired only one hundred acres, with the privilege of harvesting timber from and grazing animals upon the remaining three square miles. On 6 March 1670 [probably 1670/1], he conveyed a one-fifth interest in land and privileges to each of four others (see below) (OBTR 1:65-67, 2:65).

On 27 February 1675 [probably 1675/6], the inhabitants of Musketa Cove and "Mattinicock" [Oyster Bay plantation] petitioned colonial authorities "for a preference in purchasing land near them" (Hist Mss 34; OBTR

2:683). Governor's Council minutes dated 17 May 1676 describe what followed: "The Matinicock Indyans being sent for, The Governor proposes the buying of their Land, and particularly of three parcels of Land of a mile square each, about Muskitoe Cove, of which the Inhabitants have already the herbage and trees. They aske an Extravagant Rate. Att length come to an Agreement for six hundred Guilders [equivalent to £50] Seawant [wampum]" (NYColDocs 720; OBTR 2:684; Money). The Musketa Cove patent, issued by Governor Edmund Andros on 29 September 1677, describes the tract--laid out to Joseph Carpenter, Nicholas Simkins, and Coles brothers Nathaniel, Daniel, and Robert--as "Contayning in all one Thousand & Seven hundred Acres as by ye Returne under ye hand of ye Surveyors doth & maye appeare" (OBTR 1:309-10 [also 635]). In return, the five patentees are to pay "Yearly and every Yeare unto his Royall Highness use as a Quitrent one Bushel of good Winter Wheat unto Such officer or officers as Shall be empowered to receive the Same." The patent thus brought Joseph Carpenter's actual land holdings at Musketa Cove from 16 acres (one-fifth of 100, minus 4 acres he had sold to Moses Mudge in 1674) to 356 acres (one-fifth of 1,800, minus the aforementioned 4 acres) (OBTR 1:322-23).

Also on 29 September 1677, a separate patent was issued to Joseph Carpenter and six others, "as patentees for and on ye behalf of themselves and their Associates the Freeholders & Inhabitants of [Oyster Bay]"; the annual quitrent was to be "one Good fatt lamb on ye 25th Day of March" (OBTR 1:307-8). On 9 September 1687, Joseph Carpenter [son of the patentee], "in behalfe of the Town of Oysterbay for Quit Rents doe," paid provincial authorities "Three Lambs being for Quit Rent for three Years to ye 25th of March Last past" (OBTR 2:337).

In the Carpenter Chronicles, Vol 26, (Sept. 1996) a Signe. N. Parrish claims decent from this Joseph. From age of children et cetera, Amos as child to Joseph is probably wrong. He most likely was a grandchild, but by whom is unknown. Temporary connection.

AFN 30Z7-PN and RJSH-H1 are the same person. AF has him dying in Oyster Bay, Nassau, NY.

The 1898 book also indicates he died at Musceta Cove, an indian word for Mosquito Cove, in 1693 and that his wife Hannah died there too.
The five purchasers of Musketa Cove were Joseph Carpenter, Nicholas Simpkins and the brothers Daniel, Robert and Nathaniel Coles, sons of Robert Coles of Pawtuxet, RI. A Map drawn in 1677 showed that the only Carpenters on Musketa Cove were the brothers Joseph and Ephraim Carpenter. Joseph owned the site of the first house built in Musketa Cove about 1668. Adjacent to his land was the land of Daniel Coles, son of robert Coles of Pawtuxet.
Amos B. Carpenter stated in the Carpenter Memorial he was never ever able to substantiate any migration from Wales to Long Island in 1678, supporting the determination that the brothers had orginated in Providence. James Usher indicates in his 1883 record a Carpenter family that was descendant of Caleb Zimmerman of Prussia that went to England as a "Friend" and his descendants went to Wales then America to Long Island.

A map drawn in 1718 shows a Survey of Westchester County, NY for a Joseph Carpenter and a Bennonah Merit. Joseph the largest landowner shown, had two tracts, the first and second purchases. Timothy Carpenter's land was shown below Joseph's last purchase, where the town of Armonk now is located. The land of William and Silas Carpenter was further south.
If Joseph died in 1693 or 1695 it could not have been him who requested the survey above. His son Joseph died abt the same time period. It had to be his grandson Joseph (B. 1685) or another non-related Joseph Carpenter.

John,
I have a number of unanswered questions about the establishment of the Long Island Quaker colonies myself. I have read several versions that vary, hopefully some day a person, unbiased, will set down with a good translation of the Dutch records, and pertinent genealogical records, and set the story to pen. There seem to be quite a number of players in the story, such as John Bowne, a number of passengers of the Woodhouse, Roger Williams, Captian John Underhill, at least two Dutch Govenors, both Dutch and English soldiers and the Indians of the Island, and still many more, but I have as yet to hear the whole sotry told.
Larry More.
Here is a short history of Joseph Carpenter and a few decendants, refferences are at the end.
(II) Joseph, eldest son of William and Elizabeth (Arnold) Carpenter, was born at Amesbury, Wiltshire, England, about 1635. The first mention made of him is at Providence, Rhode Island, where on May 3, 1656, he is witness to a deed from his uncle, Stephen Arnold, to his father, which indicates that he was then of legal age. The town records of Warwick, Rhode Island, show that he had a "corne mill" at the wading place near the Falls on the Pawtuxet river. Here he remained until 1677, although as early as 1663 he was at Long Island making negotiations for the purchase of land from the Indians at Oyster Bay. The Hempstead colony on Long Island resisted the attempts to settle at Oyster Bay, but finally allowed them to remain in peace. Joseph Carpenter is recorded as having purchased 3000 acres of land at Musketa Cove. Associated with him were Nathaniel Coles, Abia Carpenter, Thomas Townsend and Robert Coles. They styled themselves "The Five Proprietors of Musketa Plantations," which name and style was continued until after the revolution. Each proprietor had a "home lott" of five acres set off on which to erect a dwelling. These home lots were situated on a street or highway that they called "The Place." The site of these homes on this street, which still bears the name, are very readily identified. On the "lott of Joseph Carpenter" the first house was built after the erection of a saw mill. It was occupied by him all his lifetime, was the birthplace of nearly all his children, and continued in the family for several generations. The plantation prospered, although its growth was retarded by King Philip's war. Following the erection of a saw mill he burt a grist and fulling mill, agreeing with the other proprietors to grind their grain in return for the use of water power. In a few years the Oyster Bay settlement had its own town government, constable, overseers, justice of the peace and recorder. They held their own town meetings and elected their own officers until the organization of Queens county in 1683. They had many industries, and the records show Joseph Carpenter to have been the prime mover in their establishment, and that his energy and ability had made a thriving community from an humble beginning. He died during the "sickly season" of 1683. The place of his burial is not known. He married (first) April 21, 1659, Hannah, daughter of William Carpenter, of Rehoboth, Massachusetts; she was born at Weymouth, Massachusetts, February 3, 1640, died about 1673.

He married (second) Ann (or Anna), baptized in the Dutch Church at New York in 1647, daughter of Francis and Elizabeth (Luther) Weeks. Francis Weeks was with Roger Williams in the canoe when he first landed at Providence. He and his wife were early settlers of Hempstead, Long Island, where they were heavily fined for "entertaining Quakers," and soon after removed to Oyster Bay.
Children by first wife: 1. Joseph, "the eldest son," inherited the estate and title of his father. 2. A daughter, married William Thornecraft, 3. Tamsen, married John Williams. 4. William, born about 1666. 5. Nathaniel, said to have been the first white child born at Musketa Cove, Oyster Bay, Long Island; married Tamar, eldest daughter of Robert and Mercy (Wright) Coles. 6. Hannah, married Jacob Hicks. Children of second wife: 7. Ann, married Joseph Weeks. 8. Benjamin, married Mercy, daughter of Robert and Mercy (Wright) Coles, sister of the wife of his half brother, Nathaniel. 9. John (posthumous child), married Martha Feake. These children were all prominent in the plantation, and some of them joined in the exodus from Oyster Bay to "the Main," as Westchester county was then called, and were among the first settlers at Rye, North Castle, Bedford, Harrison and Mamaroneck. Other families leaving about 1700 were the Coles, Weeks, Lallings, Wrights, Townsends, Cocks and many others.
(III) Joseph (2), eldest child of Joseph (1) and Hannah (Carpenter) Carpenter, was born about 1660, at Pawtuxet, and inherited the paternal estate, operating a mill and the plantation. There is a tradition that he was drowned trying to save the mill in a freshet. At any rate he died between September 9, 1687, and 1692. His wife Ann was probably a daughter of Thomas Thornycraft. Record of two sons is found: Joseph, mentioned below; Thomas, born August 15, 1687. (IV) Joseph (3), eldest son of Joseph (2) and Ann Carpenter, was born October 16, 1685, at Pawtuxet, the date being recorded at Oyster Bay, New York, probably to authenticate his heirship to one-fifth of the Musketa Cove patent. Five days after he came of age he deeded to his uncles, William and Nathaniel, farms in that section. His adult life was passed at Oyster Bay, and in 1707 he instituted suit to recover property in Rhode Island formerly belonging to his greatgrandfather, William Carpenter. This suit was successful. He resided on the homestead at Pawtuxet until about 1715, when he sold out and moved across the Cove to Lot No. 1, in the division of 1681, which is now in the village of Sea Cliff. His house was burned by lightning in 1747-8, after which he sold the land for o225 and retired to the village of Jericho, where he died June 3, 1776, at the house of his grandson, Joseph Carpenter. He was a sincere member of the Friends Society, often occupying places of trust and responsibility in the town and was noted for his charitable character. To his benevolence many worthy persons were indebted for substantial aid at the proper time.
He married (first) in 1707, Ann, daughter of Captain Andrew and Ann (Coddington) Willett. She died February 9, 1709, and he married (second) in 1711, her sister Mary, born September 21, 1691. She was a granddaughter of Colonel Thomas Willett, born 1610, at Borley, Hertfordshire, England, and came to Plymouth, Massachusetts, in 1629. Later he was at New Amsterdam, and was the first English mayor appointed over the city of New York, 1665. The Dutch soon after reoccupied New Amsterdam, and he retired to Swansea, Massachusetts, where he died August 4, 1674. He was a man of much character and ability and still has numerous descendants in the vicinity of New York. He married (third) in 1636, Mary, daughter of John Brown, a pioneer of Plymouth, Massachusetts.
Andrew, son of Thomas and Mary (Brown) Willett, was born at Plymouth, and was a merchant at Boston, whence he removed about 1680 to Rhode Island. As early as 1692 he returned to Boston and occupied a residence on Boston Neck which was built by his brother-in-law, John Saffin, speaker of Massachusetts assembly. While residing in Rhode Island he represented Westerly in the general court. He married Ann, daughter of Hon. William Coddington, of Newport, and among their children were daughters Ann and Mary, who married successively Joseph Carpenter, as above noted.
(V) Ann, daughter of Joseph (3) and Mary (Willett) Carpenter, born September 24, 1716, died 1803, married October 8, or December 23, 1737, at Oyster Bay, Samuel Underhill of that town (see Underhill IV).

A bit of the Hamlet of Musketa Cove, Town of Oyster Bay (now known as the City of Glen Cove) early history concerning a young Rhode Island inhabitant named Joseph Carpenter who purchased 2,000 acres of land on May 24, 1668 in the then northwest section of the Town of Oyster Bay from the Matinecock Indians in order to erect a saw mill. "On May 24, 1668, a young Rhode Island inhabitant named Joseph Carpenter purchased 2,000 acres of land to the northwest of the Town of Oyster Bay from the Matinecock Indians. His intention was to erect a saw mill and furnish New York City with lumber desperately needed for the construction of housing.

Carpenter took in as partners in his venture three brothers: Robert, Daniel and Nathaniel Coles, who were also former inhabitants of Rhode Island living in Oyster Bay; and Nicholas Simkins, also of Oyster Bay.
These five businessmen chose to retain the place-name by which the Matinecock Indians had known the area, and therefore styled themselves "The Five Proprietors of Musketa Cove Plantation." Musketa (also spelled "rnusquito") translates from the Matinecock's language to roughly mean "the place of rushes."
Within a rather short time, the "Five Proprietors" had dammed a small stream that ran through the valley, whose course is roughly paralleled by Glen Street today. This dam was located near the foot of Mill Hill, slightly northeast of the present fire department on a spot marked by a memorial plaque.
On the dam was erected the saw mill, which by an early. covenant between the "Five Proprietors" was jointly owned by each of them, and a small grist mill which was constructed by Joseph Carpenter under the condition that he grind the grain of the other proprietors "well and tolle free for ever."
(Millers were remunerated for their services by receiving a percentage of the finished flour as payment... usually about 10 per cent).
The lumber produced by the saw mill found a ready market in New York City, which had used up most of the indigenous trees on Manhattan Island rather quickly. By l679, just two years after Carpenter's purchase from the Indians was officially ratified by the colonial New York govemment, the mill was producing nine different thicknesses of boards and timber, as well as tile laths, shingle laths, wainscott, "feather-edged" boards for panelling, and custom-cut walnut for cabinet-making.
A small portion of the mill's accounts were recorded in the "Musketa Cove Proprietor's Book," a hand- written record of the early settlers' land transactions and agreements. The accounts indicate that one of the major purchasers of Musketa Cove lumber was Jacob Leisler, a prosperous New York City merchant who would, in 1689, overthrow the colonial government of the colony and, in 1691, would be executed for treason.
However, it appears that Leisler did not forget his acquaintances in Musketa Cove during his reign as ad-hoc governor in New York, he appointed Robert Coles as Captain in the Oyster Bay Militia."

History of Glen Cove
By Antonia Petrash, Carol Stern, and Carol McCrossen
The history of Glen Cove, like that of most other settlements on the North Shore of Long Island is closely associated with the history of its waterfront. Surrounded by water of three sides, Glen Cove presently has over ten miles of waterfront including: three public beaches, two nature preserves, a public golf course and a public park. It was the waterfront that first attracted the Native Americans, the City's founding fathers and ultimately the wealthy families who would later create the Gold Coast of Glen Cove.
I - A Settlement is Founded
On May 24, 1668 Joseph Carpenter of Warwick Rhode Island purchased about 2,000 acres of land to the northwest of the Town of Oyster Bay from the Matinecock Indians. Later in that year he admitted four co-partners into the project - three brothers, Nathaniel, Daniel, and Robert Coles, and Nicholas Simkins, all residents of Oyster Bay. The five young men named the settlement "Musketa Cove," which in the Matinecock language means "this place of rushes." These settlers have been known forever after as the five original proprietors of Musketa Cove Plantation.
Carpenter and his friends saw great potential in their new community. They constructed a saw mill and a gristmill across what is now known as Glen Cove Creek. The harbor was ideal for shipping lumber to New York City and the creek was dammed to provide power for the mills. Their goal was furnish New York City with lumber for the construction of housing. The site for the saw mill had many congenial conditions - a fine stream, opportunity for a short dam, and easy access to navigable water at high tide.
The proprietors and their families built their homes near the campfires of the Indians along a street atop a hill overlooking the saw mill. They were blessed with the brave spirit of the pioneer. They were not afraid to work long hours to mold the raw materials of nature into the finished products needed to build a civilization. While each had land for his own homestead, much of the land was maintained as common space for the grazing of cattle. The first settled street in Glen Cove, called "The Place" still survives today.
The lumber produced by the saw mill found a ready market in New York City. By 1679, two years after Carpenter's purchase from the Indians was officially ratified by the colonial New York government, the mill was producing nine different thickness of boards and timber, as well as tile laths, shingle laths, wainscot, "feather-edged" boards for paneling, and custom-cut walnut for cabinet-making.
By this time the tiny group of settlers had grown considerably. A contributing factor to the sudden influx of settlers was King Philips's War, which drove many out of New England for fear of their lives. In less than a decade after its settlement, the community of Musketa Cove had among its population carpenters, weavers, wool spinners, saddlers, tailors, millers, shipbuilders, and many tradesmen. They had their own town government, constable, overseers, Justice of the Peace and Recorder.

Some of the mill's accounts were recorded in the Musketa Cove Proprietor's Book, a hand- written record of the early settlers' land transactions and agreements. Musketa Cove Proprietor's Book is an outstanding primary record; its pages contain a copy of the Andros Patent of 1677; references to minor land disputes with the Matinecock Indians, and family records of the Coles, Thornycraft and Carpenter families.

Some of the earliest entries are dated November 30, 1668; listed are certain Articles of Agreement signed by the five proprietors. The Proprietors agreed that "no trees shall be cut for pipe staves except as agreed upon by vote of the majority; no one shall put out hogs or cattle for summering except as agreed on by majority vote; only by vote of the majority shall any highway be built, lots laid out or fences erected."

The saw mill built by the proprietors provided a major influx of capital from outside Glen Cove. A gristmill was built in 1677. The exports of the lumber industry were not the sole source of income, however. Colonial Governor Lord Bellomont wrote in 1699 to the Board of Trade in London describing Musketa Cove as one of the top four ports for smuggling on all of Long Island. Goods smuggled to avoid the high import taxes demanded by Mother England included brandy, rum and wine.

II - A Country Goes to War

Most Musketa Cove residents were at first uninterested in taking an active part in the Revolution. Prior to the incredible rout of the Patriot Army during the Battle of Long Island in August of 1776, more than 70 per cent of the local inhabitants attempted to remain neutral; of the remainder, only 12 per cent took the Patriot side, the other 18 per cent remaining loyal to English rule. But after the defeat of Washington's army at the Battle of Long Island in 1776, the fires of patriotism were lit. The local militia was reorganized as the "Musketa Cove Company of the Loyal Queens County Militia." Its officers wore red uniforms, with blue facings and silver buttons.

Long Island was one of the few places in North America that the British held uncontested throughout the Revolution, and as a result, dozens of British Provincial Corps (armed loyalists) and Hessian regiments were stationed on Long Island, housed in homes abandoned by Patriots who had fled the area. The population of Musketa Cove in the decade after the Revolution grew to nearly 250.

III – The Growth of Industry

The second major "industry," in Glen Cove, following the mills of the 17th and 18th century, was the mining of clay. About 1810, a local physician named Thomas Garvie, a native of Scotland, discovered that the large deposits of clay on his property (now called "Garvie's Point") were of sufficient quality for use in manufacturing pottery. Within a short time clay was being dug, and marketed in New York City, with some finding its way to the potteries of Huntington and Greenport. The discovery of clay furthered the use of the waterfront for both commercial shipping and commuter transportation.

In 1827, Dr. Thomas Garvie opened negotiations with Cornelius Vanderbilt to begin operating a steamboat between Glen Cove and New York City on a regular basis. In 1829 a daily steamboat run was made between Glen Cove and New York City. But many New York residents were reluctant to visit the town because they didn't realize that there was a difference between "mus-kee-tah" (this place of rushes) and "mosquito" (a rather pesky insect). A public meeting was held in 1834 to discuss the matter. Several possible names were suggested as alternatives. Local legend has always claimed that someone had suggested "Glen Coe," after a rather pretty spot in Scotland, which was misheard as "Glen Cove." The residents agreed to change the name to Glen Cove.

By the late 1850's steamboat operation between New York and Glen Cove was in full swing. Glen Cove became a resort community. By the time of the Civil War there were half a dozen major hotels in Glen Cove, most centered near the steamboat landing (which was at the foot of Landing Road, within present day Morgan's Park). The largest of these was the Pavilion Hotel, which was used as a convalescent home during the Civil War for wounded soldiers. In addition to the hotels themselves, a number of "oyster saloons," taverns, and boarding houses opened in the Landing. The community catered to wealthy New York City residents who were beginning to build summer estate homes.

The Industrial Revolution did not reach Glen Cove until the 1850's around the same time the Duryea Corn Starch Manufacturing Company relocated their main plant from Oswego to Glen Cove. The Duryea Starch Works sprawled over more than an acre and employed nearly 600 people. Employees lived in company-owned apartments, bought their food and clothes from the company store, and read the Glen Cove Gazette, which was printed at least part of its life on a press owned by the starch company. The Starch Works was not well loved by those Glen Cove residents who had no financial interest in it. The volumes of waste produced by converting corn into corn starch was flushed into Glen Cove Creek, where it settled to form a layer of putrefying, obnoxious-smelling organic detritus. The smell, pervasive in both the Glen Cove Landing and Sea Cliff, depending upon the wind, was irritating to resident and visitor alike.

IV – A Community Moves into the Twentieth Century

As with most of Glen Cove's public institutions, the Glen Cove Public Library came from modest beginnings. It was founded in 1894, chartered in 1897, and housed in the public school building that had been built in 1893. The first librarian was Carolyn S. Reed, who would later marry another Coles descendant and would become the mother of the Robert R. Coles who established the library's present historical collection. The library's location changed over the years, and finally found its current home in 1959 next door to the Post Office. It now houses over 130,000 books, many videos, DVDs, music CDs, and offers an array of services to a community of over 25,000 residents.

By the beginning of the 20th Century the Glen Cove began to see an influx of wealthy industrialists, bankers and business people who built lavish estates, many along the waterfront. Some of the families had already established businesses in the City, including the Ladew family who built the Ladew Leather works, and the Duryeas of the Duryea Starch Works, but other wealthy residents came as well. JP Morgan, son of the industrialist, purchased an entire island, East Island where he established a palatial home. Charles Pratt of Standard Oil built a home in Glen Cove, as well as homes for seven of his eight children. Department store magnate Woolworth built Winfield Hall on Crescent Beach Road. These wealthy residents drew upon the rich pool of skilled and unskilled labor that was abundant in Glen Cove, and often built housing for their workers. Many of these estates are still standing and are in use today as schools, houses of worship and executive retreats.
For 250 years Glen Cove was part of the Town of Oyster Bay. But as the population grew to over 10,000 residents it became evident that the existing machinery of government was no longer adequate. On June 8, 1917 the Governor signed into law a bill proclaiming Glen Cove to be a City.
Since the time of the first settlers the Glen Cove community has progressed beyond anything its five original proprietors could have possibly imagined. Through wars, industrial revolutions, and changes in government it remains a thriving, growing City moving steadily into the Twenty-first Century.

WIKIPEDIA:
https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Glen_Cove,_New_York
Glen Cove is a city in Nassau County, New York on the North Shore of Long Island.

Glen Cove was used as a port by English migrants from New England and named "Moscheto" before 1668. On May 24, 1668 Joseph Carpenter of Warwick, Rhode Island purchased about 2,000 acres (8.1 km) of land to the northwest of the Town of Oyster Bay from the Matinecock. Later in that year he admitted four co-partners into the project: three Coles brothers, Nathaniel, Daniel, and Robert; and Nicholas Simkins, all residents of Oyster Bay. The five young men named the settlement Musketa Cove. In the Lenape language musketa meant "place of rushes." The five men are considered the five original proprietors of Musketa Cove Plantation.

In the 1830s, steamboats started regular service on Long Island Sound between New York City and Musketa Cove, arriving at a point still called "The Landing." As "Musketa" was negatively associated with mosquito, in 1834 village residents changed the name to Glen Cove (said to be the misheard suggestion "Glencoe", after the Scottish glen) now Glencoe, Scotland. The village added population as workers arrived for jobs at the Duryea Corn Starch factory, which operated until 1900. The name "Duryea" was once suggested as a village name to replace Mosquito Cove but rejected.

By 1850 the village of Glen Cove had become a popular summer resort community for New York City residents. The Long Island Railroad was extended to Glen Cove in 1867, providing quicker, more frequent service to New York City. The availability of the train and the town's location on Long Island Sound made it attractive to year-round residents, and the population increased. On June 8, 1917, Glen Cove became an independent city, separating from the Town of Oyster Bay after 250 years.

GLEN COVE HISTORY
Origin of Place Names & Public Parks
https://www.glencovelibrary.org/wp-content/uploads/2018/04/Origin-of-Place-Names-Public-Parks.pdf
Musquito Cove, also written as: Musketa Cove, Muscheda Cove, Moscheto Cove, Muskeeto Cove, Musketo Cove, Mosquito Cove, Masketicove
Musquito Cove derived its name from the original settlement documents where it appears as the "Musquito Cove Plantations". On May 24, 1668, Joseph Carpenter (formerly of Rhode Island but then residing at Oyster Bay) purchased the land surrounding Musquito Cove from the Matinecock Indian inhabitants. "Musquito" roughly translates in the Algonkian Indian language spoken by the Matinecocks as "place of rushes" or "meadows", undoubtedly referring to the large meadows which existed north of the modern-day Glen Cove Creek.
Although written many different ways in the early years of the settlement, with the first Post Office established in 1818, the official name of the village became "Musquito Cove". However, association with the mosquito insect forced the proprietors to change the name once again to "Moscheto Cove". The establishment of regular steamboat service between the village and New York City led to a final break with any name that remotely hinted that the community was infested with mosquitoes, and in 1834, the village became "Glen Cove".

Legend has it that someone at the village meeting called in 1834 to consider a name change, proposed "Glencoe" (for a place in Scotland) but the name was mis-heard as "Glen Cove", and that name was agreed to. However, in a historical manuscript written by a descendant of the founding Coles family, Edward Coles (who resided in Rev. Benjamin Woolsey's original mansion in the Dosoris area), claims that it was he who suggested the name "Glen Cove". After other names such as "Pembroke", "Queenville", "Regina", and "Circassia" were rejected, the vote was nearly unanimous for "Glen Cove".

Hannah Carpenter

Ojai, California, 2009

[Derived from one of twelve fully formatted sketches of early Carpenters, these notes contain the most-authoritative information available as of April 2023. The sketches may be viewed online at . (The online version will be updated when appropriate; check the revision date.) Where other information herein conflicts with Zubrinsky's notes, his notes take precedence.]

HANNAH3 CARPENTER (William2 of Rehoboth, William1) was born at Weymouth, Massachusetts Bay Colony, on 3 2nd month [April] 1640 and died not long before 8 June 1673, probably at Musketa Cove (then a plantation in Oyster Bay Township; now the town of Glen Cove, Nassau County), Long Island, Province of New York. She married probably at Rehoboth, Plymouth Colony, ca. 1658 (not on 21 April 1659), JOSEPH2 CARPENTER, born about 1638 (aged 26 in 1664), probably at Providence Plantation (not 1635, in England), and died intestate at Musketa Cove between 15 or 17 February 1682[/3] and 15 March 1683/4, son of William1 and Elizabeth (Arnold) Carpenter of Providence (Pawtuxet section, now in Cranston), Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations. Joseph married second, probably at Oyster Bay, by 2 September 1674, Ann Weekes, baptized at New Amsterdam (now New York City), Colony of New Netherland, on 9 July 1651 and died at Musketa Cove after 24 4th month [June] 1713 (perhaps by 12 6th month [August] 1713), daughter of Francis and Elizabeth (_____) Weekes of Salem and Dorchester, Massachusetts; Providence; New Amsterdam; Gravesend, Long Island; and Oyster Bay (TAG 70:201, 204; RILE 1:47, 50-51; NEHGR 159:64n47, 67-68; PrTR 6:138, 141, 144, 147-48; PubRIHS 4:197; NYChR 29; WMM-MM A:24; FMM-VR 78; OBTR 1:99, 411-12, 640-41, 642-44, 2:702; see also DEATH, MARRIAGE, and COMMENTS sections, below; Joseph2 Carpenter notes, BIRTH, DEATH, MARRIAGES, and COMMENTS). [While the foregoing genealogical data is presented in _Register_ style, the embedding, grouping, and severe abbreviating of source citations are conveniences that depart from it. Sources are cited in full in KEY TO SOURCES, at the end of these notes. The format below is patterned loosely after that used by Robert Charles Anderson in his _Great Migration_ series.]

DEATH: That Hannah Carpenter had died by 8 June 1673 is deduced from husband Joseph's deed of that date, in which he, "of Muskeeto Cove In Longe-Island," conveys to "my Brother in Law Abyah Carpenter of Pawtuxet in Rhode-Island Collony . . . Lands and Commonage [there] which Fell to me by my wife . . . from her father"; Hannah is not a cosignatory (RILE 1:47). (For bequests to Hannah from her father, William2 Carpenter of Rehoboth, see PCPR 2:1:80-81 or MD 14:231-32 [transcr.].)

MARRIAGE: The secondary literature's oft-repeated date of Hannah's marriage, 21 April 1659, is highly suspect. Supporting evidence is never presented, nor has any been found. It is, moreover, the date on which the will of Hannah's father, William2 Carpenter of Rehoboth, was proved at Plymouth, presumably upon presentation by her mother, as "Exequitrice" (PCPR 2:1:80, 83; MD 14:231, 233). Initial confusion and subsequent repetition have thus given Hannah's marriage a widely accepted date that actually pertains to another event--one that would have absented her mother (and probably one or more brothers) from Rehoboth on the alleged date of the marriage.

References in the will of William2 Carpenter of Rehoboth to "Cozen Carpenter" and "my brother Carpenter"-presumably Joseph2 and his father, William1 of Providence, respectively-have given rise to claims that Hannah and Joseph were first or second cousins. Recent Y-DNA test results virtually eliminate either possibility, however, showing with 95 percent certainty that the couple's nearest common Carpenter ancestor preceded their respective fathers by between two and twenty generations (Carpenter Cousins; William2 of Rehoboth notes, COMMENTS). The term _cousin_ was used broadly at this time, often to denote _kinsman_, or relative by marriage. _Brother_ was sometimes used similarly: in two letters written in 1636 to his namesake son, for example, Massachusetts Governor John Winthrop calls the stepfather of the younger Winthrop's then wife, Elizabeth Reade, "my brother [Hugh] Peter" (WP 269, 275; Davis 212-13, 215; NEHGR 88:301). The quoted phrases above thus almost certainly reflect relationships created by the couple's having married _before_ the partially dated will was made, no later than 10 December 1658 (see William2 of Rehoboth notes, WILL/ESTATE).

RESIDENCES: Weymouth; Rehoboth (1644); Warwick (Pawtuxet section), Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations (ca. 1658); Musketa Cove (probably late 1668: husband Joseph was of Pawtuxet on 7 November and of Musketa Cove on 30 November). It was presumably when Hannah married Joseph2 Carpenter that they left the homes of their respective families of origin--hers at Rehoboth, his at Providence (Pawtuxet section)--and settled on the southern, Warwick side of the Pawtuxet River, which at its mouth bisects the village that is its namesake (WarTR1 162-63, 176-77; WarTR2 153-54; RILE 50-51; OBTR 1:42-43, 629-32, 641, 2:682-83; NEHGR 159:56n4; PawWeb; Carpenter [1901] 31-32).

EDUCATION: Among the bequests to Hannah from her father are three books: "her Bible; the practice of Pietie and the Returne of Prayers" (MD 14:231-32). (Lewis Bayly's _The Practice of Piety: A Puritan Devotional Manual, Directing a Christian How to Live, That He May Please God_ was first published in 1611; Thomas Goodwin's _The Return of Prayers: A Treatise, Wherein This Case, How To Discern God's Answers to Our Prayers, Is Briefly Resolved . . ._ first appeared in 1651.)

i. HANNAH3 CARPENTER, b. between ca. 1659 (parents m. ca. 1658) and say 1661/2, living Musketa Cove 19 March 1719/20 (husband's will); m. Musketa Cove or vicinity before 17 Feb. 1682[/3?] (probably by 14 Jan. 1681[/2?]), WILLIAM THORNYCRAFT, b. probably Warwick, d. Musketa Cove between 6 April 1720 (sold land) and 19 Dec. 1728 (will proved), son of Thomas and Jean? (_____) Thornycraft of Warwick (by 1647) and Maspeth Kills, Newtown (now Elmhurst, Queens Co.), L.I. (NYWills 11:80; MARRIAGE, above; WarTR1 1-296 passim [215, 217]; WarTR2 29, 141, 251, 252, 329; Cock-Cocks-Cox 357; OBTR 1:378, 6:654; NYGBR 64:31, citing NTR [1:]158).
On 17 February 1682 [probably 1682/3], William Thornycraft conveyed "twenty Accars of Land unto _his father in Law_ Joseph Carpenter . . . for and in Consideration of fifty Accars of Land in hand and reseaved, of _his father_ Joseph Carpenter" (emphases added) (OBTR 1:643; Carpenter [1901] 45 omits portion of quoted passage following ellipsis points). On the same date, Carpenter, in an exchange of fifty-acre lots with Nicholas Simkins, obtained the parcel he gave to Thornycraft, abutting the twenty acres his son-in-law gave him in return (OBTR 1:642-44). Thornycraft's right to the twenty acres of woodland he traded to Joseph Carpenter had been granted to him on 14 Jan. 1681[/2?] by a deed from the five Musketa Cove proprietors, including Carpenter (OBTR 1:639-40). It is doubtful that this grant to Thornycraft--also including "A sartin peece or parsell of Land whare hee now Inhabitts and Builtt upon for A home Lott as within fenc Allredy InClosed" and a parcel of upland--would have been made until he had married (in which case he need not have been twenty-one to receive it). The lots Thornycraft and Carpenter exchanged were adjacent and thus presumably of comparable quality. From this, the transfers' transaction date, and a gift of land made by Joseph Carpenter probably four days (rather than a year and four days) earlier (see no. ii, below), it is reasonable to conclude that the thirty acres Thornycraft gained from the trade was a marriage settlement from his father-in-law. The will of William Thorneycraft Sr. of Musketa Cove, dated 19 March 1719/20 and proved 19 Dec. 1728, names wife Hannah; sons William, Joseph, and Thomas; and daughters Hannah Washburn, Elizabeth Pellam (Pelham), Mary Thorneycraft, Jane Carpenter [m. cousin Silas, son of William (no. iv, below)], and Phebe Thorneycraft; the witnesses were Mary Carpenter, Thomas Pearsall, and Joseph Carpenter (NYWills 11:80, 85).
ii. THOMASIN/TAM(A)SIN CARPENTER, b. between ca. 1659 and say 1662/3, living Madnan's Neck, Hempstead (now Great Neck, North Hempstead), L.I., 30 Jan. 1710, 9 Anne [regnal year], i.e., 30 Jan. 1710/11; m. Musketa Cove or vicinity before 13 Feb. 1682[/3], as his second wife, JOHN WILLIAMS, d. Madnan's Neck shortly before 4 April 1705 (widow granted letters of adm.), son of Robert and Sarah (Washburn) Williams of Hempstead and Lusum (Jericho, in Oyster Bay) (HempTR 2:395-97; OBTR 1:187-88, 272, 458-60, 625-27, 641; Cock-Cocks-Cox 371; NYWills 1:118, 403-4; TAG 36:62; Washburn Gen 95-99, citing HempCtR 78-83).

The evidence that Thomasin (Mrs. John) Williams was Joseph and Hannah Carpenter's daughter is circumstantial: On 13 Feb. 1682[/3], Joseph Carpenter Sr. conveyed by a deed of gift to John Williams, a cordwainer (shoemaker) "now Residing on ye same place[,] foure Accars of Land . . . on ye north side of the highwaye Against my now dwelling house" (OBTR 1:641). Taken together, the nature of the transfer, the lot's location and Williams's prior occupation of it, and a similar transaction made by Carpenter probably four days (rather than a year and four days) later (see no. i, above) strongly suggest that the gift was a marriage settlement. On 13 May 1686, John Williams of Madnan's Neck sold to Joseph Carpenter fifty acres at Matinecock, "w[i]thin ye pattent & Township of Oysterbay"; John and Tamsun Williams signed the deed by mark (OBTR 1:483-84). Letters of administration on the estate of John Williams of Madnan's Neck, deceased, were granted to wife Tamasan on 4 April 1705; his estate inventory was exhibited by Thomasan Williams, administratrix, on 15 Sept. 1705 (NYWills 1:322, 403-4, 16:35 [corrections]). On 19 March 1705/6, Tamson Williams of Madnan's Neck, widow, purchased fifty acres of woodland in Oyster Bay (OBTR 3:188-90). "Tamisen Williams the widow & Relick [sic] of John Williams of madnans neck," purchased 300 acres of woodland on the Byram River in Rye, Westchester Co., N.Y., on 20 May 1707 (not 12 May 1706) (WeLR C:430; NYGBR 51:254; Carpenter [1901] 47 [12 May 1706]). On 30 Jan. 1710[/11], the town of Hempstead quitclaimed to Thomasin Williams of Madnan's Neck, widow, 66 acres "in her full and peaceable posesion being" (HempTR 2:395-97).

Daniel H. Carpenter says that Thomasin "was probably named for her great-aunt 'Tomazin'" who "came over in 1635 . . . [and] is believed to have been an elder sister of William of Providence" (see Carpenter [1901] 45-46, 46n). This statement is presumably based on the tenuous assumption that because a Carpenter woman of that forename and a male Carpenter from William1's English home were recorded as emigrants about a week apart--William1 arrived in New England probably the following year (though not under the circumstances stated by D. H. Carpenter)--all three must be closely related (see Carpenter [1901] 5, 9, 46n; NEHGR 159:67-68). On 13 April (not 15 May) 1635, Tomazin Carpenter, aged 35, was enrolled at London as a passenger for New England on the _Susan & Ellen_ (Hotten 57 [13 April], 59; Carpenter [1901] 5 [15 May]). Thomas Carpenter of Amesbury [in Wiltshire], carpenter, was among those who registered at Southampton "in and aboute" 6 April 1635 for passage to New England on the _James_ (PRO/TNA CO1/8/183-85, at 185; Coldham 133-34; NEHGR 14:332-33 and Carpenter [1901] 5 erroneously have 5 April). The _Susan & Ellen_'s passenger list gives no indication of Tomazin's origin, however, and nothing more is known of her (or of Thomas--unless he was actually the eventual William1 of Providence [in whose sketch see IMMIGRATION]). But if she was closely related to William of Providence, it is reasonable to suppose that she, too, was from Amesbury or thereabout. In that case, one would expect her and so-called Thomas of Amesbury to have sailed together or at least to have embarked from the same port. That they did neither renders what was never more than a possibility all the more remote. Ironically, Joseph's daughter Thomasin may well have been named after a slightly more-distant aunt on the other side of his family: his maternal grandfather, William1 Arnold, had a sister Thomasine/Tamzen, who remained in England (NEHGR 33:427-28, 69:67).

iii. JOSEPH CARPENTER, b. between ca. 1659 and 9 July 1663 (perhaps by 13 Feb. 1661/2), d. Musketa Cove between 9 Sept. 1687 (quitrent payment) and 6 Jan. 1691 [probably 1691/2]; m. by 1685 (1st known child b. 16 Oct.) (OBTR 2:337, 350-51).

That records dated in mid-Feb. 1682[/3] call his father Joseph "Sr:" or "Sen:" suggests that Joseph (Jr.) was by then of age (OBTR 1:640-41; DEATH, par. 3, above). He was certainly so by 9 July 1684, when he and his mother were named administrators of his father's estate (Hist Mss 130). He was "late deceased" when a "memorandum" of the birth, on 16 Oct. 1685, of his "Eldest son and Heire," Joseph, was recorded at the top of a page also containing a record dated 6 Jan. 1691 (OBTR 2:350-51).

The identity of Joseph's wife is at best uncertain. The wife Ann(e) that D. H. Carpenter attributes to him was probably his stepmother, Ann (Weekes) Carpenter (see Carpenter [1901] 44; OBTR 1:644-47, 2:127-29, 650-51). Hinshaw gives Joseph's namesake son's mother as Anne, but while his main sources are original Quaker records, they are supplemented by others, some secondary (see Quaker Gen 1, 391). The younger Joseph's Musketa Cove birth record does not name his mother, and the otherwise informative Quaker record of his death names neither parent (see OBTR 2:350; Carpenter [1901] 64n and Hazard Index, both citing WMM-VR A:159). It is therefore probable that Hinshaw's identification of the younger man's mother as Anne derives ultimately from the D. H. Carpenter volume. Note, however, that the younger Joseph's first daughter was named Ann (Quaker Genealogy 391; Carpenter [1901] 66, 93). D. H. Carpenter's further supposition concerning the elder Joseph's wife--(having previously thought she was a daughter of Nicholas and Elizabeth (Weekes) Simpkins)-- "we now think she was daughter of Thomas Thornycraft and sister to William Thornycraft"--is unsupported, as is the assertion of another author (whose Carpenter section builds upon Carpenter [1901]) that she was probably Mary Thornycraft (see Carpenter [1901] 44; Cock-Cocks-Cox 357).

The subject Joseph had a second son, Thomas, who is said by D. H. Carpenter to have been born on 16 Aug. 1687 (OBTR 3:344-45 [1708 quitclaim, Joseph to "my Brother Thomas"]; Carpenter [1901] 44 [b. 15 Aug.], 67; Haviland Gen 110). Seeming to confirm this is the 1 Jan. 1859 account by Sarah C. Field (1797-1879) of a family record then in her possession or that of her mother, Jane (Haviland) Field (1765-1860), giving Thomas's birth date as "8 mo., 16th day, 1687" (Haviland Gen 186). Prior to 1752, however, the eighth month was not August but October (as consistent with the latter's Latin origin). Without informing the reader of his translations, D. H. Carpenter expresses with named months many dates that are actually recorded with numbered ones (including all those from Quaker records). Because his conversions of pre-1752 numbered-month dates are mistakenly based on modern reckoning, they are consistently off by two months. Note, however, that Thomas's corrected birth date, 16 October 1687, contains the same day and month as his brother Joseph's (see above). So while the October date is more reliable than the August one, the former should nevertheless be regarded with some caution. Thomas certainly had been born by 26 Nov. 1687: he and brother Joseph sold land to their uncle Nathaniel on 26 Nov. 1708 (OBTR 3:310-12).

The aforementioned family record gives the date of Joseph3's son Thomas's marriage as "10 mo., 14th day, 1708" [14 Dec. (not Oct.) 1708] (Haviland Gen 110 [Oct.], 186 [10 mo.]; see also Carpenter [1901] 67 [Oct.]). While his wife is identified therein only as Hannah, several secondary sources have her as Hannah Alsop, daughter of Thomas [sic] and Hannah (Underwood) Alsop (see, for example, Haviland Gen 110; Carpenter [1901] 67). This is doubly incorrect, however: First, the secondary literature has long accepted (albeit without documentation) that Hannah Underwood married the immigrant Richard Alsop; the earliest Thomas Alsop was their son, born in 1687 (also Thomas Carpenter's birth year), who married Susannah Blackwell (GMB 3:1862, 1863; Alsop Gen 3, 4; Underhill Gen 65). And second, Richard and Hannah Alsop's daughter Hannah married Joseph Sackett (Alsop Gen 2 [Richard Alsop will (transcr.), naming dau. Hannah Sackett], 4; Underhill Gen 66). There was a marriage between a Thomas Carpenter, son of Joseph, and a Hannah Alsop, daughter of Richard, but it occurred in 1777 (Hazard Index, citing WMM-VR A:250). The identity of Hannah, wife of the subject Thomas Carpenter, is unknown.

iv. WILLIAM CARPENTER, b. by 3 Sept. 1666 (freeholder by 3 Sept. 1687), living Oyster Bay Township 5 Aug. 1734; m. ELIZABETH _____ (OBTR 2:337, 3:429-31, 5:623-25; Carpenter [1901] 49n, 73).

On 13 May 1720, William sold his 81-acre Musketa Cove farm, "Reserveing to my Self Three Acres" (OBTR 3:429-31). On 8 May 1722, with son Silas (about whom more below), William purchased 375 acres on the Byram River at North Castle and Rye, Westchester Co., N.Y., of which William was then "in possession" (Carpenter [1901] 49n, 73, both citing WeLR G:215-17). Subsequent records put William on Long Island in 1728/9 and in Oyster Bay Township from 1730/1 to 1734 (NYWills 11:85 [William Jr. of Long Island (implies presence at same place of Wm. Sr.)], 3 Jan. 1728/9]; OBTR 4:366-68 [William Jr., 5 March 1730/1], 5:75 [William Jr., 5 Aug. 1734], 623-25 [William Sr., 2 April 1734]).

William sold his farm (see above) "with ye ffree will and Consent of my Wife Elizabeth Carpenter," who added her signature (by mark) to his (OBTR 3:431). D. H. Carpenter calls it "a _possibility_ amounting to a _probability_" (his emphases) that Elizabeth was the daughter of William's uncle Ephraim Carpenter and says that she died about 1743 (Carpenter [1901] 50); he fails to support either assertion, however. G. W. Cocks says that Elizabeth's parentage is "not certainly known, but may have been Moses and Elizabeth (Weeden) Mudge, then of Musketa Cove, who had a dau. Elizabeth, b. 28/12 mo. (Feb.) 1674" (Cock-Cocks-Cox 358, 385). Note that this is expressed as no more than a possibility. There is, moreover, no known basis for the assertion that Moses and Elizabeth Mudge had a daughter Elizabeth, let alone that she was born on the date stated (which is not to say that either is necessarily false). An Elizabeth Mudge was born at Northampton, Mass., 10 Oct. 1673 and another at Charlestown, Mass., 12 March 1674, but their respective parents and husbands are not those of the same-named woman mentioned by Cocks (see Mudge Gen 46, 49; TAG 81:25; Charlestown Gens 2:693). In the most recent and authoritative account of Moses Mudge and his family, Gale Ion Harris, FASG (citing an unpublished typescript by Harry Macy Jr., FASG) presents Mudge's issue as consisting of two sons and no daughters (see TAG 81:18-30, at 24 [24n38 corrects Mudge Gen 48]). Elizabeth (Mrs. William) Carpenter's maiden name is unknown. And in any case, since the one known record in which her forename appears as William's wife is dated in 1720 (see above), it is not certain that she was the mother of his children.

The will of William's son Silas Carpenter of North Castle, dated 3 Jan. 1728/9 and proved 13 Feb. 1728[/9], names wife Jane [his cousin, dau. of William and Hannah (Carpenter) Thornycraft (see no. i, above)]; daughters Hannah and Phebe; sons William, Timothy, and Silas; and executors [brother-in-law] William Craft [formerly Thornycraft], [brother] William Carpenter Jr., both of Long Island, and wife Hannah [sic]; witnesses include [uncle] Nathaniel Carpenter (no. v, below) (NYWills 11:80, 85 [_Silas_ transcr. as _Giles_]). The will of William's son Joseph Carpenter of Oyster Bay, dated 25 Feb. 1727[/8?] and proved 21 March 1727/8, names wife Abigail [nee Robbins]; sons Joseph and John; and executors "my wife and her brother, John Robbins" (NYWills 11:101).

v. NATHANIEL CARPENTER, b. Pawtuxet (Warwick) or Musketa Cove between say 1668 and 10 Feb. 1672[/3?] (grantee 10 Feb. 1693[/4?]), d. North Castle 25 2nd mo. [April (not Feb.)] 1730; m. Musketa Cove 5 Nov. 1690, TAMAR COLES, b. 18 May 1673, dau. of Robert and Mercy (Wright?) Coles (OBTR 1:652-53, 655, 2:101-3; FMM-VR 220; MacDonough-Hackstaff 455).

Nathaniel is said to have been probably the first white child born at Musketa Cove (see Carpenter [1901] 43, 50). This, however, is based on the unsupported assertion that he was born in the summer of 1668 and the questionable assumption that both parents had settled on Long Island by that time (see Carpenter [1901] 50; OBTR 2:682; RESIDENCES, above). The record of his death calls him Nathaniel "Juner," but the only other man of that name known to have been residing at North Castle at the time was his son, who died in late 1758 (see FMM-VR 220; Quaker Gen 63; NYWills 5:274; Carpenter [1901] 85). An item in the 1 Jan. 1759 issue of the _New-York Mercury_ is often said online to refer to the elder Nathaniel but in fact concerns the estate settlement of his recently deceased son. Naming "Captain Nathaniel Carpenter, deceas'd, of North-Castle, in Westchester County, and Province of New-York," the notice was placed by Caleb Fowler and Caleb Green, "Executors, in said County" (Hist Newspapers). The latter two men were brothers-in-law of the younger Nathaniel, whose will names them as executors (NYWills 5:274; Carpenter [1901] 85-86).

D. H. Carpenter gives Joseph and Hannah a sixth child: Hannah, "born 1672-3, married Jacob Hicks in 1690" (Carpenter [1901] 43). A few secondary sources state that the maiden name of Jacob Hicks's wife was Carpenter, but not all give her parentage, and none presents supporting evidence (see, for example, Mott Gen 372; Shotwell Gen 237, 280; Cornell Gen 383; Seaman-Husband 84). In his will, dated in 1751, Jacob Hicks's bequests to wife Hannah include "all the goods she brought with her when married" (NYWills 5:93-94). The quoted phrase implies that Hannah (whatever her maiden name) was not Hicks's first wife and probably married him long after his children were born (at Hempstead between 1702--making a 1690 marriage date unlikely [see above]--and about 1718) (see Colonial Fams 3:1330). More to the point, however, the Carpenter daughter whom D. H. Carpenter is unable to identify by forename but correctly describes as having married William Thornycraft is almost certainly the woman whom Thornycraft's will calls "my wife Hannah" (see Carpenter [1901] 43; NYWills 11:80; child no. i, above).

COMMENTS: On 3 May 1656, Joseph2 Carpenter witnessed a deed of Pawtuxet (Providence) land from his maternal uncle Stephen Arnold to Joseph's father, William1 Carpenter (PrTR 1:44-45). It has been supposed that Joseph was then an adult and thus was born about 1635, prior to his parents' emigration from England (see, for example, Carpenter [1901] 8-9, 30, 31; Arnold Mem 9, 52; RI Roots 13:75). It is wrong, however, to assume that Joseph was an adult when he witnessed the deed. Witnesses as young as fourteen (the age of discretion) are found in early New England records. When on 9 February 1657 Joseph, his brother Ephraim, and sister Lydia witnessed a deed of Pawtuxet (Warwick) land from an Indian sachem to their father, at least two and probably all three siblings were minors (see WarTR2 80-81). The most reliable approximation of Joseph's birth date is based on a deposition that he and Benjamin Smith gave on 16 October 1664 (HP 72-73). Its description of Joseph as "Aged 26 yeeres" implies a birth year of about 1638 and Providence as his probable birthplace (see William1 of Providence notes, RESIDENCES). For a detailed discussion of this and related issues--the immigration of William1 Carpenter of Providence (ca. 1636, as a single man) and his marriage to Elizabeth Arnold (ca. 1637, probably at Providence)--see NEHGR 159:67-68.

On 22 November 1682, Joseph Carpenter, on behalf of Samuel Till(i)er, paid £20 to John Robbins (OBTR 1:128-29). Two Musketa Cove proprietors' records, respectively dated 13 and 15 February 1682[/3], indicate that Joseph was still living at this time (OBTR 1:640-41). (Both follow on the same page a record dated 28 December 1682.) Three others, apparently recorded at or very near the same time as the foregoing ones, probably extend by two days the 15 February date, the latest on which Joseph is known with certainty to have been alive: all three are dated 17 February 1682 [probably 1682/3] (OBTR 1:642-44). On 15 March 1683/4, William1 Carpenter of Providence added to his will a codicil in which his son Joseph is described as deceased (PrTR 6:138-48, at 147-48).

HISTORICAL BACKGROUND: See, for example, Bill Bleyer, "The Daily Grind," online at ; Howard Chapin, "Early House Lots in the Town of Warwick," _Rhode Island Historical Society Collections_ 12:4(Oct. 1919):129-36; Robert Reed Coles and Peter Luyster Van Santvoord, _A History of Glen Cove_ (Glen Cove, 1967); Don D'Amato, "Warwick's Villages & Historic Places: Conimicut Village," links to pts. 2 and 3, online at ; Oliver P. Fuller, _The History of Warwick, Rhode Island_ (Providence, 1875) (caveat [see below]); _Harris Papers_, Collections of the Rhode Island Historical Society, vol. 10 (Providence, 1902); Antonia Petrash, Carol Stern, and Carol McCrossen, "History of Glen Cove," online at . The Fuller volume is useful but contains inaccuracies: Hannah's mother-in-law, Elizabeth (Arnold) Carpenter, for example, is omitted from an account of the family of William1 Arnold, to whom is attributed a nonexistent son Thomas (p. 16); William1 Arnold and William1 Carpenter of Pawtuxet village, Providence, are mistakenly listed with Robert Coles and Benedict Arnold as residents of the Warwick part of the village (p. 137).

17. Thomasin or Tam"a"sin or Tamsen Carpenter

Notes below by Eugene Cole Zubrinsky Ojai, California, 2009

Children of Joseph2 and Hannah (Carpenter) Carpenter, i-iv born probably at Pawtuxet (Warwick) (birth order uncertain):

ii. THOMASIN/TAM(A)SIN CARPENTER, b. between ca. 1659 and say 1662/3, living Madnan's Neck, Hempstead (now Great Neck, North Hempstead), L.I., 30 Jan. 1710, 9 Anne [regnal year], i.e., 30 Jan. 1710/11; m. Musketa Cove or vicinity before 13 Feb. 1682[/3], as his second wife, JOHN WILLIAMS, d. Madnan's Neck shortly before 4 April 1705 (widow granted letters of adm.), son of Robert and Sarah (Washburn) Williams of Hempstead and Lusum (Jericho, in Oyster Bay) (HempTR 2:395-97; OBTR 1:187-88, 272, 458-60, 625-27, 641; Cock-Cocks-Cox 371; NYWills 1:118, 403-4; TAG 36:62; Washburn Gen 95-99, citing HempCtR 78-83).
The evidence that Thomasin (Mrs. John) Williams was Joseph and Hannah Carpenter's daughter is circumstantial: On 13 Feb. 1682[/3], Joseph Carpenter Sr. conveyed by a deed of gift to John Williams, a cordwainer (shoemaker) "now Residing on ye same place[,] foure Accars of Land . . . on ye north side of the highwaye Against my now dwelling house" (OBTR 1:641). Taken together, the nature of the transfer, the lot's location and Williams's prior occupation of it, and a similar transaction made by Carpenter probably four days (rather than a year and four days) later (see no. i, above) strongly suggest that the gift was a marriage settlement. On 13 May 1686, John Williams of Madnan's Neck sold to Joseph Carpenter fifty acres at Matinecock, "w[i]thin ye pattent & Township of Oysterbay"; John and Tamsun Williams signed the deed by mark (OBTR 1:483-84). Letters of administration on the estate of John Williams of Madnan's Neck, deceased, were granted to wife Tamasan on 4 April 1705; his estate inventory was exhibited by Thomasan Williams, administratrix, on 15 Sept. 1705 (NYWills 1:322, 403-4, 16:35 [corrections]). On 19 March 1705/6, Tamson Williams of Madnan's Neck, widow, purchased fifty acres of woodland in Oyster Bay (OBTR 3:188-90). "Tamisen Williams the widow & Relick [sic] of John Williams of madnans neck," purchased 300 acres of woodland on the Byram River in Rye, Westchester Co., N.Y., on 20 May 1707 (not 12 May 1706) (WeLR C:430; NYGBR 51:254; Carpenter [1901] 47 [12 May 1706]). On 30 Jan. 1710[/11], the town of Hempstead quitclaimed to Thomasin Williams of Madnan's Neck, widow, 66 acres "in her full and peaceable posesion being" (HempTR 2:395-97).

D. H. Carpenter says that Thomasin "was probably named for her great-aunt 'Tomazin'" who "came over in 1635 . . . [and] is believed to have been an elder sister of William of Providence" (see Carpenter [1901] 45-46, 46n). This statement is presumably based on the tenuous assumption that because a Carpenter woman of that forename and a male Carpenter from William1's English home were recorded as emigrants about a week apart--William1 arrived in New England probably the following year (though not under the circumstances stated by D. H. Carpenter)--all three must be closely related (see Carpenter [1901] 5, 9, 46n; NEHGR 159:67-68). On 13 April (not 15 May) 1635, Tomazin Carpenter, aged 35, was enrolled at London as a passenger for New England on the _Susan & Ellen_ (Hotten 57 [13 April], 59; Carpenter [1901] 5 [15 May]). Thomas Carpenter of Amesbury [in Wiltshire], carpenter, was among those who registered at Southampton "in and aboute" 6 April 1635 for passage to New England on the _James_ (PRO/TNA CO1/8/183-85, at 185; Coldham 133-34; NEHGR 14:332-33 and Carpenter [1901] 5 erroneously have 5 April). The _Susan & Ellen_'s passenger list gives no indication of Tomazin's origin, however, and nothing more is known of her (or of Thomas--unless he was actually the eventual William1 of Providence [in whose sketch see IMMIGRATION]). But if she was closely related to William of Providence, it is reasonable to suppose that she, too, was from Amesbury or thereabout. In that case, one would expect her and so-called Thomas of Amesbury to have sailed together or at least to have embarked from the same port. That they did neither renders what was never more than a possibility all the more remote. Ironically, Joseph's daughter Thomasin may well have been named after a slightly more-distant aunt on the other side of his family: his maternal grandfather, William1 Arnold, had a sister Thomasine/Tamzen, who remained in England (NEHGR 33:427-28, 69:67).

INTRO:
Ephraim Carpenter (William) was born say 1642 in Providence (Pawtuxet section?), Providence Plantation. He died between 20 Feb 1697/8 and 8 Jan. 1702/3 in West Neck (in South Oyster Bay), Long Island.
Ephraim married Susannah Harris, daughter of William1 and Susannah (Hyde) Harris, about 1663 to 1666 probably in Pawtuxet (Providence). Susannah was born about 1640 in Providence. She died before 3 Dec 1677 in Oyster Bay.

EPHRAIM2 CARPENTER (William1 of Providence), b. Providence Plantation say 1642, d. probably West Neck (in south Oyster Bay), between 20 Feb. 1697/8 and 8 Jan. 1702/3; m. (1) probably Pawtuxet (Providence), by 1666 (perhaps by 1663), SUSANNAH HARRIS, d. before 3 Dec. 1677, dau. of William1 and Susannah (Hyde) Harris; (2) Oyster Bay, 3 Dec. 1677, SUSANNAH (WOOD) ENGLAND (widow of Josiah), d. probably Musketa Cove, before 1 July 1693 (in 1684?), dau. of John1 and Elizabeth (_____) Wood of Portsmouth, R.I.; (3) by 1 July 1693, LYDIA _____, said (not proved) to be Lydia Dickinson, b. 5 Oct. 1662, dau. of John and Elizabeth (Howland) Dickinson (OBTR 1:235, 2:41-43, 71-73, 76-77, 613-14, 624-25; PrTR 5:42-44, 7:190-96, 10:43-44, 14:61, 202; TG 20:168-69; John Wood 10-16; MD 54:27-28; Austin 36).

D. H. Carpenter mistakenly asserts that Ephraim's first recorded appearance is as a witness to a Providence deed on 5 Feb. 1661 (see Carpenter [1901] 314; PrTR 1:82-83). Implicit in author Carpenter's estimate of Ephraim's birth year as about 1640 is the false assumption that to have witnessed this deed he must have been at least 21 years old. On 9 Feb. 1657[/8?], he witnessed (with siblings Joseph and Lydia) a deed of Pawtuxet (Warwick) land to his father; Ephraim was unquestionably a teenager at the time (as above, children as young as 14 could witness documents) (see WarTR 80-81). He was most likely still a minor when he witnessed a deed in each of May and August 1660 and March 1660[/1?] (WarTR 81; PrTR 4:112-13, 14:254). Ephraim had certainly come of age, however, by the time he was admitted a Providence freeman, on 2 May 1666 (PrTR 15:73). Ephraim and his father were the only Carpenters among Providence householders who swore allegiance to King Charles II on 31 May 1666 (PrTR 3:101, 15:104-5).

In his will, dated 20 Feb. 1697/8, Ephraim2's namesake son, of Pawtuxet (Providence), bequeaths all his real estate to "my Honrd: ffather Ephraim Carpenter, now inhabetant at long Jsland" (PrTR 7:190-91). Except for his clothing, horse, saddle, bridle, and 4 bushels of oats (all willed to his uncle Silas's widow, Sarah), he also leaves his personal estate to his father. On 8 Jan. 1702/3, however, "Susannah Arnold sister of . . . [testator] Ephraim Carpenter, & wife of Elisha Arnold of Providence . . . the Reall, true, & lawfull heires of the Estate of ye deceased Testator" acknowledged receipt of "all ye Remnant of the Estate . . . which was left after all charges was Defraied" (PrTR 5:42-44). Although Ephraim2 is not mentioned, it seems clear that his son's bequests to him had been invalidated by the father's death and intestacy, prompting the distribution of Ephraim3's estate to his sister and only surviving heir at law. Supporting this interpretation is that on 4 Sept. 1703, Josias Carpenter (presumably Ephraim3's half-brother, named for the latter's mother's first husband, Josiah England) sold several parcels of land at West Neck whose descriptions match those of lots previously acquired by Ephraim2 Carpenter (OBTR 1:387-89, 2:41-43, 71-73, 76-78, 624-25). And on 2 Nov. 1703, George Hewlett of Hempstead, L.I., deeded to Capt. Thomas Jones of Fort Neck (in south Oyster Bay) 1 3/4 meadow lots at the latter place that were "formerly Daniel Harcuts and after In possession of Ephraim Carpenter Deceased" (OBTR 2:613-14).

D. H. Carpenter states that Ephraim3 Carpenter was admitted a Musketa Cove [sic] inhabitant "in 1683 (at 21 years of age)" (see Carpenter [1901] 316). This is apparently the author's basis for estimating the younger Ephraim's birth date as about 1662 and his father's marriage date as about 1661 (see Carpenter [1901] 314, 316). Despite Ephraim2's having settled permanently in Oyster Bay about 1676, however, Ephraim3 was in Providence by 1684 and lived there (probably on land his father gave him in 1685) until 1693, when he took up residence at Musketa Cove; he was admitted an inhabitant of Oyster Bay on 5 Sept. 1694 ("to settle here at his own cost and Charge in order to Trading or [ ]") (PrTR 5:278-79, 14:202-3, 217-18, 259-63, 15:147, 17:44, 47, 48, 52, 102, 103, 21:33-35; OBTR 1:235, 575-76, 2:362). He bought a dwelling house and parcels of land in Oyster Bay on 30 March 1695 and sold them on 29 June 1696 (OBTR 2:192-93, 279-80). He then returned to Pawtuxet, where he died about a year and a half later (PrTR 7:190-96).

The earliest records of Ephraim3 at Providence are in 1684 tax lists and a 1685 deed of Providence lands from his father (of Musketa Cove), which "I . . . deliver into the actual possession of my [eldest] son Ephraim Carpenter" (PrTR 14:202-3, 17:44, 47, 48, 52 [compare relative amounts with 17:102, 103]). Ephraim3's taxation and receipt of land in these years, however, do not rule out the possibility that he was then a minor. Not until 27 May 1687, when Ephraim Carpenter of Providence sold to Clement King land left to Ephraim by his grandfather, William Carpenter, was he unquestionably 21, the legal age for disposing of property (PrTR 21:33-35; Blackstone 1:451). Based on these considerations, we infer that Ephraim3 had been born by 1666, perhaps by 1663. Logic dictates that we estimate the first marriage of our subject, Ephraim2, as having occurred by the same time.

In a testamentary deed dated 10 Nov. 1670, William Harris calls his daughter Susannah the wife of Ephraim Carpenter (PrTR 14:61). On 1 July 1693, Ephraim--with his then wife Lydia consenting--sold his Musketa Cove lands, including his home-lot (OBTR 2:72-73).

Ephraim is said to have been constable at Oyster Bay from 1681 or 1682 to 1687, but the township's records indicate otherwise (see Austin 36; Carpenter [1901] 315; OBTR 1:240, 253, 264, 265; 2:323, 330, 334). The only occasion on which he was named to a related office was on 2 April 1681, when Caleb Wright was named constable, and Ephraim became deputy constable for the plantation at Musketa Cove (OBTR 1:240-41).

Carpenter, 1901.

Death: PLACE - "OysterBay, Queens, Long Island, NY"
!MARRIAGE: second marriage date Oct. 3 1677 or Dec. 3, 1677 at Oyster Bay
His marriage in 1677 to Susannah England was performed by Thomas Townsend a Justice in the North Riding of Yorkshire.

CHILDREN: Children not proven: Elizabeth b. abt 1655 who married John Wheaton on Sept. 14, 1674. and Timothy Carpenter who married Mercy Coles.

In 1666 he was a freeman of Rhode Island. He moved to Musketa Cove in 1676 where on July 1, 1693 he and his wife Lydia (Dickinson) sold their home lot to Derrick Albertson, reserving a right to the burial plot. On Feb. 5, 1661 he witnessed a deed from his father to William Vincent. On Dec. 8, 1670, he had a deed from his father at his farm at Rocky Hill, Rhode Island. He served as a Deputy in 1671-1672. On Jan. 14, 1681 he began building a dwelling on land in North Cove. From 1681 to 1687 he served as a constable. On Jan 11, 1684, his wife Susannah received a legacy from the estate of her stepfather Hugh Parsons. See John O. Austin, "Genealogical dictionary of Rhode Island

37. Timothy Carpenter See Notes

For descendants see the "other" Timothy Carpenter born 19 Dec 1665 (RIN 12552) in this computer record. See Notes below.
The descendants of Cotleb Zimmerman per James Usher and by 20th century genealogists differ as to who his parents were.
Timothy as a child in this family is not proven, yet circumstantial evidence is given by Amos B. Carpenter (1898 Carpenter Memorial) and by Charles L. Carpenter, Rear Admiral USN Ret. (1976 Records) and the belief of Raymond George Carpenter, Genealogist of the Carpenter Family.

MARRIAGE: He alledgedly married Mercy Coles, granddaughter of Robert and Mary (Hawkhurst) Coles and possibly a daughter of John Coles.

Timothy was only 13 when he arrived in America and was too young to purchase land or participate in municipal affairs. It appears he engaged in the cooperage business, in which his grandson, William and his great-grandson, Seaman, also engaged in.
Timothy was a Quaker or Friend, was not allowed to have any kind of monument erected to mark his place of burial. No family plots for burial were allowed, the dead were interred in rows, without regard to relationship, side by side. For this reason it is inpossible to find his burial place.
The town records of Hempstead (ajoining north of Oyster Bay), Long Island were destroyed by fire on the 31st of October 1797.

38. Elizabeth Carpenter See Notes

Elizabeth is not proven as a daughter in this family.
See the other Elizabeth Carpenter born abt 1655 in this record for spouse.
Raymond George Carpenter and others believe she is a daughter of Ephraim BUT...
Ephraim would have been about 15 years old and before any of his marriages.
Elizabeth did exist however and married John, son of Robert Wheaton of Rehoboth, on Sept. 14, 1674 in Providence.
SOURCE: Records of Marriages in Providence, Rhode Island.
She would fit in as a sister to Ephraim, but she is not found in any known record to that family.

MARRIAGE: Source is Providence, RI records of marriage.

INTRO:
Priscilla Carpenter (William) was born say 1644 in Pawtuxet (Providence), Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations. She died about 15 Nov 1690 probably in Providence, Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations.
Priscilla married William Vincent, son of Nicholas (not Thomas) and Frideswide (Carpenter) Vincent, on 31 May 1670 probably in Pawtuxet (Providence). William was christened on 17 Jun 1638 in Amesbury, Wiltshire, England. He died after 21 Dec 1695 and before 1 Feb 1695/6 in Providence.

PRISCILLA2 CARPENTER (William1 of Providence), b. Pawtuxet (Providence) say 1644, d. probably Providence about 15 Nov. 1690; m. Providence (probably Pawtuxet section), 31 May 1670, [her cousin] WILLIAM VINCENT, bp. Amesbury, Wiltshire, 17 June 1638, d. Providence between 21 Dec. 1695 (will) and 1 Feb. 1695/6 (estate inv.), son of Nicholas (not Thomas) and Frideswide (Carpenter) Vincent. William m. (2) before 21 Dec. 1695, JEMIMA _____ (PrTR 5:294, 7:176-79, 20:231-33; RIVR 2:1[Providence]:37; AmParReg 1:n.p; Austin 213-14, 459).

The deed by which William Vincent sold to Timothy Carpenter a quarter share of a meadow lot inherited by William's wife Priscilla from her father, William1 Carpenter, ends with the following: "In Wittness . . . I the said William Vinsent & Priscilla My Wife doe hereunto set our handes & seales this fifteene day of November . . . 1690" (PrTR 6:144, 20:231-33; PrLR 2:95-96). Only William's name is subscribed, however, suggesting that Priscilla had died before she could formally consent to the sale of her legacy.

William Vincent's will, dated 21 Dec. 1695 and proved 3 March 1695/6, names "my wife Jemima" and "my three sonns, Thomas Nicholas & the youngest [William]" (PrTR 7:176-77). D. H. Carpenter claims that Vincent made another will, also dated in 1695 but previous to the official one, naming a son Jonas before the three children listed above (see Carpenter [1901] 321). No such document is found, however. (Perhaps Carpenter viewed both the "original," clerk's copy and the published transcription, misread _Thomas_ as _Jonas_ in the former, and in reviewing his notes, concluded that the two copies were of separate origin.)

In a deed of 64 acres to William Vincent, dated 5 Feb. 1661[/2?], William Carpenter calls Vincent his "Cousen" (i.e., nephew) (PrTR 1:82-83, 21:86).

John,
Would you like what I have from William Vincent and Priscilla Carpenter on down? If so, here it is, attached. If you don't want it, just delete it. It goes to my father, David Vincent Robison and his sister, Daphne Ann. Daddy doesn't care if he's published or not and Daph is deceased.
Thanks again, John!!! Jan

9. Timothy Carpenter

INTRO:
Timothy Carpenter (William) was born say 1646 in Pawtuxet (Providence), Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations. He died on 19 Aug 1726 in Pawtuxet (Providence).
Timothy married Hannah Burton, daughter of William and Hannah (Wickes) Burton, probably 1670 or 1671 in Providence. She died before Dec 1724 probably in Pawtuxet (Providence).

(The online version will be updated when appropriate; check the revision date.) Where other information herein conflicts with Zubrinsky's notes, his notes take precedence.]

TIMOTHY2 CARPENTER (William1 of Providence), b. Pawtuxet (Providence) say 1646, d. Pawtuxet (Providence) 19 August 1726; m. probably Providence 1670-1671, HANNAH BURTON, d. probably Pawtuxet (Providence) before 1 Dec. 1724 (not mentioned in husband's will), dau. of William and Hannah (Wickes) Burton (RIVR 2:1[Providence]:263; PrTR 7:170-73; WarTR 19, 140; PrPR 3:3-6; Austin 36, 266, 268, 420-21).

Timothy's three eldest siblings were minors when they witnessed a deed to their father on 9 Feb. 1657[/8?] (PrTR 80-81). Had Timothy then been at least 14 (the legal minimum age for witnessing documents), he, as a male, almost certainly would have replaced his sister Lydia in attesting to the document's legitimacy (see William1 of Providence notes, IMMIGRATION, par. 4, above). Timothy fails to appear on Providence freemen's lists (the last dated in 1669) and was not among that township's householders who swore allegiance to the king between 31 May 1666 and 29 April 1670 (PrTR 3:101-2; 15:104-5). He evidently became a householder sometime between the latter date and the last Monday in May 1671, when he (along with his brothers Silas and Benjamin and 20 other young men) affirmed his loyalty to the crown (see PrTR 3:199-200). That Timothy appears first in all documents in which he and his brothers Silas and Benjamin are named in succession (including their father's will and codicil) implies that he was older than they (PrTR 4:21-22, 5:115-16, 201-2, 6:141, 142, 143, 147, 21:33).

In his will, dated 30 (not 20) March 1703, William Burton mentions daughters Hannah Carpenter and Ethlannah Clarke (PrTR 7:170-72). In Timothy Carpenter's will, dated 1 Dec. 1724 and proved 19 Sept. 1726, he names daughters Ethalannah Sweet and Hannah Arnold among his legatees (PrPR 3:3-5; Austin 36).

10. Silas Carpenter

INTRO:
Silas Carpenter (twin?) (William) was born about 1650 to 1651 in Pawtuxet (Providence), Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations. He died on 25 Dec 1695 in Pawtuxet (Providence).
Silas married Sarah Arnold, daughter of Stephen and Sarah (Smith) Arnold, say 1685 to 1688 probably in Pawtuxet (Providence). Sarah was born on 26 Jun 1665 probably in Pawtuxet (Providence). She died on 22 Apr 1742 in Pawtuxet (Providence).

Ojai, California, 2009

[These notes contain the most-authoritative information available as of January 2009. They appear in fully formatted form in the "Gene Zubrinsky" folder of the CE 2009 and also online at . SILAS2 CARPENTER (twin?) (William1 of Providence), b. Pawtuxet (Providence) ca. 1650-1651 (24 in 1675), d. Pawtuxet (Providence) 25 Dec. 1695 (leaving 4 children, all minors); m. probably Pawtuxet (Providence) say 1685-1688, his cousin SARAH ARNOLD, b. 26 June 1665, d. Pawtuxet (Providence), widow, 22 April 1742 (not 26 Nov. 1727), dau. of Stephen and Sarah (Smith) Arnold (PrTR 6:156-59, 194-209, 7:157-59, 10:61-62, 15:146; RIVR 2:1[Providence]:7, 209, 263). For evidence suggesting that Silas and his brother Benjamin were twins, see the latter's listing below.

Silas was a householder--though not necessarily 21 and evidently not married--when he made oath of his fidelity to the king on the last Monday in May 1671 (PrTR 3:199-200, 15:104-5 ["all hovse hovlderes inhabiting this Colloney take the : oath of allegiance . . . March : 4th : 1664"]). In a deposition taken on 28 April 1675 (not in 1674, as per D. H. Carpenter), Silas describes himself as aged 24 (PrTR 15:146; see also Carpenter [1901] 30n). He was admitted a Rhode Island freeman on 3 May 1681 (RICR 3:98). Despite D. H. Carpenter's claim that both the aforementioned deposition and Silas's gravestone give his birth year as 1650, the former simply has his age in 1675, and the latter's location, let alone inscription, is unknown (see Carpenter [1901] 30n; no mention of gravestone at 322-23 [Silas's detail pages]).

In his will, dated 22 Dec. 1695 (three days before his death) and belatedly presented for probate by widow Sarah on 8 April 1701, Silas calls Stephen Arnold his father-in-law (PrTR 6:157, 7:157-58, 10:61-62). Stephen Arnold's will, dated 2 June 1698, mentions daughter Sarah Carpenter (PrTR 6:205, 206, 210). D. H. Carpenter gives Sarah's date of death as 26 Nov. 1727 (see Carpenter [1901] 323). This, however, was another Sarah (Arnold) Carpenter: the daughter of Israel and Mary (Barker) (Smith) Arnold, she had married Silas's namesake son on 21 Dec. 1708 (RIVR 2:1[Providence]:7; PrBMD, citing PrVR 1:86, 434).

Notes for Silas Carpenter
1650: Birth of Silas, son of William

1671: Silas was a householder-though not necessarily 21 and evidently not married-when he made oath of his fidelity to the king on the last Monday in May 1671

1681: admitted Rhode Island freeman on 3 May 1681

1685: From his father William's will:
1. His father's will made many bequests to Silas: huge amounts of lands and meadows and vineyards in both Pawtuxet and Providence, including Silas's "lands & meadows now within fence whereon his (Silas) dwelling house now standeth, with all the fenceing & fruit trees thereon & appurtenances". Most of these he was to divide with his brother, Benjamin.
2. Silas and his brother Benjamin were to care for their mother and names them "whole & sole Executors"
3. The will also bequeathed all William's "Carts, Ploughs & all tackling; also all other Tooles" to Silas and Benjamin.

Gen. Directory of Rhode Island, by Austin, 1978, p. 37

Pawtuxet means "Little Falls" in the native language, and this area was originally occupied by the members of the Sononoce Pawtuxet tribe, part of the larger Narragansett Indian nation, who used the area we know as Pawtuxet Neck as a feasting ground. In 1638, Rhode Island founder, Roger Williams, purchased the property extending south from Providence to the Pawtuxet River. Shortly thereafter his followers; William Arnold, William Harris, William Carpenter, and Zachariah Rhodes, settled along the fertile meadows of the Pawtuxet. Pawtuxet Village remains unique in that its northern section is in the town of Cranston, while its southern section is in another town, Warwick.

11. Benjamin Carpenter

INTRO:
Benjamin Carpenter (twin?) (William) was born say 1650 to 1652 in Pawtuxet (Providence), Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations. He died on 3 Mar 1710 in Pawtuxet (Providence).
Benjamin married Mary Tillinghast, daughter of Rev. Pardon Tillinghast, say 1680 or later probably in Providence. Mary was born perhaps in Oct 1661 probably in Newport, Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations. She died after 15 Dec 1715 probably in Providence.

NOTE: See father's notes for Gene Zubrinsky's data on this individual.

Number 9 in the book "The Carpenter Family in America" by Daniel H. Carpenter, 1901. He was a prominent citizen; member of the town council 1693-99, and his name is frequently on the town records. He held various positions of trust and left a large estate.

BIRTH: A possible twin to Silas?

Mary Tillinghast

MARRIAGE: As noted below: "Mary m. one of the numerous Carpenters at Pautuxet, prob. a. s. of William ..."

BOOK: A GENEALOGICAL DICTIONARY of THE FIRST SETTLERS OF NEW ENGLAND, SHOWING THREE GENERATIONS OF THOSE WHO CAME BEFORE MAY, 1692, ON THE BASIS OF FARMER'S REGISTER. BY JAMES SAVAGE;
TILLINGHAST, BENJAMIN, Providence, s. prob. youngest of the first Pardon, had three ds. of whose dates I hear nothing, nor names; but it is said that they m. Solomon Drown, Edward Kinnicutt, and Christopher Arnold, respective. JOHN, Providence, of whose descent I am ign. had perhaps other ch. beside Mary, b. a. 1689, wh. m. 2 Nov. 1709, Richard Ward. JOSEPH, Providence, br. of Benjamin, by first w. had Paris; and by sec. w. Lydia, had Elizabeth; Samuel; Nicholas, b. 26 May 1726; and Daniel; to ea. of wh. I would gladly give dates. PARDON, Providence, b. a. 1622, it is said, near Beach Head on the coast of Sussex, was sett. as Bapt. min. 1645. See Benedict, Hist. I. 478. He built at his own exp. the first meeting-ho. and gave it to the soc. in 1711, with the lot it stood on; and d. 29 Jan. 1718. By his sec. w. Pardon Tillinghast was twice married; his first wife was named Butterworth; his second wife was Lydia, daughter of Philip and Lydia (Masters) Taber, to whom he was married April 16, 1664; she died in 1718. He had twelve children, three of whom were by his first wife:
Sarah, died young.
John, was a deputy in 1690.
Mary, married Benjamin Carpenter. <---------- Lydia, married John Audley.
Pardon, see forward.
Philip, was a merchant, and in 1690 a soldier in the expedition against Canada; he was a justice of the peace; for twelve years deputy, and for the same time member of the town council; his wife, Martha (Holmes) Tillinghast, bore him fifteen children; his estate inventoried 5,000 pounds, which was a very large fortune.
Benjamin, was a merchant and also became wealthy; married Sarah Rhodes, who was executrix of his estate, which was appraised at 4,887 pounds.
Abigail, married Nicholas Sheldon.
Joseph, was a merchant; married (first) Freelove Stafford; (second) Mary Hendon.
Mercy, married Nicholas Power.
Hannah, married John Hale.
Elizabeth, married Philip Taber.

John,
Would you like what I have from William Vincent and Priscilla Carpenter on down? If so, here it is, attached. If you don't want it, just delete it.
It goes to my father, David Vincent Robison and his sister, Daphne Ann.
Daddy doesn't care if he's published or not and Daph is deceased.
Thanks again, John!!! Jan

Priscilla Carpenter

INTRO:
Priscilla Carpenter (William) was born say 1644 in Pawtuxet (Providence), Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations. She died about 15 Nov 1690 probably in Providence, Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations.
Priscilla married William Vincent, son of Nicholas (not Thomas) and Frideswide (Carpenter) Vincent, on 31 May 1670 probably in Pawtuxet (Providence). William was christened on 17 Jun 1638 in Amesbury, Wiltshire, England. He died after 21 Dec 1695 and before 1 Feb 1695/6 in Providence.

Ojai, California, 2009

[These notes contain the most-authoritative information available as of January 2009. They appear in fully formatted form in the "Gene Zubrinsky" folder of the CE 2009 and also online at . (The online version will be updated when appropriate; check the revision date.) Where other information herein conflicts with Zubrinsky's notes, his notes take precedence.]

PRISCILLA2 CARPENTER (William1 of Providence), b. Pawtuxet (Providence) say 1644, d. probably Providence about 15 Nov. 1690; m. Providence (probably Pawtuxet section), 31 May 1670, [her cousin] WILLIAM VINCENT, bp. Amesbury, Wiltshire, 17 June 1638, d. Providence between 21 Dec. 1695 (will) and 1 Feb. 1695/6 (estate inv.), son of Nicholas (not Thomas) and Frideswide (Carpenter) Vincent. William m. (2) before 21 Dec. 1695, JEMIMA _____ (PrTR 5:294, 7:176-79, 20:231-33; RIVR 2:1[Providence]:37; AmParReg 1:n.p; Austin 213-14, 459).

The deed by which William Vincent sold to Timothy Carpenter a quarter share of a meadow lot inherited by William's wife Priscilla from her father, William1 Carpenter, ends with the following: "In Wittness . . . I the said William Vinsent & Priscilla My Wife doe hereunto set our handes & seales this fifteene day of November . . . 1690" (PrTR 6:144, 20:231-33; PrLR 2:95-96). Only William's name is subscribed, however, suggesting that Priscilla had died before she could formally consent to the sale of her legacy.

William Vincent's will, dated 21 Dec. 1695 and proved 3 March 1695/6, names "my wife Jemima" and "my three sonns, Thomas Nicholas & the youngest [William]" (PrTR 7:176-77). D. H. Carpenter claims that Vincent made another will, also dated in 1695 but previous to the official one, naming a son Jonas before the three children listed above (see Carpenter [1901] 321). No such document is found, however. (Perhaps Carpenter viewed both the "original," clerk's copy and the published transcription, misread _Thomas_ as _Jonas_ in the former, and in reviewing his notes, concluded that the two copies were of separate origin.)

In a deed of 64 acres to William Vincent, dated 5 Feb. 1661[/2?], William Carpenter calls Vincent his "Cousen" (i.e., nephew) (PrTR 1:82-83, 21:86).

16. Hannah Carpenter

Ojai, California, 2009

i. HANNAH3 CARPENTER, b. between ca. 1659 (parents m. ca. 1658) and say 1661/2, living Musketa Cove 19 March 1719/20 (husband's will); m. Musketa Cove or vicinity before 17 Feb. 1682[/3?] (probably by 14 Jan. 1681[/2?]), WILLIAM THORNYCRAFT, b. probably Warwick, d. Musketa Cove between 6 April 1720 (sold land) and 19 Dec. 1728 (will proved), son of Thomas and Jean? (_____) Thornycraft of Warwick (by 1647) and Maspeth Kills, Newtown (now Elmhurst, Queens Co.), L.I. (NYWills 11:80; MARRIAGE, above; WarTR1 1-296 passim [215, 217]; WarTR2 29, 141, 251, 252, 329; Cock-Cocks-Cox 357; OBTR 1:378, 6:654; NYGBR 64:31, citing NTR [1:]158).
On 17 February 1682 [probably 1682/3], William Thornycraft conveyed "twenty Accars of Land unto _his father in Law_ Joseph Carpenter . . . for and in Consideration of fifty Accars of Land in hand and reseaved, of _his father_ Joseph Carpenter" (emphases added) (OBTR 1:643; Carpenter [1901] 45 omits portion of quoted passage following ellipsis points). On the same date, Carpenter, in an exchange of fifty-acre lots with Nicholas Simkins, obtained the parcel he gave to Thornycraft, abutting the twenty acres his son-in-law gave him in return (OBTR 1:642-44). Thornycraft's right to the twenty acres of woodland he traded to Joseph Carpenter had been granted to him on 14 Jan. 1681[/2?] by a deed from the five Musketa Cove proprietors, including Carpenter (OBTR 1:639-40). It is doubtful that this grant to Thornycraft--also including "A sartin peece or parsell of Land whare hee now Inhabitts and Builtt upon for A home Lott as within fenc Allredy InClosed" and a parcel of upland--would have been made until he had married (in which case he need not have been twenty-one to receive it). The lots Thornycraft and Carpenter exchanged were adjacent and thus presumably of comparable quality. From this, the transfers' transaction date, and a gift of land made by Joseph Carpenter probably four days (rather than a year and four days) earlier (see no. ii, below), it is reasonable to conclude that the thirty acres Thornycraft gained from the trade was a marriage settlement from his father-in-law. The will of William Thorneycraft Sr. of Musketa Cove, dated 19 March 1719/20 and proved 19 Dec. 1728, names wife Hannah; sons William, Joseph, and Thomas; and daughters Hannah Washburn, Elizabeth Pellam (Pelham), Mary Thorneycraft, Jane Carpenter [m. cousin Silas, son of William (no. iv, below)], and Phebe Thorneycraft; the witnesses were Mary Carpenter, Thomas Pearsall, and Joseph Carpenter (NYWills 11:80, 85). . . .

D. H. Carpenter gives Joseph and Hannah a sixth child: Hannah, "born 1672-3, married Jacob Hicks in 1690" (Carpenter [1901] 43). A few secondary sources state that the maiden name of Jacob Hicks's wife was Carpenter, but not all give her parentage, and none presents supporting evidence (see, for example, Mott Gen 372; Shotwell Gen 237, 280; Cornell Gen 383; Seaman-Husband 84). In his will, dated in 1751, Jacob Hicks's bequests to wife Hannah include "all the goods she brought with her when married" (NYWills 5:93-94). The quoted phrase implies that Hannah (whatever her maiden name) was not Hicks's first wife and probably married him long after his children were born (at Hempstead between 1702--making a 1690 marriage date unlikely [see above]--and about 1718) (see Colonial Fams 3:1330). More to the point, however, the Carpenter daughter whom D. H. Carpenter is unable to identify by forename but correctly describes as having married William Thornycraft is almost certainly the woman whom Thornycraft's will calls "my wife Hannah" (see Carpenter [1901] 43; NYWills 11:80; child no. i, above).

NOTE: Gene Zubrinsky wrote, "Hannah4 Carpenter (Hannah3, William2 of Rehoboth): Born Pawtuxet (not Flushing); died almost certainly Musketa Cove (not Rockaway) after 1719. (The only Carpenter during this period associated with the vicinity of Rockaway was her paternal uncle Ephraim, who, late in life, settled at West Neck, on the south side of Oyster Bay Twp and probably died there.) She's the Carpenter daughter whose forename Carpenter [1901] was unable to supply; she married William Thornycraft. There's no evidence that Jacob Hicks's wife was a Carpenter, let alone a daughter of Hannah3." See Gene's notes above.

Ojai, California, 2009. See father's notes for complete listing.

Children of Joseph2 and Hannah (Carpenter) Carpenter, i-iv born probably at Pawtuxet (Warwick) (birth order uncertain):

iii. JOSEPH CARPENTER, b. between ca. 1659 and 9 July 1663 (perhaps by 13 Feb. 1661/2), d. Musketa Cove between 9 Sept. 1687 (quitrent payment) and 6 Jan. 1691 [probably 1691/2]; m. by 1685 (1st known child b. 16 Oct.) (OBTR 2:337, 350-51).
That records dated in mid-Feb. 1682[/3] call his father Joseph "Sr:" or "Sen:" suggests that Joseph (Jr.) was by then of age (OBTR 1:640-41; DEATH, par. 3, above). He was certainly so by 9 July 1684, when he and his mother were named administrators of his father's estate (Hist Mss 130). He was "late deceased" when a "memorandum" of the birth, on 16 Oct. 1685, of his "Eldest son and Heire," Joseph, was recorded at the top of a page also containing a record dated 6 Jan. 1691 (OBTR 2:350-51).

The identity of Joseph's wife is at best uncertain. The wife Ann(e) that D. H. Carpenter attributes to him was probably his stepmother, Ann (Weekes) Carpenter (see Carpenter [1901] 44; OBTR 1:644-47, 2:127-29, 650-51). Hinshaw gives Joseph's namesake son's mother as Anne, but while his main sources are original Quaker records, they are supplemented by others, some secondary (see Quaker Gen 1, 391). The younger Joseph's Musketa Cove birth record does not name his mother, and the otherwise informative Quaker record of his death names neither parent (see OBTR 2:350; Carpenter [1901] 64n and Hazard Index, both citing WMM-VR A:159). It is therefore probable that Hinshaw's identification of the younger man's mother as Anne derives ultimately from the D. H. Carpenter volume. Note, however, that the younger Joseph's first daughter was named Ann (Quaker Genealogy 391; Carpenter [1901] 66, 93). D. H. Carpenter's further supposition concerning the elder Joseph's wife--"we now think she was daughter of Thomas Thornycraft and sister to William Thornycraft"--is unsupported, as is the assertion of another author (whose Carpenter section builds upon Carpenter [1901]) that she was probably Mary Thornycraft (see Carpenter [1901] 44; Cock-Cocks-Cox 357).
Joseph3 had a second son, Thomas, who is said by D. H. Carpenter to have been born on 16 Aug. 1687 (OBTR 3:344-45 [1708 quitclaim, Joseph to "my Brother Thomas"]; Carpenter [1901] 44 [b. 15 Aug.], 67; Haviland Gen 110). Seeming to confirm this is the 1 Jan. 1859 account by Sarah C. Field (1797-1879) of a family record then in her possession or that of her mother, Jane (Haviland) Field (1765-1860), giving Thomas's birth date as "8 mo., 16th day, 1687" (Haviland Gen 186). Prior to 1752, however, the eighth month was not August but October (as consistent with the latter's Latin origin). Without informing the reader of his translations, D. H. Carpenter expresses with named months many dates that are actually recorded with numbered ones (including all those from Quaker records). Because his conversions of pre-1752 numbered-month dates are mistakenly based on modern reckoning, they are consistently off by two months. Note, however, that Thomas's corrected birth date, 16 October 1687, contains the same day and month as his brother Joseph's (see above). So while the October date is more reliable than the August one, the former should nevertheless be regarded with some caution. Thomas certainly had been born by 26 Nov. 1687: he and brother Joseph sold land to their uncle Nathaniel on 26 Nov. 1708 (OBTR 3:310-12).
The aforementioned family record gives the date of Joseph3's son Thomas's marriage as "10 mo., 14th day, 1708" [14 Dec. (not Oct.) 1708] (Haviland Gen 110 [Oct.], 186 [10 mo.]; see also Carpenter [1901] 67 [Oct.]). While his wife is identified therein only as Hannah, several secondary sources have her as Hannah Alsop, daughter of Thomas [sic] and Hannah (Underwood) Alsop (see, for example, Haviland Gen 110; Carpenter [1901] 67). This is doubly incorrect, however: First, the secondary literature has long accepted (albeit without documentation) that Hannah Underwood married the immigrant Richard Alsop; the earliest Thomas Alsop was their son, born in 1687 (also Thomas Carpenter's birth year), who married Susannah Blackwell (GMB 3:1862, 1863; Alsop Gen 3, 4; Underhill Gen 65). And second, Richard and Hannah Alsop's daughter Hannah married Joseph Sackett (Alsop Gen 2 [Richard Alsop will (transcr.), naming dau. Hannah Sackett], 4; Underhill Gen 66). There was a marriage between a Thomas Carpenter, son of Joseph, and a Hannah Alsop, daughter of Richard, but it occurred in 1777 (Hazard Index, citing WMM-VR A:250). The identity of Hannah, wife of the subject Thomas Carpenter, is unknown.

III) Joseph (2), eldest child of Joseph (1) and Hannah (Carpenter) Carpenter, was born about 1660, at Pawtuxet, and inherited the paternal estate, operating a mill and the plantation. There is a tradition that he was drowned trying to save the mill in a freshet. At any rate he died between September 9, 1687, and 1692.

His wife Ann was probably a daughter of Thomas Thornycraft. Record of two sons is found: Joseph, mentioned below; Thomas, born August 15, 1687.

Anne Thornycraft

Both forename and surname are unconfirmed and should be presented such as to clearly indicate uncertainty —not just in Joseph Carpenter's notes. You might not have considered it, but given the tendency of the average reader to ignore footnotes (attending to which requires nothing more than a shift of the eyes), it's likely that many visitors to your databased will copy the primary entries and never consult the notes.

The identity of Joseph's wife is at best uncertain. The wife Ann(e) that D. H. 19. William Carpenter

Ojai, California, 2009

D. H. Carpenter calls it "a _possibility_ amounting to a _probability_" (his emphases) that Elizabeth was the daughter of William's uncle Ephraim Carpenter and says that she died about 1743 (Carpenter [1901] 50); he fails to support either assertion, however. G. W. Cocks says that Elizabeth's parentage is "not certainly known, but may have been Moses and Elizabeth (Weeden) Mudge, then of Musketa Cove, who had a dau. Elizabeth, b. 28/12 mo. (Feb.) 1674" (Cock-Cocks-Cox 358, 385). Note that this is expressed as no more than a possibility. There is, moreover, no known basis for the assertion that Moses and Elizabeth Mudge had a daughter Elizabeth, let alone that she was born on the date stated (which is not to say that either is necessarily false). An Elizabeth Mudge was born at Northampton, Mass., 10 Oct. 1673 and another at Charlestown, Mass., 12 March 1674, but their respective parents and husbands are not those of the same-named woman mentioned by Cocks (see Mudge Gen 46, 49; TAG 81:25; Charlestown Gens 2:693). In the most recent and authoritative account of Moses Mudge and his family, Gale Ion Harris, FASG (citing an unpublished typescript by Harry Macy Jr., FASG) presents Mudge's issue as consisting of two sons and no daughters (see TAG 81:18-30, at 24 [24n38 corrects Mudge Gen 48]). Elizabeth (Mrs. William) Carpenter's maiden name is unknown. And in any case, since the one known record in which her forename appears as William's wife is dated in 1720 (see above), it is not certain that she was the mother of his children.

AFN 8MH8-HS and MTLC-5L (SP 4 Dec 1942) are the same person.
AFN V6TG-V9 (b. abt 1666) has a spouse named Hannah Haviland with one child named Silas who had Timothy who married Elizabeth Anderson and they had Jerimiah (b. 28 Aug 1760) who married Jane Shears. Other than the AF, no marriage or pedigree like this can be found. Until confirmed we list Hannah as a spouse for this William with mother as listed for Silas Carpenter.
Silas b. abt 1681 found as a son to Silas b. 1650, grandson to William Carpenter. Different mother however. Moved to that family.

Another child: a Timothy Carpenter is alleged to be a son of William, (Due to an error in a will extract book, Admiral Carpenter thought the father of his Timothy was William. Silas is the correct name for that record. It was Silas who owned land near Armonk and HIS son named Timothy did not ever marry Phoebe Coles. This caused much confusion.)
who owned land near Armonk in 1718. The Timothy Carpenter married Phoebe Coles was not the son of his William (NOW KNOWN CORRECTLY AS SILAS) per Charles L. Carpenter, Rear Admiral USN Ret. (in a letter dated Dec. 12, 1974).

There was two (2) Timothy Carpeters in this time period who are often confused.
1) Timothy the son of William C. & Elizabeth Smith Mudge who married Phoebe (Coles) of this William. AND
2) Timothy the son of Silas C. & Jean or Jane Thornycraft who married Elizabeth Anderson. The now Deceased Admirial Carpenter had once thought the two might be the same BUT thanks to corrections, wills and more research realized there was 2 (TWO) Timothy Carpenters. The Admiral is descended from the Timothy who was the son of Silas (At one time erroneous known as William) Carpenter.

William acted as one of the Proprietors after the death of his brother Joseph until 1706, when his nephew Joseph reached legal age. The Town Records shows very clearly that he was a large land-owner and prominent in the affairs of the plantation. He was a blacksmith by trade, and had his homestead and shop in that part of town known as "Duck Pond." He sold this property in 1720, and probably moved to Westchester county, though he still had landed interests at Musketa Cove as late as 1734.

Hannah Haviland

This Hannah is sometimes referred to as being born in 1743 and has a father named Solomon Haviland. 1743 is the year William's spouse Elizabeth died. William was born in 1666 and married a person born in 1743 - 79 years difference in age! This strains credibility to be polite. This data is kept here as a "correction" to the record.

Gene Zubrinsky writes:
Hannah Haviland, listed as William4's second wife: Your notes, intended as a "correction to the record," imply that there is nevertheless a basis for attributing to William a wife named Hannah Haviland (though not the one mentioned in the notes); I know of no evidence even hinting at it. This almost certainly represents confusion with a wife of that name whom Carpenter [1901] attributes to Benedict Carpenter, son of William4 and Elizabeth (also as per Carpenter [1901]).

20. Capt. Nathaniel Carpenter

Children of Joseph2 and Hannah (Carpenter) Carpenter, i-iv born probably at Pawtuxet (Warwick) (birth order uncertain):

v. NATHANIEL CARPENTER, b. Pawtuxet (Warwick) or Musketa Cove between say 1668 and 10 Feb. 1672[/3?] (grantee 10 Feb. 1693[/4?]), d. North Castle 25 2nd mo. [April (not Feb.)] 1730; m. Musketa Cove 5 Nov. 1690, TAMAR COLES, b. 18 May 1673, dau. of Robert and Mercy (Wright?) Coles (OBTR 1:652-53, 655, 2:101-3; FMM-VR 220; MacDonough-Hackstaff 455).

Nathaniel is said to have been probably the first white child born at Musketa Cove (see Carpenter [1901] 43, 50). This, however, is based on the unsupported assertion that he was born in the summer of 1668 and the questionable assumption that both parents had settled on Long Island by that time (see Carpenter [1901] 50; OBTR 2:682; RESIDENCES, above). The record of his death calls him Nathaniel "Juner," but the only other man of that name known to have been residing at North Castle at the time was his son, who died in late 1758 (see FMM-VR 220; Quaker Gen 63; NYWills 5:274; Carpenter [1901] 85). An item in the 1 Jan. 1759 issue of the _New-York Mercury_ is often said online to refer to the elder Nathaniel but in fact concerns the estate settlement of his recently deceased son. Naming "Captain Nathaniel Carpenter, deceas'd, of North-Castle, in Westchester County, and Province of New-York," the notice was placed by Caleb Fowler and Caleb Green, "Executors, in said County" (Hist Newspapers). The latter two men were brothers-in-law of the younger Nathaniel, whose will names them as executors (NYWills 5:274; Carpenter [1901] 85-86).

CHILD: Not Proven. Solomon Carpenter, possibly a son, as noted genealogist Boutwell Dunlap thought that a brother to the Joseph of this Nathaniel Carpenter settled near Joseph when he came to VA.
Soloman was probably related but not a child in this family.

FOUNDER: Nathaniel Carpenter is considered the founder of the Virginia (VA) Carpenters through his sons John and Joseph who moved into Virginia. Nathaniel was the son of Joseph Carpenter, the grandson of William Carpenter of Amesbury, the founder of the Providence, RI Branch of the Carpenters.
Nathaniel was the son of Hannah Carpenter, the grandson of William Carpenter, the founder of the Rehoboth, MA Branch of the Carpenters.

23. Ann Carpenter See Notes

NOTE: See father's notes for Gene Zubrinsky's data on this individual.
Gene Zubrinsky lists her as an unconfirmed member of this family. See the CHILDREN section of his notes for her supposed father.

AFN 8MJ3-81 (BD 1676) IS THE SAME PERSON.

MARRIAGE: AF has spouse as Joseph, son of Joseph and Mary (Antherton) Weeks.
"Genealogy of Francis Weekes . . . and Collateral Lines" by Dr. Frank Edgar Weeks (Kipton, OH, 1938) PP. 52, 53, 115 to 118 and 128; indicates that Ann married Samuel, son of Samuel and Elizabeth (Reddocke or Reddbeke) Weekes.

Joseph Weeks

Gene Zubrinsky writes:
Only D. H. Carpenter [1901] presents Ann Carpenter and her marriage to Joseph Weekes without qualification. Josephine C. Frost gives Joseph Weekes's wife as Hannah Crooker (_Ancestors of Frank Herbert Davol and His Wife, Phebe Downing Willits_ [New York, 1925], 191). George W. Cocks lists Ann as a "supposed" child of Joseph and Ann (Weekes) Carpenter and calls her marriage to Joseph Weekes "also doubtful" (_History and Genealogy of the Cock-Cocks-Cox Family . . . of Oysterbay, Long Island, N.Y._, 2nd ed. [New York, 1914], 357).

AFN FZPR-DT (26 Mar 1670) AND AFN C18P-QY (abt 1675 & married to Ann CARPENTER) appear to be the same person.

Samuel Weeks

Gene Zubrinsky writes:
George W. Cocks lists Ann as a "supposed" child of Joseph and Ann (Weekes) Carpenter and gives her husband first as Joseph Weekes ("doubtful") and later as "?Samuel Weekes" (_History and Genealogy of the Cock-Cocks-Cox Family . . . of Oysterbay, Long Island, N.Y._, 2nd ed. [New York, 1914], 357, 384, 385, 386). Even a link this tenuous is found nowhere else in the literature.

"In the name of God, Amen. I, Benjamin Carpenter, of Oyster Bay, in Queens County, being sick. I leave to my wife all household goods and moveables, and she is to give to my two youngest daughters, Mary and Ann, enough to make them equal with my two eldest daughters, Elizabeth and Hannah. I also leave her the west half of my house and buildings, and my lands and meadows, during her widowhood. But if she remarries she is to immediately surrender them. I leave to my son Joseph, all my lands and messuages, and buldings and six sheep, and one horse. I leave to my son Benjamin, 100 (pounds) when he is of age. To my son Robert, 100 (pounds) when he is of age. I make my wife Mercy, and my son Joseph, executors." Dated December 2, 1729. Witnesses, Nicholas Sneathen (?), Job Ireland. (Mercy Carpenter and Joseph Carpenter were Quakers.) Proved, April 13, 1730.

Musketa Cove and Oyster bay are now part of Nassau county (formed 1898). Marriages of offspring recorded at St. George's Church in Hempstead may have been conducted at a home or gathering place as was the custom at the time. Example: at the house or farm of Benjamin at Red Spring (in Musketa Cove, Oyster Bay Township).

1024. John11 CARPENTER (1634). John Carpenter, son of Joseph and his wife Ann Weeks, was probably born a short time after the death of his father, 1683. The first mention of him is in 1713, when in the "Friends' minutes" it is recorded that "John Carpenter, son of Joseph Carpenter deceased and Ann his wife, declares his intention of marrying Martha, daughter of John and Elizabeth (Prior) Feake." They were married 12 June 1713. She was born on 27 August 1688. He was a sadler by trade, and although owning a half share in lot No. 4, yet seems never to have resided there. On 20 October 1715, for the sum of 129 Pounds he bought of his nephew Joseph Carpenter, 3rd., the old homestead of his father, which in the deed is described as "One certain tract of land and meadow, situate and lying in Musketo Cove butted and bounded as follows: A certain lott where now my dwelling house is, bounded on ye south side ye highway or street that leads westward through ye place, and on ye east by a lane that leads to ye Creek, and on ye north side ye highway that lyeth on ye north side ye Creek." Here he lived probably until his death, or at least unit 4 June 1759, when he sells this property to "his well beloved son Jacob," of Red Springs, cordwainer, he having in a former deed of date November 24, 1751, given Jacob this Red Spring (lot No. 4) farm. No record has been found of his wife's death. John probably died about 1760. He was born circa 1683 at New York, USA. He married Martha FEAKE (1635), daughter of John FEAKE (1636) and Elizabeth PRIOR (1637), on 12 Jun 1713 at age 24, Nassau, New York, USA. He died circa 1760 at New York, USA.

BIRTH: August is a misinterpretation of "eighth month" which would be October in the old calendar.

Notes

70. Jane or Jean Thornycraft

WILL: Her father's will was proved 19 Dec 1828 in Muscetta Cove, Long Island, New York. She was mentioned as a daughter. Her baptised name is Jean but she is recorded in her father's and husband's wills as Jane.

Silas Carpenter

Number 23 in the Carpenter Family in America, 1901 book. No family listed. Silas was probably born at Oyster Bay.

LAND:
He owned land in 1718, near Armonk, Westchester County, NY.
He owned the land with his father, he bought land later at North Castle and at Rye in Westchester county. He owned the land per a map survey with Bennonah Merit.
On March 1, 1720 he sold land at Duck Pond, Bedford, Long Island, NY to Thomas Golding.
On May 8, 1722, Silas bought 375 acres of land with his father at Northcastle, NY and in Rye, NY.

MARRIAGE:
The "Cock, Cocks, Cox Genealogy" by George William Cocks (New York, NY, 1914), states that Sillas married Jean Thornycraft daughter of William. Jean was called Jane in her Father's will and in her Husband's will.

CHILDREN:
Silas's children are listed in an update to the 1901 book. It is also added to "The Descendants of Timothy Carpenter" as a May 3, 1984 update addenda.

WILL:
Oyster Bay, Queens county, NY, will dated Feb. 25, 1727 proved March 21, 1727/1728, wife Abigail and her brother John Robbins.

WILL 2:
A corrected will of the New York Historical Society Collections
Volumnes found by Louise Carpenter Licklider states in abstract:
"In the name of God, Amen. January 3, 1728/1729, I, Silas Carpenter of North Castle, in Westchester County, Blacksmith. I leave to my wife, Jane, one-third of all moveables. All houses and lands to be sold. I leave to my daughters, Hannah and Phebe, 10 pounds each when of age. The rest to be put at interest until my three sons, William, Timothy, and Silias, are of age and then divided among them. I make William Craft and William Carpenter, Jr., both of Long Island, and my wife, Jane, Executors. Witnesses, Adam Ireland, Job Wright, Nataniel Carpenter. Proved Feburary 1, 1728/1729." 1 Feb is correct! Not 11 Feb.
NOTE: Raymond George Carpenter concurs and James Ausie Carpenter states, "I am so happy for Charlie that after all these years of failure to gain through Louise A-1 proof of Lineage."
In May of 1984, Charles Lorain Carpenter was aware of this and concluded the same thing.

SEE: Grandfather's Notes for the entire article: (many dates are old calendar)
IV) Joseph (3), eldest son of Joseph (2) and Ann Carpenter, was born October 16, 1685, at Pawtuxet, the date being recorded at Oyster Bay, New York, probably to authenticate his heirship to one-fifth of the Musketa Cove patent. Five days after he came of age he deeded to his uncles, William and Nathaniel, farms in that section. His adult life was passed at Oyster Bay, and in 1707 he instituted suit to recover property in Rhode Island formerly belonging to his greatgrandfather, William Carpenter. This suit was successful. He resided on the homestead at Pawtuxet until about 1715, when he sold out and moved across the Cove to Lot No. 1, in the division of 1681, which is now in the village of Sea Cliff. His house was burned by lightning in 1747-8, after which he sold the land for o225 and retired to the village of Jericho, where he died June 3, 1776, at the house of his grandson, Joseph Carpenter. He was a sincere member of the Friends Society, often occupying places of trust and responsibility in the town and was noted for his charitable character. To his benevolence many worthy persons were indebted for substantial aid at the proper time. He married (first) in 1707, Ann, daughter of Captain Andrew and Ann (Coddington) Willett. She died February 9, 1709, and he married (second) in 1711, her sister Mary, born September 21, 1691. She was a granddaughter of Colonel Thomas Willett, born 1610, at Borley, Hertfordshire, England, and came to Plymouth, Massachusetts, in 1629. Later he was at New Amsterdam, and was the first English mayor appointed over the city of New York, 1665. The Dutch soon after reoccupied New Amsterdam, and he retired to Swansea, Massachusetts, where he died August 4, 1674.

He was a man of much character and ability and still has numerous descendants in the vicinity of New York.
He married (third) in 1736, Mary, daughter of John Brown, a pioneer of Plymouth, Massachusetts.

Hannah "see notes" Alsop

NAME: Maiden name was not Alsop, but no further info provided. See notes for daughter Hannah. Very likely is that the maiden name and parents are wrong. USE CAUTION!

BIRTH: 8 Jan 1691 per the book Carpenter Family in America and 8 Jun 1691 per the Ancestory File (AF).

DEATH: before 8 Sept. 1743 the date of her father's will which indicates that she was deceased.
Per Gene zubrinsky: The will is Hannah (Alsop) Sackett's brother Joseph Alsop's and has nothing to do with Thomas Carpenter's wife Hannah.

NOTE: Per Gene Zubrinsky: These dates are for Hannah Alsop, dau. of Richard and Hannah (Underhill) Alsop; she, however, married Joseph Sackett.

UPDATE: Per Gene Zubrinsky 21 Dec 2013
It's likely that Thomas4 and Hannah's daughter Freelove was born not about 1723 and her sister Hannah about 1713 (as D. H. Carpenter has them) but approximately the reverse. Two reasons: First, the gravestone of Freelove (Carpenter) Marsh's daughter Anne indicates that she died on 3 April 1817, aged 86; her calculated birth year is thus 1731 or 1732 (Miller, Lyon Memorial, 69); Anne's mother, Freelove, was therefore born about 1712 (two years after her brother Thomas Jr.). And second, Freelove's sister Hannah married at Rye on 17 9th month [November (not September] 1742, Solomon Haviland, who was born say 1720, son of Benjamin and Charity (Farrington??? [not documented]) Haviland; it's far more likely that Hannah was about Solomon's age or a few years younger, rather than several years older.Hannah (Carpenter) Haviland is not named in her father's will, dated 29 August 1766, and therefore had died by (not necessarily before) 1766; with only one known child (see below), she probably died in the 1740s. Solomon hanged himself in his barn in Greenwich on 10 May 1772 (Patricia L. Haslam, "Deaths Untimely: Fairfield County, Connecticut, Superior Court Inquests 1715-1793," New England Historical and Genealogical Register 144[1990]:39-47, at 45); he left a widow named Esther (Greenwich Deeds, 10:257; Stamford [Conn.] District Probate, 3:499, 6:388-89). Solomon and Hannah (Carpenter) Haviland's only known child was Hannah, born in Rye, Westchester Co., N.Y., or adjacent Greenwich, Fairfield Co., Conn., about 1744 and died in Lorraine, Jefferson Co., N.Y., 12 November 1827, aged 83 (Zubrinsky, "The Penn(e)ys of Harwich, Massachusetts, and Upstate New York," New York Genealogical and Biographical Record 133[2002]:201-16, at 201-3). She married, probably in or near White Plains, Westchester Co., New York, between 29 March 1773 and 12 December 1774, as his second wife, Am(m)iel Penn(e)y, born in Harwich, Barnstable Co., Massachusetts, 18 July 1746 (bap. there 24 August 1746), son of William and Deborah (Weeks) Penney (Zubrinsky, "The Penn(e)ys of Harwich," NYGB Record 133:83-98 [at 86-87, 95], 201-16 [at 201-2]).The Solomon Haviland you list as Hannah's brother was her first cousin, born 5 4th month [June] 1749, son of her father's brother Benjamin Haviland and his wife, Charlotte (Park) (Frost, Haviland Genealogy, 102-4, 108, 172; Purchase Meeting Cemetery, Purchase) ; he has no Carpenter connection.

Thomas Park

A farmer in Rye, NY.

Thomas Marsh

A farmer.

75. William Carpenter

Number 21 in the Carpenter Family in America, 1901 book.
A house carpenter.

He owned land in 1718, near Armonk, Westchester County, NY.
His wife became estranged to him on account of their different religious beliefs, which so affected his after life that in 1730 he gave to his daughter (and possibly only child) one half of all his estate. The other half he had sold previously to her husband. He then moved to Westchester county, NY to live with his father. It is said he bought a plot of land near Pleasantville.

Elizabeth Prior

Probably related to the Elizabeth Prior (B. abt. 1660) who married a Feake.

77. Joseph Carpenter

Number 22 in the Carpenter Family in America, 1901 book.
!He owned land in 1718, near Armonk, Westchester County, NY.
He owned the land per a map survey with Bennonah Merit.

WILL: Oyster Bay, Queens county, NY, will dated Feb. 25, 1727 proved March 21, 1727/1728, wife Abigail and her brother John Robbins made executors.
SEE ALSO: Collections of The New York Historical Society for the year 1902, page 100 and 101 of unrecorded wills. The will and inventory is listed there.
"Inventory of the estate of Joseph Carpenter of the Round Swamp, in Oyster Bay, Queens County. Taken March 13, 1727/28. Among others, the following items: Land and crop, 112 (pounds); cash in house or outstanding, 22 (pounds); 5 cows, 13 (pounds) 5 s.; 11 swine, 4 (pound), 2 s., 6 d.; 2 beds and furniture, 14 (pounds), 6 s.; 14 sheep, 4 (pound), 4 s. Total, 234 (pounds), 1 s.
Made by William Willis, James Townsend, Zebuion Dickison."
"In the name of God, Amen. Feburary 25, 1727. I, Joseph Carpenter, of Oyster Bay, in Queens County, yeoman, being very sick. I leave to my wife Abigail, all my household goods (saving my gun and carpenter tools), and what was left to her in her father's will. To her and her heirs and assigns. Also the use of John Townsend's land so long as it was to have been mine. All the rest of my lands and moveables are to be sold, and the proceeds divided between my two sons, Joseph and John. I make my wife and her brother, John Robbins, executors. Wittnesses, Samuel Workman, Robert Hubbs, John Wooden." Proved, March 21, 1727/28.

Musketa Cove and Oyster bay are now part of Nassau county (formed 1898).

78. Silas Carpenter

Number 23 in the Carpenter Family in America, 1901 book. No family listed.
Silas was probably born at Oyster Bay.

LAND:
He owned land in 1718, near Armonk, Westchester County, NY.
He owned the land with his father, he bought land later at North Castle and at Rye in Westchester county. He owned the land per a map survey with Bennonah Merit.
On March 1, 1720 he sold land at Duck Pond, Bedford, Long Island, NY to Thomas Golding.
On May 8, 1722, Silas bought 375 acres of land with his father at Northcastle, NY and in Rye, NY.

MARRIAGE:
The "Cock, Cocks, Cox Genealogy" by George William Cocks (New York, NY, 1914), states that Sillas married Jean Thornycraft daughter of William. Jean was called Jane in her Father's will and in her Husband's will.

CHILDREN:
Silas's children are listed in an update to the 1901 book. It is also added to "The Descendants of Timothy Carpenter" as a May 3, 1984 update addenda.

WILL:
Oyster Bay, Queens county, NY, will dated Feb. 25, 1727 proved March 21, 1727/1728, wife Abigail and her brother John Robbins.

WILL 2:
A corrected will of the New York Historical Society Collections Volumnes found by Louise Carpenter Licklider states in abstract:
"In the name of God, Amen. January 3, 1728/1729, I, Silas Carpenter of North Castle, in Westchester County, Blacksmith. I leave to my wife, Jane, one-third of all moveables. All houses and lands to be sold. I leave to my daughters, Hannah and Phebe, 10 pounds each when of age. The rest to be put at interest until my three sons, William, Timothy, and Silias, are of age and then divided among them. I make William Craft and William Carpenter, Jr., both of Long Island, and my wife, Jane, Executors. Witnesses, Adam Ireland, Job Wright, Nataniel Carpenter. Proved Feburary 1, 1728/1729." 1 Feb is correct! Not 11

Feb.
NOTE: Raymond George Carpenter concurs and James Ausie Carpenter states,
"I am so happy for Charlie that after all these years of failure to gain through Louise A-1 proof of Lineage."
In May of 1984, Charles Lorain Carpenter was aware of this and concluded the same thing.

Hi Stefani,

I have not been ignoring you. I have been doing some research on this family and also fit the pieces into one big picture. I did find the wedding list interesting and they petty much support the fact that they are relatives or friends. I would suspect that Caleb, if he was in attendance at the event, would not sign as a witness because he could not write, as evidenced by his will that was signed by his "mark".

I did see two interesting individuals that sign as witnesses at Phebe's wedding. The first was a William E. Carpenter, who was possibly a young man that (according to the New York Quaker Monthly Meeting records) was from "Pokeepsie" who died May 10th, 1826 at the age of 19 years s months. I do not know who he is or what his Ancestor was so might pay to look a little deeper her. The Second was a Miriah Albertson. This is another person that should be checked out because of the purported marriages to Dianah Albertson and Alvendon.

My instinct at this time, is that we must clarify who or what Benjamin (I understand that there was 5 Benjamins in the area and that to ease the confusion they were called by there trade such as "Benjamin the saddler" etc.) was actually married to Lydia Thorn, Dianah Alverson, and Dianah Albertson. At one point I thought the two Dianahs were the same but information states that one is buried in the Old Danial Coles Burial Ground at Glen Cove (Muskata Cove) and the other is buried with Benjamin in the Chappaqua Monthly Meeting Cemetery, so they both apparently lived in the area, but why would Alverson be buried in the Coles cemetery?.

In regard to Benjamin's son Caleb, who is listed under both Dianahs in most files,is most probably the son of Alvenson, who was also the choice of James Usher, when he merged the family into the lineage of Cotleb Zimmerman. An action that has some far reaching results and to this day can not be logically supported. In my opinion we can clean up our family lineage, but the long term fix is to go back to Ushers book and show the errors in his work and discredit his assumptions. Others have tried this and many document still show the existence of the problem. I recently saw a disclaimer in the work of Jan Robinson (Robinson2@aol.com) that reads as follows:

" This Benjamin was thought to be son of Timothy Carpenter of the Cotleb Zimmerman Line of LI, by James Usher in his book " Genealogy & Historic Record of the Carpenter Family- Pub-1883 NY City, was proven wrong in 1901 by Daniel H. Carpenter, in his book on the RI branch & again by American Genealogist Raymond G. Carpenter and his English brother -in-law Harry Rodgers. Also this Coincides with Coles Family records of children of Elizabeth Coles and Derrick Albertson.

Number 24 in the Carpenter Family in America, 1901 book. AKA: "Benjamin the sadler."Benjamin married (1) Diana OR Dinah ALBERTSON-19813, daughter of Derrick ALBERTSON-22385 and Elizabeth COLES-22328 on 30
Oct 1718 in LI, NY. Diana was born 19 Mar 1698 in LI. She died 9 Feb 1738 in Queens, LI."

Another avenue we should consider is the information we can obtain from associated area families. From what I can see is that the Cornwell/Cornell lineage is to Long Island Carpenters as Arnolds are to Rhode Island Carpenters. In a brief search I have found some twenty-five marriages between the two families. I did find a Cornwell file I could send to you if you wish.

I also found a file for the New York Quaker Records Index taken from The Encyclopedia of Quaker Genealogy Vol III (1750-1930) and will check it out for information on the local family as well as possible leads in the true Lineage of our family.

81. Timothy Carpenter

Number 25 in the book, Carpenter Family in America, 1901 by Daniel H. Carpenter. Family on page 75 and 76. See father's notes!

This Timothy removed from Hempstead to North Castle about 1720, some 50 miles, in Westchester, NY where he purchased a farm on which he resided until his death. He was interred in the Quaker burial ground at Chappaqua.

WILL: His will was dated 21 Jul 1763, proved 24 May 1769 and admitted to probate on 30 Aug 1769, and is recorded in the Surrogate's office in the City of New York. His sons William, Benjamin, and Timothy as executors. The will mentions wife: Phebe; sons: William, Archelaus, Benjamin, Timothy and daughter: Phebe Forman.

SEE: The New York Historical Society Collections for the Year of 1898, pp. 273-274. Early Wills of Westchester County, NY, 1898, pg. 273.

FAMILY: Timothy 2nd, born 4 Jan 1698, as listed in the James Usher 1883 book, has been proven wrong regarding his father and ancestry. This is still subject to great debate. Per Carpenter Family in America, 1901 by Daniel H. Carpenter and Raymond George Carpenter, genealogist, et cetera.

SEE: Genealogical and Historical Record of the Carpenter Family, by James Usher, Page 30, regarding The Carpenter Family of Long Island and NY. Of the Cotleb Zimmerman line per that record. But parents are wrong. Did this Timothy own land in 1718, near Armonk, Westchester County, NY? NO! It was the Timothy Carpenter, son of Silas C.!

SEE: Letter to Members of the Carpenter Fund Association, 10 Nov. 1882 Poughkeepsie, NY. By W. C. Barker, Pres't Carpenter Fund Association. It gives some descendants, but has this Timothy's parents wrong.

The Freeholders of 1763 list includes only the wealthier landowners and tradesmen who could meet the stringent freehold qualifications. North Castle Freeholders number 101 males. These men lived in both of the presqnt-day Towns of North Castle and New Castle.
The list of Westchester County Freeholders was compiled by the county sheriff in compliance with an Order of the Supreme Court of Judicature o f the Province of New York in a case connected with the settlement of Cortlandt Manor. This list, from the Van Cortiandt Papers in the possessioti of the New York Historical Society, was first printed i n The New York Historical Society Q u e of July 1951, Volume XXV, number 3, pages 283-321 in an article by E. Marie Becker entitled "The 801 Westchester County Freeholders of 1763."
T h e jury for the case had to he chosen from among the freeholders of the county who were eligible for jury duty. The freehold qualifications for jurors were first set out in a 1741 law which stated eligibility for jury duty in trials before the Provincial courts: (1) Male; (2) between 21 and 70 years of age; (3) he was required to possess, in his own name or in trust or in his wife's right, an estate (in fee, for life or by courtesy) of the value of sixty pounds, free of encumbrance. Some leaseholds within both manors and great patents were treated as freeholds. The sixty pounds value requirement excluded the great majority o f the male inhabitants of the county.

Ok, Larry, I went through my notes on the Carpenters and the Coles families.
This is what I have:
Phoebe was the daughter of Samuel Coles, born 1668, died October 7, 1723, who married Elizabeth Albertson, born March 16, 1670, and died Dec. 20, 1723. They married 1693. Samuel and Phoebe were both born in Musketa Cove. Samuel was the oldest son of Daniel Coles and Mahershallalhashbaz Gorton. If you are interested, somewhere i have a story of her name, but it comes from the Bible. She was the daughter of Samuel Gorton of Warwick, RI. Elizabeth Albertson was the daughter of Derick Albertson and someone whose name I have listed only as Wilmett. I don't remember anything about the name, but there are Willetts in the area about that time, so it could be a version of that.
Daniel Coles was the son of Robert Coles and Mary Hauxhurst or Hawxhurst. He was born about 1637, probably in Ipswich, MA.
Robert Coles came to America with the Winthrop fleet in 1630, and went to Massachusetts. He followed Roger Williams when he went to Rhode Island and is mentioned in the "Initial Deed" of 1638 of that settlement. He died in 1654.
When Joseph Carpenter bought the original land from the Indians, he was then granted the patent and took on four partners. They were Nathaniel Coles, Abia Carpenter (his brother-in-law), Thomas Townsend, and Robert Coles. They were the original "Five Proprietors". Soon after, Daniel Coles replaced Abia, and Townsend's interests were transferred to Nicholas Simkins.

Nathaniel, Daniel and Robert Coles were all sons of Robert Coles, who was the original immigrant of the family. The older Robert Coles also had a brother Samuel who came to America, so don't get too confused if you run into the same names.
Much of this information is from "Long Island: A History of Nassau and Suffolk and Nassau", Vol. I. edited by Paul Bailey, published by Lewis Historical Publishing Co. 1949. The author had access to original journals written by the Coles Brothers and Joseph Carpenter.
Hope this answers your questions, but if you have more, let me know.
Maybe I have the answer.

Number 32 (on page 55) in the book "The Carpenter Family in America" by Daniel H. Carpenter, 1901. Page 55. More detail on page 78., but NO family given.

COMMENT: possible twin to brother Robert?

Joseph Carpenter was in Brandon's Brook near Rye, Westchester, NY in 1718. In 1731, he sold 80 acres of land in North Castle including a grist mill, dwelling and livestock. (See: Westchester County, New York Colony Records, Book G, p.5) In 1746 he went to Covington, Augusta county, VA with his neighbor and cousin Peter Wright. About 1752, his nephew Zophar Carpenter also came to Augusta County, VA. In 1759 he served in Capt. Dickerson's Rangers. He was given 200 acres of land in 1774 for his services.
In 1769, Botetourt County was formed from part of Augusta County.
Joseph Carpenter's family built Fort Carpenter near Covington in the 1740s.
Joseph served in the French and Indian War, was a surveyor of land patents, a road supervisor, served on juries, and served in the American Revolution as a patriot. (See: Evelyn Harlow Carpenter, "The Carpenters of Fort Carpenter"; Mattie Belle Carpenter Ross, "My Ancestry" (1974); the records of the State library in Richmond, VA; records of Botetourt County in Fincastle, VA); and Lyman Chalkley, "Chronicles of the Scotch-Irish Settlement in Virginia, Records of Augusta County, Virginia (Richmond, VA 1965) Vol. I, p. 116.

SEE: Carpenter and Related Family Historical Journal, Vol. 5, Winter 1994, Number 8, page 519. Article by Raymond George Carpenter proving lineage of the VA Carpenters to the New York Carpenters.

NAME: John L. Carpenter of NH indicates that Joseph's middle name was "Covington." Other records show it as "Cole" or "Coles." However, no proof was given anywhere of a middle name.
Too often a middle name would appear to be was added above the name on the old family group record to distinguish him from another Joseph (IE by location and in some cases by mother's maiden name) and it some how stuck when digitized. Go figure.

MARRIAGE: bef 29 Nov 1751. On that date Joseph was made legal guardian of Judith Scott's three children. She was the widow of John Scott.

!Page 35; Researching the Virginia / West Virginia Carpenters is a frustrating undertaking. These were hardy, adventuresome pioneers who were subject to the rigors of survival and too preoccupied with fighting Indians, wild animals and the elements of nature to pursue the refinements of civilization such as education, law, et cetera, to leave much in the way of written legacy. Census information and other vital statistics including birth, death, marriage and military are largely fragmentary or nonexistent. Traditional testimony and county histories are frequently conflicting and a preponderance of common given names (particularly in the same generation!) only adds to the confusion- yet the effort must be extended if one is to know and success can be realized through careful, objective and analytical examination of whatever data is available. Such logical and conscientious reconstruction will accommodate any previously unknown evidence, easily and without alteration.

The pioneering Joseph (Coles) Carpenter first sojourned in the Big Bend country of the Jackson River in the early spring of 1746 accompanied by his good friend, neighbor and cousin, Peter Wright. They claimed "tomahawk rights" to two large tracts of land then cleared patches of ground, made brush fences and planted corn in preparation for their families relocation in the fall. A traditional account has Joseph's family finding a young buffalo in the fields upon their return and the "bill of fare" for the approaching winter was "steak rather than corn pone". They survived by hunting and fishing and whatever they could trade for with the Indians of the area.

(NOTE: See also: ANNALS of BATH COUNTY VIRGINIA, By OREN F. MORTON, B. Lit., Chapter XXV. The Families of Greater Bath, page 191. This gives a similar story and notice of another Joseph Carpenter who had been an indentured servant from England - not related to the first Joseph Carpenter.)

Joseph was born about 1693 at Musketa Cove in New York Colony and died before 1784 in Botetourt County, Virginia. He was a fourth generation descendant of both the Providence, Rhode Island and the Rehoboth, Massachusetts branches of the English Carpenter family in America. His line of descent was Joseph (14) Carpenter,of Nathaniel (13), of Joseph (12), of William (11) Carpenter of Providence, Rhode Island as per Raymond George Carpenter's updates in The Carpenter and Related Family Historical Journal. Joseph (12) Carpenter married Hannah (12) Carpenter, his second cousin. She was the daughter of William (11) Carpenter of Rehoboth, Massachusetts who was a first cousin of William 0 1) of Providence, Rhode Island.

There were evidently four Carpenter settlements, all circa the early 1750's and within thirty-five or so miles of each other. "Fort Carpenter", so-called, was on the river. It was occupied by Joseph and his family- children, "mostly grown and married before coming to Virginia". His wife, maiden name undiscovered, was already deceased before the move to Virginia. Solomon Carpenter had a homestead at Low Moor; Zophar Carpenter at Mallow and Nicholas Carpenter at White Sulphur Springs.

Solomon Carpenter was one of Joseph's older sons and Zophar Carpenter was (page 36) Joseph's nephew (son of Joseph's brother, Robert). The relationship of Nicholas Carpenter (if any) to the Jackson River Carpenters has not been determined.

Nicholas may have descended from German Carpenters (nee, Zimmerman) as did another Nicholas and a Christopher Carpenter who settled in the northern part of western Virginia at a little later date. More research is necessary to identify Nicholas!

Boutwell Dunlap, a genealogist of considerable note in the area of Covington, said that Joseph (14) Carpenter had the following issues; Joseph, Frances Elizabeth, Solomon, Hannah, William, Jeremiah, Thomas, Benjamin and John in his writings in two books. He also thought that Joseph (14) had a brother, Solomon, who came with him from New York to Virginia. Dunlap speculated that Zophar might also be a son (14), but this was proven not to be the case. Jeremiah and John may have been sons-in-law of Joseph (14); namely, Jeremiah Seeley and John Mann. Jeremiah Seeley was almost assuredly the "Jeremiah" who came to Virginia in 1748. William is not found in any original source record such as court decisions, land transactions etc.

Joseph (14) married Judith, the widow of John Scott, prior to 27 March 1752 when he was appointed guardian to her three young sons. Their names were John, James and Benjamin. It is very likely that they were called "Carpenter" by name and that some Carpenter lines are not Carpenter at all, but the descendants of this John Scott!

Page 37: By 1752 several Carpenter families were pretty well established in the vicinity of the Big Bend of the Jackson River from the present-day site of Covington to White Sulphur Springs. Solomon (15) probably preceded his father, Joseph (14), into the area by a couple of years- approximately 1744. Joseph (14) arrived in 1746 as did his other children; Joseph (15), Thomas (15), Nathaniel (15) and Frances Elizabeth (15)with her husband, John Mann. Hannah (15) and her husband, Jeremiah Seeley, came in 1748. Nicholas (relationship undetermined), his wife, Kate (maiden name unknown) and two young sons passed through the Carpenter settlements seeking land for himself about 1748 also. Zophar (15) Carpenter (nephew of Joseph (14) and his family (little has been found on this group) were the last to relocate at Mallow in 1752.

The Carpenters lived in relative peace on their farms until the middle of September 1756. There were the usual activities in firming up their homesteads such as construction, clearing land, cultivating and harvesting. Food supplies were supplemented by hunting, fishing and trapping. Trade and occasional contact with the (Page 38) Indians was common and uneventful. The Augusta Court summoned Joseph (Jr.) (14) on August 21, 1755 for selling munitions to the Indians and found him guilty, although his punishment is not made clear. "Fort Carpenter" was moved to higher ground at least once during this time period because of flooding and Joseph (14) married again.

BOOK: ANNALS of BATH COUNTY VIRGINIA, By OREN F. MORTON, B. Lit.,
Of the Indian raids into Bath, the earliest we can locate took place near the middle of September, 1756. Within or very near the present county limits, and mainly along Jackson's River, nine men, one woman, and three children were killed, and two men were wounded. Among the slain were Ensign Humphrey Madison, John Byrd, Nicholas Carpenter, James Mayse, and James Montgomery. Joseph Carpenter, David Galloway, and a Mrs. McConnell were captured, but got away. Mrs. Byrd, Mrs. George Kincaid, Mrs. Persinger, and 25 boys and girls were taken to the Indian towns in Ohio. Among the children were six Byrds, five Carpenters, and two Persingers.)

Page 43: There weren't many Indians in the area when Joseph (Sr.)(13) made the first settlement west of the Cowpasture River in Virginia. They were woodland Indians; Mingo and Delaware and other families of the Shawnee. The area that Joseph chose on the big bend of the Jackson River was considered part of their hunting grounds and the mineral spring some thirty-five miles away was almost a holy place. They did frequent the region on occasion for therapy for a myriad of infirmities and to hunt. No great note was made of the first few frontiersmen and settlers but as the encroachment increased they became alarmed and, agitated by both the British and the French, hostile. With the beginning of the French and Indian War, forays into the border regions of Virginia increased. Homesteads in the outlying regions were raided, cabins were burned, occupants were killed and scalped or taken prisoner for adoption into the tribe, ransom or later torture and death. The following is a traditional account of the mid-September Indian attack at Fort Carpenter on the Jackson River.

The Carpenters had a fort or at least a very strong log house that was used as a fort to protect them from the Indians when they first settled on the Jackson River. It was about 16 by 20 feet and built something like a blockhouse with a huge sleeping loft extending out over all four of the walls. Openings were left in the chinks of the gable logs and holes drilled in the floors of the overhang so the Carpenters could shoot out or down at Indians trying to burn them out. There were two small windows or openings at either end of the house that could be shuttered from the inside. A huge fireplace and chimney made out of ledge stones and mortared with clay and wood ashes was directly across from the front door. The rocks in the chimney were stepped off on one side to make a ladder to the loft. The doorway was only five foot tall so that anyone entering would have to duck their head. The door was oak, six inches thick and could be heavily barred with a log from the inside. It was sturdy as possible.

Some fifty or so Shawnee attacked the Carpenter fort when the French and Indian War started. The settlers had been warned of a possible Indian intrusion into the area and had gathered at the Carpenter cabin for mutual defense. The house had been moved to higher ground because of flooding, and there was a natural (Page 44) drainage ditch of sorts around it that had been converted into an earthworks during previous threats. Several "shebangs" had been set up in the yard to accommodate all of the people who had rallied there. Less than a dozen men manned the fortifications.

There were about twenty-five women and children in the compound. Most of the crops had been harvested and stored. Many of the more able men were out hunting to add to the food stores for winter. There had been no sign of Indians. Perhaps the defenders were too relaxed. Children were playing in the fields. Nicholas (Carpenter - relationship unknown) and his two sons, unapprised of the danger, arrived seeking someone to assist with his harvest.

Indians usually attack at dawn. The night had passed uneventfully, and it was late morning. The Shawnee had used the darkness to get in as close to the cabin as they could and were lying in the surrounding forest waiting for the most opportune time to attack. There was some confusion- not panic- as the battle began. Some men met the charge at the dirt wall. Others herded everyone into the fort. The Indians came in from all directions.

The skirmish didn't last long. Those who weren't killed or captured in the initial charge could only hold their position for a few hours. The stone chimney was pulled down leaving a huge opening in the wall where the fireplace had been. Nine men were killed, scalped and their bodies mutilated. Nicholas Carpenter was among them- the only Carpenter man killed! Stephen Sewell, James Mayse, James Montgomery, Nicholas Nutt, John Byrd, George Kincaid, a man named Boyle and another named Fry were the other defenders killed. Everyone else, including Joseph (14) Carpenter, was taken prisoner. Several children named Byrd, five children called Carpenter and two Persinger children were among the fifteen abducted by the Indians.

The captives were linked chain gang fashioned by ropes in four groups and forced marched the rest of that day toward the Great Kanawah that would take them west to Ohio country. Joseph (14) Carpenter supposedly escaped the second night that the group camped. He had hidden a small pen knife in his hair, managed to free himself and slip away under the cover of darkness. Some will say that he bargained for his release (he had been tried and convicted of selling guns, powder and shot to some Indians about a year previously), but by the time he got back to the scene of the slaughter and rounded up a posse of men, including some sons, it was too late to pursue the rapidly moving red men. They had more than a two day head start.

A few of these captives were eventually repatriated during Colonel Boquet's expedition into Ohio for that purpose in 1764. Jeremiah (16) and his brother Solomon (16) Carpenter were among those so released. Most of them were never heard of again, having been adopted into the tribes as sons and replacements for fallen warriors as well as wives for the braves. Some may have been sold to other Indians Page 45) and some were surely killed. For most, their fate remains forever unknown!

MARRIAGE: Third Marriage to Damis Smith? See E-Mail forwarded below.
On Thu, 27 Aug 1998 John L. Carpenter writes:
John, Every since I have been researching the Carpenter's it says that his wife probably died before he came to Virginia, name unknown. Later word of mouth history, kept saying that the name of Damis was associated with his wife. But no one knew just how. They assumed it was a surname. And I also thought that might be the case. I searched for Damis in all states, and found none. Then in the Scotch-Irish Chronicles I found where my John Mann's son, John Mann, Jr. had married to Damis (_____) and she later married Joseph Carpenter.
So there is the name of Damis that was connected with Joseph's unknown wife in New York. But since this Damis married John Carpenter in ?Virginia and not in New York, then he still must have a wife un-named who died in New York. Or they married in New York and removed to Va. after. ???
1 John Mann, Jr. b: 1725 in Ireland d: 10 Oct 1774
+Damis Unknown m: in Botetourt Co. Va.
The only question here is since John died in 1774, they must have divorced. Since he is not dead. His father John Mann, Sr. died 28 May 1749 do not think she would have waited 15 yrs. to remarry so it must be a marriage to John Mann, Jr. 20 Nov. 1764; John Mann, wife Damis, relinguished of dower. Damis now married to Joseph Carpenter. John Mann, Sr. married Francis Elizabeth Carpenter, his first cousin, their daughter, Elizabeth Mann, married my Jeremiah Carpenter of Braxton Co. WV.

Until we can find something to change the Scotch-Irish Chronicles then we must say Damis was the wife of Joseph Carenter, Sr. and fist wife of John Mann, Sr. In the Early New York Marriages I found this Joseph Carpenter & Darkis Smith m: 27 May 1767 in New York, perhaps someone copied the dates wrong. and it was 1764 or 63, just guessing. But some descendants have suggested that Damis's maiden name was Smith. But they never showed any sources. The name could have been Darkis or Damis, you know how it gets mis-typed, or was hard to read, and this is what they put down. But this again is just a theory until I find some more information if ever. Been looking for 30 years, but never had the net, and so much information available before. Donna.

To: "John Carpenter" --> now at @cox.net
Hey John,
I have reviewed and corrected the offerings of virtually all of the better known, present day
Carpenter researchers at their request; however, your text file on the descendents of Joseph Carpenter of the Jackson River is rather voluminious (767 pages with index according to my printer) so that I must decline an immediate overview at this time.
Genealogy is but one of my sundry avocations. I skimmed it as soon as it was printed and promise to comment on it in the future as time and circumstances permit. The mundane tasks of everyday living are my present preoccupations. I am currently cutting firewood for the coming winiter. Being a die- hard conservative, I refuse to pay the ridiculous prices for gas and fuel oil that are anticipatied for the approaching year.
I do not edit for Terry Lee Carpenter or Richard Llewellyn Carpenter. They really don't need it. Both are only interested in the truth- whatever that might be. Their personalities are quite different, but both are outstanding researchers and gentlemen in my humble estimation. I would like to think that I have contributed as much to their line of thinking as they have to mine. We differ but will alter our point of view upon the presentation of original source evidence to the contrary.
Anyone would be well advised to pay attention to these two! They are not infallible. Do yo know anyone who is? I can personally assure you that when in doubt they check it out by returning to the original source rather than plagerized repetitions of old erroneous conclusions of people who make up the history of our Carpenter progenitors as they proceed to fit their preconceptions rather than pursue the quest for truth and objectivity.
I shall make some general observations that you should not percieve adversely or negatively. They are not tendered to be that way. One's "agenda" is of small consequence to me. If anything I say is helpful to you, I'm glad. If you choose to totally disregard this missive, so be it. Advice is always free.

Your report has to be very confusing to most ordinary people who are interested in researching the Carpenters. The average person has difficulty in sorting things out when there are so many diverse choices. I can't really see how this could be remedied considering what you are attempting to accomplish but fell that you need to be aware of the obvious situation.

Some of your major contributors are very prone to method error. I am not questioning their sincerity, effort or intentions, but if one commences with a flawed premise, then anything that follows is also flawed. To repeat a priven mistake numerous times does not make it a fact. To illustrate: If anyone can show me a middle name for Joseph Carpenter of the Jackson River, I will be very shocked, but appreciative. I have never found any!

Many of the sources quoted in your work are not very reliable. De Hass, Sutton, House, Bishop and others of their ilk are interesting and good for starting points, but not very factual. Does literary license permit excessive liberalism of fact and repetition of proven mistakes? I think not. These books aren't Bibles!

Here are just a few of the things that we do not know. Someone has yet to prove them. We cannot prove that Joseph of the Jackson River is connected to the English Carpenters of New York. Neither can we prove many of his children as listed by Boutwell Dunlap. We have not proven that Solomon was a son of Joseph. He could have been a brother. The North Carolina Carpenters cannot be traced to Joseph. That hasn't been proven despite what you or I or anybody else thinks.With all due respect to Raymond George and James Ausie Carpenter, I am becoming more and more convinced that they have not proven lineage to Joseph Carpenter of the Jackson River! Anyone of us should be able to write a small book on just the things that we don't know or can't prove about this huge and much discussed extended family.

We can prove Jeremiah Carpenter's parents (Chalkley's records). We can prove that Solomon was in what is now Hampshire County, West Virginia before Joseph (came to the Jackson River Solomon' marriage). We can prove Solomon's wife (will of William Hughes). We can prove the name of Jeremiah Carpenter's wife, Elizabeth Hamm (Alderson's marriage book/Virginia Archives). We can prove, without question, all of Jeremiah Carpenter and Elizabeth Hamm's children (Braxton County, West Virginia deed books). All of the deeds relating to the Partition of 1845 will hold up in any court of law. We can prove that there was one, and only one, Jeremiah Carpenter of the proper age and circumstance in this period of history to be our Jeremiah of Braxton County. Only he was captured by the Shawnee, remained a prisoner of them for several years and was later repatriated (Colonel Henry Bouguet's Papers, library, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Michigan). Read them for yourself. They were returned from England in1956! Do not be misled.

If there were more than one Jeremiah of the proper age and circumstance to be our Jeremiah of Braxton County, then why is the Jeremiah (and Solomon) who was captured by the Indains in mid-September of 1756 in the attack of so-called Fort Carpenter and released at Fort Pitt in 1764/65, ignored. Let's have some proof.
Jeremiah said that he was 12 years old (born 1752 or 1753 at the latest, depending on the month and day of his birth). Did he lie? Half of the people who were taken prisoner in 1756 (original list of casualties and captives, circa 1757) were released by Bouquet's expedition into Ohio. Is this mere coincidence? Are some Carpenter tree climbers experiencing denial symptoms? Sorry- I had to say that. Please forgive?
I love oral tradition. My family has hundreds of stories handed down from ancestors-Mowrey, Carpenter and others. Most of these can be verified by fact; however, some are so ludicrous that they shouldn't be repeated! Virginia (Carpenter) Nine, a mutual cousin of the wife and me and a granddaughter of Squirrely Bill said it best, "Not all B.S. degrees are earned in college". She wasn't referring to Bachelors of Science. We all must strive to separate fact from fiction. Someone still has to prove to me that a William, brother or cousin of my Jeremiah, ever existed.
The German Carpenters (nee, Zimmerman) are giving me fits; however, Terry, Dick, I and hopefully many others are working diligently to resolve these problems. Hopefully, I can clarify or eliminate some of the other minor discrepencies in your treatise at a future time.
Take care, Paul.

Alleghany CountyA Centennial History of Alleghany County, VirginiaBy Oren F. Morton, B., Lit.Dayton, Virginia, J. K. Reubush Company 1923Transcribed by N. Piper and K. Torp for Genealogy Trails...
When did the very earliest settlers come into the Alleghany area? It is possible to give a very close answer. Alexander Dunlap located near the site of Goshen about 1742. We are told he was the earliest settler on the Great Calfpasture, and that no one had yet located any father west. A few men had cabins on the Cowpasture in 1745. These settlers came in 1744, possibly in 1743. Joseph Carpenter came with Peter Wright from New York in the spring of 1746. We have no knowledge of any earlier permanent settlers on the lower course of Jackson's River. A number of homeseekers came in 1746, or very shortly afterward, and when the Indian war of 1754 broke out, there was quite a settlement on Jackson's River within the Alleghany area and on the lower course of Dunlap Creek....
The long survey of 782 acres taken by Joseph Carpenter began very near the railroad bridge at the south border of Covington, and extended down the river so as to include the ben beginning near the mouth of Potts Creek. The Carpenter holdings also took in the fine bottom on the south side of the railroad at Mallow Station. In 1764 the pioneer divided 464 acres equally between his sons, Joseph, Jr., and Solomon, each paying a consideration of ten pounds. But in 1773 Solomon sold 160 acres to his brother-in-law, John Mann, for 130 pounds. A year earlier this piece had been purchased at public sale by William Hughart for ninety pounds ($300). John Mann had already bought 230 in 1762 for seventy pounds. Jeremiah Seeley, another son-in-law, took a survey of 100 acres at the mouth of Dry Run in 1754. But Seeley left the neighborhood during the Indian war and the land was patented by Peter Wright....
The following particulars are from some of the early deeds recorded in Botetourt.Dennis Callaghan bought of Hugh McDonald and Mary, his wife, seventy acres on Ugly, surveyed 1773. Price, 100 pounds.Michael Cairns from Bedford bought of Jeremiah Seeley and Hannah, his wife, for 350 pounds, fourteen acres of the homestead adjoining Robert Shanklin, 1771. The high price is because of depreciated paper money.Jeremiah Carpenter of Greenbrier, for 300 pounds, bought of Moses Mann, son of John, deceased, and Fanny, wife of Moses, 160 acres, 1779.Thomas Carpenter bought of William P. Martin of Halifax county 115 acres on Potts Creek, 1787 for 100 pounds.In 1787 John Craig gave power of attorney to Moses Mann to sell his half interest in a place on Brush Creek, a branch of Dunlap. The other half interest belonged to Joseph Hunter, a tory.John Dickenson of Augusta bought of Jeremiah and Hannah Seeley, 1772, 200 acres on Falling Spring Run for 100 pounds.James Elliott bought of William Mann and Jean his wife, 1773, for fifty-five pounds, forty-nine acres on Jackson's River below the mouth of Back Creek.David Glassburn bought of Thomas Carpenter, 1784, fifty acres on Jackson's River for 100 pounds.William Griffith bought of James Milligan and Elizabeth his wife, 1776, for 103 pounds, forty-four acres on the Cowpasture, patented 1767.Aron Hughes bought of William Gillespie and Mary his wife, 1780, for 10,000 pounds (depreciated money), 320 acres on the Cowpasture.Andrew Kincade bought of William Hamilton of Grenbrier, 1780, for 400 pounds, 283 acres on Jackson's River.William Kincade bought of Andrew Kincade and Mary his wife, 1785, for 200 pounds, 110 acres of Jackson's River.William Larence bought of James Robison and Elizabeth his wife, 1775, ninety-five acres on west side Camp Mountain for ninety-five pounds.Michael Mallow bought of Zopher Carpenter and Mary his wife and David Glassburn and Elizabeth his wife, 1789, 130 acres on north side Jackson's River for 275 pounds....
We next mention the land patents in the Alleghany area granted prior to 1770. Names of patentee, position, acreage, and date of patent are given in consecutive order.Abercromby, Robert - East side Jackson's River at mouth Falling Spring - 320 - 1760.Armstrong, Archibald - Jackson's River - 254 - 1760Armstrong, Robert - Jackson's River - 270 - 1760.Beard, James - NW side lower Pasture river - 24 - 1763.Carpenter, Joseph - Jackson's River - 782 - 1750.Carpenter, Zopher - NW side Jackson's River - 135 - 1763...
In 1762 the Carpenter brothers were credited four shillings (sixty-seven cents) a pound for their beaver skins. To make and nail 100 clapboards cost $1.46 in our money in 1767.
Chapter VTWENTY YEARS OF INDIAN TROUBLE...

Carpenter's fort was probably no more than a fortified house. It stood on a low bluff near the mouth of Potts Creek. The abundance of arrowheads and the fine specimens of stone implements found in the vicinity indicate a flint quarry, or more probably an aboriginal village.But according to Hugh Paul Taylor, who should be excellent authority, another Carpenter's fort stood on the bottom at Low Moor that was afterward the Karnes place.At the McKinney farm on the Cowpasture is a remnant of a fortified stone(?) house. On the bluff above the mill of McAlllister and Bell at Coavington was a blockhouse, which is distinctly remembered by John W. Bell....
In its session of August 21, 1755, the Augusta court summoned Joseph Carpenter to answer the charge of selling ammunition to the Indians. He replied that he did not know the natives he thus supplied were hostile. Yet within one month, Captain John Dickinson had a "scrimmage" with nine Indians, killing one of them and losing one of his own force. This collision probably took place on the Greenbrier.If we follow the document known as the Preston Register- and its authority is very high-the most destructive raid upon Jackson's River occurred near the middle of September, 1756. On the 11th or 12th of that month, Ensign Madison was killed, probably near Fort Dinwiddie, which stood northwest of Warm Springs. Two days later, nine persons were killed. These were Nicholas Carpenter, Stephen Sewell, James Mayse, James Montgomery, Nicholas Nutt, John Byrd, George Kincaid, Mr. Boyle, and a man named Fry. Joseph Swope and a man named Wilson were wounded. The captives were Mrs. Byrd and six children, Mrs. Kincaid and three children, Mrs. Persinger and two children, and five children of Charles Boyle; also a young son of Swope, and two boys named Brown. Joseph Carpenter, David Calloway, and Mr. McConnell, and a Carpenter boy were captured, but escaped....
According to the narrative by Taylor, three men, named Pitman, Swope, and Pack, were trapping beaver on New River. Here they detected a war party of fifty Delawares. The band divided, about twenty proceeding in the direction of Jackson's River, the others toward Catawba Creek. To give warning to the settlements, Swope and Pack ran in the latter direction and Pitman in the former. The first band came down Dunlap Creek, crossed Jackson's River above Fort Young, and went on by night to Solomon Carpenters' place on the Low Moor bottom, the blockhouse being in charge of a man named Brown. The attack was made in the daytime. All the white people were in the fields except two of Brown's sons, young Jeremiah Carpenter, and a woman. The three boys were captured. Brown carried the news to Fort Young, but as only a few men were there, a messenger hurried to Fort Dinwiddie, where Captain Audley Paul was stationed. That officer gave pursuit with twenty men, and on Indian Creek in Monroe he met Pitman, who had been running all night, and now joined the pursuers. The band that committed the havoc on Jackson's River was not overtaken. The other band, however, was found encamped at the mouth of Indian Creek. Paul and his men waited until daybreak and then fired a volley, not knowing the Indians had three prisoners. The attack would have had better success but for the impetuosity of a soldier named John McCollum, afterward killed in the battle of Point Pleasant. He yelled out, "Take steady aim and send them to hell." The Indians were thus given notice, and though several were killed most of them got away. A captive taken on the Roanoke was rescued, as was also Catharine Gum, a servant to Captain Paul.After this disaster, a council of war was advised that forty men be stationed at Fort Breckenridge....
Chapter VIBEFORE 1822...
This region seems to have been nearly free from tory disturbances, such as took place on the South Branch to the northward or in Montgomery county to the southward. In fact, the only exception of which we have documentary knowledge is related by Colonel George Skillern, whose plantation was about two miles above Buchanan. In a letter to the governor of Virginia, dated June 26,1781, he states that about four years earlier, Captain Lapsley had taken Solomon Carpenter and Samuel Lyons as recruits, telling them they were to have three and one-half shilling a day as members of General Washington's bodyguard. On their arrival at army headquarters in New Jersey, the men found this representation untrue. They then deserted, came home, and hid in the mountains. At the date of the letter it was supposed there were forty to fifty of the refugees. Attempts to disperse them and capture their leader had failed. Carpenter and Lyons came to Skillern's house under a flag, offering to serve two years in the militia, subject to call, or to join George Rogers Clark for two years. Skillern recommends that the terms be accepted. Carpenter, a bold, daring, active man, had lived among the Indians, and intimated that if his proposition was not accepted he would go back to them. His comrades were active woodsmen, well armed with rifles, and might be a source of danger. The writer adds that there were parties of tories and deserters in the counties of Montgomery and Washington, and that they were probably in correspondence with one another....
Items from the order-books of Botetourt, in 1770-1780, are these:...

248. Thomas Carpenter

CAUTION:
SEE NOTE BELOW.
The information in the next paragraph MIGHT indicate a mixing of 2 Thomas Carpenters;

Thomas served in Captain William Preston's Company of Rangers in 1759 or earlier during the French and Indian Wars. He probably was living in Augusta (Boteourt) County, VA in 1755 where his son was born. There is a Land Bounty in 1759 in Amherst County for what is believed to be for service in the French and Indian War 1759 or earlier than 1756 in Botetourt (then Augusta) County.
In 1765, August 21, Thomas Carpenter bought land in Amherst County, Virginia.
In 1773 he sold property to Samuel Woods in Amherst County. Thomas Carpenter to James Carpenter and d. (G. p. 177) Amherst County.

NOTE:
He was a Patriot. Thomas Carpenter signed the Pettition of Dissenters of Albemarle, Rockingham and Amherst Counties, Virginia on Oct. 25, 1776.
To Thomas Carpenter for 136 pounds of bacon, pr. cert. if. on Januaray 12, 1781. Militia on duty. Five pounds 25 shillings teste William E. Sandidge, clerk, with seal.

SEE:
Deeds, Amherst County, VA, Courthouse; Judge Lyman Chalkey's records of Augusta County, VA, Vol. 1,2,3, page 272; Kegley's Virginia Frontier; letters--Hope Mathews and Richard Charles Carpenter.

NOTE:
Terry Lee Carpenter, of San Antonio, TX (Carpenters of the South) indicates that Sudna (Sudney) was definately NOT a daughter of this Thomas. (The Thomas, the son of Joseph (b. 1693).

He also states very clearly that Kegley's Virginia Frontier does not support this Thomas being born Long Island, NY.

Terry Lee Carpenter indicates that alot of confusion has arisen due to James Ausie Carpenter's Carpenter & Related Family Historical Journal speculations on the ancestry of this family line.

 Until further research clarifies this line, take this Thomas as very tenative. ***

SPECULATIONS:
Did this Thomas (b. abt. 1713) have a son, Thomas (b. abt. 1729)? Book note below helps this speculation. Listed as this pending clairification.

Page 39: Children of Thomas Carpenter (15), of Joseph (14), of Nathaniel (13). Thomas was married, but his wife and children are presently undiscovered. It is possible that some Carpenter lines that trace their ancestry directly to Joseph may eventually discover that they must first go through a son of Thomas and Thomas to arrive there. Thomas was one of the older sons and could have been born as early as 1713. Where there are few records and children die before parents, there is much speculation as to the actual line of descent- particularly, in some Carpenter families.
Letter dated 25 Jan. 1998: "John, perhaps Benjamin, sons of Thomas, Joseph's oldest son, also lived there for nearly thirty years before moving on to Indiana." ("..." removed to Green county, Kentucky at an undetermined date.")

Chalkley's Chronicles does not state that Jeremiah Seeley married Hannah Carpenter in 1746. What it does state is "Jeremiah Seely married the daughter of Joseph Carpenter, lately of the Province of New York. Joseph, in 1746, and after above marriage, moved to Jackson's River, where he and most of his children, then unmarried, settled. Jeremiah came in 1748" -- this is on page 339 of Chalkley's Chronicles, which can be read at
There is disagreement in the original documents as to the names of the sons of John Scott. On 29 Nov 1751, Joseph Carpenter was appointed guardian of James, Benjamin, and John Scot, orphans of John Scot [Vol. III, p. 24(405)], but on 21 Nov 1764 Joseph Carpenter was cited as guardian of Joseph, James, and Jacob Scott, orphans of John

Scott [Vol. I, p. 116(162)]. The only one cited in both is James Scot(t).
Terry Carpenter

Jeremiah Seely

Jeremiah is probably a descendant of Captain Robert Seeley of Mass. and of Hunington, Long Island, New York.

WIKIPEDIA:
https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Glen_Cove,_New_York
Glen Cove is a city in Nassau County, New York on the North Shore of Long Island.

Glen Cove was used as a port by English migrants from New England and named "Moscheto" before 1668. On May 24, 1668 Joseph Carpenter of Warwick, Rhode Island purchased about 2,000 acres (8.1 km) of land to the northwest of the Town of Oyster Bay from the Matinecock. Later in that year he admitted four co-partners into the project: three Coles brothers, Nathaniel, Daniel, and Robert; and Nicholas Simkins, all residents of Oyster Bay. The five young men named the settlement Musketa Cove. In the Lenape language musketa meant “place of rushes.” The five men are considered the five original proprietors of Musketa Cove Plantation.

In the 1830s, steamboats started regular service on Long Island Sound between New York City and Musketa Cove, arriving at a point still called "The Landing." As "Musketa" was negatively associated with mosquito, in 1834 village residents changed the name to Glen Cove (said to be the misheard suggestion "Glencoe", after the Scottish glen) now Glencoe, Scotland. The village added population as workers arrived for jobs at the Duryea Corn Starch factory, which operated until 1900. The name "Duryea" was once suggested as a village name to replace Mosquito Cove but rejected.

By 1850 the village of Glen Cove had become a popular summer resort community for New York City residents. The Long Island Railroad was extended to Glen Cove in 1867, providing quicker, more frequent service to New York City. The availability of the train and the town's location on Long Island Sound made it attractive to year-round residents, and the population increased. On June 8, 1917, Glen Cove became an independent city, separating from the Town of Oyster Bay after 250 years.

Benjamin was married twice. Once in 1770 to Mary then to Sarah. Sarah was the second. AF lists Sarah with 8 children (b. 1770 to 1780).
AF lists Mary with 2 children (1776 & 1778). Children are duplicative.

WILL: Will of Benjamin Carpenter, 1825, did not contain names of several children, who probably were died before 1825.

WARNING:
E-MAIL: Tue, 12 Sep 2000 From: Alton Carpenter
To: John Carpenter Hi John:
I have unwittingly published what I now believe to be erroneous information concerning the origins of my ancestor Benjamin Carpenter, of Amherst Co., Va.. I used information which I have traced back to Raymond Carpenter in an article which was published in the Carpenter and Related Family Journal. I have examined all of the available evidence and am in agreement with Terry L. Carpenter that there is more information to declaim than to support the premise that Benjamin was a member of the Joseph Carpenter family from New York. Also, I believe, based upon his will, that my Benjamin had only one wife, Mary (?), as his will states. The first wife, Sarah, attributed to him by prior historians was in truth the wife of the Benjamin who died in Ill.. Eaton and Enoch were full brothers to my Hensley Sr..
As far as I can determine, my Benjamin arrived in America from England while he was in his teens, resided in Queen and King Co., Va., and later moved to Amherst Co. Recollections of near kin of Austin Carpenter recorded by Elsie (Drummond) Carpenter and other descendants of James, although anecdotal, are weighted heavier than the unsupported connections to the N.Y. Carpenters.

As soon as I correct a few dates, I will put revised files on my web sites. I wanted to let you know this as early as possible so you can consider changes in Carpenters 2000 release. Please accept my apology for any inconvenience this may have caused. Again, thanks for your help and participation.
Best Regards, Alton D. Carpenter

Nathaniel was a tithable in Botetourt county, VA in 1770 and 1771 and died circa 1779 when his estate was inventoried in Botetourt county. His father, Joseph, had a brother named Nathaniel who had a will dated 17 Nov. 1758, but not proven until 8 Dec. 1785 in Newcastle, New York. The Nathaniel in Virginia appears to be a son. No family known.

NOTE: Not everyone is happy with the above, believing that this Nathaniel was the son of Nathaniel, not Joseph. jrc 1/98.

Judith

MARRIAGE2: Joseph (14) married Judith, the widow of John Scott, prior to 27 March 1752 when he was appointed guardian to her three young sons. Their names were John (John Scott, Jr), James and Benjamin. It is very likely that they were called "Carpenter" by name and that some Carpenter lines are not Carpenter at all, but the descendants of this John Scott!

Listed as Judith Scott, a widow in the AF. She had 3 children by John Scott and they were raised by her second husband who became their legal guardian.

Here's what I know about John Scott and Judith Smith:

They had children John (b. 1748 in Rockfish Gap, Augusta Co., VA, m. Catherine Hamilton), James, Judith, Jacob, Joseph, David, Abraham. I have no information on the other children, but I know that John Jr. relocated to Greene Co., PA, with his wife Catherine Hamilton, where he had ten children: George, Robert (m. Mary Roseberry), James (b. 1774, m. Mary Sellers), William (b. 1778 m. Elizabeth Lippencott), Mary (m. Thomas Courtwright), John (m. Susannah Nyswanger, my line), Peggy (m. a Roberts), Thomas, Nancy, and Cassie (m. Robert Stockdale).

Mike Mann reasearch:
William lived at Fort Home on Jackson River, Falling Springs, Va. He served in Militia at Battle of Point Pleasant.
William Mann built a log structure (house) in 1761 in Falling Spring area near the Jackson River. It is the oldest structure in Alleghany County and is owned by Rodney Number 33 in the book "The Carpenter Family in America" by Daniel H. Carpenter, 1901. Page 55. See page 79 and 80 for family. A miller and farmer. 1722 found in North Castle.

Per the above the will was made 25 Feb 1750 (1750/1751) and proved 7 Mar 1751.

COMMENT: possible twin to brother Joseph?

NAME:
Some people stick Coles (mother's maiden name) as a middle name, but this is incorrect.

MARRIAGE:
Per St. George's Church Record.

DEATH:
The possible death date given in some records derivative sources, 2 March 1751, though possible, is unsubstantiated by any known document.

WILL: 2014 UPDATE
Title: Abstract of wills on file in the Surrogate's Office, City of New York (Volume IV. 1744-1753)
Author: New York (County) Surrogate's Court.
Collection: New York State Historical Literature - Cornell University Library
New York Wills, 17:360 (New York Wills, Vol. 17, pp. 360-361)
Will is dated February 25, 1751, and probated March 7, 1751. Surrounding records indicate that if the year were double dated, it would be 1750/1.
Will mentions wife Mercy (Mary), children Jacob, Zophar, Zenas Zenos [sic], Barzillai, Bethuel, Jairus, Rufus, and Mary Carpenter.
The will was witnessed by Thomas Wright, Anthony Woodhouse, and Deliverance Brown.

NOTE: Dates given in some genealogies as May 17, 1751 for the will and proved May 7, 1751 are clearly in error.

Dear John, My corrected email – g2door@roadrunner.com
The following is all that I have as reported in Oma Glassburn Robinson”s work.
Robert Carpenter, son of Nathaniel, was born at Cedar Swamp, L. I. about 1694. He was probably named for his grandfather, Robert Coles. He was a miller and farmer, and as early as 1722 is found at North Castle, Westchester County, and was no doubt one of the '18' original settlers of the town. On July 20, 1727, he married his cousin, Elizabeth , daughter of Benjamin and Mercy (Coles) Carpenter who was born August 17, 1708. By the time that Robert wrote his will, Elizabeth was deceased and he had another wife, Mary. Source: Daniel Hoogland Carpenter, "History of the Carpenter Family in America. From Their Settlement at Providence, R. I. 1637-1901." As reported by Oma Glasburn Robinson in "David Glassburn Virginia Pioneer."

"page 360: In the name of God, Amen, Feb. 25, 1751. I, Robert Carpenter, of North Castle, in Westchester County, being very sick. I leave to my wife Mary, 20 lbs yearly, so long as she remains my widow, and the use of my dwelling house and 1/3 of my orchard and a horse and cow. If she marries, she shall have all of the goods and chattels she brought with her. I leave to my son Jacob 5 lbs. To my daughter, Mary, 'a feather bed with a striped cotton tick', and six silver teaspoons, and a silver tumbler. After my wife's death, all my farm lands and mill are to be sold at public venue, and the money be paid to my children, Jacob, Zophar, Zenos, Barzillai, Bethuel, Jairus, Rufus, and Mary. All my movable estate to be sold at public venue within ten days after my burial. My two youngest children, Rufus and Mary, are to be brought up out of my estate until such time as they are fit to be put to trades. I make my wife and my sons Jacob and Zophar, executors".
Witnesses: Deliverance Brown, Thomas Wright, Anthony Woodhouse. Proved Mar. 7, 1751.

Elizabeth Carpenter

Number 41 in the book "The Carpenter Family in America" by Daniel H. Carpenter, 1901.

259. Zenas Carpenter

Number 96 in the book "The Carpenter Family in America" by Daniel H. Carpenter, 1901.

NAME: Zenas - Zenos appears as a typo. Zenas is a male name.
Zenas - a believer, and, as may be inferred from the context, a preacher of the gospel, who is mentioned in (Titus 3:13) in connection with Apollos. He is further described as "the lawyer." It is impossible to determine whether Zenas was a Roman jurisconsult or a Jewish doctor.

An Ezenias Carpenter was enumerated with Zophar in a 1755 list of taxables in Augusta Co. VA, "Ezenias Carpenter and Zopher, no estate" -- could be Robert's son Zenas, and thus Zophar's brother.

264. Mary Carpenter

Number 101 in the book "The Carpenter Family in America" by Daniel H. Carpenter, 1901.
Probably died young.

265. Bethuel Carpenter

Number 98 in the book "The Carpenter Family in America" by Daniel H. Carpenter, 1901.

1751 - Bethuel Carpenter was a witness to the sale of the Red Springs farm, 1751-1759. See page 59.

NAME:
Bethuel is a biblical name, Bethial is a corruption.
Bethuel (dweller in God), the son of Nahor by Milcah; nephew of Abraham, and father of Rebekah, (Genesis 22:22,23; 24:15,24,47, 28:2) In (Genesis 25:20) and (Genesis 28:5) he is called "Bethuel the Syrian."
Bethial (also Bethia[h] and Bethiel), moreover, was typically a woman's name, whereas Bethuel was a man's name (Robert's will names only one daughter: Mary).

Mary

NAME: Mary per her husband's will.

195. Timothy Carpenter

NOTE: The Timothy Carpenter of Pittstown, NY was born abt 1715 not 24 Oct 1721.
The error was found and corrected using the following information.

1) Letter of Charles L. Carpenter in 1976 indicating that the Timothy Carpenter born 24 Oct 1721 was not his Timothy Carpenter, and the addenda (update) to the Timothy Carpenter book dated 3 May 1984 by the same person.

2) Carpenter Related Family History Journal, Vol. 3, No.1, page 11:
SOURCE: A corrected will of the New York Historical Society Collections Volumes found by Louise Carpenter Licklider states in abstract:
"In the name of God, Amen. January 3, 1728/1729, I, Silas Carpenter of North Castle, in Westchester County, Blacksmith. I leave to my wife, Jane, one-third of all moveables. All houses and lands to be sold. I leave to my daughters, Hannah and Phebe, 10 pounds each when of age. The rest to be put at interest until my three sons, William, TIMOTHY, and Silias, are of age and then divided among them. I make William Craft and William Carpenter, Jr., both of Long Island, and my wife, Jane, Executors. Witnesses, Adam Ireland, Job Wright, Nataniel Carpenter. Proved Feburary 11, 1728/1729."

3) Raymond George Carpenter concurs and James Ausie Carpenter states, "I am so happy for Charlie that after all these years of failure to gain through Louise A-1 proof of Lineage."

468. Silas Carpenter

SILAS is listed as number 13-2 in the book; TIMOTHY CARPENTER DESCENDANTS. SILAS disappeared during the REVOLUTIONARY WAR. His name does not appear on any casuality lists on file at the National Archives in Washington, nor the State Archives in Albany, N.Y. It also does not appear on any rosters of men serving from the Pittstown area in the 14th Albany Regt., which do his brothers JOSIAH and JEREMIAH and his brother-in-law NEHEMIAH WALLACE.

MISC: There is speculation in one branch of the family that he became a loyalist and died in Canada or England. In another branch it indicates he went north and died unmarried.

MISC: "As a child I heard stories of an uncle (last name Carpenter) in England who owned a powder mill that blew up. Family here were trying to prove their relationship as beneficiaries. Supposedly important papers were destroyed in the explosion, so the inheritance went to England. I have been unable to locate the legal papers that were prepared in the late 30's with the genealogy." 202. Thomas Carpenter

Number 56 in the book "The Carpenter Family in America" by Daniel H. Carpenter, 1901. Family on page 96.
Probably, after selling property willed to him by his father, he went back to Canada or England. See note below, however.
He went to St. John's, N.B., at the peace and was one of the grantees of that city.
On 30 Sept. 1797, he and his wife Lucretia sold land at Stamford, CT (her parents old property!). No further trace can be found.
Did he go west to Indiana?

NOTE: There may be TWO Thomas Carpenters mixed here. One a British Sergeant (RA) and then promoted to an Ensign (sub-Lieutentant in a provisional brigrade). The other a son of Joseph Carpenter also named Thomas who was a Sergeant in the provisional brigrade. See E-Mails below. Good work by Annabel Bixby.
The above should read per Annabel:

1. Thomas Carpenter-20039 was born 15 Feb 1726 in Musketa Cove, Queens, LI, NY. (He died in Smithtown, Or Southold, LI, NY. ?)
Number 56 in the book "The Carpenter Family in America" by Daniel H. Carpenter, 1901. Family on page 96.
In other words, Lucretia Quintard does not belong in this genealogy and neither does her husband, Thomas Carpenter. It should just end with the marriage to Anne Stocker and their son, Thomas.

He was a loyalist who fled to Nova Scotia and returned to Long Island to die. He was a sergeant and Adjutant, 2nd Delancey's Brigade, a loyalist unit in New York. A Thomas Carpenter (son?) was an Ensign in the 3rd Battalion. In 1783 Ensign Carpenter was buying provisions for uniforms and was reimbursed for expenses. On 4 Nov 1782 he was in Brooklyn, NY as a witness to a Richard Hill of New York claim of costs for quartering. Both indicate he is a member of the 2nd Delancy Brigade. (ENGLISH CARPENTER?)

E-MAIL: Thu, 07 Oct 1999 From: Anabel Bixby
Hi- I am really in need of some help! (Note- The numbers after the names are the numbers in the "Carpenter family in America.")
I have corresponded with one of you who has the Carpenter website- who couldn't help me. I have a research project due by Oct. 15th for independent study in a family history class. Here is the problem!
I have both the Carpenter and Quintard genealogy and it seems that neither one has enough information on the Thomas Carpenter(55)- p. 96 who I am looking for -According to the Carpenter genealogy, he was born in 1726, son of Joseph Carpenter(19)at Oyster Bay, Long Island- he married 1. Ann Stocker in abt. 1748- she apparently died and then he married Lucretia Burroughs Quintard on 29 August, 1781 at St. Georges, Hempstead, Long Island. He served under Delancey - fought on the British side and at the end of the war, he went to New Brunswick. I have found a land grant for Lieut. Thomas Carpenter in New Brunswick. I have the Quintard genealogy back to France- they were Huguenots who fled France to Bristol, England and then to NY and settled in Stamford before 1700. According to the Carpenter genealogy, Thomas (55) and Lucretia went to Nova Scotia (which became New Brunswick) where he had land granted to him- and then by 1797, they were back in New York in Saratoga where they sold their land in Stamford, CT. The genealogy also lists one son for him, Thomas (146) b. 1757. I looked him up and found that this Thomas married Edith Bunce and was a "very prominent man in religious circles and also politically- " He was an alderman of the Methodist church, etc. The author states " while somewhat in doubt as to the correctness of this pedigree, etc." His son, Thomas is 399a and I can't find anything further on 399a.
Here is my problem:
If the same Thomas (55)(born 1726) married Lucretia Quintard in 1781, then he was 106 yrs old when he died in 1831. They settled in Lansingburg, Troy, New York (not far from Saratoga) The records of Trinity Episcopal Church of Lansingburg (cemetery- obits, etc) state that he died 14? of May, 1831 aged 76 yrs. That means he was born in 1755 0r 1756. (very close to the 1757 birth date of Thomas (149) son of Thomas and Ann Stocker. Beside his gravestone is Lucretia Q. Carpenter, wife of Thomas Carpenter, d. 23 May, 1816 at age 55 yrs. According to the Quintard genealogy, she was born in 1761 which fits. Of note is that her mother, Lucretia Burroughs, wife of Isaac Quintard died in Stamford, CT on the 10 Sept. 1796- therefore, the land they sold in 1797 was probably the Stamford property that she had inherited from her mother (who was a widow- her father had died in 1794) It seems that the Quintards were also loyalists although I don't know that they left Stamford - Lucretia's two paternal aunts married loyalists (Ketchum and Hubbard) moved to Nova Scotia (and then St. John, NB) and her 2 sisters married husbands who were prob loyalists- (Leake and Wilson) since they moved from CT to NYC and/or Long Island and eventually settled in Albany (in the same area as Lansingburg and Troy- they were all in Albany County at the time)

I have found a Lieut. Thomas Carpenter from the New Brunswick grantbook database who was given a grant in Parr Town (which I believe was later St. John) in 1784 (NS) and 1785 (NB) - That could be him but in any case, Thomas and Lucretia had at least 3 children born bet. 1788 and 1793. (there could have been more) Of note is that both Lucretia's aunts were also in the same parish and town in New Brunswick (the Hubbards and Ketchums) Later, when Thomas and Lucretia moved to NY, both her sisters and their families were there also. I am not certain how many Carpenters went to NB first and then ended up in Albany area of NY- I have found both a Thomas and a Joseph Carpenter in the Albany area (or Lansingburg) in the 1820 census index. Does anyone have any ancestors (Carpenters) from that part of NY state? or a Thomas (son of Thomas and Ann Stocker) - No.146 The one who was an alderman in the Methodist church in NY- born in 1757? The reason I am trying to locate anyone who might have him in their ancestry is b/c the author was uncertain of the "correctness of this ancestry" and I wonder if that Thomas was the son of Thomas and Ann Stocker and the husband of Lucretia Quintard. That would make sense!
The strange way I found the Carpenter family was that my ggreat-grandmother had a prenuptial agreement signed with her husband to be b/c her mother had died when she was a baby and her grandfather had left her mother's share of his estate to her- Her mother was Elizabeth Quintard (Carpenter) Taylor b. 1793 d. 1823(d/o Thomas and Lucretia Carpenter) as written in her obit and/or on gravestone- (wife of Dr. John Taylor)- they are all buried in the Trinity Episcopal Church cemetery in Lansingburg. Although I knew that Lucretia Taylor (my ggreat-grandmother was the daughter of Elizabeth Quintard Taylor, I first discovered that her mother's maiden name was Carpenter and her grandfather was Thomas because of the prenuptial agreement! Then, I found the rest of the connections- but I still can't make the connection as to who were the parents of Thomas Carpenter the loyalist!
I have contacted St. George Church in Hempstead where they were married and the warden saye the records are in the vault- I live in California and he is willing to search but he does not know when he may have time to do it- I need to do a search on the two marriages (Thomas and Anne Stocker) and Thomas and Lucretia Quintard. The records have never been copied by the LDS- only some marriages in the early 1700s- and the warden does not think anyone has copied them. I am going to be in New England at Thanksgiving and if possible, I thought I would try to get to the church in Hempstead but with grandchildren in tow, I don't know! I live in California- and would appreciate any input that anyone has concerning this line of the family. Or any suggestions where to look?
Thank you- Annabel Bixby abixby@home.com

Dear John,
We are fairly close neighbors in California- I live in Laguna Niguel. I could not complete my research, however, I completed the 25 hours required and plan to continue the research to complete the one unit still required for completion of History 393. These are independent study courses from BYU - I need 18 units for a certificate-but would like to continue and become accredited of I live long enough. Although i don't have the info I did obtain nearby at the moment, I do have it all somewhere. I just returned from a trip to Maine for Thanksgiving with our daughters and grandchildren which included a 4 day trip to NYC with 4 grandchildren to see "The Lion King" and NYC all decorated for Xmas= Once was enough- I have never seem so many people in one place in my life! But they all enjoyed it- even some 2 hour waits! What I did learn from someone who looks up info in books on the Long Island website was that the marriage of Ensign Thomas Carpenter and Lucretia Quintard was officially recorded in the St. George church records and also in the NY Biographical, etc. (can't remember the whole name right now) which I believe is at the NYC library- to find our hotel, we drove by the library with the lions decorated with wreaths about 6 times but never did get into it! I also found a site for the loyalists who went to New Brunswick and the land which was granted to them. Ensign or Lieut. (by then) Thomas Carpenter was one of the grantees- there were actually two Thomas Carpenters listed. I have written to the website about the grant but they claim there is little on the grants such as wives, children, ages, etc. My problem as you know is that having worked back in time to Thomas and Lucretia who wound up in Lansingburg, NY and both died and are buried there in the Episcopal church cemetery, he would have been 106 yrs old if he is the same one who married both Anne Stocker and Lucretia Quintard. They definitely had children- at least 3 are named in the Quintard genealogy but it ends with their names just as the Carpenter genealogy ended with "no further information on this couple" except the record of the sale of property in Stamford by them in Saratoga in abt. 1797. That was her parents' property- her father, Isaac Quintard died in 1794 and her mother in 1796 and they are both buried in Stamford, CT. The marriage record for Lucretia and Thomas states that Lucretia was at that time a resident of Suffolk County?, Long Island and previously of Stamford, CT. Since there is some question as to whether her father was a loyalist or not (he was an innkeeper in Stamford and was accused of having hidden gun powder according to the genealogy but no mention of what punishment he received is mentioned)- it is quite possible that he went with his family to Long Island during the war and then returned to Stamford after the war. He had 2 daughters who married loyalists before Lucretia married Thomas and he had two sisters who married well known loyalists who were among the leading citizens of St. John, NB and would have been her aunts- however, there does not seem to be any question that he and his wife, at least, did return to Stamford after the war and lived there until their deaths. They had only one son- the youngest child named Isaac who joined the patriots at age 16 as a private and worked his way up to capt. or col. I found his obit in an old NEHGS Register so the family seemed to have been divided! They were originally French Huguenots who fled France for England, the original emigrants were married in bristol, England and their 2 sons, Pierre and Isaac were born there., The family emigrated first to NYC in about 1699 and then settled in Stamford and Norwalk. Therefore, if they had some loyalty to England, it would be expected. I have also contacted a website which has a list of the loyalist troops but so far he has only one Sgt. Thomas Carpenter listed who was from England but served with the loyalists under the same colonel as Lucretia's husband served. But he was a British citizen - and he probably returned home after the war- unfotunately, the 2nd and 3rd battalion lists are incomplete. Anyway, I realized that I had come across a problem that was not going to be resolved easily. I had hoped he would be the son, Thomas, of Thomas and Anne Stocker born in about 1757 (the age etc. would fit and he would have been the grandson of Joseph and Mary?Willet-However, David Carpenter traced this Thomas down several generations- he moved to Brooklyn- was successful in business and a strong Methodist and one of his sons became a Methodist itinerant minister. So if that is correct, then he can't be the same Thomas who married Lucretia. What i am beginning to think is that the Thomas I am looking for is a son of another one of the Carpenters - I have made a list of all the Thomas' I can find and there are a couple unaccounted for- or whose ancestry is not carried on so perhaps he may turn out to be one of them- I would like to get into the church at Hempstead sometime to see if I can find witnesses to the marriage which might be helpful- meanwhile, I am working on the Carpenters (including her aunts who married loyalists one of whom has extensive letters that are stored in the archives in New Brunswick) His name was Hubbard I believe- and another one was a doctor- but the Hubbard papers are apparently lengthy and may well provide some info on the younger family of Thomas and Lucretia- his son's letters are also included which would have been her first cousin. If I could get an age on Thomas, then maybe I would have something definite to work with in tracing his parents, etc. However the papers cannot be removed from the university in New Brunswick so I thought perhaps when we go to visit our family in Maine next summer I could take a short side trip to the university.

When I finally get the info I am looking for, I will let you know and the other Carpenters who have web pages or on the email site.
Will keep in touch when I have some more news-But I am fairly well convinced that the Thomas who married Lucretia cannot be the same one who married Anne Stocker- actually after Lucretia died in 1816 in Lansingburg, NY, he remarried and he would have been 90 yrs old if he was born in 1726. Since David Carpenter admitted to having some questions about this line including the son, Thomas, of Thomas and Ann Stocker and also what became of Thomas and Lucretia, I am sure if he were alive today, he would agree that knowing what i do now- that Thomas died at age 106, that there is prob. an error somewhere and I guess it is my task to find and correct it!
Should you have any suggestions or any new info at any time, i would appreciate hearing from you!
Happy holidays, Annabel Bixby abixby@home.com

This is a quote from The " History & Genealogy of the Carpenter Famuly from the settlement at Providence ,R.I., " by Daniel H. Carpenter pub 1901 Marion press ,Jamacia Queens,NY page 96; "55 Thomas Carpenter son of joseph 19 was born 15 d 2 mo. 1726. I have tried in vain to satisfactorily trace this Thomas and his line of decent. I am inclined to think that he on October 2, 1748, was married to Ann Stocker. She probaly died soon afterwards.
There is little doubt he married twice. I think his second wife was Lucretia Quintard of Stamford Conn., to whom he married August 20, 1781, and immeadiately after the close of the Revolutionary War h emigrated to Novia Scotia , where he had land granted to him and wher he was pensioned by the Brittish government. He, however soon repented of this situation, and is believed to have returned to Long Island and died at Smithtown or Southhold.
His son 146 Thomas, born------, 1757. " footnote at bottom of page reads:
"Lucretia Quintard was daughter of Issac & Lucretia Quintard. They were Loyalist who went from Stamford to Long Island for protection, and after the war were compelled to emigrate to Nova Scotia. Thomas was a ensign in De Lancey's Third battalion and a adjunt of the corps. He went to St. John's N.B., at the peace and was one of the grantees of that city, recieving half pay. He could not have remained ther very long, as on September 30 , 1797 he and his wife were at Saratoga Springs and sold land at Stamford,Conn. After that date can find no further trace of them.
Both Marriages of Thomas Carpenter are recorded in St George's Church in Hempstead, L.I., NY.
A Henry Stocker of Graet Neck, L.I. , made his will April 19, 1785. (vide New York Wills, 38,122) { Not sure the relavice of this note --JLC/}
Lucretia Quintard was born February 10, 1760, as may be seen in the Stamford vital records. I had a very pleasent correspondence with Bishop Quintard of Tennessee , and also with Mr Charles R. Quintard of Stamford, Conn.,and Mr J. W. Lawerence of St. John's N.B. in relation to this Thomas, but with no definite results (D H C , Nov 1893)
I found a land sale from a Issac Quintard only mention of Quintard family on the LI CD # 173.

Dear John,
I forgot to explain the real problem I am having. The Trinity Episcopal Church in Lansingburg, NY. cemetery has a list of names of persons in the cemetery. They have Thomas Carpenter died 14? of May 1831
His wife Lucretia Carpenter died May 23, 1836. She was born in 10 Feb. 1760 (d/o Isaac Quintard and Lucretia Burroughs.) She is listed on the cemetery records as the wife of Thomas Carpenter and since he is the only Thomas Carpenter in the cemetery, I assume he was her husband. The L.I. Carpenter genealogy states he died in Southold or Smithtown, L.I. The problem I found after learning of the cemetery records is that if he is the same Thomas Carpenter who m. Lucretia Quintard, then there has to be an error somewhere b/c the Long Island records state that he was born in 1725/26 as the son of Joseph and Mary Willet. The Quintard genealogy (in a quote from the Carpenter genealogy) lists his birth date as 1636. If he is the same Thomas Carpenter who married Lucretia Quintard, he could not have been born in 1725/26 and died in 1831. That was over one hundred years. Do you have any idea of where the error might be or the source for his birth in 1625/26 b/c after I read that, I decided that perhaps I am missing a generation. I don't think there is any doubt that Lucretia Burroughs Quintard m. Thomas Carpenter in 1781 but could there have been another Thomas Carpenter? Actually, if he was born in 1636, he was prob. too young to have m. Anne Stocker first. I found Eliza Q', obituary in the Lansingburgh Gazette. Carpenter and Incidentally, the Ancestral file from the LDS lists Thomas Carpenter as marrying in 1781, Lucretia Burroughs (they left out the surname Quintard) Her mother was Lucretia Burroughs who married Isaac St. John. My question is from what source did the birthdate for Thomas Carpenter come from? 1925/26 b/c that cannot be correct or it is not the same Thomas Carpenter. If you have a copy of the Carpenter genealogy, could you do me a great favor and look up the information on his birth date and 2 marriages with the dates? I have found a land grant from the King to a Lieut. Thomas Carpenter in abt. 1785 in New Brunswick. I assume he is the same one- the question is whether the Thomas Carpenter who m. Anne Stocker is the same one as the one who married Lucretia Quintard, and was he also the loyalist who went to New Brunswick? I also read that he and his family were back in Saratoga, NY by 1797 and Saratoga is part of Albany County (or was at that time) and it was fairly close to Lansingburgh. Actually, the fact of whether or not he was the loyalist is of equal interest to me. When you have a chance could you check it out in the Carpenter genealogy? Right now Thomas is listed twice in the LI genealogy as 100 and 101. Thanks again for any assistance.

P.S. I thought this was going to be an easy assignment but it gets more complicated with each new source!

E-MAIL: Date: Thu, 17 Aug 2000 From: abixby
Dear John (and all)
I am back again with the problem of Thomas Carpenter b. 1726 (s/o Joseph) who married 1. Anne Stocker and 2. Lucretia Quintard in 1781 at St. George's Church in Hempstead, NY (according to the Carpenter genealogy) However, I know (from his will and tombstone inscription in Lansingburg, NY) that Thomas, husband of Lucretia Quintard, was 76 yrs. old when he died in 1831 in Lansingburg. He and Lucretia were married in 1781 at St. George's Church, Hempstead, NY "by military authority." The genealogy stated that he was a loyalist and an ensign in Gen. Delancey's Regiment which fought for the British. (It was my understanding that this regiment was made up of loyalists and not of British soldiers.) However, I just found the following info in " The New Loyalists Index" "Thomas Carpenter, Ensign in 2nd battalion Brig. Gen. Delancey's Regiment c. 1783, AGE 26 yrs., from ENGLAND, served British Corps 4 yrs. Provincial 7 Years. Source: "Loyalists in Ontario." On the land grant database (of loyalists who arrived from the US) at the Univ. of New Brunswick, there is Lieut. Thomas Carpenter (presumably the same with a promotion) who recd a land grant in Parr Town, Sudbury. I sent for a copy but they told me that particular land grant is 50 pages long and all names - no bio info. I suspect they were the loyalists who arrived in the fall fleet who found there was not enough land, supplies, etc. left for all of them, etc. It is a long sad tale of the families who tried to settle in Parr Town as winter set in. Perhaps that is why

Thomas and Lucretia went to New York state or to Ontario?
However, the genealogy may have been in error concerning Thomas Carpenter. The one in the loyalists index, Ensign Thomas who was identified in the marriage records at St. George's also, would have been born in abt. 1757 (give or take 2 yrs. since the index lists him as age 26 abt. 1783) But the real question is was he a native of England and not related to the Carpenters on Long Island??
If so, then I would have to go back to England to find his ancestry and he would not share the Carpenter ancestry at all! I hope the index is mistaken b/c that means starting from square one again. Also, I don't understand why he was fighting in Gen Delancey's brigade if he was from England? Any help in this direction would be appreciated.
I notice you have some info today on locating English Carpenters.
I wonder if that would be helpful or whether I need to go through the British military records? Or is this all another mistake??
I am beginning to wish I had left well enough alone and let him be 106 yrs old when he died! But I am still working on this for credit in a class at BYU and I have until Oct. 19th to finish the 2nd part which is to do another 30 hrs. on trying to solve this puzzle that arose from the Carpenter genealogy- of course, the author had no way of knowing the information I have at the time he wrote it. But is it possible that Lucretia married a British soldier instead of a member of the colonial family of Carpenters? That would explain why there doesn't seem to be any Thomas b. 1755-1757 in the genealogy who would fit the loyalist Ensign Thomas Carpenter.
Any suggestions or ideas on this problem would be appreciated.
Thanks Annabel Bixby abixby@home.com

---- Original Message ----- From: "abixby" Dear John,
I wrote to you about a year ago concerning Thomas Carpenter who married Lucretia Quintard in 1781. He was listed in the parish records as an Ensign and Adjutant in Gen. Delancey's 2nd battalion (later the 3rd).
Due to my own problems including a 2nd rotator cuff surgery in one year on my left shoulder last March and then in October my dogs bolted after a squirrel in downtown LA and I was holding both their leashes in my right hand and couldn't get free so I broke my right shoulder (8 yrs. from the day I broke the left one!) So now I am finally recovered. I had two other courses to complete which I finally finished after several extensions (and learning how to use the mouse with my left hand and type with one arm in a sling!) So I am back to my one unit to complete for a class that included 2 units for the annual conference (in 1999!) and other work to go with it. I have had 2 extensions to finish this last unit which involves the error in the Carpenter genealogy (descendants of William). It was hard to cut off that entire branch of the family tree but it became more obvious as I went along that the Thomas Carpenter who married Anne Stocker and had a son named Thomas was not the same one who married Lucretia Quintard. I spent 5 days at the Family History Library in SLC in October (primarily to complete another course)but also worked on researching this one. I was in the library at least 10 hours a day and would have liked to spend another week! (or month even!) However, I read the history of St. George's Church in Hempstead, LI which remained loyal to the Church of England throughout the Revolution. In reading through the parish records many of which are on microfilm and in the New York Genealogical and Historical Society records, I wrote down the names of each Carpenter who had married at St. George's and with the exception of perhaps 1 or 2 that I could not identify their wives' families, they married wives whose families were members of St. Georges- such as Anne Stocker- there are baptismal records for her and at least one sister there. My conclusion was that most of the Carpenter family in Oyster Bay or on Long Island were not members of St. Georges. I believe that the genealogy mentioned that Joseph Carpenter may have been a Friend (or Quaker) and the names of his children had been recorded at the local meeting house including Thomas born in 1726 and I know that Thomas Carpenter Jr. was said to have become a staunch Methodist in Brooklyn, New York. The history states that during the Revolution the minister was very busy marrying British soldiers to local girls! and that the names of those soldiers can still be found in Hempstead. There is a sharp increase in marriages starting in 1777 and many new names that did not show up in the parish in previous years appeared- no doubt soldiers. They apparently only listed the officers (their titles anyway) and there were quite a few including Ensign-Adjutant Thomas Carpenter and Lucretia Quintard. I think it would be safe to say that he does not belong in that genealogy. I have been in touch with two other descendants of this couple who did not know much about him either. I even have a photo of a portrait painted of him when he was 66 yrs old. Todd W. Braisted of the The On-Line Institute for Advanced Loyalist Studies website wrote to me over a year ago that Thomas was a member of an elite Brigade of Foot Guards. I have since learned that he was in the First Regiment of Foot Guards now known as the Grenadiers- they are known as one of the Household Regiments since they guard the Queen and do the changing of the guard, etc. in London among other duties. When I first read this letter, I put it aside b/c I was still trying to figure out whether Thomas Carpenter was a loyalist etc. (and why since with the exception of Aechulus (sp?) Carpenter who was living in Westchester County at the beginning of the Revolution and Willet who I think was his son, I have not found many Carpenters who were loyalists- in fact, I don't think there were any others on Long Island. Have you found any others in that area? In any case, this is the information I received from Todd Braisted.

" Thomas Carpenter is one of a small group of unique persons holding commissions in the Provincial Corps. Carpenter was not a Loyalist from America, but rather a regular British soldier, a Sergeant from the elite Brigade of Foot Guards. The Guards arrived in America in the summer of 1776 and served in all the major campaigns. To reward faithful service and advance promising Sergeants (something almost impossible in the Regular Army) , some were made officers in Loyalist regiments. This provided for experience and professionalism in the new corps and rewarded the service of the good NCOs. Carpenter was commissioned an Ensign on 25 June 1780 in the 3rd battalion of Delancey's Brigade, commanded by Col. Gabriel Ludlow. Source: 1783 North American Army List, New York Historical Society. According to a list prepared at the end of the war, Carpenter is listed as a native of England and mentions him being a Sergeant from the Guards. Source: Great Britain Public Record Office, Colonial Office, Class 5, Volume III, folio 231. His military career after joining DeLancey's was rather uneventful, the corps engaged only in garrison duty on Long island for the remainder of the war. In 1782, Delancey's 3rd battalion was renumbered 2nd battalion. I have no indication that he was promoted to Lieutenant. The final half-pay list at war's end still lists him as an ensign."

Although I should have accepted this information as being more noteworthy than I did at the time, I still was uncertain as to how I could connect this Ensign Thomas Carpenter to Lucretia Quintard. The marriage records from the church pretty well convinced me. He was 26 yrs old in 1783 so he was born in 1757. Another researcher (it is his wife's family) who lives in CT has been very helpful. The IGI lists an Eliza and an Isaac Carpenter as having been baptised at an Episcopal Church in New Haven in 1786 and 1788 respectively. He went to the church and looked up the records and found the names of the parents and godparents, etc. and they were obviously Thomas and Lucretia's first 2 children. The one thing I have had a problem with is a land grant for a Lieut. Thomas Carpenter in Nova Scotia and then New Brunswick which he was given in 1783-84. Is this the same person? On the marriage records he is listed as Ensign and Adjutant (and I found that Adjutant could mean Lieut.) so perhaps that is where it came from. However, when I sent for a copy of the grant, I was informed there were about 500 names listed for this same land grant in Parr Town, Sudbury, New Brunswick but without any further biographical information. Then I found a ship list at the FHL for the "Cy" who were refugees from New York to Nova Scotia. It included Aechulas (sp) and several names under his- as children presumably all from Westchester County, NY plus a Thomas Carpenter from England. I have contacted the First or Grenadier Brigade of Foot Guards website Lt. Col. Winston Stone who is looking up more information for me. (They do reenactments of different regiments) He did say there was a Sgt. Thomas Carpenter in the Grenadier Guards but he is going to send me any other info he may have about him. One source claims he was born in Minorca which if true, may have meant his father was in the military also. He would have been 19 yrs old when he arrived in America so perhaps he was a son of another member of the Guard. I have found two Thomas Carpenters born in England in 1757 in the IGI one from Astley or Shotley- Herefordshire? Have you ever done any military backgrounds on the Carpenters in England? One thing that is intriging although it is probably coincidence is that the First Regiment was one of five regiments organized in Brugges in 1656 by Charles II while he was in exile in Belgium to fight with Spain against the alliance of Cromwell and King Louis XIV. One of these 5 regiments were 400 of the Kings most loyal supporters and became known as the Royal Regiment under the Command of Lord Wentworth. The Royal Regiment was still in France when Charles was restored to the throne in 1660 - in 1665, they were brought to England and upon the death of Lord Wentworth, they were linked together to become the first regiment of foot guards. They earned the title of Grenadier as a result of their bravery at Waterloo- the only regiment of the British Army to have directly gained its title from the part it played in battle. Although I don't see the mention of Flanders here, didn't you have some of the Carpentiers coming from Flanders? or France?

From what I have read, the officers consisted of the landed gentry, all considered to be "gentlemen." I wondered if Thomas's father may have been in the Guards b/c it seems like the type of regiment that might be traditional in a family? Although he arrived as a sergeant in 1776, since he was only 19 yrs old, he may not have been old enough or experienced enough to be an officer but was recruited to join Gen Howe on Staten Island in July 1775. However, I don't know what it required to join the Foot Guards but obviously they didn't take just anyone who came along since they were the personal guards of the King or Queen. The ones with the bear-skin hats and red uniforms. If he did go to Nova Scotia or New Brunswick, he must have returned to America pretty rapidly in order to have fathered a child in 1786 and then in 1788. It is our opinion that he may have gone to Nova Scotia alone to either be mustered out- get his pension or whatever was required since he was British and not American.

That is what I am trying to find out now- where he was mustered out- and it would seem that it would have been on British territory. Then, he returned- how I don't know or whether this would have created a problem. The godfather of their first child was Isaac Quintard, however, we don't know if it was Sr. or Jr. b/c one wonders how an ex-captain in the Revolution on the patriot side (Isaac Jr.) having joined at age 16 would feel about his brother-in-law, who was a British soldier? I cannot find any further references to his birthplace on records during his lifetime. Although according to the church records in Hempstead, it appears that British soldiers did settle there and remained there with their wives after the war, so there must have been some acceptance of this situation. The Quintards were a mixture of loyalists and patriots.

Isaac Quintard, Lucretias's father was a captain in the Stamford militia however he was brought before the town authorities and accused of hiding gunpowder barrels behind his inn. He wrote a long letter to the newspaper of explanation as to how this incident occurred and apparently, they accepted his explanation. However, his two sisters married loyalists - one of whom- Hubbard- was later a chief justice in New Brunswick. Of his 4 children, 2 of his daughers married "loyalists" and Hannah, the eldest moved with her husband to Huntington, L.I. and her sister married a Dr. John Wilson, also apparently a loyalist- but they did not fight in the war and moved to the Albany area when the war was over. His only son, Isaac, joined the patriots at age 16 and became a captain during the war. His obit was in the NEHGS Register when he died at age 90. One possibility is that Lucretia went with her older sister, Hannah, to Huntington, LI b/c on the marriage records, it stated that she was a native or originally from Stamford, CT and more recently of Suffolk County, NY.

I wonder if you could look up a reference you gave me- a land sale from an Isaac Quintard on the LI CD #173. Does it give any date? There were several generations and even nephews etc. of the original Isaac Quintard who fled France and originally settled in Bristol, England and married the daughter of another French Huguenot family. He emigrated in 1695 to New York City with his two sons, Isaac and Pierre (Peter) who had been born in England. He then moved to Stamford where his son Isaac inherited his land from him. This explains some of the conflict they must have felt about the Revolution. Isaac Sr. was listed in the Stamford records as a "pensioner" in the Revolution (formerly a captain in the militia) so it appears that he was not forced to leave. But I am curious about the property he sold in Long Island and which Isaac owned it- and whether it was a for a "retreat" during the Revolution.

I am about to turn in what I have completed on researching this couple b/c I want to start another course and this one unit has been "hanging around" too long! I will continue my search for his ancestry and also to see if there is a tie-in at all with your branch of the family.

Incidentally, he died quite a wealthy man. I copied his will plus copies of land records that showed he started buying land in about 1815 in Lansingburg, NY. I have traced them to Saratoga in about 1797 and then to census records in 1810 (and 1820-1830) in Lansingburg. He had only one surviving daughter but there were 7-8 grandchildren to whome he left quite a lot of property, several brick homes, capital stocks in both the First Bank of Lansingburg and the first Insurance Company so he may have had a part in founding the bank and the insurance company. They had 5 children: the 1st Eliza born 1786 died at 6 months. Isaac Carpenter was born in 1788- the only son- then Elisabeth Quintard Carpenter (my direct ancestor) in 1791; she married Dr. John Taylor and they had 3 children; and Lucretia Burroughs Carpenter who married Andrew Thompson and had several children and Catherine born 1799 died 1819 at age 20- married but without any living children. However, Isaac (who apparently predeceased his father) left two sons William Henry Carpenter and John S. Carpenter. I don't know when they were born but in 1831, they were of age since their grandfather did not have to appoint a guardian for them as he did for the 3 Taylor children. He left one daughter and 7-8 grandchildren; all living in the area including the two male Carpenter grandsons so the Carpenter surname may have survived for some time after his death.

If you could look up the LI land sale for a date, I would be very grateful. Maybe our Carpenter ancestry may come together back in England at some point. We plan to go back to England for our 55th anniversary in 2002. We spent our 50th there and my husband really wants to go back- he is 100% English whereas I am half French and I want to go back to France again, also. We visited several of his ancestral villages and churches in Suffolk County last time, however, there are still many areas we want to visit that we missed before. I would love to get into the PRO records. I met several people from the FHHS (English) who were at the FHL for the annual church conference the same weekend I was there and they told me they plan to have every soldier in every regiment record available soon- however, I believe the Guards are already available- definitely the officers. I thought this might be of interest to you b/c of your interest in their background in England and this seems to be the first case I have found of a Carpenter in the military - esp. in such a prestigious regiment as the Foot Guards that I would like to trace back to see if possibly his father may have also been in the military.

Bye for now- Annabel Bixby abixby@home.com

To: John Carpenter
Dear John,
This should be known at the Tale of Two Thomas Carpenters!
No. 1 problem.

"One a British Sergeant (RA) and then promoted to an Ensign (sub-Lieutentant in a provisional brigade). He was born in England and went to Canada on half pay. ONLY Regular British Army Officers were placed on half pay. When on half pay they were subject to recall to active duty when needed.
An "Adjutant" in military terms is an assistant to a commanding officer. Often the "Adjutant" acted like an executive officer. Due to battle and sickness, it would not be unknown for an Ensign (or acting Lieutenant) to be the Adjutant. "
Tonight, I think I may have found why he has been listed as two different Thomas Carpenters while in Delancey's brigade. I have the CD #144 on Loyalists- which include quite a few of the books and lists, etc. One which is a record from the PRO T64-23 (British public records I assume)is a list of the "Second Battalion, Delancey's, now serving on half-pay."
Col. Gabriel Ludlow was the commanding officer. No date but it was after 1781 b/c the next entry is dated April 22 1782 when the 2nd battalion was reduced. On the list which starts with the top officer and goes down accordingly there were supposed to be 9 lieutenants however, Nos. 8 and 9 are listed as "vacant" They had 8 Ensigns with No. 9 "vacant." Ensign Thomas Carpenter is listed as No. 2 on the list. Then one chaplain is listed followed by two Adjutants, the first one is "vacant" and the second one is Thomas Carpenter. Therefore, it appears that he was serving in two different capacities due probably to the shortage they were experiencing. This may explain why the confusion arose as to whether he was the ensign and adjutant as stated in the marriage records of the church or whether as seen in at least one source that there were two Thomas Carpenters in the same battalion! One an ensign and one an adjutant. (including on Delancey's 3rd battalion web site)
I think these records answer the question pretty well as to whether there were two Thomas' - I am now convinced after looking at the records, that the source I came across in my search (perhaps two) which listed them as two separate persons were in error. They listed the ensign as born in England and no place of birth was listed for the Adjutant.

"The second, a son of Joseph Carpenter also named Thomas who was a Sergeant in the provisional brigade. This was the Thomas who was able to petition Congress successfully for redress about 1790/1792. This second Thomas is the one that stayed and lived in New York City near his son."
Do you have any other info on him- was he a loyalist? and the petition to Congress for redress- what was that about? There is a Lieut Thomas Carpenter from Westchester County that served in the 2nd NY regiment and who also recd bounty land (from "New York in the Revolution as Colony and State") However, did your Thomas born in 1726, who m. Anne Stocker also serve in the military during the war? If so, was he in a provincial brigade (that would be a loyalist wouldn't it?) I have not come across him as a Sgt. in a loyalist brigade as yet and I would be interested in that information.

"Ahnentafel Chart for Thomas Carpenter-20039

First Generation

1. Thomas Carpenter-20039 was born 15 Feb 1726 in Musketa Cove, Queens, LI, NY. He died in Smithtown, Or Southold, LI, NY. He was buried Abt 14 May 1831 in Trinityepiscopal, Church Cem., Lansingburg, NY.

Number 56 in the book "The Carpenter Family in America" by Daniel H. Carpenter, 1901. Family on page 96.

Probably, after selling property willed to him by his father, he went back to Canada or England. See note below, however.

He went to St. John's, N.B., at the peace and was one of the grantees of that city.

On 30 Sept. 1797, he and his wife Lucretia sold land at Stamford, CT (her parents old property!). No further trace can be found. "

This should be changed!!

1. Thomas Carpenter-20039 was born 15 Feb 1726 in Musketa Cove, Queens, LI, NY. (He died in Smithtown, Or Southold, LI, NY. ?)

Number 56 in the book "The Carpenter Family in America" by Daniel H. Carpenter, 1901. Family on page 96.

In other words, Lucretia Quintard does not belong in this genealogy and neither does her husband, Thomas Carpenter. It should just end with the marriage to Anne Stocker and their son, Thomas.

Problem No. 4

Just to add to my problem of untangling the two Thomas Carpenters, it turned out there was a Joseph and Thomas Carpenter listed in the 1790 census for Rennselaer County and two Thomas' listed in the 1800 census. However, after going over them carefully, I was able to determine that my Thomas who came later than the 1st one, is in the 1810 census with the exact ages listed for one son, 3 daughters , his wife and himself. By 1820, they can easily be separated b/c Thomas lived in Lansingburg and the town is stated in the index for 1820 while the other more pioneer Carpenter family which kept growing had settled in Stephentown. Once I was able to separate the two families, I was able to figure out which land records were being bought by whom. Of note is that my Thomas is listed as T. Carpenter in the 1810 census and not as Thomas. I keep wondering if he was protecting his identity b/c he is very illusive from 1783 to 1810.

Now I am trying to figure out where he would have been mustered out- and whether they lived as a family at any time in New Brunswick b/c of the 3 children baptized in New Haven. Also, I am hoping to find out from military records from the PRO, some possible info on him when he joined the Foot Guards b/c that might provide his place of birth.

In any event, I am about to wind up my 2nd installment of research - I have put in sufficient time for the last unit. And then I can get back to doing this at leisure! However, from the info I have now, I am absolutely certain that your Thomas' 2nd marriage does not belong there! Of course, the author had no way of knowing where or when he died. And he admitted being somewhat hesitant about this Thomas and his marriages. I think the fact that both Thomas' married at St. Georges is what threw him off!

I would like to know something about this other Sgt. Thomas Carpenter and whether he was a loyalist! If you could fill me in- and his petition to Congress, etc. Also, if you could do a look-up for me sometime on the land sale on Long Island on CD #173 for Isaac Quintard land sale, I would very much appreciate it. No rush.

Thanks again for your help!
There have seemed to be two Thomas' all along the way to confuse the issue! (either two that should be one or one that should be two!)

Thomas Carpenter, this Thomas's son is not listed in the above record. Does he belong in another family? Maybe his son Joseph's son?

He was a Patriot and a private in a New York unit, D.A.R. Patriot Index, a Farmer and Friends Member at Rye, New York.
It is probable he married twice. See wife's notes.

In 1739, Thomas Carpenter bought several tracts of land in the lower part of "Harrison's Purchase," in Westchester County, in which deeds he lists himself as being "Thomas, Jr., "late of the i'sl of Nassau, now of Rye."
In 1743 (12,8,1743) charges were made against him by the Meeting "for some unbecoming expressions." He denied them and several months later they were dismissed as "not proven." (Purchase Minutes)

WILL: Will dated 5 Oct. 1775 and proven 24 Aug. 1784.

BIRTH:
Thomas was born on 25 6th month [August (not June)] 1710 (family record in Frost, Haviland Genealogy [1914], 186). The D. H. Carpenter volume consistently expresses pre-1752 Quaker records' numbered months as named ones as though the first month of the year were January rather than March. NOTE: Chances are you've got a lot of dates taken from that genealogy that are two months off.

v. GEORGE CARPENTER, b. 1829,,,Tennessee; m. FRANCES.
vi. MARY POLLY CARPENTER, b. 1832, Tenn; m. SAVAGE.
8. JESSE3 CARPENTER (JOHN2, THOMAS1) was born Abt. 1790 in Amherst Co Virginia. He married POLLY A. SIDWELL 1818 in Green Co, Kentucky, daughter of ZACKARIAH KEY. She was born Abt. 1800 in Kentucky, and died Bef. 1890 in Independence Co Ark.
Notes for JESSE CARPENTER:
He is listed in goodspeeds Memoris of NEArkansas 1895 as father of Thomas B. Carpenter and listing Polly A. Sidwell as mother. It states he was from Virginia and went to Alabama and then back to st. Francis Co Arkansas about 1833. This family disappears after 1840 census except for son Thomas B Carpenter found in Independence Co Ark and probably John L. Carpenter in Pike co with uncle and Larisa Carpenter living with other Carpenters in Pike Co also. It is suspected that the parents died and the relatives took the children in.

Jesse Carpenter was living on land in the NE sectiopn 4TWP 3 Range 2 and had 160 acres. This was in 1836. He was listed as male between 21 and 55 who had l horse. Next his is found in 1838 in NW12 Sec 4 Range 3 with 88 acres. John Carpenter is also listed in 1836 and a William Carpetner is listed in 1843 and 1844. Jesse is listed as J Carpenter in 1840 . According to the tax book it was patent land but he evidently didn't finish his homesteading because he is not listed in the numbered patent records.
Children of JESSE CARPENTER and POLLY SIDWELL are:
i. UNKNOWN FEMALE4 CARPENTER, b. Abt. 1822, Cumberland Co Ky.
ii. DAVID CARPENTER, b. Abt. 1824, Ky or Ala; m. UNKNOWN.
iii. JOHN CARPETNERR, b. 1826.
18. iv. THOMAS BRIDGEWATER CARPENTER, b. October 02, 1828,,Jackson, Alabama; d. Aft. 1895, Sulpher rock, Indep, Arkansas.
v. LOUISA CARPENTER, b. Abt. 1829, Alabama.
Notes for LOUISA CARPENTER:
Is found living with John carpenter Jr in 1850 census and suspect she is his cousin and daughter of Jesse Carpenter and Polly a. Sidwell. This is a guess on her being the sister of Thomas Bridgewater Carpenter , but being born in Ala and all the other information seems to verify this. Not proven yet.
vi. JAMES CARPENTER, b. Abt. 1830.
9. JAMES C.3 CARPENTER (JOHN2, THOMAS1) was born 1795 in Amherst Co Virginia, and died October 1850 in Monroe Co, Indiana. He married REBECCA RIDDLE February 17, 1818 in Cumberland Co, Ky, daughter of JAMES RIDDLE and JANE DAVIS.
Notes for JAMES C. CARPENTER:
James was drafted at Cumberland co Ky about 1 April 1814 into an Infantry co commanded by Edward Wilburn in the 14trh Reg Kentucky detached Militia commanded by Col. parker. He was honorably discharged at Burksville, Ky 12 June 1815 having taken part in the battle of New Orleans. Sometime before 1830 they moved to Indiana. They were in Floyd Co in 1830 , Harrison Co in 1840 and Crawford co in 1850. He died in Monroe co Indiana as the family was moving to Illinois and Rebecca and the 4 youngest sons came to Illinois and settled in Champaign co. It is said they had 12 children 3 born Kentucky and rest born in Indiana. Only nine lived to maturity.
James B. Carpenter bio stated that his paternal great grandfather was born in England and at very early day came to Virginia. His maternal great grandfather was a native of England and was a drummer boy in the British army during the Revolutionary War and he came to the new world. At the end of the war he decided to stay here and married and located in Virginia. He lived to be 110.
James M. Carpenter stated he moved with his parents to Kentucky where he was raised . after the war of 1812 he returned to Kentucky and began farming and married and they after the birth of 3 of their children they moved to Floyd Co Ind and then had 9more children. They sold farm and prepared to move to Ill but he died suddenly in 1854 at age 72. The mother and 3 sons went to Urbana Ill.

Notes for BENJAMIN CARPENTER:

This information is from the 1850 Arkansas census for Washington Twp Lawrence Co. Arkansas. It lists the following people with Wm, besides the Benjamin who is no doubt his son. Lavina 18 born Ill. Wm L. Carpenter born 10 age 10 Garrison Carpenter age 8 born Arkansas; Rutha Carpenter age 4, born Ark and Willam age 14 born Arkansas. Need to look at census again to find relationship if any was given. This William is no doubt the son of Benjamin, Rev soldier who died in Illinois. William named son Benjamin for father. He is is Lawrence Co which is just above Independence Co where my Carpenter family lived. Needs investigation.

Found on the l880; l900; l9l0 census of Arkansas Jackson County
Savannah was spoiled by her father and when she was in her teens was sent to a young ladies seminary in Huntsville, Alabama. It is interesting that she was sent to this area, as that is where her Mother family came from to Jackson County in 1840. later she returned to Newport and when she was but 17 she married in Searcy on 7 July 1887 to Thomas Garrison son of the Reverand Garrison of Newport Methodist church. No doubt she met him while visiting her sister Nellie in Searcy as Rev. Garrison had been stationed previously in Searcy. From family information it is thought that the marriage was frowned upon by the family, specially Amelia Hamilton Morris and it may have had to do with their young ages as Tom Garrison was but 18 and was working on the steamboat on the White River. He later became a steamboat Captain. It seemed everything was done to break up this marriage. they separated on 15 Sept 1888 and were divorced 17 July 1891. Tom Garrison and Savannah kept in contact with one another in later years. They had l daughter Caroline(Dubie) Garrison. It is said by my Aunt that Savannah always loved Tom and regretted the divorce and blamed her Mother for the event.
Savannah married 2nd Jesse Lee Carpenter in 1894. he was the son of Thomas Bridgewater Carpenter and Tabitha Garrett of Independence Co. Ark. Jesse was educated and had a good position in merchandising. He had been a teacher in Independence Co at one time. Savannah and Jesse were divorced in 1904 in Newport, Ark. Savannah lived with her father in Newport during this time. It was said the drinking and gambling of Jesse was to blame.
Savannah was proud of the Morris heritage and her French ancestors and was a petite and spirited woman. She played the piano well and I remember her playing the song " After the Ball if Over" when she was over 80 and playing it well. She told many stories of her father and had great affection for him.
She told how the people of Newport called him " Uncle Billy". Savannah left Newport and went to Fort Smith about 1914 with Doris and Charles and later moved to Los Angeles and then to Arizona to be with her daughter Doris in Miami ,AZ. She died 5 May 1953 in Los Angeles and is buried in Los Angeles cemetery.

209. Stephen Carpenter

Number 63 in the book "The Carpenter Family in America" by Daniel H. Carpenter, 1901.

He died of small pox in New York City. He was an Innholder of Outward, New York City of the "Bulls Head Taveren" and a farmer.
Picture 1783 in "Valentine's Manuel."
NOTE: Ellwood Valentine was related to this Carpenter family and maintained records on this family. Daniel H. Carpenter used these records as a source.
I assume that Ellwood was related to Captain Jacob Valentine due to a reference in the above book regarding a Bible. (see page 126)
(The Inn was in Manhattan?)

On Nov. 26, 1753, Stephen Carpenter posted bond with Petter Ferris of East Chester, West Chester county, NY.
Nicholas Baynard was made administrator of Stephen Carpenter's estate on Jan. 16, 1755, with John VanCortlandt posting bond.

MORE:

211. Isaac Carpenter

Number 65 in the book "The Carpenter Family in America" by Daniel H. Carpenter, 1901.

He was a farmer at Harrisons, Westchester county, NY.
!He was a Quaker and a Patriot. He served America in the Revolutionary War as he defended himself against Loyalists and warned people of the advance of Gen. Howe and his British troops. He was a preacher of that society.
His farm was nearly ruined during the Revolutionary War, as it was so situated as to be alternately occupied by both armies.
As a Friend, he could take no active part in the fighting. At the Battle of White Plains, a skirmish took place in a rye field near his house, the wounded being cared for there. He and possibly his family helping the wounded.
This time the Americans occupied his farm and were quartered there.
He was taken sick with "camp fever" and died 21 May 1778.

WILL: Will dated 4 Sept. 1777 and proved 21 May 1783 (a consequence of the war). See New York Wills, vol. 36, p. 80. John Haviland and Joseph Carpenter executors.

HARMONY & NORTH HARMONY
This synopsis incompasses both Harmony and North Harmony.
HARMONY was taken off from Chautauqua, Feb 14, 1816. A part of Busti was taken off in 1823. It comprised townships 1 and 2 in range 13, together with two tiers of lots in townships 1 and 2 in range 12, from PA line to Chautauqua Lake, and two additional lots in township 2, 12th range, south of the lake, which included the village of Ashville. Making it the largest town in the county.
NORTH HARMONY was taken off from Harmony on Jan 1, 1919. Due to this late date. The pioneer information of these two towns remains combined for this synopsis.
Original Purchases in Harmony- Township 1, Range 13.

PARENTS:
Agnes Sutherland and Bestsy _____.

WILL:
SUSANNA'S will was executed on 19 April 1812 and probated at Troy, N.Y., 13 Sept. 1813 (Vol. 4, Pg. 419, courthoouse at Troy); friends NATHAN NICHOLS, JONATHAN HALL AND HANNAH MOSHER were named executors. The will mentions second son FRANCIS, third son SILAS and his wife PHEBE, and youngest son, ELIHU and his wife, PATIENCE. Witnesses were ABRAHAM MOSHER, JONATHAN HALL and HANNAH MOSHER. Troy Monthly Meeting records indicate SUSANNA was very active in the women's affairs there. Some old records list her husband as JANE S. instead of JAMES.

CARPENTER family- Josiah came from Pittstown, Rensselaer Co., NY in 1808 and bought 1,000 acres. He bought Lots 55,56, 64 lying from 1-2 miles Southwest from Ashville. His son James settled on part (lot 56) of this land in 1808- James and young wife stayed first in Thomas Bemus cabin, where son was born that year- first birth in town. In 1811, Josiah returned and built a home on Lot 64. He came with with 4 sons- Daniel B., Isaac, Josiah Jr, and Timothy- his 7 daus md respectively: Israel Carpenter, Orange Phelps, Gilbert Ward, Oliver Pier, Samuel Green and Henry Hosier- Mary was unmarried.
MORE:
The first town meeting for election of officers was held in 1816- No record of those elected is available. Although Palmer Phillips is recorded as representing town at suprvisors meetings.
On April 1, 1817 the following were elected officers:
Supervisor- Palmer Phillips Town Clerk- Orange Phelps Assessors- Wm. Matteson, Daniel B. Carpenter, Joseph S. Pember. Com'rs of Highways- Palmer Phillips, Wm. Matteson, D.B. Carpenter. Com'rs of Schools- Palmer Phillips, Joseph Pember, Orange Phelps. Collector- Wm. Matteson Jr. Canstables- Noah Chapman, Wm. Matteson Jr. Overseers of Poor- Obadiah Morely, Israel Carpenter. Pound Masters- Wm. Matteson, Israel Carpenter, Josiah Palmeter. Fence Viewers- Thomas Bemus, Nicholas Webber, Timothy Jenner. Sealer- Jonas Lamphear.
The first saw-mill was built by Reuben Slayton Jr. in Ashville, in 1811- to which a grist-mill was soon added. Israel Carpenter, with Oliver Pier and Stephen Groom built about 1820 a saw-mill and grist-mill at Blockville. A saw-mill was built around 1825 by Francis W. Mather- 3 miles south of Panama. Isaac Carpenter built a mill in 1828 a mile below Blockville. A saw-mill was also built by Harvey and Theron Bly in 1847 on Goose Creek.

HARMONY
Original Purchases in Harmony.—Township 1, Range 13. ... ...Township 1, Range 12.1808. July, Josiah Carpenter, 55, 56, 64....1823. December, Silas Carpenter, 54. Isaac Foster, 54.1825. October, Reuben Benedict, 63. November, Truman Terry, 62. December, Heman S. Matteson, 62. Josiah Carpenter, 61....
The earliest settlements in the town of Harmony, were made in that part of it which lies in the 12th range. The first settlement in this town is said, in the State Gazetteer, to have been made by Reuben Slayton, from Otsego Co., in 1806, on lot 43; Daniel B. Carpenter, the same year, on lot 64:Jonathan Cheney, on lot 52, in 1807; Theron Bly, from Otsego Co., on lot 44, and Wm. Matteson on lot 52, both in 181 1; and James Carpenter on lot 56, in 1816. This statement is not only very indefinite, but in nearly every particular incorrect. There are in Harmony three lots with each of the numbers 43, 44, 52, 56, and 64, namely: one in each of the two entire townships in range 13, and one in the strip from range 12. The dates of settlement, above mentioned, are believed to be misstated in the case of every person named, except one. (Pg. 431)
In 1810, came Thomas Matteson; also Wm. Matteson, Jr., and his brother Estys, who were followed in 1811 by their father, Wm. Matteson, Sr., who died in 1858, in his 99th year. He was the last surviving Revolutionary pensioner in this county; having served, when quite young, during the last two years of the war. His son Victor M.[Matteson], and daughter Mehetabel, [ne Matteson] widow of Isaac Carpenter, are the only surviving children living in this county. _ James Carpenter, as will be seen hereafter, came seven years earlier than the year stated in the Gazetteer. (Pg. 432)
In the east part of the town. . . John H. Matteson settled on lot 62, near where his son Elisha [Matteson] resides. (Pg. 433)
The annual town-meeting was held at Eleazar Fletcher's, April 1, 1817,when the following officers were elected: Supervisor—Palmer Phillips. Town Clerk—Orange Phelps. Assessors— Wm. Matteson, Daniel B. Carpenter, Joseph S. Pember. Cofn'rs of Highways— Palmer Phillips, Wm. Matteson, Daniel B. Carpenter. Corners of Schools—Palmer Phillips, Joseph S. Pember, Orange Phelps. Collector— Wm. Matteson, Jr. Constables—Noah Chapman, Wm. Matteson, Jr. Over-seers of Poor—Obadiah Morley, Israel Carpenter. Poundmasters— Wm. Matteson, Israel Carpenter, Josiah Palmeter. Fence Viewers—Thomas Bemus, Nicholas Webber, Timothy Jenner. Sealer—Jonas Lamphear. (Pg. 436)

473. Mahab Carpenter

MAHAB is number 18-2 in the book TIMOTHY CARPENTER DESCENDANTS. She married WILLIAM STANTON and had children. WILLIAM STANTON is NOT listed in the STANTON GENEALOGY.
MAHAB was devised 5 shillings in accordance with her father's will, dated 12-4-1787 and probated 2-15-1806. Family Tradition records her son BENJAMIN STANTON probably was the grandfather of EDWIN STANTON, President LINCOLN'S Secretary of War. Research (1976) on the STANTON line does not substantiate this family folklore.

2014 UPDATE: With the TC Descendants book, under the subfolder JC 2013 Update is the final Family Chronicle article and Reister report. See E-MAIL dated 3 May 2014 below.

JEREMIAH is listed as 19-2 TIMOTHY CARPENTER DESCENDANTS. He married a JANE SHEARS who died prior to 1810. SECOND MARRIAGE to MRS. MARY HARMON, A WIDOW.

Issue by first wife only. The widow had one child (ELIOT) from her previous marriage.
He was devised the remainder of his father's estate, as to moveables, as per will dated 4 DEC 1787 and probated at Troy, N.Y. on 15 FEB 1806.

He served in the Revolutionary War with the 14th Albany Regt. of NY. The REVOLTIONARY WAR APPLICATION on record is in the files of the NATIONAL ARCHIVES in WASHINGTON DC, but he died before receiving final action.

Page 95 lists his service record and attempts by his widows to collect a War pension. He resided in Wales, Erie county since 1818 to be near his sons and probably died there.
JEREMIAH'S gravestone was in a deterioated, undecipherable condition in 1968 when visited by the compiler of T. Carpenter Descendants, and even worse condition in 1974.

His gravesite is being registered with the National Cemetery System, Veterans Administration, Washington, D.C. 20420, in an attempt to obtain a new grave marker for the site. Please see Page 94 and 95 for more details (in the T. Carpenter book).

Dear John:
I just noticed that you mentioned that your CD is in the final stage. I had no idea you were that far along. I would appreciate it very much if you would make a comment in my lineage. As you know I have found some errors in Charles L. Carpenter's book "Descendants of Timothy Carpenter." I sent you one of the corrections. I am still working on the next generation. My line goes as follows:

1) Bonnie J. Shanklin Huser
2) Mary J. Carpenter Shanklin
3) Frank Carpenter
4) William Carpenter
5) William Carpenter
6) Jeremiah Carpenter (possibly). I am still working on this line.

I have proven that (#5) William Carpenter migrated to Wales, Erie Co., New York from Pompey, Onondago Co., New York in 1811. He was the first Carpenter to purchased land from the Holland Land Company and settle in the Wales area. I have proof up to this transaction. However, I also believe that Charles L. Carpenter has many mistakes in that next generation. I have about 30 wills for all the Carpenters in the Wales, Erie Co., NY area. I believe my William is the son of Jeremiah Carpenter. In William, Sr.'s probate will there is mention of Abraham Carpenter, Harriet Carpenter, Lydia Carpenter, Joseph Carpenter, and George W. Carpenter.
Would you please note in this generation there are possible errors if you are using the data from Charles L. Carpenter's book.
Thanking you. Please advise. Bonnie Huser.

John - I have been in touch with you over the years, as I descend from the Timothy Carpenter line through his son - the Revolutionary War veteran Jeremiah Carpenter - who lived in Dutchess, Rennselear, Onondaga, and Erie Counties in New York from 1760 to his death in 1840. Charles L. Carpenter's book on Timothy Carpenter and descendants, and some records submitted also for your Carpenter encyclopedia, are not correct as to Jeremiah's family. You responded to one of my requests to correct the record by indicating that only completing a GEDCOM file would do the trick.I, and two other Carpenter researchers, have done just that. The Register Report is attached for Jeremiah, his correct children, and the next four generations. There is also an executive summary on the proving of the children. There is also a companion document - not attached - that has 225 pages of the raw documentation, the recording of every known record for those early generations.I would hope that you would include the attached documents in any future Carpenter encyclopedias. The incorrect information is all over the internet, and I am going to try some ways to see if we can get the correct version out. Any advice you have would be welcomed. This is a truly monumental research effort, and one that has followed the best practices in researching and presenting the information. Thanks for your consideration. I would be happy to answer any questions.John LairdSanta Cruz, CA

CARPENTER EXECUTIVE SUMMARY:
Jeremiah Carpenter Revolutionary War Veteran and His Family -
Executive Summary

Overview. Jeremiah Carpenter was a Revolutionary War veteran from New York who lived from 1760 to 1840 in Duchess, Rensselear, Onondaga, and Erie Counties in New York. He was one of the children of Timothy Carpenter and Elizabeth Anderson - who descended from early Carpenters in Massachusetts and Rhode Island.

Jeremiah was chronicled in the 1976 book that Charles Lorain Carpenter compiled, "The Descendants of Timothy Carpenter of Pittstown, Rensselaer County, New York", a valuable genealogical resource. However, the book is not correct about the ages and members of Jeremiah's family, but has been picked up without question and posted on Internet and family tree websites. This summary will briefly set forth the facts contained in a long companion research document that proves the correct members of Jeremiah's family - a family that is different from that listed in the Charles L. Carpenter book.

Linking Jeremiah to his children is difficult because Jeremiah left no probate, he was not in any property transactions in the last twenty-five years of his life, there is no marriage record that appears to exist for either of his marriages, his revolutionary war pension record lists only his second wife Mary and mentions none of his children, and he lived during a time when U. S. census records did not name people but only listed them by age.

This necessitates more focused research using any fact that can be gleaned from other sources. These sources suggest five known children for Jeremiah - with the link for each based on unique sets of facts. There is a likelihood of as many as four additional female children - who could have married and remain unknown because of the absence of marriage and probate records for Jeremiah and his family members.

This summary seeks to briefly demonstrate the facts on who Jeremiah's children really were. A much longer text document compiles all available information from census, probate, marriage, property, cemetery, and other records - starting with Rev. War veteran Jeremiah Carpenter and his children, with an especially large section on his son Joseph and family, my ancestral line. Information will also be listed about Carpenters in the immediate areas where our Carpenters were, with the presumption that some can eventually be placed with the family somehow, or used to separate them from our own if that is the case. There is also a brief section on Jeremiah's ancestry.

I also have been in touch with other Carpenter descendants who are researching this line, and they have been incredibly skilled and helpful in this research. I have mentioned them in the narrative for the contributions they had made, and for where they connect.

Proving Jeremiah's Children

The place to start this discussion is with the Charles Lorain Carpenter book on the descendants of Jeremiah's father, Timothy Carpenter. Charles L. Carpenter lists ten children for Jeremiah. He lists eight children by name: Jeremiah Jr. (1783); Joseph (1785); Copeland (1787); Niles (1789); John (1791); William R. (1793); Nancy (1795); and George Washington (February 2, 1801). He listed a ninth unknown female as born in 1797, and a tenth child with no gender or birth year listed.

I believe there are five known children of Jeremiah and Jane - Nancy, William, Joseph Jeremiah Jr., and George W. Based on later census and tombstone information where it exists - Nancy was born ca 1782/83; William ca 1784; Joseph ca 1789/1790; Jeremiah Jr. ca 1795/1798; and George W. ca 1800/1801. There are as many as four other unnamed female children.

It is safe to assume that any children that Jeremiah and Jane had who lived past childbirth were listed in the 1790, 1800, 1810, or 1820 censuses. Jeremiah and Jane probably married in the 1780 time frame, and Jane was dead by Jeremiah's remarriage ca 1816. I'll recount those four censuses:

1790. Jeremiah Carpenter is shown in Pittstown, then in Albany County, in the 1790 census with one male over sixteen (Jeremiah), two under sixteen (Joseph and William), and three females (Jane, Nancy, and an unidentified third female).

1800. The 1800 census listing for Jeremiah (shown as "Jedediah" in the actual record) in Pompey, Onondaga County shows a man and woman between twenty-six and forty-five (Jeremiah and Jane); one female between sixteen and twenty-six (Nancy); two males and one female between ten and sixteen (Joseph, William, and one unknown female); and two females and one male under ten (Jeremiah Jr. and two unknown females).

1810. The 1810 census listing for Jeremiah in Pompey, Onondaga County, shows one man and one woman over the age of forty-five (Jeremiah and Jane), one woman between sixteen and twenty-six (Nancy reportedly had a son in December, so was probably married and out of the house - she was over twenty-six this year, so this appears to be one of the unknown girls from 1800), one man and one woman between ten and sixteen (Jeremiah Jr. and the other unknown girl from 1810), and one boy and one girl each under the age of ten George W. and unknown girl). William and Joseph had their own entries in the 1810 census. I have yet to find a listing for Pardon Case and Nancy in this census - but as stated it is likely they were out of this house, and their three person family in this year does not fit into this census entry.

1820. Jeremiah Carpenter is shown in the 1820 census in Wales, in Niagara County (pre-Erie County, Erie was formed in this location in 1821), with a man over forty-five (Jeremiah), a woman between twenty-six and forty-five (second wife Mary, who was born ca 1793-94 according to her 1854 pension filing), one man and one woman between sixteen and twenty-six (George W. and unknown woman), and two boys under ten (Elliot, Mary's son, and unknown second boy). William, Jeremiah Jr. and Joseph - as well as Pardon Case and Nancy - each have their own entries nearby in the 1820 census.

These census entries together with facts from other records clearly identify the five children of Jeremiah and Jane:

1) Nancy is linked by a number of researchers, and is shown in Erie County in the 1855 census with a Carpenter, her son was named Jeremiah (and according to Charles Carpenter he was named Jeremiah Carpenter Case), one of her two daughters was named Jane (her mother's name) and her county of birth was shown in a census record as Rensselaer.

2) William was in Erie and Onondaga Counties at the right place and time. His 1810 Onondaga census entry is with a cluster with our Carpenters. George W. Carpenter's 1882 obituary shows that he walked from Pompey to Wales ca 1813 and lived with his brother William there until 1822. William was in a deed with a nephew of Jeremiah in 1816 in pre-Erie Niagara County. His wife Polly is shown with him in the 1816 deed. Philo lists his father's birth (John Carpenter, oldest son of William) as in Pompey Hill in 1808, placing this William there. William died intestate in 1827 in Erie County, listing widow Polly and five children. His wife Polly Carpenter remarried Stephen Searles, as stated in his obituary years later. Stephen is shown to have two stepchildren, Lydia and William. The death certificates of both in Michigan list William Carpenter and Polly Cobb as their parents. John Carpenter, son of William, is shown in the 1830 census in Erie County next to Stephen Searles.

3) Joseph's 1869 will in McHenry County, Illinois ties him to nine children. His daughter Viletta, tied to him by his will, died in Illinois in 1879 where her death record lists that she was born in Pompey, Onondaga County, New York in 1814. Joseph's oldest son was named Jeremiah, and showed Onondaga County as the County of his birth. Joseph was listed as his father Jeremiah's agent in 1818. Joseph is listed in deed records with fellow family members in Erie County. A biography of Joseph's son David in a Wisconsin county history lists his father as Joseph and places him outside of Buffalo in 1827 when David was born, where Joseph was shown next to his son-in-law Squire Blodgett in the 1840 Erie Co. census. Joseph also married Caroline Case, and it is possible that she was the sister of the Case who married Nancy - indicating that it is possible a brother and a sister married a brother and a sister. Joseph and Carolina Carpenter are shown signing deeds by these names - both in Erie County and in McHenry County, IL.

4) Jeremiah Jr. is linked by name, records with family members, and proximity was listed in the 1855 Erie County census as having prior residence in Onondaga County.

5) George W. is shown as son of Jeremiah in a biography of his son. He is also in the right locations with other Carpenters in other records.

The census entries of 1790 through 1820 for Jeremiah match the above five children.

The only issue not completely resolved with the census entries is the issue of the unknown women in these early census entries of Jeremiah. There is an extra female in the 1790 entry, although it could have been a sister or mother to either Jeremiah or Jane as that year's census listing did not list ages for women. In 1800, there was an unknown female between ten and sixteen (which is of the age to be the extra female of 1790); and two unknown females under the age of ten. In 1810, there is an unknown woman between sixteen and twenty-six, and an unknown girl under the age of ten - the older one being of the age to have been one of the unknown females in 1800. In 1820, there is an unknown woman between sixteen and twenty-six, old enough to be the unknown younger female from 1810. The fact that there were three unidentified females together at once in the 1800 census, and one in 1810 that had been born since 1800, means that there were at least four female children in this family in addition to daughter Nancy.

[By numbering the unknown females and matching them to the census entries, and making Nancy "Girl 1" - Girl 2 was born before 1790 and shown in 1790 and 1800; Girl 3 was born between 1790 and 1800 and was shown in 1800; Girl 4 was born between 1790 and 1794, and was shown in 1800 and 1810; and Girl 5 was born between 1800 and 1804, and was shown in 1810 and 1820. Given that the last known male child was born ca 1800/1801, the ages of these unknown daughters fit with the other children's ages. These ages also generally fit with the women marrying and leaving the household, rather than dying. So it is likely that there were other related families that were in the vicinity of Jeremiah and the identified children.]

Once it is established that these are the five identified children of Jeremiah, we can work back through their census entries to identify their ages. Nancy was listed in censuses in 1850 and after place her birth year as 1781 or 1782. William's census entries with Jeremiah and in 1810 and 1820 would place his birth year about 1784. Joseph's census records in 1850 or after place his birth year as 1789 or 1790. Jeremiah Jr.'s future census records put his birth year in the 1795/1798 range. George W.'s son's biography lists George W. Sr.'s birth year as 1800, but other records suggest 1801.

Now that the children of Jeremiah have been identified, placed in birth order, and assigned general dates for their birth - this family can be compared to the family that Charles L. Carpenter listed.

Charles listed Niles and Copeland as sons of Jeremiah. They were not. John C. (Copeland) was born June 1, 1823 and was a son of George W. Carpenter and grandson of Jeremiah Sr. (Charles has an entry for both Copeland and John Copeland, even though they were one person in the grandchild generation); Niles was born in May 1825, a son of Jeremiah Jr. and grandson of Jeremiah Carpenter Sr.

Charles listed John Carpenter as a son of Jeremiah. There were two John Carpenters in the Erie County region. One was the John Carpenter born June 25, 1808, the son of William Carpenter and the grandson of Jeremiah. The other was an older John who was born in Pennsylvania and is not of our Carpenters. Charles L. Carpenter combined the two, gave that John the birth year of the Pennsylvania-born John and made them a son of Jeremiah. There was not a son of Jeremiah named John.

Charles L. Carpenter does list a William as a son of Jeremiah. However, he listed William R. (Rodman) Carpenter, who was not the William that was the son of Jeremiah, but was William Rodman Carpenter, the son of James Carpenter and Anna Rodman - and who died in 1868, forty years after the William who was the son of Jeremiah died.

Charles L. Carpenter also listed Nancy as having married Paulon Cose. That was probably an error in record reading, as Nancy, in fact, married Pardon Case. Joseph and Jeremiah Jr. were born later than Charles Carpenter had listed.

Charles had one unnamed female born in 1797 and another child of unknown age or gender. There were as many as four female children other than Nancy in this family, and one could have been born in the 1797 period, but there is no evidence as to what year any one of them was born.

In summary, Charles Carpenter named eight children of Jeremiah, and noted unnamed women. He was off on the ages of the children, and the fact that John, Niles, and (John) Copeland were grandchildren and not children of Jeremiah. He was also off on which William he suggested as a son of Jeremiah, which John is the grandson, and that Nancy married Pardon Case rather than Paulon Cose.

There are five children of Jeremiah that fit public records and can be named. There is a companion document that is over 220 pages that lists all public record entries for Jeremiah, his children and descendants to about 1900. It is the backup for the summary that is listed here.

John,
I like it. It was a journey of discovery, correction and education. You covered the problems, solutions and summary very well. It was not easy, but the results were well worth it.
You do know that you could have used my name? But the way it was done was fine also.
With your permission, I will use the your current pdfs – as is – to help others with Jeremiah's line, show how to correct so called accepted genealogies and to generally educate others.
For the notes heading of Jeremiah Carpenter-65, I currently list ...

Subject: Jeremiah Carpenter Article
John - Hope this reaches you in good spirit. You and I had corresponded last year about the Jeremiah Carpenter family issue and the article I was writing for Family Chronicle on the issue. The magazine has finally run the article, copies his mailboxes this week, and I have attached the article FYI - which, while having been revised since you and I had our exchange, still includes the language you suggested about our interactions. I have posted a GEDCOM file to ancestry.com, and included notes for Jeremiah and each of his family members - but not for the subsequent generations, although they are all there in complete format. It was a really good exercise.Just wanted to keep you up to date. Best, John HANNAH is listed as #21-2 in the book TIMOTHY CARPENTER DESCENDANTS.

She is also listed in TIMOTHY'S C. will.
8209001 26 BATCH AND SHEET Number 0884787 LIBARY CALL Number

Per the T. Carpenter book:
HANNAH is recorded in some old records as HANNAH CARPENTER DELONG. Until proven otherwise, we accept it as given above (ie a child of the first marriage). She was devised the northern portion of her father's farm; his will records it was his "will and pleasure that HANNAH's spouse NEHEMIAH enjoy the tract during his natural life." Later, this family moved westward to Steuben, N.Y.
The compiler was unable to find any conveyance having been made by HANNAH and her spouse in the Pittstown area. Gravesites inspected by the compiler in 1974, were in a dilapidated state. This cemetery is practically bushed over, with many stones down. NEHEMIAH'S stone is standing, but about to topple, while HANNAH'S already had. There were other WALLACE stones there.

HANNAH DELONG married NEHEMIAH WALLACE In 1782. He is sometimes listed as "NICHOLAS" - They had children. NEHEMIAH served in the Revolutionary war with brother-in-laws JOSIAH and JEREMIAH in the 14th Albany Regiment of milita.

Nehemiah Wallace

NEHEMIAH WALLACE'S name is sometimes recorded as NICHOLAS WALLACE. He was the son of NATHANIEL and PATIENCE (EARLE) WALLACE and was named one of the executors of TIMOTHY CARPENTER'S will. He served in the 14th Albany Regiment of Milita in the Revolutionary War, as did his brother-in-law, JOSIAH and JEREMIAH. This regiment was formed from the Hoosick-Schaghticoke areas.
His gravesite in Beechville Cemetery inspected by C.L. Carpenter, the compiler of TIMOTHY CARPENTER DESCENDANTS in 1974, indicated his stone was about to topple and the area about bushed over. His stone indicated he was AGE 78 YR., 5 MO., 4 DAYS. There were other WALLACE stones there, but only two are decipherable: THOMAS R. WALLACE, D. 8-6-1882, AGE 74, and PRUNDIA ANN WALLACE, WIFE OF JOHN ROSE WALLACE, D. 8-23-1889, AGE 70 YR., 2 MO., 20 DAYS.
NEHEMIAH'S gravesite is being registered by the above compiler with the National Graves Commission, Washington, D.C.

Dear John,
What a thrill to get this information from you! Thank you so much. I can't handle GEDCOM, but would love to have any further information you could send me. If necessary, I will send you my postal address.
Can you tell me how I could obtain the Daniel H. Carpenter book, or the Carpenter Historical Journal? Both sound like something I would love to be able to reference.
The information below is what I have on Henry Carpenter on down. Obviously, some lines are more complete than others. The DeGarmo information is well documented. The Sutton information...I am trying to get documented. The Sutton/Carpenter link is quite new to me, and was sent by Gil Leach, a Stoughtenburg/Ring researcher who had it in his family records. He had dates only. His email address is: gilbleach@aol.com
He has been a gem in terms of sharing his knowledge. He would probably love to hear from you, as well. I will send him a copy of what you sent to me.
I look forward to hearing from you.
Thank you again (so very much!),

Phebe Dickinson

West Farms now the 23rd Ward of NYC.

History
West Farms was a town originally located in Westchester County, until 1873 when it was annexed by New York city. In 1898 it was incorporated into The Bronx County which is one of the New York City counties/buroughs. When looking for vital records for the town of Westchester, you will need to check both counties, as well as the records located at the NYC Municipal Arhives. See also the Eastchester Historical Society.

Boundaries: "The patent for West Farms was granted to John Richardson and Edward Jessup April 25, 1666. 'Bounded east by the river called by the Indians Aquehung, otherwise Bronks river, westerly by a little brook called by the Indians Sackwrahung, and southward to the Sound at East river, including a certain neck called Quinahung.' Edward Jessup had a daughter Elizabeth, who married Thomas Hunt, and his part came into their possession. The whole was divided in 1669. Thomas Hunt having the part still known as 'Hunt's Point.'"

Hi, Nancy,
You wrote:
Dear Jan,

I was reading over your geneology info in Ancestry.com and came upon the information that Phebe "Carpenter" married Nathaniel Wright.The family information I have and according to "Memorial of the Townsend Brothers" pub.in 1875 says that phebe's mother,Betsy Townsend married first Lewis Carpenter by whom she had Thomas,Henry and Townsend.She married second Robert Little by whom she had Phebe,Elizabeth,and Martha.Thus Phebe was in fact Phebe Little from whom I am descended and of whom I have a daguerretype picture.Phebe was born Feb.10,1789 and died Apr.15,1867.Nathaniel Wright was born May 11,1787 and died July 30,1866.
I hope this is some help,and would like to know why our information differs.

Nancy Taylor
I have no earthly idea! But, John Carpenter, copied above might now. Hey, John, how about seeing if you have anything. Thanks, Jan
REPLY
Hello Jan & Nancy,
I am sorry for the delay in replying. I wanted to check some things out before answering. I did not get the answer I was looking for however.
In the 1700s, formal adoptions were fairly rare. Legal adoption was mainly used to help designate property or title from a step parent or guardian to the adoptive child or heir. Overwhelmingly adoptions were for males and many were in their teens or older.
How important were "heirs?" The Magna Carta stresses "our heirs for ever" over and over. These "heirs" were designated either by their own loins or by that of others. Just reviewing the Magna Carta and doing a key word search will show you how important this was. See the following web page.
http://eawc.evansville.edu/anthology/magnacarta.htm
It was not until the beginning of the Industrial Revolution that more formal and legal protections were afforded to illegitamate and orphan children. Massachusetts lead the American states in 1851 in standardizing laws for adoption. England didn't do this until 1921. See the following web page for related information.
http://www.findarticles.com/cf_dls/g2699/0003/2699000361/p1/article.jhtml While some form of adoption has been around for thousands of years to provide for lost, orphan and such children. Many of the noble or great or not-so-great have been adopted. The Babylonian King Hammurabi with his written Code of Hammurabi is the earliest to survive intact with clear definitions of adoption. The following web page has details. I will provide extracts in the following paragraphs.
http://adoption.about.com/library/weekly/aa090699.htm?iam=excite_1&terms=heirs+adopt "Adoption was very common during the ancient/classical periods, and generally involved adults - to carry on a dynasty, occupation, or family name; to care for a parent in old age, or to protect property rights."
"Perhaps the first well-known reference to adoption (or what we presume to be adoption) is the story of Moses who, as recorded in the Old Testament [Exodus 2:5-10], was adopted by Pharaoh's daughter in the 13th century BC."
"And of course, no adoption story would be complete without mention of Jesus Christ who was adopted by Joseph the Carpenter. According to practices of the times,when Joseph married Mary, he accepted Jesus as his own, which would carry the same legal weight as a modern-day adoption."
"Charles Dickens' 1838 classic wasn't far off the mark. In England, adoption existed, but without standard legal statutes. Other options for orphans, abandoned, and destitute children were workhouses, children's homes, orphanages, and kinship care.
During the time period 1597-1866, it was common for children who had been convicted of crimes to be deported to America or Australia together with adult criminals. And Child Migrants were sent from Britain and Ireland to the colonies as early as 1618. These children, generally between the ages of 5 and 12, were taken from children's homes and orphanages with the express purpose of culturally swamping "the native peoples by increasing the white population." They were often institutionalized or indentured when they arrived, and were notoriously ill-treated."
There is many interesting aspects of adoption. I suggest the following web page for more fascinating reading on the subject.
http://adoption.about.com/cs/historyarticles/index.htm
Now back to the 1700s.
English common law had no codes for adoption. It did for property. For all intents and purposes, people often became property. You could be fined or held liable under the "common law" for your property causing problems. Women were considered property of their husbands.
If you took in a widow, you were responsible for her children. If you took an apprentice (a young child most often), you were responsible for them. The same concept was extended to property, slaves and other indentured children (or adults). Older children often kept their birth surnames. The younger children sometimes were known by both their biological and adoptive surnames.
You could change your name very easily in those times. All you had to do was move to an area where they did not know you and state your version of your name. That was then accepted there.

Elizabeth Townsend-27564 married Lewis Carpenter-22625 on 27 Aug 1775 at St. George's, Church, Hempstead, NY.
On 7 Oct 1786 at the 1st Presbyterian, Church, New York City, NY she married Robert Little later of Horse-Heads, Chemung, NY but noted as of Orange county, NY at that time.
Eleven years had past from her first marriage to her second. The Townsend Memorial says she had three children, all males, during this 11 year time period.
Daniel H. Carpenter who compiled the 1901 "Carpenter Family in America" book states that (page 135 notes) that a Mr. William T. Carpenter of Horse-Heads, Chemung, NY wrote in a letter dated November 1893 that his grandfather was Lewis Carpenter (the one who married Elizabeth Townsend-27564) and that his widowed grandmother married Robert Little.
An earlier letter, dated February 1, 1893 from the same person, indicates that Elizabeth Townsend who married Lewis Carpenter had 3 males and 3 female children. See page 134.
To Daniel H. Carpenter's credit he provides the conflicting data. In my CE CD 2001, I do the same. See the attached jpg pictures of his book.
That Robert Little raised his stepchildren seems highly probable. The 3 male sons of Lewis Carpenter went with Lewis Little to the town of Horse-Heads. There they stayed for many years before they began to go different ways.
If Elizabeth Townsend had a child every 2.5 years in her first marriage she would have had about 4 children. Every 2.0 years she would have had 5 1/2 children.
With the information I have, Robert Little was 35 or so when he married the widow. This was probably his second marriage? Who were the children of his first marriage? Is there duplicate names? The widow may have been slightly older and probably still able to bear a few more children.
Question: Phebe Little or Phebe Carpenter? If the 10 Feb 1789 is birth date for the Phebe who married Nathaniel Wright, then we have the answer. If the 10 Feb 1789 date is when she and others were accepted into a Church, then we need to look some for more supporting data.
I hope my long winded excursion with a basic history into adoption was interesting. The reality is that we may never know on some of our ancestors who was and was not adopted informally. At least with Phebe we have a date and a mild debate!

Dear John,
Thankyou very much for all the information you have provided relative to Phebe Carpenter or Little.It will take a while to digest it all.
I have some for you to throw into the mix.I am sending you 3 pages
(RIN 27564 ELIZ TOWNSEND A,B,C IN MISC PICS - withdrawn)
I am scanning written by George Nathaniel Hauptman(1844-1924),brother of my great grandfather,John Clinton Hauptman(1856-1923) and son of John Foster Hauptman(1819-1901).John Foster married Martha Wright(1820-1905),daughter of Phebe Carpenter or Little and Nathaniel Wright.The handwriting is rather difficult to read,but you can glean some interesting information from it.
I also have a daguerretype of Phebe with a handwritten note inserted into the frame saying,"Mother's mother.Phoebe Wright,born May 5,1789,JCH. JCH was my greatgrandfather ,John Clinton Hauptman.
At any rate,I think this information is as reliable as any that other researchers have included in their books.The Hauptman family lived in the New Hempstead area of Rockland County,NY.
Regards,
Nancy Taylor

Dear Nancy,
Thanks for the copy of the letters.
You wrote: "I think this information is as reliable as any that other researchers have included in their books."
I disagree. You seem to have better information (dates for example) and an excellent source (letter).
I wrote: "If the 10 Feb 1789 is birth date for the Phebe who married Nathaniel Wright, then we have the answer."
Please remember that Daniel H. Carpenter provided conflicting information on Phebe. The further information you have provided, if the 10 Feb 1789 is the birth date, to have settled the matter.

Any chance I can get a scanned copy of the daguerretype of Phebe? (never sent) 494. Thomas Carpenter Jr.

Number 146 in the book "The Carpenter Family in America" by Daniel H. Carpenter, 1901. Family on page 135 & 136.

BIRTH: The book above lists him probably born near Huntington or Smithtown on Long Island in 1757. Mr. Carpenter was a very prominent man in religious circles and also politically. He was for many years a member of the John Street Methodist Church and of the Sands Street Church in Brooklyn. He was Alderman of the second ward, New York City, a member of Assembly, warden of the port, et cetera. He also was largely known as a wholesale grocer, doing business in Water Street and Fulton Street. Thomas Carpenter and Leffert Lefferts, owners of the brigatine Susan and Polly, petition Congress for commission of duties et cetera. Petition granted. Per Journal of Representatives, 1794, p. 103.
WILL: The will of Thomas Carpenter is an unusual one, very short and to the point: gives estate to his wife, son Charles, daughter Sarah Russell, and to William Carpenter's Family. Names Abigail Fowler, and gives his camblet cloak to Charles Fowler, provides payment to William Dando, Dr. Phoebus and Abigail Fowler. Will dated 30 Sept. 1824 and proved 30 April 1825. Per New York Wills, vol. 59, p. 311.
DEATH: He was buried by the side of his first wife in the grounds adjoining the Sands Street Church in Brooklyn. On the sale of this church in 1888, to the Brooklyn Bridge, the remains were reinterred in the plot of Mark Fowler, Greenwood Cemetery. In Wakely's "Lost Chapters of Methodism" may be found an exceedingly interesting account of Thomas Carpenter.

Dear John,
Thank you for the references. However, the plot thickens! From the CD on Loyalists- the book " Loyalists of the American Revolution, Vol. II, (Fragments)" Thomas Carpenter is listed as "an Ensign and Adjutant in General Delancey's 3rd battalion. He went to St. John, New Brunsdwick, at the peace where he was one of the grantees of that city. He recieved half-pay." However, unlike most of the other men listed, it does not say where he came from.
Last year I received a letter from a person which I can't place right now (I conveniently forgot about it until it turned up the other day)and he said that Thomas Carpenter was from England, etc. Here may be the source of his information which I found last night on the Loyalists CD.
From "Loyalists in the Southern Campaign, Vol. III, Provincial Officers who served in the south", p. 351 - there is a list of Gen Delancey's 2nd battalion who were now serving at half- pay. The list includes Ensign Thomas Carpenter and further down the list, Adjutant Thomas Carpenter. Although the exact date for this record is not listed, the next record is Late Second Battalion, General Delancey's brigade, reduced April 22, 1782.
From the same source, except for the heading which is "British-American Soldiers in North America" on p. 363, are listed the British- American officers in Gen. Delancey's 2nd battalion including: Ensign Thomas Carpenter, born in England, a sergeant in the Guards, who served 7 years in the Provincial Corps." and on p. 364 is Adjutant Thomas Carpenter, born in England, an ensign in the regiment."
When they listed the "British-American officers" they included many who were born in America including many who owned farms, etc. on Long Island- so they could be considered loyalists but they stated he was born in England and in looking through the officers of all 3 of Gen. Delancey's battalion, I didn't notice any who did not have a birthplace listed.
The letter which I received but cannot find at the moment said his situation was unique b/c he was a sergeant in an "elite British foot guard." Apparently, his promotion from NCO to Ensign was uncommon and only a few NCOs were given this status - However according to the source from last year, he did not become a lieut- b/c when he was mustered out, he was still an ensign and received 1/2 pay and a land grant. Frankly, I question the military records themselves b/c in some cases there are 2 of them- an ensign and an adjutant and in other records, they are one and the same!

There are several Thomas Carpenters who filed for land grants but the one who meets the criteria was a Lieut. Thomas Carpenter in 1784. The others were filed at later dates- 1816, etc.
I didn't find many Carpenters from Long Island, if any, who were loyalists. There was an Aechalus (sp?) from Westchester County. Willet Carpenter interests me b/c according to the Loyalist index, he settled in St. John in 1783 and died there at age 77 in 1833. It makes him about the same age (generation) as Thomas would have been- The name Willet intrigues me b/c of the fact that Joseph Carpenter m. Mary Willet and the Thomas that married Anne Stocker had a brother named Willet also. I have him born in 1736- again too soon to be the one who was a loyalist but perhaps it was in the next generation which I don't have. Do you know anything about Willet?
In any event, if the military records I have found to date are correct, then he was born in England- the only problem I have with that is the records are unclear as to whether there were 2 or 1 Thomas Carpenter- So perhaps one was born in England and the other one in Long Island? And they got them mixed up? Thank you again for your help.
Just keep me in mind if some new information should turn up. I will probably turn in my research report completed to the best of my ability at this point- but I am afraid I am not going to be satisfied until I get to the truth! I am in touch with another direct line of Thomas and Lucretia's descendants whose information is the same as the genealogy- in fact, they are sending me a copy of Thomas' picture and they have already sent me a picture of Thomas and Lucretia's daughter, Lucretia who was the sister of my ancestor, Elisabeth. However, they don't sound too interested in "rocking the boat"! I can't say I blame them! I will at least have a picture of him even if I don't know where he came from or who his parents were!
Thank you again. Annabel Bixby abixby@home.com
If I ever solve this puzzle, I will let you know right away!

REPLY: Dear Annabel,
The listing of an officer on half pay is for Regular Service Officers and not temporary troops. You may be on to something.
It would be very hard to be in New Brunswick, Canada and petioning the US Congress (sucessfully!) circa 1790/1792 from Brooklyn at the same time. This leads me to think you may be on to something.
Using 1757 as a base and searching online I came up with a Thomas Carpenter born in England that had also been in the "Caribbean."
He may have been enroute to the colonies?

Thurston
On the 28th of February, 1844, the Legislature divided the town of Cameron, and taking 22,000 acres off the east side created a new town, naming it Thurston, in honor of William B. Thurston, an extensive land owner in the region who did much to promote local improvement and development....
On the high lands in the northwest part of the town Luke Bonny and William Smith made the first settlement in 1813, and from the pioneer first mentioned the locality was ever afterward known Bonny Hill. He also cut the road into the town from Bath, and was in many respects a leading man in the region. Anderson Carpenter settled on the hill in the same year, but was killed by a falling tree in 1817.
The first child born in the town was Irma Smith in 1813; the first marriage was that of Joseph Fluent and Fanny Dickinson, in 1818; the first death was that of Anderson Carpenter, in 1817; the first school was that at Bonny Hill, taught by Caroline Vinan; the first store was kept by Harlow Sears at Merchantville; the first saw mill was built by Paris Wheelock, on Otter Creek.

E-MAIL: From: "Peggy Bailey"
To:
Subject: Gilbert E. Carpenter
Date: Thu, 17 May 2001
My great-grandfather was Gilbert E(benezer ?) Carpenter; born @1840-41 in Clinton Co.(?), MI.
He died October 14, 1895 in Victor Twp, Clinton Co., MI. He married Elizabeth Jane Green in @1868.
His father was Isreal C. Carpenter - born April 9, 1807 in New York and died September 3, 1856 in DeWitt Twp, Clinton Co., MI. He is buried in the DeWitt Cemetery - DeWitt, Clinton Co., MI.
Isreal's first wife was Ruhamah (Bancroft?) who was born February 25, 1811 and died October 25, 1845 and also is buried in the DeWitt Cemetery next to Isreal. From the 1850 Federal Census for Clinton Co., Mi, I would assume that Owen (who was 8 years old then) was also Isreal and Ruhamah's son.
Since Louisa's son was 1 year old at the 1850 Census and was born in Ohio, could this John D. be her son from another marriage or is she a relative of Isreal's?
Is my Isreal Carpenter your Isaac Carpenter? If so, please respond.
Peggy L. Bailey E-mail: plmil@msn.com.
PROBABLY!

2428. Elizabeth Carpenter

Number 155-4 in the Timothy Carpenter book.

MISC: 26 June 1999. Dear John,
I am researching my 3rd Great-grandmother, Elizabeth Carpenter, born November 15, 1812 in either Orange or Westchester County, New York. She married Robert Lamoreaux (Lamoreux,Lamereux/Lamoureu/etc.) December 12, 1832. Elizabeth and Robert's first child, Henry Charles was born October 9, 1833 in Bedford, Westchester County, New York. Robert and Elizabeth had five children born in New York and then moved to Indiana (Scott, Stueben County, Indiana) where two more were born before Robert's death in 1855.
Thanks, Susan Cary scary@infowest.com.

Fulimor

There are different spellings of his name. Lafulimor, Le Fulimor, etc.

2430. Mary Ann Carpenter

Twin to Adah. Number 157-4 in the Timothy Carpenter book.

1083. Israel Carpenter

ISRAEL IS LISTED AS # 52-3 IN TIMOTHY CARPENTER DESCENDANTS.
He married his cousin at her father's home, Rev. Elder Hunt officiating.
Israel and Hannah commenced their married life at Pompey, NY. In 1808, they moved to Marcellus and in 1811 further west to Harmony Twp., Chautauqua, NY. In February of 1811, Israel purchased land in Twp. 1, range 13. The 1850 Harmony census also lists in this household a Phillip BEDDOE, 16, and Charles HARRINGTON, 16, both born in VT. Israel and Hannah are each given in the 1870 census. Hannah was a daughter of Josiah (17) and Sarah Benedict Carpenter.
Son Reuben's name is recorded with different spellings, but in his father's will it is given in this record.
Daughter Phebe is sometimes recorded as Phoebe, but Phebe is used on her gravestone.
Israel's will ececuted Sept. 27, 1862 with a codicil dated July 6, 1866, was probated at Mayville Jan. 24, 1872 (Vol.5, p.232). Gravestones were in fair condition in 1968. Pioneer Cemetery is on land Israel dedicated to the community. When the cemetery was placed in use, the remains of various pioneers were removed from the old Carpenter Burial ground, located on the land of Josiah (17) Carpenter, and re-interred in Pioneer Cemetery. No record is availible of those remains removed from--or left in--the old burial ground. The compiler (of Timothy Carpenter Descendants) was recently told the remains of only those whose idenity was known at the time were removed. Field stones still remained in the old cemetery in 1970, indicating the remains of both adults and children are there. The old Carpenter Burial ground was located in 1970 to the rear of the barn on a knoll overlooking the flatlands along Goose Creek. A Fairbanks family then owned the property.

Ellington, Chautaqua, NY has as early settlers as:
OTHER EARLY SETTLERS:
Andrew Mather; Elizur Bagg; Leach brothers- James, Amos, John and Joseph; John Woodward Jr. and brother David Woodward; George Shulters; Wm. Risley; James Fisk- brother of Friend Fisk; Corydon and Vinal- sons of Abner BAtes; Adna Kinsman; John Shaw; Salmon T. Case; Israel Carpenter; Allen Bagg and brother Hiram Bagg; David Ransom; Isaiah Nessle and brother Joseph Nessle came from Onondaga county in 1832.; John Conet; and others...
First town meeting was held March 1, 1825.

HARMONY & NORTH HARMONY
This synopsis incompasses both Harmony and North Harmony.
HARMONY was taken off from Chautauqua, Feb 14, 1816. A part of Busti was taken off in 1823. It comprised townships 1 and 2 in range 13, together with two tiers of lots in townships 1 and 2 in range 12, from PA line to Chautauqua Lake, and two additional lots in township 2, 12th range, south of the lake, which included the village of Ashville. Making it the largest town in the county.
NORTH HARMONY was taken off from Harmony on Jan 1, 1919. Due to this late date. The pioneer information of these two towns remains combined for this synopsis.
Original Purchases in Harmony- Township 1, Range 13.
1811. Israel Carpenter, 8.
1816. Isaac Carpenter, 47. Elijah Terry, 7. Zaccheus Hurbut, 7.
1817. Clark C. Carpenter, 31. Joel Powers, 16.

2434. Harriet Carpenter

Number 161-4 in Timothy Carpenter's Descendants.
Buried in her father's plot.
Harriet is recorded to be the first white female child born in HArmony Twp.
She was listed in the 1870 census. An old letter of DeWitt Carpenter (527) says she was unmarried. Her gravestone was in fair condition in 1968.

2435. Clarissa Asenath Carpenter

Number 162-4 in Timothy Carpenter's Descendants.
Tombstone indicates she died in 1894. No day or month given.

BOOK- GENEALOGY: Charles Lorain Carpenter, Rear Admiral, USN-Ret.,
THE DESCENDANTS OF TIMOTHY CARPENTER OF PITTSTOWN, RENSSELAER CO., NEW YORK. Published 1976 - 200 copies By: The News-Journal - P.O. Box 398 Machias, Maine 04654.

Buried in the Carpenter Hill Cemetery in Turin.
Timothy evidently moved from the Johnsville, Rensselaer county, NY area to St. Johnsville, Montgomery county NY, where he was a farmer for a number of years. His great-grandson Duane records Timothy also had a farm in Fulton county, NY. About 1850 he moved to Turin in Lewis county NY, and that when he was past past age 70 he one time walked from St. Johnsville to Turin. Timothy and Sarah sold their farm near Johnsville in 1850 prior to moving to Turin. On 1 Jan 1860, Sarah, as executrix of Timothy's will, sold land in Turin.
Sarah stayed in Turin after Timothy's death and according to the 1875 census, was then living there with a family named Hasey (or Hayes).
Timothy's birth is given as 3-30-1773 in a family record given to great-grandson Duane Carpenter. His gravestone gives his birth as 1771. Some records give the place of Timothy's birth as Dutchess county. Note: county boundaries were changed in the 1790s.
Timothy's will mentions his widow, Sarah, and sons James, John, & Roswell. The cemetery where Timothy is interred is sometimes referred to as the Tug Hill Cemetery. It is located where he resided. The cemetery where Phebe and her daughters are interred was overgrown with brush when inspected by Laurel Clark in the early 1930s.

See husbands notes.

1088. Francis Carpenter

NOTE: #61-3 in the T. Carpenter book.
FRANCIS is mentioned as the second son in his mother's will. Some of the data on his family is from the FERRIS family Bible as supplied by Mrs. Rachel W. COTTRELL. The 1840 census of Pittstown lists the family as then consisting of two males, age 20-30, and one male, age 40-50, plus one female, 30-40. The 1850 census lists the family at house #397, family #446, then consisting of ESTHER, age 69, and son BENJAMIN, age 26; in house #398, family #447, is son GILBERT, age 51, and his wife, Lucinda, 54.
On Oct. 15, 1844, ESTHER petitioned for the settlement of her husband's estate through a lawyer, Perry Warren. A bond was posted and son JOHN was named administrator. A controversial settlement was made Feb. 23, 1847; the orginal estate consisted of a 500-acre farm and $1500.00 cash. ESTHER'S will, dated Apr. 19, 1852 and probated Sep. 5, 1853, mentioned FRANCIS as the second son.
Gravestones were in poor condition when inspected in 1969 by the compiler of the T. Carpenter book.
FRANCIS is buried in Potter Hill Cemetery, East side Babcock Lake Rd., Hoosick.

Esther Ferris

ESTHER was age 71 years, 2 mo., 1 day old when she died. See Husband's notes.

2458. Susanna Carpenter

NOTE: #189 in T. Carpenter book. AKA "SUSAN".

2459. Elizabeth Carpenter

NOTE: #190-4 in T. Carpenter book. AKA "BETSEY".

The only reference to ELIZABETH is in the old FERRIS family bible, reportedly in possession of Robert Dichman of Hoosick Falls, N.Y., a descendant, in 1968.

2461. Juliana Carpenter

NOTE: #192-4 in T. Carpenter book. AKA "JULIA".
JULIANA is first mentioned in the old FERRIS bible.

2462. Maryanna Carpenter

NOTE: #193 in T. Carpenter book. MARYANNA is also known as MARY ANN. She is first mentioned in an old FERRIS family bible.

1089. Silas Carpenter

NOTE: #62-3 in the T. Carpenter book.
SILAS had several offspring, but no names recorded. SILAS was mentioned as the third son in his mother's April 19, 1812 will that was probated Sept. 25, 1813 at Troy, N.Y.

1090. Elihu Carpenter

NOTE: #63-3 in the T. Carpenter book.
ELIHU came to the West Ellery are of Chautauqua County in 1822 via the Erie canal from Albany to Buffalo, and by horseback from there to Ellery. The 1825 census of Ellery lists his family as consisting of five males and four females.
*However, subsequent data by his daughter SUSANNA indicates he did not bring his family to the area until about 1827. This would indicate he returned east for them. The 1850 Ellery census gives PATIENCE'S birth as 1788 in VT.
 Some records show data other than is recorded above in regard to the children of this family.
ELIHU'S will, dated 7 July 1851 and probated on 3 March 1863, is at the courthouse in Mayville (Vol. 4, Pg. 106). Family tradition indicates he was buried in Ellery but this could not be verified by 1976. His wife's grave was found in Erieville Village, N.Y.

Notes for ELIHU CARPENTER:
Came to the West Ellery area of Chautauqua County in 1822 via the Erie Canal from Albany to Buffalo, and by horseback from there to Ellery.
The 1825 census of Ellery lists his family as consisting of five males and four females.
Data/information from daughter Susanna indicates that he did not bring his family to the area until about 1827

1096. Josiah Purdy

JOSIAH died early. Definately before 2-15-1806 when he was recorded "deceased" in his father's will.

Anne Carpenter

Number 829 in the Carpenter Family in America book by Daniel H. Carpenter, 1901.

Martha S. Carpenter

Number 916 in the Carpenter Family in America by Daniel H. Carpenter, 1901. She married but has no living issue.

2505. Hester Purdy

She might have married a VARLEY. Birth order uncertain.

1099. Phebe Carpenter

PHEBE is listed as # 72-3 IN TIMOTHY CARPENTER DESCENDANTS. In one old record She is listed as 10 to 15 years older than her brother (in law?) ISRAEL who was born in 1785.

According to family tradition, PHEBE and her family did not move westward, but remained in the Albany, N.Y. area where her sons became associated in the banking business. GILBERT is recorded as having been at Waterloo, Seneca Co., N.Y. after having resided at Sand Lake, N.Y.

2508. Maria Ward

MARIA married Edward PARMALEE, an Episcopal minister. Rev. PARMALEE came to Jamestown, N.Y. in 1840 and moved to Matton, Ill. in 1844, where he later died. They had at least two sons - NFD.

1100. Hannah Carpenter

HANNAH IS LISTED AS 73-3 IN TIMOTHY CARPENTER DESCENDANTS. SOME RECORDS INDICATES SHE WAS BORN IN POMPEY - BUT SEARCH SHOWS NO RECORD THERE. HANNAH MARRIED HER COUSIN - ISRAEL CARPENTER (# 52) ON 9 FEB 1806 IN THE PITTSTOWN TWP. RESIDENCE OF HER PARENTS. THEY HAD KIDS.
THEY MOVED TO POMPEY, ONONDAGA, NY. IN 1808 THEY MOVED FURTHER WEST TO MARCELLUS, ONONDAGE, NY. IN 1811 TO HARMONY TWP, CHAUYAUQUA, NY. MORE DATA UNDER ISRAEL CARPENTER.

Israel Carpenter

ISRAEL IS LISTED AS # 52-3 IN TIMOTHY CARPENTER DESCENDANTS.
He married his cousin at her father's home, Rev. Elder Hunt officiating.
Israel and Hannah commenced their married life at Pompey, NY. In 1808, they moved to Marcellus and in 1811 further west to Harmony Twp., Chautauqua, NY.

In February of 1811, Israel purchased land in Twp. 1, range 13. The 1850 Harmony census also lists in this household a Phillip BEDDOE, 16, and Charles HARRINGTON, 16, both born in VT. Israel and Hannah are each given in the 1870 census. Hannah was a daughter of Josiah (17) and Sarah Benedict Carpenter.
Son Reuben's name is recorded with different spellings, but in his father's will it is given in this record.
Daughter Phebe is sometimes recorded as Phoebe, but Phebe is used on her gravestone.
Israel's will ececuted Sept. 27, 1862 with a codicil dated July 6, 1866, was probated at Mayville Jan. 24, 1872 (Vol.5, p.232). Gravestones were in fair condition in 1968. Pioneer Cemetery is on land Israel dedicated to the community. When the cemetery was placed in use, the remains of various pioneers were removed from the old Carpenter Burial ground, located on the land of Josiah (17) Carpenter, and re-interred in Pioneer Cemetery. No record is availible of those remains removed from--or left in--the old burial ground. The compiler (of Timothy Carpenter Descendants) was recently told the remains of only those whose idenity was known at the time were removed. Field stones still remained in the old cemetery in 1970, indicating the remains of both adults and children are there. The old Carpenter Burial ground was located in 1970 to the rear of the barn on a knoll overlooking the flatlands along Goose Creek. A Fairbanks family then owned the property.

First town meeting was held March 1, 1825.

HARMONY & NORTH HARMONY
This synopsis incompasses both Harmony and North Harmony.
HARMONY was taken off from Chautauqua, Feb 14, 1816. A part of Busti was taken off in 1823. It comprised townships 1 and 2 in range 13, together with two tiers of lots in townships 1 and 2 in range 12, from PA line to Chautauqua Lake, and two additional lots in township 2, 12th range, south of the lake, which included the village of Ashville. Making it the largest town in the county.
NORTH HARMONY was taken off from Harmony on Jan 1, 1919. Due to this late date.
The pioneer information of these two towns remains combined for this synopsis.
Original Purchases in Harmony- Township 1, Range 13.

DANIEL DIED AGE 73 YEARS, 4 MONTHS, 16 DAYS. VETERAN OF WAR OF 1812.
75-3 IN TIMOTHY CARPENTERS DESCENDANTS. VARIOUS REGIONAL HISTORIES INDICATE THAT DANIEL FOLLOWED JAMES, HIS BROTHER TO CHAUTAUQUA COUNTY ABOUT 1807. HE SETTLED ON THE WEST SIDE OF CHAUTAUQUA LAKE AS DID HIS BROTHER. SHORTLY THEREAFTER, HIS FATHER JOSIAH SETTLED ON LAND PREVIOUSLY PURCHASE. IN HARMONY TWP HE WAS ELECTED TOWN ASSESSOR AND HIGHWAY COMMISIONER IN 1817.
Daniel died intestate. Letters of administration on his estate were issued Dec. 7, 1885 and mentioned that all his children were then of full age (Vol.6, p. 496, Courthouse, Mayville, NY.). Besides the above children, the 1850 census of Harmony lists in Daniel's household a Mary Carpenter, age 58 (probably his sister), a James Purdy, age 66, and a William Purdy, age 30, all of which were born in NY.

HE MARRIED HULDAH CARPENTER HIS COUSIN (# 153-4) DAUGHTER OF ANDERSON (# 51) AND BETSEY (FOSTER) CARPENTER.

2429. Adah Carpenter

ADAH is a twin to MARY ANN. ADAH is number 156-4 in the T.C. Carpenter book.

William Benedict Pier

Some old records give birth place of W. B. PIER's children as Corry, PA. and Wayne, Steuben, N.Y. for more info, see Spouse's notes. Number 259 in the T.C. Carpenter book. Page 19.

WILLIAM was the son of OLIVER and BETSEY CARPENTER PIER. He migrated to Corry, PA. area Jan 26, 1834, where he engaged in lumbering and farming. He owned a tract of land (144 acres), part of which was with in the village limits of corry. After his spouse (his cousin ADAH) died, the widow of his son WILLIAM and her children resided with him. He had served as road commisioner, judge of elections, auditor, and inspector of the school district, school director, justice of the peace for years, and councilman for two years. A steward and trustee of the Methodist Episcopal Church, he was a Whig and later became a Republican.

4951. Edwin Benedict Pier

Number 509 in the T.C. Carpenter Book. Page 6.

2431. Tryphenia Carpenter

Number 158-4 in Timothy Carpenter's Descendants.
There are different recorded spellings of Tryphenia.
One record gives death date as 5 Apr 1834, but this is probably her first husband's death date. Dewitt (527 in T.C. book) recorded she married Horace Smetzer, this was her second husband.

2432. Jane Carpenter

Number 159-4 in Timothy Carpenter's Descendants.
Buried in her father's plot.
Jane is mentioned in her father's will as Jane Beddoe. It is unknown if Beddoe is a middle name or the name of a previous husband; the latter seems possible as a Phillip BEDDOE, age 10, is listed with this family in in the 1850 Harmony census. There are various recorded birthdates for Jane. Gravestones and recordings on father's Israel's Obelisk type monument were in fair condition in 1968.

See husband's notes for update on her name & other information.

History of Thurston, NYFrom: Landmarks of Steuben County, New YorkEdited by: Hon. Harlo HakesAssisted By: L. C. Aldrich and OthersD. Mason & Company, Publishers,Syracuse, New York, 1896
Thurston
On the 28th of February, 1844, the Legislature divided the town of Cameron, and taking 22,000 acres off the east side created a new town, naming it Thurston, in honor of William B. Thurston, an extensive land owner in the region who did much to promote local improvement and development....
In the same connection and worthy to be named among the older residents of what is now Thurston, were ... Alva Carpenter, Harley Sears, O. P. Alderman and others, all of whom were identified with the growth of the town if they were not pioneers.
The supervisors of Thurston have been as follows: Joseph Cross, 1844; Fenner Eddy, 1845-48; John S. De Pue, 1849-50 and 1856-65; Noble H. Rising, 1851; Cornelius Bouton, 1852-53; John Royce, 1854-55; Oliver P. Alderman, 1866; Alva Carpenter, 1867 and 1869-71; ...

Per John Mac Carpenter ...
"John married in 1861 in Chatauqua county, NY, and that he and his wife almost immediately left for Vernon county, WI. I even have a copy of their marriage license along with family sheets ..."

E-MAIL: Wed, 29 Sep 1999 From: John Carpenter
Carl, my grandfather, Alva Francis Carpenter, was born in Genoa, Vernon county WI in 1863. He had two younger brothers, Robert and John, and three younger sisters, Louisa (married Van Vleet and stayed in WI), Mary Roxanna (married Lorenzo Dow Fox and went to MS), and Agnes (married J. O. Ferguson).
My greatgrandparents came directly from Harmony,
Chatauqua county, NY. John was born at Cameron,
Steuben county NY in 1834.
Don't know if this is a help or not, but I believe that some of John's siblings and first cousins also went to WI about the time he did (1861)

E-MAIL: Tue, 4 Apr 2000 From: "John Mac Carpenter"
Thanks, John, I'm descended from this Timothy's son John, thru his son Alva
Francis, then Alva, then my brother Alva Francis and me. Timothy's son Alvah was another Alva Francis whose wife was named Roxana. According to family tradition AF was a physician in NYC. My grandfather, Alva Francis, had a sister named Roxana, and also named his older daughter Roxana. That was my aunt Sana, whose only granddaughter is Roxanne. You never know how much tradition to trust. There's nearly always some truth in it so you can't disregard it, but it changes drastically thru the years. If you would fax Charles addenda to me at 915-336-3928, I'll copy it and add it to the copies I had made. Chad was very nice and gave me permission to distribute it as long as I don't make money on it. Seems to be very interested in continuing his grandfather's work.

Another family tradition is that our grandfather went to Mexico with his daughter Sana in about 1909 to look for an uncle of his who was a merchant on the Santa Fe/Chihuahua trail and was last heard from in a small town north of ciudad Chihuahua....no tradition as to first name, but there are a lot of Carpinteros and Carpinteiros in northern Chihuahua from ciudad Chihuahua to Juarez. They lived in Mobile AL at the time and took the train to CA and back spending time in NM and Chihuahua and he bought a ranch in NM and moved his family there the following year.

Elsie died in her early thirties.

4938. Israel Daniel Carpenter

Number 502-5 in the Timothy Carpenter book.
Israel and his family are mentioned in various Harmony Twp. census records, beginning in 1880. Daughter Leora reported her parents celebrated their golden (50th) wedding anniversary in 1917. One record gave, in error, different death dates than the correct ones given in this record.

7951. Willis Carpenter

Number 1002 in the Timothy Carpenter book.

7952. Jonathan Eddy Carpenter

Number 1003-6 in the Timothy Carpenter book.
Jonathan moved to Washington state in 1910. He and Alice had no children to each other. She was the daughter of Robert and Anne (Hale) Lopus and was an aunt to Jonathan by her previous marriage to Isaac. She ultimately left Jonathan, but he reportedly took care of her in her latter days. Alice's first husband, Isaac, was the son of Silas (152) and Lydia (Hoag) Carpenter.

Alice Jane Lopus

Alice divorced Isaac when he returned to NY state from the west and married his nephew, Jonathan.

4942. Isaac C. Carpenter

Number 506-5 in the Timothy Carpenter book.
Isaac was a Civil War veteran. His daughter Anne gave the following account: His parents died of malaria when he was about age 6. Various relatives took the children and raised them. Isaac's uncle, William PIER, came from the east and took Isaac to raise. He lived with his uncle till age 16 when he ran away from home, joined the Union Army and was attached to Co. "H", 78th N.Y. Vol. Inf., 3rd Brigade, 2nd Div., 12th Army Corps, which was later consolated into the 20th Army Corps..

He fought in the second battle of Bull Run and at Chancellorsville, where he was captured and held in Libby Prison two weeks. He either escaped or was exchanged and subsequently fought in the battles of Lookout Mountain, Missionary Ridge, Kenesaw Mountain, and Peach Tree Creek. At the latter, he was wounded and hospitalized three months. He rejoined his outfit in October 1864, just before the "March to the Sea." At Savannah, GA, he received seven (7) wounds and lost his right leg. He spent about a year in Central Park Hospital, NY City, and was discharged from Co. "H", 102nd N.Y. Volunteers, March 5, 1865.
Isaac is mentioned in the 1875 census of Harmony Twp. His daughter gave his death date as 1912. The gravestone inscription reads: (1844-1914).
Alice was a daughter of Robert and Ann (Hale) Lopus.

Alice Jane Lopus

Alice divorced Isaac when he returned to NY state from the west and married his nephew, Jonathan.

John Mac Carpenter provided this family line via e-mail March 2004.
Excerpt from John Mac Carpenter's e-mail:
"Frank left home young, worked on the railroad, met William Cody, settled in AL, where he married my grandmother, Emily Virginia Wiggins of Monroe County, AL. They had 8 children, all born in AL.
Mary Roxanna, named for an aunt, Mrs Alva Francis Carpenter (according to tradition) who later married Lorenzo Dow Fox and ended up in Biloxi MS, married Joe Williams, a geologist from VA.
Fidelia, who married first Lender Mobley (yes, a cousin of some sort to Mary Ann Mobley) Felicia May, who married Newton Jack (or Jackson) Edwards from SC.
Clarence Calloway, Ancel's grandfather, married Maud Davis.
Alice Buna, married Walter Johnson.
Robert Clyde, married Edna ?, quarter mountain Crow.
Alva Carpenter, my father, married Ocie Velma McElhannon.
Ancel Carpenter, for whom Ancel the younger is named.
All of them except Robert Clyde and Ancel had children and have descendants who I know today.
Uncle Clarence probably has the largest number of descendants living since his son, Rayford, Ancel's father, married several times and had at least 11children, of whom Ancel is the second oldest.
Frank and Emily Carpenter left Mobile AL in 1910 for the territory of NM.
He owned and operated sawmills in AL and while he and his oldest daughter, Mary Roxana (Sana) were on a trip to Ciudad Chihuahua and to California in 1909 the land he had planned to harvest the timber from next, near Citronelle, AL, burned. He was supposedly in search of an uncle of his who was a storekeeper in a small town in Mexico a bit to the norht of Ciudad Chihuahua. I don't know which side of his family the uncle was on.....if he were a Carpenter, it would probably be Uriah, b.1842 at Cameron, Steuben county, NY, since the only other uncle was Alvah for whom he was named and according to family tradition, a medical doctor in NYC.

Jennie Sophia Blodgett Carpenter was the daughter of Dewitt Clinton Blodgett and Mary Jane Robinson Blodgett. She lived in Pierce County for her entire life. Jennie married Elmer E Carpenter 27 Aug 1895 in Pierce County. They reared 5 living children: Iva O Carpenter Michael; Opal Irene Carpenter Olson; Mary Minerva Carpenter O'Connell; Glen Leon Carpenter; and Frank E Carpenter.
Jennie had a heart of gold. Her door was never locked. She always had cookies for friends, relatives and neighbors. When I (her great granddaughter) was very young she gave me a music box that played "Be it ever so humble, there's no place like home". No song could be more appropriate to show where Jennie always wanted to be found.

10869. Clarence Calloway Carpenter

"... Uncle Clarence probably has the largest number of descendants living since his son, Rayford, Ancel's father, married several times and had at least 11 children, of whom Ancel is the second oldest."
Clarence Calloway ranched on part of Frank and Emily's ranch north west of Deming, sold that, moved to El Paso and then to AR, where I think he died.

10872. Alva Carpenter

Alva inherited the farmhouse his parents lived in near Anthony along with partt of the farm. My brother and I along with most of our first cousins, were born in that house, and I always reminded my cousins who remained in NM that the farm is on the east bank of the Rio Grande, therefore within the bounds of the Republic of Texas. He sold it when I was almost a year old and we moved to Texas. My brother and I both live in Ft Stockton TX where Daddy is buried.

Laurieta Rae Carpenter Bell
Birth: Dec. 5, 1936
Corona
Riverside County
California, USA
Death: Apr. 6, 1968
Fontana
San Bernardino County
California, USA
During my kindergarten school year, I lived with my Aunt Rieta and her family on their horse ranch above Lake Elsinore in the Cleveland National Forest. It was exciting for a little city girl to have horses, dogs, cats, chickens, goats, even pigs for a short time, bee hives, a fruit orchard and a hay loft!
My little sister was not yet enrolled in school, and so she went to live in Corona with a great-aunt during the school week.
Because I was in kindergarten, I was released earlier than the "older kids" and road the school bus home alone. Once dropped off at the bus stop, I would have to walk the long dirt and gravel road up "The Hill" to the endlessly long driveway of my aunt's ranch. Once I got in the house, however, I spent some special time alone with my aunt. This is when she taught me how to tie my shoes and gave me my first piano lessons. On the weekends, we were allowed to ride their horses.
My Aunt Rieta was a strong Christian, an accomplished horse-woman (barrel racing), the 'bee lady', and a loving but very strict mother. A few months after we moved in with her family, my aunt became ill, and so my three cousins who were in third, fifth and sixth grades stepped in and nearly acted as full-time caretakers and mother.
A few months later, me, my uncle and father, and my cousin Diana and brother, climbed into my uncle's truck. We pulled out of their circular driveway in front of their ranch house, and onto the long driveway which led to the main dirt road down the hill. My uncle was driving and talking quietly to my dad in the front seat. Something was said and I asked a clarifying question (I can't remember what), and the entire truck instantly grew silent and tense.
I turned to my cousin and asked, "Where's Aunt Rieta?" and she quietly told me, "Shh! She died." I didn't quite understand so Diana clarified that she was in heaven. Being still young and not yet thoroughly understanding how children were seen and not heard, I continued with my innocent questions. Quickly understanding that heaven was a destination, I further asked the backs of my father and uncle's heads when she was coming back. The silence from the front seat was deafening. With everyone listening, Diana quietly answered by simply saying, "She's not coming back. She died!" and to shush. I could sense the incredible tension and saw the look on her face that now was not the time.
Later, my three cousins, brother and I were sitting on our beds in the children's bedroom talking about my Aunt Rieta and heaven. My two oldest cousins were clearly close to adulthood (about eleven and twelve) and knew just about everything. =) I was so confused why Aunt Rieta couldn't come back, even just for a visit, and they explained heaven to me. I thought if heaven was so great, then why would we want to go there if we could never come back to see our family? Why did Jesus take Aunt Rieta, take her away from her kids and family, and not let her ever come home?

My first impression of death was more about confusion than pain, however, the death of my Aunt Rieta and the absence of our scheduled time after school was another upset and dramatic change in my young life. Unfortunately, her untimely death was to be the first of a long string of traumatic deaths during my childhood with the passings of my little sister, Tammy, and mom, and then into my young adulthood with my beloved paternal grandfather, followed by my beautiful paternal grandmother, only six days later by my paternal great-grandmother, Meme, and ultimately by my precious first-born child, Timmy.
My Aunt Rieta left behind a devoted husband and three young daughters. She was survived by both of her parents, Edward DeWitt and Rachel Irene Barger Carpenter, her brother, and two nieces and a nephew. She is still sorely missed.

SAMUEL CARPENTER
I, SAMUEL CARPENTER, of Northcastle, in Westchester County, being weak in body. I leave to my wife Rachel 1/3 of all household goods and movable estate (except a bond for £56 due to me from Joseph Barton of the Nine Partners in Duchess County) during her widowhood.
I leave to my only son, Wright Carpenter, all my land in North Castle, and the above bond when he is of age. The other 2/3 of my movable estate is to be sold by my executors to pay debts and for the bringing up of my son, Wright Carpenter. "And in case my wife Rachel is now like to have her second child, if it should be a son, he shall have ½ of my land in North Castle. But if a daughter, she shall have £30."
If my son Wright should die without issue, his part is to be divided between my brothers Ephraim, George, William, Archelaus, Benjamin, Silas, and Timothy, and my sister Phebe.
I make my father, Timothy Carpenter, and Job Wright, and my wife Rachel, executors.
Witnesses, Thomas Weeks, Coles Golding, Nathaniel Merritt. Proved, June 25, 1754, before John Bartow, Surrogate.

Archealus was by trade a tanner and currier, and he also, by inheritance, had a farm at North Castle, where he lived up to the time of the Revolutionary War. On account of his loyalty, he emigrated to Nova Scotia during the Revolutionary War, where his family has since resided. They left New York in 1783 on board the ship Cyprus (Not Cyrus) to Parrtown and later settled in New Brunswick, enduring for many years untold hardships in that unsettled country. It is said of him that he built the first house and shop at "Parrtown." Parrtown is now part of Saint Johns.
NOTE:
Parrtown is part of present day Saint John, NB.
St. John's (note St. and 's) is the capital of the province of Newfoundland.

Yesterday in Fredericton, Captain Charles Rainsford of Fredericton was honoured for leading a company of the 104th Regiment from New Brunswick to Kingston, Ontario in 1813 to help repel invaders from the United States. The Americans were massing troops on the American side to attack Kingston in the spring of 1813. The call went out to New Brunswick to send troops to help reinforce the garrison at Kingston. Six companies of the 104th (NB) Regiment of Foot left Fredericton beginning February 17, 1813. They arrived in Kingston on March 17, 1813 after travelling 700 miles in 52 days of marching. They stopped briefly in Quebec City along the way. They travelled by snowshoe and dragging their supplies and equipment behind them on toboggans. The winter was severe, with cold temperatures and heavy snow. During the march, one of several blizzards hit them before they reached Quebec City. The food was running dangerously low so Captain Charles Rainsford took two men and toboggans to their nearest outpost for supplies. The round trip was about 150 kilometres (94 miles) but was successfully accomplished.
The ceremony was held at St. Petersâ€™ Anglican Church on Woodstock Road in Fredericton. Two plaques in Captain Rainsfordâ€™s honour were placed there; one in front of the church and the other near his grave in the nearby cemetery. The ceremony included a 9 gun (muskets) salute by local United Empire Loyalists in period army uniforms.
I thought this might interest you since, as you know, our Carpenter ancestor, Archelaus Carpenter, came to New Brunswick as a Loyalist in 1782. His sons, Willett and Thomas, both served with Loyalist Regiments in the State of New York during the American War for Independence. As well, New Brunswick and New Brunswickers played a very important role in the defence of New Brunswick and Upper Canada (Ontario) and Lower Canada (Quebec) during the American invasions during the war of 1812 (1812 â€“ 1814). New Brunswick had become a separate province (from Nova Scotia) in 1784 and had significantly improved its military fortification s to about 16 in various locations around the province by the time war was declared by American President James Madison on June 18, 1812.
If you are interested in learning more about New Brunswickâ€™s role in the War of 1812, I would recommend reading the book recently released by local military historian Robert L. Dallison entitled, â€œA Neighbourly War, New Brunswick and the War of 1812â€ . It was published by Goose lane Editions and The New Brunswick Military Heritage Project (www.gooselane.com)

The Freeholders of 1763 list includes only the wealthier landowners and tradesmen who could meet the stringent freehold qualifications. North Castle Freeholders number 101 males. These men lived in both of the presqnt-day Towns of North Castle and New Castle.
The list of Westchester County Freeholders was compiled by the county sheriff in compliance with an Order of the Supreme Court of Judicature o f the Province of New York in a case connected with the settlement of Cortlandt Manor. This list, from the Van Cortiandt Papers in the possessioti of the New York Historical Society, was first printed i n The

New York Historical Society Q u e of July 1951, Volume XXV, number 3, pages 283-321 in an article by E. Marie Becker entitled "The 801 Westchester County Freeholders of 1763."
T h e jury for the case had to he chosen from among the freeholders of the county who were eligible for jury duty. The freehold qualifications for jurors were first set out in a 1741 law which stated eligibility for jury duty in trials before the Provincial courts: (1) Male; (2) between 21 and 70 years of age; (3) he was required to possess, in his own name or in trust or in his wife's right, an estate (in fee, for life or by courtesy) of the value of sixty pounds, free of encumbrance. Some leaseholds within both manors and great patents were treated as freeholds. The sixty pounds value requirement excluded the great majority o f the male inhabitants of the county.

Loyalist Genealogy
Family History The following is a "memorial" c.1782 from several Loyalists including Archelaus and sons, directed to Sir Guy Carleton, concerning issues of land granting.
MEMORIAL OF NEW YORK LOYALISTS.
The following Loyalist memorial I have lately found in the Nova Scotia archives. So far as I know, it has never hitherto been printed. I am sorry to say that I can find no date for it, but I presume it was offered some time in 1782. Benjamin Rand.

To his Excellency Sir Guy Carleton, Knight of the most honorable Order of Bath, General and Commander in Chief, &c., &c., &c.
The Memorial of The Subscribers Humbly Sheweith
That your memorialists having been deprived of very valuable Landed Estates and considerable Personal Propertys without the Lines and being Loyalty to their Sovereign and Attachment to the British Constitution and seeing no prospect of their being reinstated had determined to remove with their Families and settle in His Majesty's Province of Nova Scotia on the Terms which they understood were held out equally to all his Majesty's persecuted Subjects.
That your Memorialists are much alarmed at an application which they are informed Fifty Five Persons have joined in to your Excellency solliciting a recommendation for Tracts of Land in that Province amounting together to Two Hundred and Seventy Five Thousand Acres and that they have dispatched forward Agents to survey the unlocated lands and select the most fertile Spots and desirable situations.
That chagrined as your Memorialists are at the manner in which the late Contest has been terminated and disappointed as they find themselves in being left to the lenity of their Enemys on the dubious recommendation of their Leaders they yet hoped to find an Asylum under British Protection little suspecting there could be found among their Fellow sufferers Persons ungenerous enough to attempt ingrossing to themselves so disproportionate a Share of what Government has allotted for their common benefit and so different from the original proposals.
That your memorialists apprehend some misrepresentations have been used to procure such extraordinary recommendations the applications for which have been most studiously concealed until now that they boast its being too late to prevent the effect.-Nor does it lessen your Memorialists surprise to observe that the persons concerned (several of whom are said to going to Britain) are most of them in easy Circumstances and with some exceptions more distinguished by the repeated favors of Government than by either the greatness of their sufferings or the importance of their services.
That your memorialists cannot but regard the Grants in Question if carried into effect as amounting nearly to a total exclusion of themselves and Familys who if they become Settlers must either content themselves with barren or remote Lands Or submit to be Tenants to those most of whom they consider as their superiors in nothing but deeper Art and keener Policy-thus circumstanced.
Your Memorialists humbly implore redress from your Excellency and that enquiry may he made into their respective Losses Services Siturations and Sufferings and If your Memorialists shall be found equally intitled to the favor and protection of Government with the former applicants-that they may all be put on equal footing-But should those who first applied be found on a fair and candid inquiry more deserving that your Memorialists-then your Memorialists humbly request that the locating these extensive Grants may at least be postponed untill your Memorialists have taken up such small portions as may be allotted to them.

And your Memorialists as in Dutybound shall ever pray &c.

Town of North Castle, Westchester County, New York - Early Town History https://www.northcastleny.com/residents/pages/early-town-history
The first North Castle Town Meeting was held on April 6, 1736. The Town was incorporated on March 7, 1788 when the State of New York passed an act for dividing the counties of the state into towns:
"And that all that part of the said county of Westchester, bounded southerly by Mount Pleasant, the White Plains, the Town of Harrison and Connecticut, easterly by Connecticut, Pound Ridge and Before, northerly by the Manor of Cortland and Bedford, and westerly by Bronx River and Mount Pleasant, shall be and hereby is erected into a town by the name of North Castle."
North Castle was once much larger than it is today. In 1791 it was divided in half and the upper portion was named New Castle.

Number 171 in the book "The Carpenter Family in America" by Daniel H. Carpenter, 1901. Family and extensive notes on page 140 & 141.

MILITARY: General Carpenter's Brigade of Westchester County Militia was attached to the First Division of Infantry, this division furnished a total of 2,065 men. 370 soldiers were in Gen. Carpenter's Brigade.

DEATH: "He died at Harrisons in 1819" per the above record, yet the next line indicates his will "was proved March 13, 1817."

SEE: Westchester Records, book D, p. 392.
During the Revolution he was quartermaster under General Thomas. At the battle of White Plains, in a skirmish near Harrisons, the British surrounded a house which sheltered several Americans, including General Thomas and Lt. Thomas Carpenter. They were all taken prisioner except Lt. Carpenter, who was left for dead. But by careful nursing he finally recovered and for his bravery was made captain and then general. The British were led by a Col. Simcoe.

I have done a little more research. There is another Thomas besides the General.

4th regiment lists Thomas and James as privates (New York in the Rev.) Westchester county page 214, page 266 lists the two under the Land Bounty rights - but this is in the 2nd regiment of Westchester County under General Thomas Carpenter. So they have switched regiments. How does one find those records?

From the Roster of Troops, page 339
There is only one James listed (private under Crane and Truesdell) 4th regiment
There are three Thomas listed:
1 - Lieut. Under Thomas/ Thomas (Also states  run through the body with a bayonet at Harrison's Purchase, November 8, 1778. Shoemaker, Harrisons, Westchester Co. C20, I 125 is this a book)
2. Private under Harper/Drake
3. Private under Crane/ Truesdell (4th Regiment)

On the 1790 Census, 1800, 1810, both James and Thomas. For Harrisons, Purchase Township, Westchester County. We know that my James is there.

Elijah Carpenter along with Colvill Carpenter are listed on (page 253) Orange Count Militia 1st regiment (New York in the Rev - Land Bounty Rights)

I also read some things about a Thomas Carpenter in the Purchase Monthly meeting. The son of Joseph. (perhaps older brother to James, son of Benedict) but the Carpenter Book does not list a son named Thomas for Joseph Carpenter s. of Benedict. I need to investigate the dates to see what generation they are discussing. Could this be the Thomas we are looking for? They would be first cousins.

Brown Ebenezer
Chapman Daniel
Avary John Boucks Daniel

What do I know?
Both James and Thomas show up together in the 4th Reg. and also on all Census data in Westchester County NY, town of Harrison (1790, 1800, 1810) I am not sure who Thomas Carpenter is - but think he is one of James's older brother's sons. He is the only James that is showing up on the census data. They lived in this county and township all their lives. The DAR said that James was such a common name - how do I know this is mine. However they fully agreed with my documentation that James Carpenter, born in 1754 was my gg grandfather. Both James and Thomas are found in the book under pensions and Elijah is also listed both with the 1st regiment and with pensions.

Searching for the ancestry of the NANCY CARPENTER, born before 1763, who married JOSHUA WHEELER. They had a son ELEPHALET WHEELER who was born in 1780. I believe this CARPENTER family was from New York, possibly Westchester County. Betty

I do not have much on the Wheeler line. According to the information in my file Joshus Wheeler b. Abt 1763 had two brothers named Eliphalet and Solomon. Joshua Married Nancy Carpenter abt 1770, the daughter of Stephen and Amy (Field) Carpenter, (Stephen is a direct descendant of William Carpenter the founder of Providence, RI. as follows Stephen, of Thomas, of Joseph, of Joseph,of William). I have no record of children for them. However, approximately a year later Nancy's sister Mary married Joushua's brother Eliphalet and they had Eliphalet, Andrew, and three unnamed female children.
My files on this family are in need of work so did not send gedcom, but I'm sure you will hear from others in the group.

Notes

1118. William R. Carpenter

NOTE: #93-3 in the T. Carpenter book. WILLIAM R. CARPENTER of Alden, had at least five children (listed in his will) by his first wife (name unknown) who died previous to the will dated 1866. His second wife, HARRIET is mentioned in the same will (document # 3457 at the Buffalo, N.Y. courthouse). Per 1976 book. Children are listed with Harriet in that record and are: Joseph Carpenter (B. no birth dates given), William, Caroline, Mary, & John B. Carpenter.
NOTE: First spouse and children deceased prior to 1866 are not mentioned.

JRC April 2013.
This William's first wife is believed to be Mary Taylor (b. 1799) with children Griffin Carpenter (b. 1821 with descendants), William (b. nbd given), John, Sam, Urah, Mary Randal, Ruth Ryolds, Ann Ward, Alvira Root, and Charlot. The information came from Donald W. Carpenter of Ontario, Canada who received this information from a friend on the internet (Tom Gunn in Texas). "William Carpenter and Mary Taylor had 10 children in Niagara (,Ontario, Canada). William was born somewhere in NY in 1792 and moved to Niagara county in 1817."
Per letter (2/97) & Descendancy chart dated 9 Feb. 1994.

2606. Joseph Carpenter

NOTE: #313-4 in the T. Carpenter book. JOSEPH is mentioned in his father's will dated 1866 of being of Helena, MT.

2607. William Carpenter

NOTE: #314-4 of the T. Carpenter book. WILLIAM was not mentioned in his father's will of 1866. His spouse ELIZA however is mentioned.

2609. Mary Carpenter

NOTE: #316-4 in the T. Carpenter book. Not married in 1866 per her father's will.

2610. John B. Carpenter

NOTE: #317-4 in the Timothy Carpenter 1976 book. JOHN made an affidavit at St. Joseph, IN in 1866 appointing a lawyer to act for him regarding his father's estate.

Harriet

HARRIET is mentioned in her husband's will of 1866.

1120. Jeremiah Carpenter Jr.

This line updated by John Laird via email < johnlarid9@aol.com > in May 2013.

NOTE:
#88-3 in the T. Carpenter book. Probably buried near his father's grave, many unmarked plots holding Carpenters. It is possible that Jeremiah had a son named Jeremiah. If so it must have been from a previous marriage. Some of the land transactions seem to indicate this.
JEREMIAH made numerous real estate deals in the Alden-Marilla-Wales area of Erie County, N.Y. where he was among the earliest settlers:
1. Oct. 27, 1825, he and brother GEORGE purchased 100 acres for $500.00 (Lot 125, Twp. 10, 5th range). In 1827, they purchased a tract on Four Rod Road, east of Marilla, and Jeremiah started to erect a log home.
2. June 29, 1832 brother GEORGE and his wife ANNA conveyed 100 acres to JEREMIAH for $600.00 in the Buffal Run area (Lot 138, Twp. 10, 5th Range).
3. May 6, 1835 JEREMIAH and wife HEPSIBETH conveyed 95 acre for $1700.00 in Alden to a MILO CLARK.
4. In 1838 JEREMIAH and brother JOSEPH built a second sawmill. (where is #1?)
5. IN 1840, he settled in Marilla Village.
6. In 1838 JEREMIAH and brother JOSEPH conveyed a parcel at Wales for $1200.00.
7. JEREMIAH made two conveyences to brother NILES for $1.00 (one dollar) each, the first in 1840 and the second in 1849.
8. In 1850, he conveyed land to a EDWIN CARPENTER. Possibly a son.
9. In 1851, he conveyed land to a JOHN C. CARPENTER and a GEORGE CARPENTER. These were possibly his sons. Maybe Nephews?
10. May 21, 1851 he conveyed to Methodist Espiscopal Church of Marilla trustees for $500.00 a parcel of 5 chains and 25 links upon which a church was to be erected.

JEREMIAH was elected Town Sealer at the first Town Meeting held in home of his brother NILES March 7, 1854. The conveyances he made to the people in number 8 and 9 above may have been to his sons, but there is no way, at this date (1976), of so identifying them. LISTED as sons 1992 pending more info.

Marriages in the Town of Cazenovia For the Years 1847 and 1848
From Town of Cazenovia Records.
Transcribed and Compiled by Daniel H. Weiskotten. Posted January 19, 2000.
Carpenter, George, age 23, of Cazenovia, married to Catharine Spear, age 20, of Cazenovia, October 19, 1847, by Rev. E.J. Gillet, of Cazenovia.
Is this marriage for this George Carpenter?

1122. George Washington Carpenter

Number 96-3 in the Timothy Carpenter book.
GEORGE and his brother JEREMIAH purchased from BENJAMIN WOOSLEY POPE of New York City for $500.00 a 100-acre tract in Lot 125, Twp. 10, 5th Range on Oct. 27, 1825; this sale was recorded Sept. 26, 1832. GEORGE had 70 acres of this tract and began construction of a log cabin. In 1827, the two brothers purchased another tract on the Four Rod Road, east of the site of Marilla, and JEREMIAH began raising a log cabin. On June 9, 1832, George and his wife ANNE conveyed to brother JEREMIAH of the ALden area, 100 acres for $600.00 in the undivided half of Buffalo Run, Lot 138, Twp. 10, 5th Range, as recorded Sept. 26, 1832. In 1842, GEORGE built a house; the same year he devised a piece of land for the Evergreen Cemetery in Marilla. His son, GLEASON, was the first offical interment in this new section. GEORGE'S father had been interred in a private burial site on this ground prior to its becoming a cemetery.
GEORGE'S will, dated May 26, 1882, named sons LEWIS and JOHN executors, but son LEWIS petitioned and was granted the post of estate administrator. The following were mentioned in the will: Spouse, MEHITABEL; sons LEWIS and JOHN of Marilla; son GEORGE of Watertown, State of Dakota; son CHARLES of Dakota; son SQUIRE of Cresco, IA, and daughter LYDIA of Marilla. All were over age 21. ALSO MENTIONED granddaughter OSCEOLA ADAM of Marilla and grandsons FRANK S. and CHARLES L. gravestones were in good condition in 1974; There is a name only on MEHITABEL'S stone.

John,
After receiving the Marlborough Quaker Monthly Meeting minutes, compiled by Shirley V. Anson, and the unpublished Cornwall Quaker Monthly Meeting minutes, also compiled by Shirley V. Anson, I have some corrections and additions to make in the Sutton genealogy. I am currently on vacation, and don't have my materials with me, or I would give you the specific page numbers.
CORRECTIONS:
2. SOPHIA Carpenter Sutton probably died between 17June 1811 [when her last child was born] and 17 Jan 1837 [when David married for the second time, Margaret Austin, at the Society of Friends MM, Cornwall, Orange Co., NY][Cornwall MM minutes, unpublished, compiled by Shirley V. Anson, and viewed on microfilm]. DAVID and MARGARET are buried in the Crum Elbow Friends' Meeting Ground, Hyde Park, Dutchess Co., NY. [Old Gravestones of Dutchess Co.]

1. All references to DANIEL Sutton should be corrected to read DAVID Sutton. [I have searched the LDS microfilms of the original Cornwall MM minutes, and they also indicate this correction]. The original document cited by Gil Leach was a handwritten document, and the names Daniel and David are easily mistaken for one another.

information obtained from Gil Leach, who does work at the Dutchess
The foregoing information was sent to me by Gil Leach, email gilbleach@aol.com, who cited information contained in handwritten booklets in his possession on Stroughtenburg/Ring family data. Gil is also a descendant of Sophia Carpenter Sutton. Here is his original correspondence with me, as well as excerpts from two other notes:
2-25-1999
Dear Stefani,
I found your 2/14/99 (valentines Day) query this AM as I was subscribing to the list. I have the answer on the parentage of the three Suttons who married DeGarmo's in Dutchess County, NY. The reply is a little long to be included in the query reply section, so I am contacting you directly.
I am doing research on the Ring family originating in Dutchess County ca 1731-5. Some cousins of mine in Poughkeepsie (Ring's) have a significant amount of archival information. Seeing your query sparked a memory in me about the name Sutton, as it is in my family as well. One of the archives I mentioned is a small (actually, two) writing booklet, plain paper, about 3 x 6 inches, folded like a book, and about 16 pages. On these are written the lineage and children of Harmon Stoutenburgh, which I will transcribe below. I have no other proof of the data you seek, but will add in parentheses additional comments I have learned.
The DeGarmo's were early land owners in the Netherwood section od Pleasant Valley, which was part of Clinton prior to 1821. One is mentioned in an 1821 deed as the second prior owner of the land.
>From the little booklets:
Family record of Henry Carpenter b. 8/6/1741, d. 1/22/1784
Phebe, his wife b.3/30/1747, d. 4/7/1784 married 3/1/1768
Daniel Sutton, b. 2/13/1768 married Sophia Carpenter, 3/25/1789
children:
Phebe, b. 12/3/1791 (m. Rowland DeGarmo)
Anna, b. 2/21/1795 (m. David DeGarmo)
Elizabeth, b. 5/3/1797 (m. Harmon Stoutenburgh)
Philenar, b. 12/16/1800
Henry C., b. 1/4/1804 (m. Elizabeth DeGarmo)
Sophia, b. 1/17/180(7)
David William, b. 6/17/1811 (or 19)
There, you have the data from the two little books. I also have the will of Harmon Stoutenburgh, which mentions his children still alive (dtd 3/30/1868, two weeks before he died)

Let me know what you think about all this.

John,
After receiving the Marlborough Quaker Monthly Meeting minutes, compiled by Shirley V. Anson, and the unpublished Cornwall Quaker Monthly Meeting minutes, also compiled by Shirley V. Anson, I have some corrections and additions to make in the Sutton genealogy. I am currently on vacation, and don't have my materials with me, or I would give you the specific page numbers.
CORRECTIONS:
ADDITIONS:
The DeGarmo spouses of Phebe, Anna and Henry Sutton are all children of Peter DeGarmo and Mary D. Robinson [I can provide dates for Peter and Mary later, if you want them].
1. PHEBE Sutton [who married Rowland DeGarmo] d. 21 Feb 1873, and is buried in Crum Elbow Friends' Meeting Ground, Hyde Park, Dutchess Co., NY. [Old Gravestones of Dutchess County]. Rowland DeGarmo is also buried there.
ADDITIONS:
The DeGarmo spouses of Phebe, Anna and Henry Sutton are all children of Peter DeGarmo and Mary D. Robinson [I can provide dates for Peter and Mary later, if you want them].
1. PHEBE Sutton [who married Rowland DeGarmo] d. 21 Feb 1873, and is buried in Crum Elbow Friends' Meeting Ground, Hyde Park, Dutchess Co., NY. [Old Gravestones of Dutchess County]. Rowland DeGarmo is also buried there.

CORRECTIONS:
2. HENRY C. Sutton is HENRY CARPENTER Sutton [per Harriet Sutton, Lincoln, NE, granddaughter of Smith Sutton, who was a son of Henry C. Smith named one of his sons Henry Carpenter Sutton, "after his grandfather." When she told me this, she did not know of any Carpenter family connection, and didn't know the significance of the name. She also said that her uncle Henry's wife did not like his middle name, and on Henry's obit, she changed it to Charles. I have not seen the obit.]
3. HENRY Carpenter Sutton married 24 Mar 1825 [not 1824] Society of Friends MM, Crum Elbow, Hyde Park, Dutchess Co., NY [citation in Marlborough MM minutes].

1135. Benjamin Carpenter

Not listed except in notes in the book, The Carpenter Family in America by Daniel C.Carpenter, 1901.
He is confused with another Benjamin Carpenter in that book.

NOTE: MARRIAGE to Martha Weeks is RIGHT. The above book is wrong. It had the wrong Benjamin listed.
We have 2 Benjamin Carpenters born in Westchester county, NY.
The other one was born 14 Nov 1775 in Sommers. He died in Dec 1835. Son of Benjamin & Jane Edmunds.
He is RIN 24164 in the CE CD 2001.
This one on 14 Oct 1775 in West Farms. He died 17 Dec 1838. Son of Henry & Phebe.
See notes below that show it was the Benjamin, son of Henry who married Martha Weeks.

Hi John,
I'm reading through an article & wonder if you've seen this & whether you have the 18 Carpenters noted in it?
Notices in the Hudson River Chronicle - Deaths Dec 25, 1838
Carpenter, Benjamin died in Somers Dec 17, 1838, age 62. Member of Society of Friends."
If you've seen this source I won't bother copying & sending them to you. This Benjamin has dates similar to a Benjamin Carpenter you once sent me who was born 1775 & died 1835.
To refresh your memory on those that I research...

REPLY:
Dear Jean,
The dates are too close. While it may be a chance, they appear to be the same person.
The Westchester Historian Volume 66 No. 4 Fall 1990, page 91
Notices in the Hudson River Chronicle - Deaths
Dec 25, 1838
Carpenter, Benjamin died in Somers Dec 17, 1838, age 62. Member of Society of Friends.
I double checked the death date in the 1901 book and it does say 17 Dec 1835. My guess is that we may have found a typo!
I will make a note regarding this.
And yes, I would be interested in seeing more. Okay to share on the Carpenter forum?
Good Ops!

Subject: Re: Carpenter Bible
Dear John, Yes I am still at this address. My Robert Halleck Carpenter was not the son of Wright Carpenter but the child of Benjamin Carpenter and Martha Weeks. From the dates I have for them I was able to reconstruct the line thru various Quaker records. The only online record had Robert's birthdate off by 20 years as someone must have thought it impossible for Martha to have Henry and then no children for all those years and suddenly have Robert.I had always heard Robert had a much older brother who could not take over his care when his mother died shortly after his birth. His father died when he was young leaving the orphaned Robert to be brought up by aunts in Westchester Co. which his family had helped settle.
I was also told that the family was descended from the Kips of new Amsterdam. Martha Weeks grandmother was a Kip. Wright Carpenter appears to be a close cousin of my line whose child has the same name as my ancestor. The Carpenters seem to like Benjamin and Robert and Sarah as names and repeat them often! Thanks for keeping me posted on the Carpenter clan. Would you like a copy of what I have so far? Also, is La Mesa by San Diego? I was down there yesterday and thought I saw a road sign for La Mesa but am not really familiar with the area as I grew up here on the central coast in Santa Barbara County. My grandmother told me she had Carpenter cousins here in California as her aunt who married a Burr and moved to San Jose at the turn of the century. (Can one use that phrase now that the century has turned again?)Our family lost track of that San Jose bunch after they moved from New York. Thanks for all the info.

1136. Robert Carpenter

He reportedly married and had several children, but none are listed. It is possible he moved to PA before moving to OH.
Robert, as a son of Henry, has not been fully proved as a child, but one record indicates that "Robert Carpenter b. Jul 1778 late of Huron county" was the son.

MORE FOLLOWS ...

LAND: 1849
Robert Carpenter and wife Elizabeth convey land by deed to David S. Carpenter dated 20 Oct 1849 and recorded in the Huron County Records of Deeds Vol. 23, Page 421 and 422.
Robert Carpenter and wife reserve and excepting from said Western part, a tract about 2 acres and 34 hundredths. Appraised at $1290.
This land was put up for sale on 10 May 1865 by court ordered auction by W. T. Smith, executor. See Probate.
The land was sold to James Haskill for $1749.02 being the highest and best bid. Probate shows diagrams of lots.

NOTE:
Will is dated 14th day of the second month of 1850 and entered into probate twice.
Some probate is dated 25 Sep 1862 where the widow accepts the will given! Yes, 1862 is very clear. And the will is repeated into probate. More probate on 3 Oct 1862. apparently the executors did something about selling land that the family was not happy about. The reason is to settle debts but tmembers of the family want the land! Family is listed as defendants and the sole surving executor is William F. Smith. And that Robert Carpenter deceased departed this life about the 5th day of August 1861.
Probate continues ... 8 Mar 1865 to include a apprasial of premises and land. Said land to be sold.
This land was put up for sale on 10 May 1865 by court ordered auction by W. T. Smith, executor.
The land was sold to James Haskill for $1749.02 being the highest and best bid. Probate shows diagrams of lots. Costs of probate outlined by executor to date. E-MAIL: Tue, 15 Feb 2000. FROM: "Kari Northup"
Hi John,
... I was wondering if you were familiar with the family of John & Ann Carpenter Thorn. John & Ann were both born in Cornwall, Orange Co., NY and emigrated to Horseheads, Chemung Co., NY. I understand from another researcher that Ann's parents were Townsend & Elizabeth Truesdell Carpenter. I will copy a descendant outline of what I have for the family at the end of this email. I believe that John was the brother of my ancestor Lawrence Thorn, and that Lawrence & John were the sons of Daniel & Ann Johnes Vandel Thorn, who were born in Orange Co., NY and emigrated to Yates Co., NY. I believe Daniel is the son of Langford & Mary Roe Thorn(e) of Cornwall, Orange Co., NY. I am trying to find confirmation for all of the above, and any information you may have on any of these people would be helpful. Thanks, Kari Northup.

Thanks so much for the info - I may have some questions after I look it over. I'm interested in the Elizabeth Carpenter married to John Thorn - but the ages and marriage date don't match what I have. I will copy some of my notes on this email for you to look over. You may want to contact Paul Truesdell if you haven't already. He couldn't remember where he got the info I have on John & Ann Carpenter Thorn - I think the birthplace info is from the 1855 New York State census. Paul lives in Okinawa.
Notes I have for John & Ann Carpenter Thorn:

Dear Mr. Carpenter:

Dawn Carpenter suggested that I contact you. I am researching Louis (some sources spell it Lewis) Carpenter, born December 14, 1829, possibly in New York State.

I am the Law Librarian at the Douglas County Law Library, now being formed in Lawrence, Kansas. I am researching Louis Carpenter because there is a proposal to have a memorial to him in the Law Library. We need to have as much information as possible about him to determine if such a memorial would be appropriate. Also, if we do establish a memorial, we would like to let any relatives he might have know about it.

I have found no information about him prior to 1860 except for his birth date, recorded on his headstone (an image of which is located on the Find a Grave web site at: http://www.findagrave.com/cgi-bin/fg.cgi?page=gr&GRid=10534), and that he was from New York. He is recorded in the Kansas Territorial Census of 1860 as living in Lawrence but when he actually came to Kansas is unknown. He was married in Lawrence to Mary E. Barber of Emporia, Kansas, on October 10, 1862 but had no children. He was murdered at the hands of Confederate guerrillas led by William Clarke Quantrill in a raid on Lawrence on August 21, 1863. He was an attorney, had been probate judge, had run unsuccessfully for Attorney General of Kansas and, at the time of his death, was Recorder for the Kansas Supreme Court.

While Carpenter was probate judge in Douglas County, he wrote a Mrs. F. Stowe of Livingston County, N.Y. on April 11, 1861, concerning the estate of her husband. Other material in the letter suggests that Judge Carpenter may have had more than a professional relationship with her, being either a friend or relative of hers. Other than this, I have no clue as to where in New York he may have come from, whether he was actually born in New York, or any family connections he may have had.

Any assistance you can provide me in my research would be most appreciated. Thank you for your time.

Sincerely,
(Mr.) Kerry Altenbernd

The researcher should be aware that most of the rolls for the Revolution were destroyed in the [Oct 10,] 1855 fire which swept through the Adjutant General's office. The General Land Office did, however, have copies of most of the original rolls; a positive photostat of the General Land Office Muster Rolls [A3] is available in the Texas State Archives, and each soldier on the G.L.O. Rolls [A3] has been included in the Biographical Index in the search room." [A1]

COMMENT:
ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC OF TEXAS.
https://tshaonline.org/handbook/online/articles/qja03 [1837] May 7 Col. Joseph H. D. Rogers, the senior officer at headquarters, took command of the army. Within a week, however, a soldier who held a grudge against Col. Henry Teal shot him in his sleep. This incident proved too much for even Sam Houston, who ordered secretary of war William S. Fisher to go to Camp Bowie (in the future Jackson County), the army headquarters, and to furlough two-thirds of the army. The remaining 500 to 600 men were retained only to garrison the most essential posts. Because of its smaller size, the army could then be more adequately maintained by the government while the remaining units were held in almost total inactivity and allowed to dwindle away by expiration of enlistments. By the end of the year only small garrisons at San Antonio and Galveston remained.
- THIS MEANS that James Carpenter was likely in garrison in either San Antonio or Galvestion on 24 Oct 1836. There is about 250 miles between the two locations. Galveston is on the Gulf of Mexico south east of Houston. San Antonio is west of Houston inland.
Galveston was then the major port to supply Texas and had artillery.
San Antonio was a buffer between Mexico and the cities of Austin and Houston. It too had an artillery unit.

I am wondering someone can help me out by looking up some death records for me. I am not able to make it to Appleton during the week, so I am hoping someone can check a few records for me if the are heading to the court house. I am looking for the following death records:

Sylvanus Moore death record 3/27/1893
Sylvanus Moore death record 3/8/1895
Mary Moore death record 9/14/1900
Chauncy Carpenter death record 3/22/1878

2531. James Carpenter

JAMES WAS NOT MENTIONED IN HIS FATHERS WILL DATED 10-10-1836, PROBABLY INDICATING HE DIED PRIOR TO THE WILL BEING WRITTEN. NFD.

DANIEL DIED AGE 73 YEARS, 4 MONTHS, 16 DAYS. VETERAN OF WAR OF 1812.
75-3 IN TIMOTHY CARPENTERS DESCENDANTS. VARIOUS REGIONAL HISTORIES INDICATE THAT DANIEL FOLLOWED JAMES, HIS BROTHER TO CHAUTAUQUA COUNTY ABOUT 1807. HE SETTLED ON THE WEST SIDE OF CHAUTAUQUA LAKE AS DID HIS BROTHER. SHORTLY THEREAFTER, HIS FATHER JOSIAH SETTLED ON LAND PREVIOUSLY PURCHASE. IN HARMONY TWP HE WAS ELECTED TOWN ASSESSOR AND HIGHWAY COMMISIONER IN 1817.
Daniel died intestate. Letters of administration on his estate were issued Dec. 7, 1885 and mentioned that all his children were then of full age (Vol.6, p. 496, Courthouse, Mayville, NY.). Besides the above children, the 1850 census of Harmony lists in Daniel's household a Mary Carpenter, age 58 (probably his sister), a James Purdy, age 66, and a William Purdy, age 30, all of which were born in NY.

HE MARRIED HULDAH CARPENTER HIS COUSIN (# 153-4) DAUGHTER OF ANDERSON (# 51) AND BETSEY (FOSTER) CARPENTER.

Bio: Inscription:
Aged 58 years

Isaac was the son of Revolutionary War serviceman, Josiah Carpenter, and his lovely wife, Sarah Benedict. Subsequently, he was the grandson of Timothy Carpenter and Elizabeth [Anderson], and Thomas Benedict and Jane [Gunn].

Isaac served in the War of 1812. Both his father and father-in-law served in the American Revolution.

Isaac married Mehitabel 'Mary' Matteson on 15 Oct 1815 in Chautauqua County, New York, by a Justice of the Peace.

They were blessed with fifteen children, however four beautiful children passed into eternity as newborns or infants.

Their children are:
Amos, Sally, Polly, David, Abner Lewis [1st], Abner Lewis [2nd], Isaiah R. [1st], Fidelia, Isaiah R. [2nd], Ira, Barzilla, Norma, Betsey, Isaac Nathan, and Mariah. All of the children were born in Harmony Twp, Chautauqua Co., New York between 1816 - 1841.

Early Settlers of Chautauqua County, New York

CARPENTER Family - Josiah came from Pittstown, Rensselaer Co., NY in 1808 and bought 1,000 acres. His son James settled on part of this land in 1808- James and young wife stayed first in Thomas Bemus cabin, where son was born that year- first birth in town. In 1811, Josiah returned with 4 sons- Daniel B., Isaac, Josiah Jr, and Timothy- his 7 daus md respectively: Israel Carpenter, Orange Phelps, Gilbert Ward, Oliver Pier, Samuel Green and Henry Hosier- Mary was unmarried.

MATTESON Family - Wm. Jr. and Estys, brothers, came in 1810- their father Wm. Sr. in 1811,(died 1858 in his 99th year), with son Victor- dau Mehetable md to Isaac Carpenter.

* FACT:
The custom Isaac and Mehitabel practiced of renaming a second child with a name already given took place twice. The second Abner Lewis Carpenter was born (b. 17 Dec 1823) months after the death of an infant sibling named Abner Lewis Carpenter (b. 18 Aug 1822 d. 16 Sep 1823).

Isaiah was the second son born to Isaac and Mehitabel who was given the name, Isaiah R. Carpenter. The first child named Isaiah R. Carpenter died in infancy (b. 17 Nov 1825 d. 06 Dec 1826), just short of his thirteenth month.

BETSEY'S gravestone was in good condition in 1968. In his research to determine when and where OLIVER died, the compiler (Adm. CARPENTER) was fortunate to come by genealogical data on the PIER family (see OLIVER'S notes) through the courtesy of the late SIDNEY B. ELSTON of Corryy, PA., register of vital statistics and treasurer of Pine Grove Cemetery, Corry, PA., in 1966. He consulted sextons of the following cemeteries, without success, in an endeavor to locate the burial site of OLIVER: Pine Grove Cemetery, Corry, PA.; McGray Cemetery, Concord Twp.; Beaverdam (PA) Cemetery, David Curtis Cemetery, Columbus, PA.; West Lawn Cemetery in Columbus, and the Spring Lake (PA) Cemetery. A gentleman who tends Corry area graves on Memorial Day and devoted years to locating forgotten gravesites said OLIVER was not interred in any of the six PIER lots in Pine Grove. Near the Pine Grove Entrance is a large granite tablet placed in memory of Civil War Veterans and not necessarily confined to those interred in the cemetery. The tablet was dedicated to the cemetery by a JASON C. SMITH, whose wife, MARTHA A. PIER, came from Blockville, N.Y. The other OLIVER PIER whose name is listed on this tablet was a son of the OLIVER PIER who wed BETSEY CARPENTER.

Oliver Daniel Pier

BOOK- GENEALOGY: Charles Lorain Carpenter, Rear Admiral, USN-Ret.,
THE DESCENDANTS OF TIMOTHY CARPENTER OF PITTSTOWN, RENSSELAER CO., NEW YORK.

Published 1976 - 200 copies By: The News-Journal - P.O. Box 398 Machias, Maine 04654. A detailed history on the PIER family starts on page 20.

A history of Erie County, N.Y. records OLIVER PIER was one of the early settlers of Concord Twp. and in his day, a famed hunter who claimed to have killed 1,322 deer, plus numerous wolves, bear and other wild animals with a single gun. He became totally blind and lived with his son, WILLIAM, at Corry, PA. OLIVER was the son of LEVI and ANN (DEWEY) PIER of Busti, Chautauqua, N.Y. OLIVER purchased land in Harmony Township's Twp.1, Range 13, Lot 2, in 1816 and Lot 10 in 1831. He was affectionately referred to as "THE LEATHER STOCKING OF CHAUTAUQUA COUNTY" due to his feats as a hunter. His father came to the Busti area from Oxford (Pierstown) in Chenango County, then part of Otsego County, NY. Much effort was made to find OLIVER's grave in the 1960s. See spouse's notes.

!PIER FAMILY- The following Genealogical information regarding the PIER family is recorded here so it may not be lost to posterity. It is copied verbatim from an article prepared by CALVIN A. PIER, son of an OLIVER PIER. (From the T. C. Book page 20) [I agree with Adm. Carpenter - JRC]

The PIERS of Chautautauqua County, N.Y. and nearby counties of PA are descended from JOHN and LEVI PIER, two grandsons of Sergt. THOMAS and MARGARET PIER who settled in Great Barrington, Berkshire County, MA about 1730. From whare Sergt. PIER came from to Great Barrington, I have not been able to ascertain. But if correct he or his grandfather came from England. Sergt. PIER lived in Great Barrington until his death in 1778 and had a family of at least eight children as follows:
THOMAS JR., father of JOHN and LEVI, he married RACHEL TREMAINE and lived to be about 90 yer's old. JOHN died at the age of 14 years.
RHONDA married BENJAMIN TERMAINE (so spelled) of Edgemont.
DAVID served in the French and Indian War in 1755 & 1756.
RUTH married Mr. CHURCH probily JOHN CHURCH and was cut off in his father's will with five shillings.
SOLOMON was born 1739 and was probily the soldier of that name from E. Barrington engaged in the siege of Boston.
OLIVER designated in a deed of 1779 as of New Haven, Addison County, VT.
ETHAN who is designated in a deed of 1779 as of Tymouty, Bennington County, VT.

Of Sergt. PIER's sons JOHN and probily DAVID & SOLOMON died before their father without any descendants. All the PIERS Ive ever met trace their ancestry to THOMAS of VT; as Sergt. PIER'S sons OLIVER & ETHAN went to VT, it is likely the were the ancestors of the VT PIERS, quite a number of whose descendants now live in MI & WI.
THOMAS PIER JR. was the oldest of Sergt. PIER'S children and was executor of his will and had a larger part of his estate than any other one.
He lived in G. Barrington the greater part of his life, and there all his children were born, six sons
JOHN born May 30, 1752,
LEVI was born June 3, 1754. The other sons
DAVID
SILAS.
About 1790 THOMAS JR. and his six sons some of whom has family's moved to Otsego Co., N.Y. and settled upon a track of land afterwards called after them Pierstown. THOMAS JR. & wife finally went to Chenango Co. and lived with their granddaughter SALLY PIER ROOT and died there. THOMAS JR. died in the year 1816 or 17 and his wife died the year previous.

JOHN & LEVI married sisters NANCY & ANN DEWEY.
JOHN had three children by his first wife,
RACHEL,
THOMAS &
TRUEMAN;
THOMAS sons were JONATHAN & NORMAN and grandson Mr. DOHOBSON, had lived in Chautauqua Co.
JOHN married his second wife PHEBE STEPHENS a woman with a remarkable memory.
Their children were
HERMAN,
NANCY,
WILLIAM,
RUFUS & CALVIN.
DANIEL and CALVIN settled in Chautauqua Co. on the road from Fredonia to Dunkirk where his daughter AMELIA now resides,
RUFUS at Jamestown where he married CATHERINE BLANCHARD & lived there till he died in 1863. JOHN'S son WILLIAM was in Chautauqua was in Co., but moved to Hyde Park, PA.
JOHN remained in Otsego Co. and died there while his son RUFUS was quite young.
Our Grandfather LEVI, brother to JOHN.
LEVI PIER born June 3, 1754; he moved from Pierstown to Chenango Co., N.Y. lived there several years, but in 1814 settled with his son ABRAM and younger children in Busti, Chautauqua Co., N.Y.; his wife ANN DEWEY PIER died about 1816 and he died in 1826; his second wife was widow PIERCE mother of his son DAVID'S wife. LEVI'S children were twelve in number.
ELIJAH married a BEEBE and died in 1804,
LOIS married a BEEBE and settled in Qumey, Ill.
NANCY married DANIEL ROOT in Otsego Co. and died in 1804.
SALLY married AARON ROOT.
SILAS died in 1804 with fever.
ABRAM settled in Busti and married OLIVE MARSHALL for his first wife, and MARY ANN SIMMONS for his 2nd wife.
RHUBEN married MARGARET ARCHER and lived in Harmony, later moved near Meadville & married again, OLIVER married BETSEY CARPENTER & lived in Harmony.
LOWISA (so spelled) married HORACE BLANCHARD a brother of RUFUS PIER'S wife, ROXEY married WILIAM MARTIN and lived in Busti, later Kinestone, DAVID married ESTER PIERCE, lived in Busti, later Jamestown.
JOHN & LEVI were members of Captain GOODRICK'S company of 46 men who marched from G. Barrington in August 1777 & several PIERS of G. Barrington were in different companys that served in the Revolutionary War.

LEVI's brother ABNER had the notable experience of them all according to CHARLES TAYLOR'S HISTORY OF G. BARRINGTON, and the account is corrobated by others. ABNER was at the Battle of Stone Arabia in the Mohawk Valley, Oct. 17, 1780, was taken prisoner by the indians one of his captors struck him on the head with a tomahawk took off his scalp & as he lay helpless they shot him inflicting several wounds; he was then left for dead, but recovering strength to crawl to a nearby hayrick where he lay till morning when his comrads found him, though terribly mutilated recovered & lived mant years some of his descendents are still living in Otsego Co. His daughter Mrs. HARRIET KINNEY of addison, N.Y. has visited Jamestown, N.Y. His son GEORGE was famous as a clarinet, fife & bugle player & served as musician in the War of 1812; he died in 1831 in his 37th year.

The above in the spelling and words of CALVIN PIER, per ADM. CARPENTER.

Will of Timothy Carpenter(1806-1878)
KathySloan2002 (View posts) Posted: 16 Dec 2004 2:40AM GMT

Classification: Will
Surnames: CARPENTER, GREEN
In the name of God, Amen.
I, Timothy Carpenter of the Town of Harmony, County of Chautauqua, and state of New York, being of sound mind and memory, and considering the uncertainty of this frail and transitory life, do therefore make, ordain, publish and declare this to be my last will and testament, that is to say:
First---after all my lawful debts are paid and discharged, I give and bequeath to my wife Sally B. Carpenter during her natural life, the use of the part of my house that I live in now as described(to wit) consisting of the upright and the room west of it used by me now for a kitchen with a bedroom west and a butry south of the kitchen. It is my will for my wife to have the use of my farm and all my personal property if it should require so much for her support. After her death if she should survive me, it is to be equally divided between my three children, providing my son William P. Carpenter pays a note that we gave together to ?????. If he fails to pay it, it must come from his portion with annual interest. It is further my will that Samuel Green shall manage the property, have full power to let the farm and to manage the personal property as a prudent farmer should and to let my wife have as much of the proceeds as is necessary for her support. Likewise I make, constitute and appoint Samuel J. Green of Harmony Chautauqua County and State of New York to be executor of this my last will and testament, hereby revoking all former wills by me made.
In witness whereof, I have hereunto subscribed my name and affixed my seal the Twenty-fifth day of March, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy eight.

Signed
Timothy Carpenter

The above written instrument was subscribed by the said Timothy Carpenter in our presence, and acknowledged by him to each of us: and he at the same time declared the above instrument, so subscribed to be his last Will and Testament: and we, at his request, have signed our names as witnesses hereto, in his presence and in the presence of each other, and written opposite our names our respective places of residence.

Jane T(?) Morris Blockville, New York
Herbert M. Carpenter Blockville, New York
DeWitt M. Carpenter Blockville, New York

The name mentioned in the will as being owed money by William Carpenter was not readable. It appears to be Jane with the last name unknown. I am not sure. The will was found among some family papers.

WILLIAM CARPENTER, SR.: Father of the William above was born in 1784 and according to Bonnie Huser's approved application for membership in the National Society of Founders and Patriots of America and an ancestry site owned by maryvukman, he was born in Pittstown, in Albany, NY. Rensslaer County is created in 1791 from Albany. After this date, William's home is in Rensslaer. He died c. 1827/8 in Wales, Erie, NY.

In 1810 Fed. Census, Pompey Township, Onondaga, NY, he was living with his family which consisted of a wife, another woman, both 26-44 years of age, four children under the age of 10-two boys and two girls. He was age 26-44. Also, this year he shows up in Western NY Land Transactions Index, 1804-1824, on page 299 as having a land transaction and on page 382 with numerous transactions. The Holland Land Records for the town of Wales shows that a William with his wife, Polly purchased land as early as 1810. In 1811, he is a resident of Erie County as told in the History of Buffalo and Erie County.

In the 1820 Federal Census for Wales, Niagara, NY, (Erie created from Niagara in 1821), William is with his family that now consists of two sons, (William is not yet born) one still under 10 and the other not over 15, he is still 26-44, there are two daughters, one under 10 and the other not over 15, his wife is also still 26-44. In William's Will, dated 1827, he names two sons, Carr and William (don't know why not a third?) and his wife, Polly. Two women are also named, Harriet and Lydia and the assumption is that these are his two daughters who have been on the census records. On the marriage record of his son, William, Jr.'s second marriage, is the name of the groom's parents, William and Polly Cobb.

This is likely ...
Number 93-3 in the T. Carpenter book. WILLIAM R. CARPENTER of Alden, had at least five children (listed in his will) by his first wife (name unknown) who died previous to the will dated 1866. His second wife, HARRIET is mentioned in the same will (document # 3457 at the Buffalo, N.Y. courthouse). Per 1976 book. Children are listed with Harriet in that record and are: Joseph Carpenter (B. no birth dates given), William, Caroline, Mary, & John B. Carpenter.
NOTE: First spouse and children deceased prior to 1866 are not mentioned.
BUT ... Information here conflicts with what Carol provided.

1117. Joseph Carpenter

This line updated by John Laird via email < johnlarid9@aol.com > in May 2013.

Number 89-3 in the Timothy Carpenter book.

JOSEPH was one of the early pioneers in the Wales/Marilla area of Erie County, N.Y. and the second CARPENTER of record having owned land there as early as 1815. He made numerous purchases and conveyances, as recorded at Buffalo, N.Y. In 1828, he purchased a tract which include the present site of the village of Marilla, settled near his brothers, and built a frame house and a saw mill. In 1838, he and his brother JEREMIAH built a second saw mill, which was later sold to a CHARLES CHAPPEL and finally abandoned in 1863. There are wills on file at Buffalo for numerous JOSEPH CARPENTERS, but the compiler (of the Timothy Carpenter book) was unable to identify which one is that of this JOSEPH.

Research reveals that his wife was Anna. They settle in Macedon, Wayne county, NY.

Will of Timothy Carpenter(1806-1878)
KathySloan2002 (View posts) Posted: 16 Dec 2004 2:40AM GMT

Classification: Will
Surnames: CARPENTER, GREEN
In the name of God, Amen.
I, Timothy Carpenter of the Town of Harmony, County of Chautauqua, and state of New York, being of sound mind and memory, and considering the uncertainty of this frail and transitory life, do therefore make, ordain, publish and declare this to be my last will and testament, that is to say:
First---after all my lawful debts are paid and discharged, I give and bequeath to my wife Sally B. Carpenter during her natural life, the use of the part of my house that I live in now as described(to wit) consisting of the upright and the room west of it used by me now for a kitchen with a bedroom west and a butry south of the kitchen. It is my will for my wife to have the use of my farm and all my personal property if it should require so much for her support. After her death if she should survive me, it is to be equally divided between my three children, providing my son William P. Carpenter pays a note that we gave together to ?????. If he fails to pay it, it must come from his portion with annual interest. It is further my will that Samuel Green shall manage the property, have full power to let the farm and to manage the personal property as a prudent farmer should and to let my wife have as much of the proceeds as is necessary for her support. Likewise I make, constitute and appoint Samuel J. Green of Harmony Chautauqua County and State of New York to be executor of this my last will and testament, hereby revoking all former wills by me made.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto subscribed my name and affixed my seal the Twenty-fifth day of March, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy eight.

Signed
Timothy Carpenter

The above written instrument was subscribed by the said Timothy Carpenter in our presence, and acknowledged by him to each of us: and he at the same time declared the above instrument, so subscribed to be his last Will and Testament: and we, at his request, have signed our names as witnesses hereto, in his presence and in the presence of each other, and written opposite our names our respective places of residence.

Jane T(?) Morris Blockville, New York
Herbert M. Carpenter Blockville, New York
DeWitt M. Carpenter Blockville, New York

The name mentioned in the will as being owed money by William Carpenter was not readable. It appears to be Jane with the last name unknown. I am not sure. The will was found among some family papers.

2490. William Purdy Jr.

William and members of his family are mentioned in various census records of Panama, beginning in 1860. In the 1860 census is listed an uncle, James Purdy, age 80. The 1865 census mentions children not given in the previous census.

Fidelia Carpenter

Number 244-4 in the Timothy Carpenter book.
Fidelia is sometimes recorded as "Pidelia". In the letters of administration of her mother's estate, dated March 10, 1886, it is spelled with an "F".
A letter of Fidelia's mother to Fideli's brother Isaac (250) on May 28, 1876 states Fidelia was then bedridden and residing at Broken Straw, NY.

2511. Gilbert Ward

Gilbert married twice; EMELIE ? and ANNA ?. At least four children, but which belong to which wife is unknown. Some records indicate a THIRD wife, CECELIA McKEIFER, b. 11020-1846 at Keifer's Corner, N.Y. The May 18, 1870 wedding date is compatible with the birth date of their first child, GILBERT. Gilbert is believed to have died in or near Domansville, N.Y.

GILBERT is a son who became associated in the banking business. GILBERT is recorded to have been at Waterloo, Seneca Co., N.Y. after having resided at Sand Lake, N.Y.

BIO:
http://www.historicmadison.org/Madison's%20Past/connectingwithourpast/pumpcarpenter.html
Stephen D. "Pump" Carpenter
One of Madison's most flamboyant early newspapermen was Stephen Decatur "Pump" Carpenter. He earned his nickname in 1853 after inventing a Universal Rotary Force Pump that was used to drain water from lead mines.
He arrived in Madison in 1850, going to work for the Argus and then the Argus & Democrat newspapers. In the fall and winter of 1853 Monks Hall, at the corner of Wisconsin Avenue and Doty Street, served as headquarters for a group of lobbyists, among them Secretary of State William Barstow, who were attempting to obtain legislation favorable to the Rock River Valley Union Railroad. Subsequently, the railroad's proposed bill passed, and legislators received financial rewards. In 1854 Carpenter purchased the Daily Patriot newspaper from Horace A. Tenney and launched a personal crusade to "pump" corruption from the Capitol.

He dubbed the railroad group "Barstow and the Forty Thieves."
Barstow was elected governor in 1854, and Carpenter accused him of corruption in awarding a contract to his friend Andrew Proudfit to build the Insane Asylum (now Mendota Mental Health Institute). He battled daily with the editors of the Argus, Barstow's party newspaper. An editorial from November 3, 1855 was typical: "We have been endeavoring to pump truth from the Argus for a long while, but one might as well attempt to extract blood from a turnip. There is no lack of vacuum however – the 'suction' is excellent, and we can pump 'lie' from it, as fast as the great sea monster can suck in brine."
In November 1855, Barstow was reelected governor, defeating challenger Coles Bashford after illegal supplementary ballots were added to his vote total. Carpenter took the lead in fighting for Barstow's ouster, which finally occurred on March 21, 1856. On April 9 friends gave him a gold watch inscribed: "Presented to S. D. Carpenter by his friends of Madison, Wisconsin, as a token of their regard for the effectual aid he rendered in 'pumping out' the 'Forty Thieves' from the State Capitol."
Bashford, however, proved to be corrupt as well, so Carpenter editorialized vigorously on behalf of Alexander Randall in the 1857 gubernatorial election. After Randall won by 118 votes out of roughly 90,000 cast, Carpenter celebrated in his November 21 issue:
Ten Million Cheers!!
Crow, Old Rooster! Crow!!
The Forty Thieves Cleared Out!
Randall Elected Governor!
Honesty Triumphant!
The Patriot Fully Sustained!
There is a God in Israel!
Carpenter suspended the Patriot in November 1864 after unsuccessfully supporting George McClellan for president. He then embarked on a second career as an inventor. Among his inventions were a power press, a ship with concave sides to deflect cannon balls that he proposed to Navy Secretary Gideon Wells in 1864, an automatic grain binder that he sold to McCormick, a veneer cutter, and a secret ballot machine. He invented a typesetting machine that was unfortunately run over by a train while it was being unloaded. He also drew up plans for an eight-track elevated railroad from New York to San Francisco. This $100 million project had a four-track upper tier, four-track lower tier, and 60 electric powerhouses set 83 miles apart.
Pump died in Omaha sometime after 1905.

DESCRIPTION
Photographic calling card of Stephen Decatur Carpenter (ca. 1821-1906), an influential newspaperman who settled in Madison, Wisconsin, in 1851, where he became associated with several newspapers: with Horace A. Tenney he was co-publisher of the "Argus"; with Beriah Brown he was publisher of the "Argus" and "Democrat"; and from 1854 to 1864 he was associated with various individuals in the publication of the "Wisconsin Patriot". Later Carpenter established papers in Fond du Lac and Oshkosh before returning to Madison. Carpenter was also an inventor and his patents for two rotary pumps resulted in his nickname "Pump."

He had been a newspaper publisher and editor in variousplaces. Prior to becoming editor of the Prairie Democrat ofFreeport, Ill., he had been editor of the Girard, Pa. Free Press.Later, he was instrumental in starting and editing the first dailyat Madison, Wisc., the Wisconsin Patriot, and was with itthroughout the Civil War. He then joined his son ALBERT inpublishing the Patriot at Carthage, Mo.STEPHEN was affectionately referred to as "PUMP" CARPENTER due to apump he invented for a grain binder. The McCormick Company purchasedhis patent. He also invented a type-setting machine and a votingmachine. Just prior to his death, he was engaged in selling thevoting machine to the State of Missouri. He claimed the machine wasinfallible and could be purchased for $50 each instead of the $500per machine the State was then paying. Some records indicate STEPHENwas a Wisconsin State Senator, but this is an error. The StateArchivist reports his only connection with state government was atwo-year printing contract which was financially disastrous toSTEPHEN. He is reported to have received a gold watch from the STATEfor exposing irregularities in the awarding of printing contracts.His second spouse MARY is listed in the 1860 census (3rd ward,Madison, Wisc.) as age 36 and born in Vermont (Vol. 1, p. 260,census). She reportedly was interred under her maiden name of MissSTRICKLAND; her obit, however, refers to her as Mrs. MARY B.CARPENTER, wife of S.D. CARPENTER. The lot where she and STEPHEN areinterred was purchased a week prior to her death by her brother-inlaw, LAWSON REYNOLDS. His spouse, sister to MARY, died the Fridaypreceding MARYS death. She is buried between MARY and STEPHEN in arow of three graves. In 1967 the cemetary caretaker said STEPHEN'Sgravesite is not under perpetual care, nor does it have a stone ormarker.References: 1-2-3-4-12C (Freeport, ILL.), F (Madison, Wisc.), H.

NOTE: A Journalist.

Emiline Cornilia Britton

Died in a cholera epidemic and buried there.

5133. Ida Emiline Carpenter

Number 634-5 in the Timothy Carpenter book.
Most old records do not include this Ida. The compiler of the above record found her name in an old letter of Stephen, her father. The fact that she died early would indicate the second Ida of the family was named after her, as often was the custom. She was recorded to have died during the cholera epidemic and a short time prior to her mother's passing.

Mary B. Newton

Buried in the SE corner grave, Lot 18, Block 13.
Listed in the 1860 census of Madison, WI (Vol.1, p.260)
The lot where Mary and her Husband, Stephen are interred was purchased a week prior to her death by her brother-in-law, Lawson Reynolds. His spouse, sister to Mary, died the Friday preceding Mary's death. She is buried between Mary and Stephen in a row of three graves. In 1967 the cemetery caretaker said Stephen's gravesite is not under perpetual care, nor does it have a stone or marker.
One record indicates STRICKLAND as a maiden name, but no mention of previous marriage is found.

2538. Emmett S. Carpenter

Number 236-4 in the Timothy Carpenter book.
Emmett was recorded as residing in MO in letters of administration of his father's estate dated 12-7-1885. Emmett was mentioned in the 1850 census of Harmony Twp with his parents. Lydia is mentioned in the 1875 census of Harmony. One old record spells her name as Olivia.

2544. Abner Lewis Carpenter 2nd

Number 242-4 in the Timothy Carpenter book.
Abner was sometimes referred to as Abner 2nd in old records. This was occasioned by his having been the second Abner of his family, the first having died in infancy.
Abner and his family are mentioned in the various census records of Panama, beginning in 1855. He was first mentioned in the Mayville census of 1850. reference was made that he had resided in Kansas at one time. He was not mentioned in Letters of Administration of his mother's estate, dated March 1, 1886 as found in the Mayville, NY courthouse records.
Abner addressed a letter dated January 31, 1897 from Tecumsech, OK Territory, to his brother Isaac (250), setting forth details of his own family to that time. A letter by granddaughter Ada mentions the passing of his spouse Sarah and that Abner was residing with his daughter Ella Elder in the State of Washington.

5154. Emily Ella "Ella" Carpenter

Number 655-5 in the Timothy Carpenter book.
Ella is mentioned in the 1865 census of Panama and on an 1861 school list.
Her niece, Ada, in a 10-26-1959 letter records Ella's married name was Elder, she was deceased, and that her father, Abner resided with her in Puget Sound area in his latter years.

This contradicts Abners's statements in a letter to his brother Isaac that Eva, not Ella, wed E.G. Elder. We accept Ada's word as Eva wed a Mr. Diamond. Ada also said her older brothers and sister were deceased (by 1959).

5157. Sarah Catherine Carpenter

Number 727-5 in the Timothy Carpenter book.

5158. Eva Carpenter

Number 658-5 in the Timothy Carpenter book.
Eva is first mentioned in the 1865 census of Panama. She was postmistress at Frewsburg, NY prior to moving to CA. Her father wrote to his brother Isaac in 1897, stating that Eva was then living in Colorado and would be 34 the next March 12. In addition, Abner stated she had married E.G. Elder, which conflicts with Diamond. Eva's sister Ella (655) married G.T. Elder. Three of her four children were living in 1897 and the eldest was then deceased.

89. Benjamin Carpenter

Number 34 in the book "The Carpenter Family in America" by Daniel H. Carpenter, 1901.
Page 55 as the 4th child (3rd male) born about 1696.
He is listed as Number 33 (in error - should be 34) on page 80.
There are extensive notes of property, deeds, will and inventory of Benjamin. His two children are listed on page 83. Both with about birth dates.

Cited from the above book ...
Benjamin Carpenter, son of Nathaniel, was born at Cedar Swamp, L. I., about 1696. He was a weaver by trade, and so was called " Benjamin Carpenter, weaver," to distinguish him from "Capt. Benjamin" and "Benjamin the sadler," etc. His wife was Deborah, daughter of Nathan and Rachel (Hopkins) Coles. She was born January 16, 1697/98.
They were married about 1720. They had their home at Duck Pond, on the southerly side of the highway leading from Musketa Cove to Oyster Bay. It was given to the wife of Benjamin by her father Nathan. It consisted of three acres of land, and is described in the old deed* of January 16, 1721/22, as "bounded on the North by ye highway that leads from Musketa Cove to Oyster Bay, West by ye land of daughters of Harvey Coles, deceased, and so to run East by ye said highway, and southward so far both ways, near upon a square as to contain 3 acres. It being ye north west of ye half lot so called, as it may more at large be seen by a deed of sale for ye same, had from WIliam & Silas Carpenter to Thomas Golding, bearing date ye March 1 st, 1720. Price (L) 56 pounds."
I think that with the date of this purchase, 1721, he and his wife removed to their home, and occupied it until their death. The house was standing as late as 1850, and was often pointed out to me by my aunts as being the birth place of their father (my grandfather Latting Carpenter). The property is now owned by Mr s. Wright, one boundary (the easterly) being Pearsall Avenue.
On February 19, 1721/22, Benjamin Carpenter, "weaver," and his wife Deborah witness a deed* from George, Rosanna, Jotham, and Martha Townsend to Benjamin Carpenter, "sadler," soat once showing the marriage of "the weaver" and the distinction of trades.
As will be seen by the appended notes Benjamin Carpenter at various times purchased additional property, which, with his loom for occupation in winter , kept him busy at farm work during the summer, and thus by his industry he had accumulated at the time of his death quite a snug sum of ready money besides his real estate.'
His will is dated May 12, 1749, (+) and he cites that "he is very sick and weak in body , but of Perfect Mind and Memeory,Thanks be given unto God for it, "etc.
He mentions his wife Deborah, his beloved son Coles (not yet of age), to whom after his wife's death he bequeaths all his estate. To his daughter Rachel, the wife of Jonadab Townsend, he gives five shillings.
Notwithstanding his sickness at the time of his making his will he survived it for nearly twenty years, his will being proved January 5, 1769. The inventory of his personal property is now in my hands and was made October 21, 1768. So that we can safely assume that he died in September of that year. It shows a valuation of (L) 354 pounds. is. od.
Children:
102 RACHEL, born about 1721
103 COLES, born about 1735.

RESIDENCE: Duck Pond, a 3 acre lot. Duck Pond was within the limits of the Musketa Cove Patent. A deed on land (their residence) is in Oyster Bay Records, Vol. 7, page 282 per a reference in the above book. It is dated 11 Jan 1721/1722. Daniel H. Carpenter cites that his Aunts often pointed out the house (belonging to Benjamin) to him several times as where his grandfather Latting was born and its history. He indicates that it was still standing in 1850 and the easterly boundary being Pearsall Ave.

DEATH: September 1768. He died at Cedar Swamp, LI. It is not known where this was.

WILL: Will dated 12 May 1749 and proven 5 Jan 1769 (See; New York Wills, Vol. 26, p. 521). Inventory done 21 Oct. 1768. He was a weaver by trade.

299. Isaac Carpenter

Number 127 in the book "The Carpenter Family in America" by Daniel H. Carpenter, 1901.
NAME: Issac should be Isaac.

300. Jesse Carpenter

SEE: Genealogical and Historical Record of the Carpenter Family, by James Usher Page 30 regarding The Carpenter Family of Long Island and NY.
Not listed in 1901 book with birth date as given does not match the Usher book Jesse date of birth. Probably one died before the other was born? However, the dob matches Issac in the 1901 book.

303. Zipporah or Zepporah Carpenter

Number 130 in the book "The Carpenter Family in America" by Daniel H. Carpenter, 1901. See also page 130. AKA: Zeppy.
She married twice, first to James Kipp then to Caleb Carpenter (# 72).
James Kipp because of his outspoken loyalty to King George was compelled to emigrate to Nova Scotia. He eventually drowned and his widow returned to New Castle. Per Caleb's bible, she died about 8 O'Clock in the evening.

SEE: Genealogical and Historical Record of the Carpenter Family, by James Usher

Usher got the heritage wrong. Usher birth date is 16 Apr.1749.

Caleb Carpenter

Number 72 in the Carpenter Family in America book of 1901.
Family on page 104 & 105. After his mother died he removed with his father to North Castle. Caleb left a very clear and complete record of his family in his Bible. See page 105.

Caleb married two sisters, daughters of John Carpenter (Hatter), of North Castle, New York, and Clinton, Dutchess county, New York.
He was a Patriot. He did patriotic service for America in New York State.

RE: Ruth Carpenter (b: Jan 24, 1776 in NY)
Date: 14 Nov 2001 GMT
Looking for any possible help in finding info on the children of Ruth Carpenter (daugher of Caleb Carpenter, wife of John Kipp):
"The Kip Family in America" contains info on a John Kipp who was the son of James Kipp and Zipporah Carpenter.
John Kipp married Ruth Carpenter (b: Jan 24th, 1776). "The Kip Family in America" lists the children of this union as:
Lydia
Zipporah
Maria Jesse*
Caleb
Henry
Joseph
William
* I am trying to determine if this Jesse is my G-G-G-G Grandfather Jesse Kipp. My Jesse was born in NY (1804), though later married in Canada, and eventually settled in Grand Rapids, MI. Can anyone through their resources identify the birthdates of the children of John Kipp and Ruth Carpenter? Or provide any additional info that might help us along? Thanks!!!

304. Jesse Carpenter

Number 131 in the book "The Carpenter Family in America" by Daniel H. Carpenter, 1901.
He probably died young.
Usher had hertiage wrong. Also this Jesse with birth date as given does not match the Usher book Jesse date of birth. Probably one died before the other was born.

305. Isaac Carpenter

SEE: Genealogical and Historical Record of the Carpenter Family, by James Usher Page 30 regarding The Carpenter Family of Long Island and NY.
NAME: listed as "Jersey" in one record.

Usher had the heritage wrong. Also this Isaac with birth date as given does not match the 1901 book Isaac date of birth. Probably one died before the other was born. However, the dob matches (3 Sep vs 23 Sep - a consistent difference between the records) that of Jesse in the 1901 book.

Per the above the will was made 25 Feb 1750 (1750/1751) and proved 7 Mar 1751.

NAME:
Some people stick Coles (mother's maiden name) as a middle name, but this is incorrect.

MARRIAGE:
Per St. George's Church Record.

DEATH:
The possible death date given in some records derivative sources, 2 March 1751, though possible, is unsubstantiated by any known document.

WILL: 2014 UPDATE
Title: Abstract of wills on file in the Surrogate's Office, City of New York (Volume IV. 1744-1753)
Author: New York (County) Surrogate's Court.
Collection: New York State Historical Literature - Cornell University Library
New York Wills, 17:360 (New York Wills, Vol. 17, pp. 360-361)
Will is dated February 25, 1751, and probated March 7, 1751. Surrounding records indicate that if the year were double dated, it would be 1750/1.
Will mentions wife Mercy (Mary), children Jacob, Zophar, Zenas Zenos [sic], Barzillai, Bethuel, Jairus, Rufus, and Mary Carpenter.
The will was witnessed by Thomas Wright, Anthony Woodhouse, and Deliverance Brown.

NOTE: Dates given in some genealogies as May 17, 1751 for the will and proved May 7, 1751 are clearly in error.

Dear John, My corrected email – g2door@roadrunner.com
The following is all that I have as reported in Oma Glassburn Robinson”s work.
Robert Carpenter, son of Nathaniel, was born at Cedar Swamp, L. I. about 1694. He was probably named for his grandfather, Robert Coles. He was a miller and farmer, and as early as 1722 is found at North Castle, Westchester County, and was no doubt one of the '18' original settlers of the town. On July 20, 1727, he married his cousin, Elizabeth , daughter of Benjamin and Mercy (Coles) Carpenter who was born August 17, 1708. By the time that Robert wrote his will, Elizabeth was deceased and he had another wife, Mary. Source: Daniel Hoogland Carpenter, "History of the Carpenter Family in America. From Their Settlement at Providence, R. I. 1637-1901." As reported by Oma Glasburn Robinson in "David Glassburn Virginia Pioneer."

Leah

NAME: Last name Carpenter per AF. Probably married name.
Not in the Carpenter Memorial (1898) and not in the Samuel Carpenter (1912) book as a Carpenter. Mowrey's 1997 book gives no last name.
Could her name have been Judith Leah Scott? OR was Judith Scott another wife?

683. Mary Carpenter

E-MAIL: Mon, 8 Nov 1999 From: Sue Bishop bishop5@ix.netcom.com .
Mary CARPENTER married Robert VIORS in Botetourt Co. Va, 1/7/1785..
They moved to Kentucky in 1800 and bought a farm in Mason/Lewis County in 1802. They had five sons, four daughters. I am descended from their son John. Both of them are buried on the farm where they lived on Quicks Run Road, in Lewis County, Ky. The family name eventually mutated to VOIERS.

Robert Viers

He served in the Botetourt Militia before they were married, then they moved to Eastern Ky eventually with their children. Sue.

685. Judith Carpenter

Thomas Carpenter was a witness at her wedding. No further information known on this family.

686. Marthew Carpenter

NAME: CORRECTION: Not Matthew, but Marthe or Martha or Marthew. Matthew was mentioned in his father's will in 1792, but not in his mother's (Leah) will in 1806. He may have died in that time period (likely) or have moved to Missouri. No further information is known.

E-MAIL: From: Sue Date: 25 August, 1999.
Just wanted to give you a bit of info I have.
There is a bit of confusion in your data. Joseph did not have a son named Matthew but he DID have a daughter named Marthe or Martha or Marthew.

Her name is spelled similar to the name Matthew and this caused the confusion. She may have died young. But she is listed as a daughter in his will. I have a copy of it somewhere. Each daughter got 10 shillings in his will, which seems to be a rather minor amount, although he may have given each a dowry when they married.
Mary Carpenter married Robert Viors/Viers/Voiers (the name is spelled many different ways) in Botetourt 1/7/1784. I have a notarized copy of the marriage record.

688. William Carpenter

William was mentioned in his father's 1792 will, but not in his mother's 1806 will. William sold land inherited from his father to Jacob Persinger in 1800. He possibly moved to Missouri after this sale. No further information is known.

---

689. Abigail Carpenter

She moved to Greenbrier County, VA about 1773 with her husband and she was still alive in 1792. No further information known.
Could she have married a second time to a Maloney? No proof given though.

249. Frances Elizabeth Carpenter

NAME: Francis or Frances. Spellers often misspelled Frances as Francis in the 1700s.

John Mann is said to have emigrated from Ireland in 1730. He served as Ensign in Captain Cunningham's Company of Virginia Rangers under Colonel Boquet in 1764 and was deceased before 10 Feb. 1780.

E_Mail con. 9-22-98.
John Mann took the "Oath of Importation" in Orange Co. Va. on 17 April 1735. He declared himself a Citizen of Great Britain and a native of Ireland. The family being Presbyterian, he no doubt came form Ulster. John probably landed in Philadelphia and may have been in Pennsylvania, and Virginia several years before taking the oath in 1735. No record of his wife, however his youngest son, Thomas born shortly before or after 1735 and it is assumed John's wife was in Virginia.
Indications are that his other three sons were born in Ireland.
In the last part of the 1700's, two Mann brothers, Asa & Moses moved to Kentucky. William Mann, and his family stayed in Virginia. Taken from a manuscript compiled by W. E. Pullen.

Please note the wide range and discrepancies of the children of this family. Many are misplaced.

NOTE: On 11 April 2000 Terry Lee Carpenter of Texas explained as a side note how his name came on the above book. I think it is appropiate to mention it here. This is a partial excerpt from Terry:
"Another point I would like to make, is that the book on this family that was published by Paul Mowrey is his work, which he put my name on as a co-author simply because I helped him gather much of the basic information -- the interpretation is strictly his though. He states right up front that we differ on some of the lineage as he presented it, but the specific differences are not always highlighted. I have the utmost of respect and admiration for Paul Mowrey -- he is an outstanding person and historian, who has given the facts his best interpretation based on his personal knowledge and he is entitled to his opinion, just as Don Norman is, and you and I are -- It is a free country, thanks to people like you and others who have fought and struggled to keep it this way! I hope this is some help. Regards, Terry."

E-MAIL: From: RICHARD CARPENTER
To: John L. Carpenter
Date: 30 April, 2000
... If you haven't got a copy of "Border Settlers of Northwest Virginia" by Lucullus V. McWhorter, a life of Jesse Hughes, I suggest you do so. It has lots of information on the life of Jesse Hughes, Indian fighter, and associates, such as Jeremiah Carpenter. Excellent reading!
Now to the descendants of Sudna and Solomon Carpenter. You show a marriage date of 1740, VA.
If this Solomon Carpenter is son of Joseph Carpenter, then the date is wrong. The records state that Joseph Carpenter came from NY in 1746 with most of his children, then unmarried. He received a patent for his land in 1750.
Mattie Bell Carpenter Ross, 1974, in her compilation "Some Descendants of Joseph Carpenter and others", says Solomon Carpenter, born 1725 in New York, son of Joseph Carpenter, married Sutnew --, perhaps daughter of Peter Wright.
She also writes, "Family researchers have established that there were three separate branches of the Carpenter family in North Carolina.
These are (1) Quaker descendants of Samuel Carpenter of Philadelphia,
(2) descendants of Dr. Henry Zimmerman of PA-Germans, who changed their names to it's English meaning, 'Carpenter',
(3) descendants of early VA settlers William and Simond Carpenter of England."
It appears to me that you have posted some of the information from Don Norman and Donna Tivener, both of whom have listed quite a bit of incorrect, unproven information!
Quoting from Chalkley's records, (available on line at VA library website) .....
In 1764, Joseph Carpenter divided 464 acres equally between his sons Joseph Jr. and Solomon.
In 1773, Solomon sold 160 acres to his brother in law John Mann
In 1779, Jeremiah Carpenter of Greenbrier bought of Moses Mann 160 Acres

In 1787 Thomas Carpenter bought 115 acres on Potts Creek
In 1784, David Glasburn bought of Thomas Carpenter 50 acres on Jackson's River
On Nov. 19, 1766, Joseph Carpenter and William Whesley were directed to survey a road from Fort Defiance and Handley's Mill. Other men ordered out were Solomon, Thomas, Nathaniel, Zopher, Joseph Jr., and a second Thomas Carpenter and others.
Morton also states in "Annals of Bath County", "the Joseph Carpenter who came from England as an indentured servant, and lived for seven years with Luftus Pullen, was not related to the other families.
He settled in Little Valley about 1790 and reared twelve children.
Now, you show, if I'm reading right, 17 children of Solomon Carpenter and Sudna Hughes!!!!!!!!!! Hardly believable, even for those days!
There is no Carpenter researcher to my knowledge, that lists 17 children to this marriage!
Agnes Carpenter is probably one of the Harrison County Carpenters, related to Nicholas.
Also Margaret Carpenter, probably the same.
Thomas "Jack" Carpenter has not been proven to be of Joseph Carpenter's family line.
No. 6 and no 14, both Benjamin Carpenter?
No 6 is probably one of the Amherst Carpenters, again, not proven to be related to Joseph Carpenter no 10 No record of any Nathan Carpenter.
A mistaken records shows Kate Carpenter married to Nathan.
The records prove Kate's husband was Nicholas Carpenter, probably Jr.
no 11 Amos----born in New London, CT. 1754, again misplaced.
no 13 Nicholas, probably of German descent.
no 17 John Carpenter, probably related to Nicholas.
John, if I am wrong on any of my above assumptions, I will be glad to apologize and change my records! Terry and Paul have set me straight on several of my conclusions, (not all).
I know that you are a Yankee and don't know much about us southerners, but we can be gracious at times!
LOL It is said that southern hospitality is an inch deep and a mile wide!~
Seriously, I have been to your website and it could very well lead astray a new searcher. There are many now on the internet and they are putting any data they find on their ancestry program and putting it out on the internet. Just check Ancestry.com and you will see what I mean.
Richard L. (Dick) Carpenter. (Forwarded to me by John L. Carpenter)

John,
It appears that this court date will help more closely pinpoint the time of death for Solomon who marr. Sudrah Hughes ? It seems pausible to me that this would have been the Solomon on Potts Creek. Would a case concerning this Solomon move into the Greenbrier Court ? I suppose that you have some evidence of Botetourt being the place of death.

Amos (16) Carpenter was born Feb 1, 1754, married twice and died on March 31 1838 in Meigs County, Ohio. He first married a Mary Bickle before 1793 and secondly, Margaret McGlaughlin on Feb 18 , 1802 (she was 17 years old he was 48). Amos served in basicly the same outfits as his brother Solomon, except for Captain John Lewis' Company of Botetourt Volunteers. Amos suffered from " shell shock " caused from his expierences in the Revolutionary War. It is not known if he and his first wife had children; however those by his second wife are. Their are many decendants still living in Meigs County, Ohio (created from Gallia), Ohio.

Notes for RUEBEN LEE CARPENTER , SR.:
RUEBEN, John & Thomas were listed on the 1803 GA tax roll.

HENRY, John & Thomas were listed in the 1805 Lincoln Ga Lottery.

Rueben L Carpenter Sr. was supposedly listed as a farmer in Edgefield Co., South Carolina. His son Thomas was in Henry Co Georgia durnig the 1820 and 1830 census. Thomas did a lot of land dealings in the Land Lottery. He too must have been a farmer as in different years his land was auctioned off. His son Thomas M. Carpenter and James Warren also have land records in GA. Surprisingly, their is a $1500.00 bond between THomas (the father) and John Wilkens in which the agreement states that John Wilkens will take guardianship of Sallie, David Jered and John Harlen who were orphaned. There seems to be a lot of Zachariahs and Rueben Lee Carpenters. Trying to figure if they were children, brothers or fathers is difficult. I have taken my best guess at putting them where I think they belong based on dates, hearsay, stories and land transactions (which would mean they would have to be old enough to buy, etc.).

Notes for JAMES WARREN CARPENTER , SR.:

Notes for *SARAH A. HARLEN:
Sallie wrote a letter in 1911 which was published in the Primitive Baptist Newsletter. She was born in Oglethorpe or Wilkes GA. She moved to Henry Co. when she was five. Her father died making the trip. Sallie and her brothers David (Jered) and John were put under the guardianship of Mr. John R. Wilkens. Later John R. Harlen was put in the guadianship of William J. Fears Sallie married Warren when she was nineteen. They lived two years in GA, moved to Alabama border and shortly thereafter to Clay Co. Ala. where they raised 9 children. Had 55 grandchildren, 174 great grandchildren and 22 grt.grt grandchildren. Making 260 in all. Sallie and Warren were active members of the Macedonia Church throughout their lives. Part of Sallie's testimony in the letter stated, "I am obliged to praise Him if He takes all I have, for He does all things well. He gives and the right to take when it pleases Him." She is buried along side her husband at the "old" Macedonia Cemetary, with her mother Judith (Morgan ?) Wilkens, daughters Marthena, Emaly Caroline and Mary Ann; grandaughter Lucy M Ponder; nephew(?) NOTE: The following notes are a duplication of RIN 5337 - Thomas Carpenter b. abt 1740 VA/NC. Y-DNA has indicated a mismatch with Group 2. Descendants of Thomas are listed in Group 13.

DEATH:Either he or his wife died either 6 Aug. 1803 or 6 Oct. 1803.
He was identified as the "eldest son of solomon" in a court case om 5 May 1791 and served during Lord Dunmore's War in Captain John Lewis' company of Botetourt Volunteers in 1774 with brothers; John, Solomon and Jeremiah. He was wounded at the Battle of Point Pleasant in westeren Virginia on 10 Oct. 1774, the first battle of the Revolutionary War.

1. John (17) Carpenter presented Solomon's discharge in Botetourt County court in February of 1780 and proved Solomon (15)'s Ranger service. He was identified as "son of Thomas Carpenter and heir of Solomon Carpenter" on this date and was issued a warrant for 60 acres of land as such. This relationship was restated in another Botetourt County court case on 5 May 1791.
2. William (17) Carpenter - no further information.
3. Thomas (17) Carpenter - no further information.
4. Ruben (17) Carpenter - no further information.
5. Burwell (17) Carpenter - no further information.

Others?

Thomas (16) Carpenter is found in the Nash county, North Carolina censuses of 1790 and 1800. Reuben and Thomas Jr. are also found in both surveys. William is in the 1800 census. Burwell is found in the adjoining county of Wake in 1790 and Nash county in 1800.
After Thomas's demise in 1803, these sons vascillate between Pendleton and Edgefield Counties in South Carolina and those counties surrounding Nash in North Carolina through 1840.
This writer (of the above book) has summaries of all of the Carpenters living in the United States 1790 through 1840 by census and finds them very helpful at times.

WFT is a big problem -- they just copy it and sell it, and they do put on a warning to check out the data but it is most often ignored completely. The disclaimer keeps them from being legally liable, but they know darn good and well what people are doing with the information and don't care as long as there is a buck to be made from the unsuspecting customer.
A genealogy faker put together a fake lineage from Thomas Carpenter of Nash Co. NC back to Thomas "Jack" Carpenter and Joseph

(SEE HIS SON JOHN AND THE NOTES!)
Carpenter of Botetourt, that has been circulating for well over 20 years now. All attempts to correct it have so far gone largely ignored because many of the descendants don't want it challenged and have actively tried to discredit anyone who tried to help them correct it. But in the long run, the truth will come out and the fakers will be discredited themselves. There are several others similar to that one that are also circulating widely at present. Just beware of the undocumented data out there! Regards, Terry Lee Carpenter.

Page 41: 5. Benjamin (16) Carpenter was probably born in the late 1750's, married Ruth Jeffers 12 September1790 in Botetourt County and was killed by Indians in March of 1792 on the Elk River in then Nicholas County. He was a chainbearer for the survey of Jeremiah (16)'s land on the Elk River in Randolph County on March 11, 1792 and again on the "back creek" of the Holly River on March 13, 1792. His murder occurred shortly after this. Ruth was also killed at this time (she was expecting their first child).

NOTE: Oct 2014 JRC
It appears that in 1792 the confluence of the Elk and Holly Rivers was part of Kanawha County, Virginia. In 1818 it became part of Nicholas County and in 1860 part of Webster County. In 1863 the state of West Virginia was formed from parts of Virginia.
The death of Benjamin and Ruth (Jeffers) Carpenter was about Mar/May 1792 along the Elk River near the confluence of the Holly River, Kanawha, Virginia, now, Webster Springs, Webster, West Virginia, USA.

Sudna Hughes Carpenter did not die in an Indian attack on Mar. 1792 on the Elk River.
Benjamin Carpenter and wife Ruth Jeffers Carpenter were killed in this attack. Benjamin was a brother of Jeremiah Carpenter who married Elizabeth Hamm, possible sister of Job Hughe's wife.
Proof is yet to be found that Solomon and Sudna Hughes Carpenter were parents of Jeremiah and Benjamin Carpenter of the Elk River settlement!

Found this item (below) while looking for another family in Frederick County, VA!
Please tell me what you think. Could this be the massacre of Benjamin Carpenter and his wife? If so, it could end the uncertainty of the date.

COMMENT: Oct 2014 JRC
The Elk [River] is formed in the Allegheny Mountains in Pocahontas County by the confluence of two short streams, the Big Spring Fork and the Old Field Fork, which join near the community of Slatyfork. It flows above ground for several miles before it sinks into a network of caverns and flows underground for more than five miles. The old riverbed of solid rock, however, remains above ground in this section known as "The Dries." It follows a generally westward course across the unglaciated Allegheny Plateau, through Randolph, Webster, Braxton, Clay, and Kanawha Counties, past the towns of Webster Springs, Sutton, Gassaway, Clay, Clendenin, and Elkview before joining the Kanawha River at Charleston.
https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Elk_River_(West_Virginia)
Nicholas County was created in 1818 from Greenbrier and Kanawha counties. The Elk river does not flow through the present day Nicholas County.

The Elk River is in the Southern half of WV while Elk Creek is farther to the north in Harrison County. BUT ...

Elk Creek rises approximately 6 miles (9.7 km) southwest of Philippi in western Barbour County and flows generally west-northwestwardly into Harrison County, where it passes through the communities of Stonewood and Nutter Fort; it flows into the West Fork River in the city of Clarksburg.
From:
Harrison County (was then in VA but now WV) was created in 1784 from Monongalia County.
Barbour County (was then in VA but now WV) was created 1843 from Harrison, Lewis and Randolph counties.
In 1792 Elk Creek was completely in Harrison County, VA.

WHERE DID KILLINGS DEATH HAPPEN? Elk River or Elk Creek? And which county then?

John,
Attached is an image of the article from the Norwich CT "Norwich Packet" newspaper issue of 14 Jun 1792, Vol. XIX, Issue No. 951, p. 2, which indicates the killings took place "on or about the first of May" 1792. Since the names are not stated, I've used the report only in conjunction with other reports. It very likely does refer to the killing of Benjamin and Ruth, which is otherwise reported to have taken place in the spring.

But, John:
This may be another couple, and not Benjamin and Ruth. I have found all the locations where Benjamin and Jeremiah lived along the Elk River, and where they fled to the cave on maps. By the way, I have the recording by the late fiddler playing the very song that was composed in the cave. I have forgotten names, and I am arranging music for a performance at the end of the month, so I don't have time to go into all this now. Darn! The reporter may have got his counties mixed up. After all, he heard it from another party (the young man who helped with the burial).

I hope I didn't open a can of worms!

Solomon Carpenter, a son of Jeremiah Carpenter, is the grt-grandfather of Ernie, and he is the son of Shelt Carpenter of Braxton.
Ernie Carpenter: "My grandfather is where I got the most of my information from, what I know, what happened. He would set and talk to me by the hour and tell me those things. I was just a youngster, just a kid then. Because I would set and listen to that kind of stuff it made him interested in it, made him want to tell me all these things." And he told him about the county side where his ancestors settled, when it was untouched by civilization. All about the county side, and the valleys, where now the Sutton Dam is located.
Ernie: "If you'd have ever saw that back years ago before the backwater was up there from the dam, you could have easily understood why they picked that spot when they come in there. That's as far as they went. They settled right there. There were fish, game, bear,deer, there were elk, and they didn't only have Elk River to fish in but they had Laurel Creek.
All they had to do was build a cabin with a roof on it to keep them dry. They didn't even have that for a while. They stayed under rocks until they could get something built. When they did build cabins they was log and the roof on them was old clapboards.My father learnt me how to make clapboards." (William "Squirrelly Bill" Carpenter, is the grandfather of Ernie.)
Ernie is the fiddler who made the CD I have. I bought it online.

John:
This is my source:
Sutton, John Davison. 1919. History of Braxton County and Central West Virginia. Parsons, WV: McClain Printing Company.
Below is From: History of Braxton County and central WV on Openlibrary.org
Sutton's History:
In a small pocket diary of John D. Sutton dated at Alexandria, VA in 1796, ... his father's request, he made a trip to what is now Braxton county to look at some lands which his father had bought . . . on Granny's Creek and the Elk River. A Carpenter lived on Laurel creek. This man was probably a brother to Jerry and a grand-uncle of Dr. John L. Carpenter.
From there he came down Laurel Creek, noting the roughness of the stream, and telling how often the path crossed the creek between Carpenter's and its mouth. He then noted the fact that he stopped for a few days at Jerry Carpenter's home who lived on the Elk. This was only six years after the massacre of Benjamin Carpenter and his wife at the mouth of Holly. Solomon, the boy who was born at the Camp Rocks, was then a lad of but six years. He gives no account of the boy in his diary, but he says that the Carpenters prepared provisions to last him a few days. He speaks of getting venison meat at Carpenter's. (page 43)
RE burial of soldiers of the Revolution -- Joseph Carpenter, buried on the Westfork of Little Kanawha river. . . . Benjamin Carpenter was buried at the mouth of Holly river. . . . . Jeremiah Carpenter, buried at Union Mills.
Where do you have Benjamin and Ruth (Jeffers) Carpenter being killed at?
Braxton County is the location I have. See above -- on the Elk River at the mouth of the Holly River. Sutton implies that the year of the massacre was 1790 -- Solomon was six years old -- but I think the newspaper article is documentation that the year was 1792. I believe that James Schoolcroft may have been the Schoolcroft who helped with the burial of Benjamin and told the story to the person who relayed it to the newspaper. James Schoolcroft married Mary Carpenter in 1795 (a sister of Jeremiah?).

She was pregnant with her first child when she was killed by indians.

Page 42: 7. ?Nancy (16) Carpenter? was born circa 1760-1770's (supposedly captured by Indians when Benjamin and Ruth Jeffers Carpenter were killed and rescued by Jesse Hughes and her brother, Jeremiah) and married one of the numerous Henry Runnions. This would have had to have been a brother of Elijah Runnion (father of Henry, John and Elijah Jr.)!
Does the "?" mark indicate she may be of a different Carpenter line like Joseph Carpenter????

704. Joseph "Not of this line" Carpenter

THIS JOSEPH IS NOT THE SON OF SOLOMAN! SEE BELOW!
The data is left here to provide correction for researchers!!!
Correct Parentage below.

BOOK: See page 42 (for notes) of the Mowrey 1997 book. See book information below: See also page 49 which refutes Joseph as the son of Soloman.
It indicates that this Joseph Carpenter was of German (Zimmerman) ancestry and not of the New England Carpenters. SEE NOTE BELOW!!!!

252. William Carpenter

COMMENT:
There are a few William Carpenters who claim the same details and not all can be correct. There is a lot of houkum or imaginary William Carpenters made up. Who is who and which are correct needs a cold hard look at orginal sources. JRC

NOTE:
William was killed in a battle near the Big Bend on the Jackson River by a Indian force of some 50 Delaware and Mingo indians. He was the commander of the stockade at Fort Carpenter. He moved there (now Alleghany County, VA) about 1746. His son Jeremiah was taken prisoner.

SEE: Historical Sketches of Alleghany County, VA, page 11, by Gay Arret. "The indians met Carpenter near his home and killed him and made prisoners of Jeremiah Carpenter, a son of the slain man, and two sons of Brown and one woman. The indians despoiled the house and taking some horses made a rapid retreat." Also "A Centennial History of Alleghany County VA" by Owen F. Morten, pages: 12, 13, 15, 17, 33, 59 and 127.

History of Braxton County and central West Virginia by Sutton, John Davison, 1844-1941, Published 1919 in Sutton, WV, 476 pages. -- NO - Page 323 & 361 indicates William is son of Solomon not Joseph C-5312. This cite is not for this William.
TLC writes:
The reference "History of Braxton County and central West Virginia by Sutton, John Davison" is incorrect about the parentage of Jeremiah, and was disproved long ago even though it keeps popping up in copied internet trees. Sutton claimed that Jeremiah's grandson stated that Jeremiah's father was William, but the documented original interview with the grandson does not contain that statement, it actually says "given name of ancestor and date of coming to America not now known with certainty." Sutton told a good war story, but he was not reliable with facts.

See Notes Pringle

NAME:
Not proven, not documented and based on that two Pringle brothers, who lived in a hollow tree near the Carpenters, married Carpenters. And that they must have had a sister who married this William. Complete nonsense. It was fabricated to come up with an imaginary wife for the imaginary William Carpenter in an attempt to convince people that William actually existed.

714. Benjamin Carpenter

SEE: Historical Sketches of Alleghany County, VA, page 11, by Gay Arret.
Benjamin with his brother Jeremiah moved to the Elk River where Centralia, Braxton County, is now. Jeremiah made a clearing in the virgin forest and built his home with Benjamin's help, about one-fourth of a mile above Dry Run. Benjamin soon went back to VA, returning with a wife.
Benjamin or Ben, as he was known, built his cabin at the mouth of Holly River, four miles below Jeremiah's home.
Many small bands of indians roamed through the wilderness, and soon their small settlement was found. One of the indians slipped into Benjamin's home and killed his wife. The indian then hid in the cabin, waiting in ambush.
Benjamin, his mother, and a niece were on the south side of the river, where he was clearing a field and burning log heaps. Not knowing what happened at home, Benjamin went to the cabin to start a meal. Another indian fired at him from the hill and missed. As Benjamin entered the cabin and turned to grab his rifle mounted above the cabin door, he was shot under the arm and killed by the indian that had scalped his wife.

DEATH:
Death placed in 1784. BUT, Braxton County, WV history places the death about 1790. See page 43. It cites a diary entry from 1796 where 6 years prior Benjamin and his family were killed by Indians.
In the same book on page 360 ...
The massacre of Benjamin Carpenter and his wife occurred in the spring of 1792, though Withers memiors record it as late as 1793, and William Doddrill places the date as early as 1784, eight years before its actual occurance.

NOTE:
John's middle name probably Augustas. Carpenter went south to Botetourt County. In Virginia by 20 Nov. 1762.
SEE: My Ancestry by Mattie Bell Carpenter, page 10.

Note: He probably had two sons who fought with their first cousin John Carpenter, son of Thomas, who enlisted in a Company that was from Botetourt County of Covington, VA. Them being Amos and Solomon. John was determined to be "no inhabitant" in Botetourt County, VA in a tax enumeration on 20 Nov. 1762 and may have moved to North Carolina as early as 1755.

260. Zophar Carpenter

Number 95 in the book "The Carpenter Family in America" by Daniel H. Carpenter, 1901.
He is listed as a child on page 79 with the comment of: No further trace.

NAME:
Zophar, also spelled Sophar, in the Book of Job (2:11, 11:1, 20:1, 42:9), one of the three comforters of Job, a biblical archetype of the good man whose misfortunes are undeserved. - Zopher then seems a corruption of the biblical name.

WILL: Will dated 1794 and filed in the county of Garrard which was formed in 1797. His will mentions his wife Mary, and gives 100 acres to each of his three sons, Zenes (Zenith), Rufus and Robert Carpenter.
The Census Records of Garrard County, Kentucky Index:
1800 - Mary, widow of Zophar, Zenes Carpenter, Rufus Carpenter.
1810 - Zenith Carpenter, Rufus Carpenter, Robert Carpenter

This family line submitted by Gerald Reid Tudor of Berea, KY. g2door@roadrunner.com mailto:g2door@roadrunner.com>
Gerald disagrees with Charles about Zophar ever as having served as a drummer in the Revolutionary War.
Documents (Summers, in his Annals of Southwest Virginia) indicate Zophar served as a drummer in the French and Indian Wars. While Zophar provided beef during war time, it does not specify which. Gerald states there is no credible source for this Zophar serving in the Revolutionary War.
Gerald's E-MAIL is: g2door@kyblue.com - g2door@roadrunner.com
NOTE: Per TLC 2014
Regarding the "question about which Zophar served in the Revolutionary War as a drummer" -- the issue was not whether there were two Zophars serving in the Rev War, it was that Zophar's service as a drummer was in the French & Indian War and not in the Rev War. Some had claimed he served as a drummer in the Rev War, and Gerald Tudor fought a one-man Rambo style campaign to try to correct the record, but he was overwhelmed by the numbers of people who wanted to believe a convenient untruth.The "Mary Coles Davis" is another error Gerald tried to correct. Her maiden name is unproved.When all the misinformation is cleared away, there appears to be only one Zophar Carpenter, who is first recorded in Botetourt Co. VA records in 1755, and thereafter until migrating to KY c1791.
Charles Carpenter of Pocatello, ID indicates Zophar was a drummer in Capt. Dickerson's Rangers in Augusta County Va. Also he has descendants not found in other records. Was Charles' Zophar a young man as a drummer, probably the son of this Zophar? The younger Zophar would have had to be deceased by 1794 when the will was written. While this would explain things, Charles Carpenter of ID believes they are the same person. Charles also has some children duplicated namely Rufus and Zenith which are in BOTH families with spouse names the same. UNTIL FURTHER INFORMATION COMES FORTH, THE RECORD STAYS CONFUSED AS IS. JRC 4/98.

E-MAIL: (More) From: Gerald Tudor;
Below are some facts about Zophar. They may help some with questions.
The first knowledge we have of Zophar is found in his father =

Robert's will. He is listed 2nd behind his brother Jacob . Both are = named executors with Mary, the second wife of Robert. Robert's will was = proven on 7mar1751. At the time of will abstract by Daniel Hoogland =
Carpenter, he guessed the birth of Jacob as being about 1728. Oma =
Glasburn Robinson, reports these facts in her "David Glasburn-Virginia = Pioneer," then guesses the birth of Zophar as being about 1730. Will = was proven in Westchester Co., NY. FACT: =20
The Grave marker of Zophar and Mary, placed sometime after = the death of Mary reads: In Memory of Zophar Carpenter = and Mary his wife. he died Feb. 6th A.D. 1798 Aged 65 years. She = died Aug. 14th A.D. 1832 Aged 97 years.=20
Therefore, Zophar and Mary's birth dates are about 1733 and 1735 = respectfully. Zophar's will was proven in 1798, Garrard Co, KY. The = will is simple. It only mentions his three sons, Zenes, Rufus, and = Robert. Each is willed one hundred acres. An inventory was taken at = Mary Carpenters later.
Augusta Co., VA. 1755: Zophar's name is in a list of delinquents in = the tax levies. This means he was in the area earlier.
1756: He was a Drummer in Capt. Dickenson's Company in the Indian wars. = =20
8 May 1770: At a court held for Botetourt Co., VA. Gopher(sic) = Carpenter for unlawfully keeping Moses Watkin's wife. Grand Jury = ordered that process issue against Carpenter and several others (other = cases) returnable at the next court. There was no further action found = in the Carpenter case. (Too bad, as such a case , untried, leaves open = some interested speculations as to what "unlawfully keeping" meant and = to who?
15 May 1771: Zophar on jury. 8Feb1773: Zophoe Carpenter appointed = Surveyor of the Road, in room of William Wooley, who is discharged from = that office.
14 July 1773: Zopher appointed Surveyor of the Road from Fort Defiance = (Boyle's Allum Rock) and the tithables who usually wrought thereon do = attend him.
11 Nov 1779: Ordered that Zopher Carpenter's claim be certified who acted = in Capt. Dickenson's Company of Rangers formerly for the defense of the = Colony as a Drummer. 13Nov1780: (note that this date was printed = 1760 in error. This would predate any authorization for claims) = Ordered that it be added to the order made at Nov. court granting land = to Zopher Carpenter for military services performed as a Drummer, due = proof was made that he served till he was legally discharged and the = Company disbanded, and that he is an inhabitant of this State at the = time of the passing the Act granting land & c.
15 Aug 1783: Zophar on Jury. 14Nov1783: Zopher Carpenter defendant in = Case. Jury awarded plaintiff, John Robinson three hundred pounds, but = plaintiff acquitted the defendant of all the damages except twenty = pounds. Judgement was given for twenty pounds and cost. The above = data taken from Summer's Annals of Southwest Virginia. On page 1386 =
Vol. II, Zepher Carpenter listed as Drummer under Revolutionary = Soldiers. (This has to be an error as no proof is found of such = service. It is unlikely that he served again as a Drummer).
18 Mar 1778: Botetourt Marriages. David Glasburn to Elizabeth = Carpenter, daughter of Joseph and Mary Carpenter. (later research by = Oma Glasburn Robinson and others proves the original record to say = Zopher instead of Joseph).
Other sources from Robinson: 1763: Zophar purchased 135 acres NW side = of Jackson's River. ^Oct1767: 50 acres on James River. Furnished = supplies to the soldiers-wheat, corn, and one time 400lbs. of beef. = (does not say for what war).
Nov 1768: Zophar in court due to indebtedness to Israel Christian = incurred on the 21st of Dec1765 for one shilling six pence for three = Jews Harps.

1789: Michael Mallow bought of Zophar Carpenter and Mary, his wife, and = David Glasburn and Elizabeth, his wife, 130 acres on the north side of = Jackson's River for 275 pounds. (Mrs. Robinson says, "before and after = this date there are several similar references linking the names of = ... " the above individuals).
1791: Zophar first appears in the Madison Co., VA tax list. (This is = one year before Madison Co. became a Kentucky County.)
Zophar's 300 acres in western Madison Co., KY, an area that soon = became a part of the newly formed Garrard Co., came from a 400 acre = survey for John McKenzie, assignee of Robert Espie by virture of a = premption Feb. 19, 1780 in then Lincoln Co., VA. On 22Nov1788, John = McKenzie traded to John Boyle of Madison Co. 205 acres of his 400 acre = premption to join acrage already owned by Boyle for 200 acres in Lincoln = Co. Although Zophar willed his sons 300 acres, it was not officially = recorded until 6Jun1816 when John Boyle, for five hundred pounds, = transferred the 300 acres to Zenith, Rufus, and Robert Carpenter. Part = of this 300 acres came from that owned by Boyle prior the the trade to = McKenzie. (Later, seven acres of the 300 would be claimed by the = Ambrose Ross estate which joined to the south. This was taken into = consideration when Rufus Carpenter had the land surveyed in 1846.
Parts of the Carpenter land has remained in descendant's = ownership to present 1998. About 78 acres , including the the Carpenter = Cemetery, is owned by this compiler's daughter. Her husband, also a = descendant, owns another joining 10 or 13 acres.
Oma Glasburn Robinson's family tradition says that Elizabeth, daughter = of Zophar and Mary was of Irish descent. Since Carpenter is of English = of French descent, then Mary must be the Irish member. This of course = contradicts Kentucky family tradition that Davis was Mary's maiden name. = There is no proof of this, however, and it is supposed that earlier = family members may have gotten families mixed up in their oral = histories. Case in point: It was always reported that Rachel, wife = of Rufus, was a McCarthy. This was proven to be in error when it was = discoved in Rachel's application for a pension for Rufus' service in the = War of 1812, that her full name was Rachel Alexander Reed (later spelled = Reid). Also, that their marriage was on 8Mar1808. Officials then could = not verify the marriage as the minister did not make a return to the = court house.
The name Davis is persistant in published genealogies as the maiden = name for Mary. This is partially the fault of this compiler as he fed = the data, but with a qualifier, "no proof" which has been ignored. In = one case it has been reported that mary was the widow Davis, nee Coles. = When the author of this was asked for his source, he responded that it = was in the Coles genealogy but could not think just where at the time. = Thus the misdirection continues. Davis, may very well belong to a = family member. It is possible that the mother of Rachel Reed Carpenter = was a Davis, and that the McCarthy belongs to Mary, wife of Zophar. (NO = PROOF).
There has been much speculation as to the marriage(s) of Zophar and = how many children he had. Taking into account that the known daughter = Elizabeth was many years older that those who came with Zophar to = Kentucky, makes you wonder about the in between years. It is a fact = that several Carpenter children were carried away on the early Virginia = frontier by Indians. There is no proof that they were children of = Zophar. Some suggest that Zophar must have had two wives, both named = Mary and that the second Mary was the mother of the ones who came to KY. = Also, there has been doubt that Mary in Kentucky would have given = birth to Zenith, Rufus, and Robert at such an advanced age. I suggest = the hardiness of the frontier mother made it possible once she survived = the first births. After all Mary lived to be 97. It has been forwarded = that Zophar may have married his step-mother, Mary and left for the = Virginia frontier were his uncle Joseph Carpenter had previously gone in = 1746. Zophar's younger siblings Rufus and Mary may have been by his = father's second wife. There is no further trace of these two as well as = the other siblings, unless the Rufus who married Olive Whitcomb on = 2Mar1777 is the brother. If Zophar married his step-mother, is it = likely that they would name a second son Rufus and possibly a daughter = Mary?

For the children of Zophar and Mary, they will be forth coming in = other notes. Gerald Tudor 4Jul1998 .
As one studies families in close geographic communities in = frontier times it is almost certain that there will be marriages of = neighbor's children, even where there is close kinship, first = cousins,etc. In the case of Zophar, he is the only Carpenter residing = in the western portion of early Madison Co., KY until several years = later. There had been Carpenters who preceded Zophar in this area, but = one was killed by the Indians and another, Solomon, made an improvement = where John Boyle later settled, and moved on. It is not believed that = there was family involved. In the eastern end of Madison Co. there was = a John Carpenter with a family. Like Zophar, he died prior to 1800. = His children were identified. There is no proof that the two were = related. A descendant of John says that he came from Virginia and was = believed to be a Rev. War soldier. Also in the same area was an Edmund = Carpenter who also was deceased before 1800; no further trace on him. = With these facts and close associations it is reasonable to believe that = certain female Carpenters were the daughters of Zophar and Mary, = although circumstantial in evidence.
To this compiler there is enough evidence to keep these ladies, = Mary, Leah, and Rachel as daughters of Zophar and Mary. Remember, in = that day and time, daughters were often left from wills, preferring the = male sons to inherit. So, until further data is proven, the family is = larger than first thought.

Zophar Carpenter's Fort
Carpenter's Fort on McKenzie's Fork of Paint Lick Creek in Kentucky was established by Zophar Carpenter, a native of New York colony who migrated to western Virginia in the 1750s and to Kentucky about 1788.[1] The fort is also referred to as Zophar Carpenter's Station, and placed "near Suck Fork Creek".[2] Zophar Carpenter served as a drummer in Captain Dickenson's Company of Virginia Rangers in the French & Indian War.[3] He appeared on a 1792 tax list in Madison Co. KY with Edward Carpenter and John Carpenter.[4] He died on February 6, 1796 at age 65 and is interred in the Carpenter Graveyard near Paint Lick, Garrard County, Kentucky.[5]

▼ Information on Zophar Carpenter
Zophar moved from NY to VA, near Covington as early as 1755 when Zophar's name is on a list of delinquents in the tax levies of Augusta Co. Joseph Carpenter, possibly Zophar's uncle, had settled this area on the Jackson River in the late 1740's. "There were evidently four Carpenter settlements, all circa the early 1750's and within thirty-five or so miles of each other. Fort Carpenter, so-called, was on the river. It was occupied by Joseph and his family- children, mostly grown and married before coming to Virginia.. . Solomon Carpenter had a homestead at Low Moor; Zophar Carpenter at Mallow [Station] and Nicholas Carpenter at White Sulphur Springs."
During the French and Indian Wars Zophar was a drummer in Capt. Dickenson's Company in 1756. He purchased 135 acres on the northwest side of the Jackson River in 1763 and 50 acres on the James River in 1767.
Zophar was in court often. He is mentioned with Thomas and Solomon Carpenter several times, but it is not known how they are related.
Nov 1768 due to indebtedness to Israel Christian incurred in Dec 1765 for one shilling six pence for three Jews Harps. Botetourt County Order Book I, 1770-1772, p. 49: Zophar Carpenter accused of unlawfully keeping Moses Watkins' wife. Book II 1772-3, p. 44. Michael Kelly versus Zophar Carpenter for assault, trespass and battery. July 14, 1773. Zophar Carpenter appointed surveyor of road from Fort Defiance and the tithables who usually wrought thereon to attend him.
In 1789 Michael Mallow bought of Zophar Carpenter and Mary , his wife, and David Glasburn and Elizabeth, his wife, 130 acres on the north side of the Jackson River for 275 pounds. Zophar and Mary moved with the younger children to Garrard Co. KY by 1791. He owned 300 acres there which he divided between his three sons in his will. Mary may have been of Irish descent, since daughter Elizabeth is referred to as "Irish".

E-MAIL: 31 Dec 2000 From: "Steve Somers"
Hello,
Attached are three generations of the descendents of Rufus Carpenter.
I have been meaning to send this information for a while, so better late than never. Most of this information came from the descendents of Rufus Carpenter and Olive Whitcomb of Woodstock, VT through their daughter Phebe Carpenter who married Gideon French. This from the work of Duane Powers (Olive French), Marilyn Ames (Louisa French), Howard Hodgson (Phebe French), the Deem family genealogy (Martha French) and some things I (also Phebe) dug up. There are some spelling errors in the Deem and Powers material.
I hope this is useful. Other than my line, I have little backup material.
One problem I see is the hard connection between Rufus Carpenter, North Castle, NY in 1778 and Rufus Carpenter in Woodstock, VT in 1780 plus the particulars of his likely mother, Mary, Robert Coles Carpenter's second wife. Steve Somers. Tulsa, OK.

Citation from the above book ...
They occupied the house at Duck Pond until 1772. Like his father, he was "a weaver" by trade, but never being very strong or rugged, most of his time was spent in the open air on the farm. He was also a captain in the local or county militia, and was known as "Captain Carpenter."
In 1772 he rented the large farm then owned by Abraham and Gerald Walton, and on May 5, 1775, he purchased this farm. It contained 223 acres, for which he paid 1500 pounds (L) cash. (This is the same farm once occupied by his father's cousin Joseph Carpenter (No. 19), who sold it to the Waltons" in 1748.)
It was a beautiful and productive property. There was nearly a mile of frontage on Hempstead Harbor. The house was hidden by quite a hill on the northerly side, yet faced the waters on its westerly front. There was a large quantity of heavily wooded land, with meadows and fields of rich natural grass where cattle could but fatten and thrive. In later Years it was well known as the "Latting Carpenter" farm, and is now the site of the flourishing village of Sea Cliff " with its thousands of summer residents.
Very soon after the purchase of this property (the next year) the War of the Revolution broke out, and immediately after the disastrous battle of Long Island the whole of Queens County became the camping-ground of the British soldiery and was held by them until the close of the war, and as a result nearly every property-holder was brought to the verge of bankruptcy. During the time, from 1776 to 1781 levies of British troops were quartered on this farm. The wooded hills were almost entirely, cleared of their timber by an order of the British commander at New York, and a large amount of other products of the farm were forced to be supplied to the Hessian troops and carted to the different camps. It is more than probable that this condition of affair led to the sickness and early death of the subject of our sketch. He had been ailing for a year or more.
One day in the early summer of 1781 he came in from the field complaining of a severe pain in his head. He leaned his head upon his wife's arm, and in this position, unknown to her, he passed away. He is buried in the Coles family burial grounds at "Burial Hill."
His wife survived him until 1826, being then "eighty and eight years old," and was laid by the side of her beloved husband, who " two score and five "years previously had gone before her. She was remembered by nearly all her grandchildren, and they bear testimony as to her lovable nature and her true Christian character, endeared to them by all her acts of kindness, which even to the day of her death was a prominent characteristic of her noble self Coles Carpenter was a man of good business ability, thoroughly honest and upright.
Although neither he nor is wife were " Friends," yet they seem to have affiliated with them, and had in their daily life the walk and conversation of the followers of "Him who came to save."
In after (later) years Sarah Carpenter was an earnest member of the Methodist society, and in her house were held some of the earliest meetings of that people.

752. Benjamin Carpenter

Number 319 in the book, The Carpenter Family in America by Daniel H. Carpenter, 1901.
BIRTH: in Queens county because Nassau county was created in 1898.
DEATH: When about 20 years of age, in good health, robust and strong, with a prospect of many years of usefulness, he stood a chance of taking the small pox from a sick neighbor. So, as was the advise of the practitioners of that day, he was "inoculated" with the virus and taken to a lonely building to spend the time of sickness. BUT like many another ones so "inoculated" it brought a sure and speedy death. It is said that his death was one of the means of greatly helping to put a stop to the inhuman practice of "inoculating."

232. Benjamin Carpenter

Number 80 in the book, Carpenter Family in America, 1901 by Daniel H.
Carpenter. Family on page 110 & 111.
Benjamin was a farmer and resided by 1790 at Pittstown, Rensselaercounty, NY, but most of his life seems to have been spent at North Castle, Westchester, NY.

Birth date as listed in the above book & Chr date as listed in the record below.

SEE: Genealogical and Historical Record of the Carpenter Family, by James Usher, printed in 1883 and on Page 30 regarding The Carpenter Family of Long Island and NY.
Usher ancestry IS WRONG. See grandfather's notes.
Usher claimed that about the year 1540, one Cotleb Zimmerman emigrated from Prussia to England, where he married and settled. The name changed into English is Caleb Carpenter. All in an effort to disinherit this Carpenter line.

My Benjamin Carpenter was married to Mary Searles. In the DAR records he will be noted as a Quaker who did not fight but was town Clerk, chairman of the safety committee and pretty much ran the town of Marlborough throughout the entire war. That more than qualifies him as a patriot. The two history books about that town document his leadership in detail. I especially like the Woolsey book because that family were close friends and contemporary to the Carpenter and Caverly families--neighbors, in fact. Both of these books are entirely on-line. Do you need more details on these? Both texts are primary documents for this family. I label my Benjamin as 'twin to Silas' because there are so many others of the same name. Judy Muetz

NOTE:
This cemetery was used by the Burr family between the years 1851-1878 and was located in a group of trees between farm fields. In 1918, the Army cleared the land for use as an air landing strip known as Brindley Field. The land was converted back to farmland after WWI. It now sits in the middle of a busy Home Depot parking lot surrounded by a chain link fence. Unfortunately the elements have taken their toll and only two of the stones are legible.

OKay - you are making me think. this is what I am thinking of doing. I was thinking of documenting the case for a family with the history of military service, even though they are quakers. And using the fact that James was disowned for marring out of faith, and yet did not rejoin for 15 years - so how staunch of a quaker was he? Read on and then tell me if you think I have a good argument. And if you can help me identify who Thomas Carpenter is who lived near him in Harrison, Westchester County, NY and served with him in the war I would appreciate that. :

This is what I have in My Family Treemaker: Silversmith and physician. James CARPENTER was born 19 Sep 1754 in Scarsdale, Westchester, NY. He died 21 Apr 1812 in Purchase, Westchester, NY. Number 89 in the Carpenter Family in America, 1901 book. Family on page 115 & 116. He was a silversmith by trade and later became a physician.

He was a Patriot and served in the 4th Regiment, Westchester County, New York Militia.

James and his wife Freelove requested that their 3 (THREE) children be admitted as members of Purchase Meeting, 02-03-1796 - James aged about 13, Enoch 10, and Ezra 7. This is a Friends or a Quaker Organization of Westchester County
James married Freelove TOWNSEND-, daughter of Benjamin TOWNSEN D- and Elizabeth Weyman on 5 Sep 1779 in Long Island, NY. Freelove was born 14 Feb 1761 She died 8 Jan 1837 in Purchase, Westchester, NY.

What do I know?
Both James and Thomas show up together in the 4th Reg. and also on all Census data in Westchester County NY, town of Harrison (1790, 1800, 1810) I am not sure who Thomas Carpenter is - but think he is one of James's older brother's sons. He is the only James that is showing up on the census data. They lived in this county and township all their lives. The DAR said that James was such a common name - how do I know this is mine. However they fully agreed with my documentation that James Carpenter, born in 1754 was my gg grandfather. Both James and Thomas are found in the book under pensions and Elijah is also listed both with the 1st regiment and with pensions.

I've written to the county archives and they can only find one document. It was a journal entry recording the fact that James had given someone a tour of the Purchase Meeting cemetery in preparation for a family burial. They said that many of their earlier materials had been destroyed in the Rev. War. They indicated that many battles were fought in the area.

I have Rev. Doc. from the Gov. Archives. showing him in "sick bay" at Ft. Ticonderoga 1775. I have proof that the Purchase Meeting house was used as a field hospital.

More of what I know: The children seemed to be spaced three years apart
Children include: Betsy 1780, James Townsend 1783, Enoch 1786, Stephen 1788-1788, Ezra 1789, Abigail 1792, Job 1794, Edna 1797, Townsend 1800

Perhaps joining in 1796 would allow Betsy to marry. I notice they did not ask that she be admitted. Or the younger lads. Maybe girls were not included. Betsy married David Carpenter son of Joseph and Elizabeth Carpenter. Joseph is James' older brother.

Freelove was a member of the Purchase Monthly Meeting, Westchester County, NY. (Quaker) Her parents were Benjamin and Elizabeth (Weyman) Townsend. Benjamin was born in 1814 and was the son of Daniel Townsend and Freelove Dickenson daughter of Samuel Dickenson, His mother was Elizabeth (Howland) Dickenson daughter of Mayflower passengers and pilgrims, John Howland and Elizabeth Tilley. Elizabeth Tilley's parents John and Joan (Hurst) Tilley were also on the Mayflower. They died that first hard winter leaving 14 year old Elizabeth an orphan.
Benedict Carpenter and James Carpenter are listed as the bondsmen for settling Benjamin Townsend's estate in 1775, showing the families are interconnected.

Notes from the Purchase Monthly meeting: James and his wife Freelove requested that their three children be admitted as members of the Purchase Monthly Meeting 02-03-1796. James aged 13, Enoch 10, and Ezra 7.

Children include: Betsy 1780, James Townsend 1783, Enoch 1786, Stephen 1888-1788, Ezra 1789, Abigail 1792, Job 1794, Edna 1797, Townsend 1800

Worden Cemetery - (Private) Washadamoak Lake, Johnston Parish, Queens Co., NBThis sketch and report was made by Fred L. Corcoran, assisted by Mr. George West, for the Queens County Historical Society - Nov 1975.. This cemetery is on land originally granted to John Jarvis, and known as Lot No. 38. It is in a field behind some tumble down buildings. The property is owned by a man living in Germany. The out-buildings are in bad shape and the house is beginning to go. There is only one headstone in sight and it is broken in two. People living along the road say that there are a number of Wordens burried there, but no signs of any graves. The last Worden living on the place was Arthur and his wife Hettie.. See separate map file..

>VanDerCook. Levi and Sally Francisco had two sons, Johannes Francisco >and Michael Francisco, before she died. Levi married Charity Carpenter >on 28 November, 1786 at the Schagticoke Reformed Dutch Church, >Schagticoke, New York. Levi Francisco was a Revolutionary War Soldier; >he served in the 14th Regiment of Albany County Militia ("Col. Peter Pension information came to me from Chuck Nickels in an e-mail dated June 9, 1999. Following is the pension application.

From:....cnick98@aol.comDate:....Wed, June 9, 1999Subject:.Levi Francisco
LEVI FRANCISCO (John Francisco, Henry, John Fransoy) was a Revolutionary War Soldier and eventually, a pensioner. He was granted a pension of $16.66 semi-annually on 2 Sept 1833, and an additonal amount of $83.33 in arrears. Following is the text of Levi Francisco's petition claim for a pension:
"State of New YorkCounty of Ontario..."
..."On this twenty seventh day of August in the year eighteen hundred and thirty two personally appeared in open court before the Judges of the Court of Common Pleas, of the town of Gorham in the County of Ontario, aged seventy five years who being first duly sworn according to law, doth on his own make the following declaration in order obtain the benefit of the provisions of the act of Congress passed June 7, 1832."..."That he entered the Service of the United States under the following named officers and served as herein stated---- "..."In the Fall of the year 1776 but in what month he cannot distinctly recollect, the company of Militia to which he belonged was ordered into actual service and the deponent with the said company marched from Pittstown in the County of Rensselaer and State of New York then called Schaghticoke District - to Fort Edward on the Hudson River, the said Company on the said Expedition was commanded by Captain Henry Vanderhoof, Lt. Ford and Ensing Hollenbeck, and was attached to Col. John Knickerbocker's Regiment of which Daniel Bradt was Lt. Col. and Derick VanVechten was Major. The said Company and Regiment were engaged on the same expedition,three or four weeks before they returned and with the deponent were dismissed."..."Deponent further saith soon after such return he was with the said Company and Regiment again called into actual service and marched under the command of the same officers up the Hudson River and into the vicinity of the same places as on the former expedition, and on such expedition, was in actual service at least one month when he was again dismissed."..."In the Month of May of June according to the best of his recollection, the said company of the Militia to which the deponent belonged as aforesaid was again called into actual service, and the deponent marched under the command of the same officers as before and in the same Regiment to Lake George in the State of New York, at which place they joined a part of the Army under Gen. Schuyler, then retreating from Ticonderoga. After serving with the army subsequent to so having joined it about two months, one half of the Regiment to which he was attached as aforesaid were dismissed and returned home to secure the harvest then ripe and deponent was one of those so dismissed."..."In the Autumn of the year 1778 the said deponent in the same Company, under the same officers, but in a Regiment of Militia then commanded, according to his recollection by Col. Peter Yates and Maj. John Groesbeck, was again called into actual service at Saratoga aforesaid and was occupied in the said expedition one month - or more."..."In the Autumn of the following year (1779) the said deponent was again called into actual service in a Company of Militia then under Capt. Woolsey, and Ensign VanDerCook and marched to Fort Edward at which place and at Saratoga deponent was in Service as a soldier two months--and was then dismissed."..."Early in the Summer of the Year 1780, deponent again marched under the Command of Ensign VanDerCook in Col. Yates' Regiment, to Fort William Henry at the head of Lake George. Part of the troops crossed at the Lake and part reurned and were discharged. Among the latter was the deponent having been engaged on said expedition at the time he was so discharged more than one month."..."The said deponent further saith that during the year of the Revolution sudden alarms occured and the company to which he belonged, uniformly turned out--or were called out to repel the enemy, and deponent saith that on every such occasion he marched with his said company and discharged his duty as a soldier as faithfully as was in his ower--that he was repeatedly in actual service on occasions not above particularly specified from one day to two weeks at a time--all the particulars of which it is impossible for him to now state--"..."The said deponent further saith That he was born at Horseneck in the State of New Jersey on the 12th day of March 1757.2nd "That he has no other record of his age than a memorandum thereof...(illegible) made of his parents."

..."John Francisco of the town of Gorham being duly sworn doth depose that (say that) his brother Levi Francisco who has subscribed and sworn to the annexed declaration resided during the Revolutionary War in the same neighborhood with the deponent, and that he the said deponent well recollects that the said Levi Francisco was during the said war repeatedly called into actual service as a soldier in the service of the United States; That he then understood that the said Levi Francisco performed military services as a solder such as are set forth in his said declaration; That he never heard the same, disputed or called in question, and that he verifies (believes) that said declaration to be true--And further the said deponent saith not."
Subscribed and sworn to.....his Xthis 22nd day of September 1832.....John Franciscobefore me (s/) Chester Loomis(mark)
IN THE FILE IS A TYPED LETTER DATED JANUARY 30, 1935, TO MRS. D. F. POTTER, 2135 AUBURN AVENUE, BUFFALO, NY, IN RESPONSE TO HER REQUEST FOR THE REVOLUTIONARY WAR RECORD. IT IS AS FOLLOWS:
Levi Francisco-S.10706BA-J/AWF
Dear Madam:
...The data which follow were obtained from the papers on file in pension Claim, S. 10706, based upon the military service of Levi Francisco, during the War of the Revolution. This is the record of the only Levi Francisco that is found on file in the Revolutionary War records of this office.
...Levi Francisco was born March 13, 1757 in Horseneck, New Jersey, names of his parents not given.
...While residing in Pittstown, Rensselaer County, then called Schaghticoke District, New York, he served from the fall of 1776 as a private at various times in the New York troops under Captains Henry VanderHoof, Wiltse, Colonels John Knickbocker (sic) and Peter Yates, marched to Fort Edward and Lake George, length of all his service ten months.
...He was allowed pension on his application executed, August 27, 1832, then a resident of Gorham, Ontario Couty, New York. It is not stated that he was ever married. Reference was made in 1832 to John Francisco of Gorham, New York, brother of the soldier, Levi Francisco; reference was also made at the same time to the following, whose relationship to the soldier is not given: Cornelius Francisco of Frankfort, Herkimer County, New York; Michael Francisco of Middlesex, Yates County, New York; and Michael A. Francisco of Gorham, New York.
...In order to obtain the date of last payment of pension, the name and address of the person to whom sent, and possibly the date of death of this pensioner, you should address The Comptroller General, General Accounting Office, Records Division, Washington, D.C., citing the following data:

Subject: Re: Our cousin John L. Carpenter (I am aware of the Lucretia who married Humpfrey, but that is not my family. My Lucretia is buried in the Mayfield Cemetery, Sycamore, Dekalb county, Illinois as a Nichols. I found a funny newspaper article about her claiming to be 110 years old living with her son, my 2nd GGF John Wesley Nichols in Decatur, Illinois. When John Wesley Nichols got married his best man was Ulysess S. Grant, his General for whom John was Aide de Camp. My Benjamin will not show in the DAR records until I can prove his granddaughter Lucretia was from John Benjamin Carpenter. I have Mary Searles Carpenter's will to prove this John. I have searched Quaker meeting records for all the areas they lived. Yes, John Caverly jr eventually signed the Safety Committee list and did build ships for the war effort. He owned an island in the Hudson where they built the boats, mostly traders' sloops. We lived in Borrego Springs in 1975 where Mike was a Ranger. I taught high school and college at Grossmont, Valhalla, La Mesa, and in Spring Valley and Chula Vista in the 70s and 80s. Do you need me to send any info on those two history books that are primary sources? I found more than 50 pages on this family in these texts. You may be busy reading them on-line as I write this. I found them on the web page for the town of Marlborough NY and their history society. Judy Muetz

Subject: Documents for Lucretia Carpenter Nichols

I read through everything that I have and what you listed. There are two items that I think you need to have from my collection. The first clue that I ever found for Lucretia was the 1923 death certificate for one of her sons that is not in my line; it lists his mother's maiden name as Lucretia Carpenter, wife of Peter Nichols. Then Davis Dickenson sent me this lovely copy of Lucretia's will, which has a lot of information in it. So I am sending you these two documents. Everything else I think you already have. I have the census lists for 1810 and 1820 with girls of the right age for Lucretia in the home of John B. Carpenter. Those are secondary documents because then the names were not listed. Judy Muetz
